Three-Fourths of a Century

The Memorial Temple as it appeared August 1, 1930

Nearly seventy-five years ago Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded at the University of Alabama by Noble Leslie DeVotie and his band of seven fast friends. Perhaps those eight boys little thought, on that eventful night of March 9, 1856, of the powerful influence their organization would have this far away into the future. Since then the Fraternity has grown and developed, until today it is one of the strongest forces in the world of Greek letter societies.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded with the original intention of becoming a strictly southern fraternity, yet no sooner was it organized than there was talk of northern expansion. There was too much home work to do, however, and the guiding spirits had their hands full in organizing chapters in the states adjoining Alabama. Our oldest chapters are in this section. At that time there existed many schools, quite prominent then, but which today are extinct. Soon came the Civil War with all its tragedies. Entire chapters joined the forces of the Confederacy. When the war had ended Sigma Alpha Epsilon began to take an inventory of its chapters. It found that many of the colleges where chapters had existed had closed their doors forever, and in others no members had returned to revive the chapter that had been founded so recently. These sad events account for a great majority of the dead chapters of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, of which fact the fraternity is not ashamed, but in which it takes a glorious pride, for they died in what its members thought was a just cause.

Naturally the Civil War left many pangs, prejudices and heartaches. Again the talk of northern expansion was whispered, but was quickly and quietly hushed by those who had endured the sufferings of battle and famine. Wiser heads, however, finally prevailed and in 1883 a chapter, by an uncanny coincidence, was established at Gettysburg college in Pennsylvania. For a short time the chapter became dormant and another was established at Mt. Union college, Alliance, Ohio, the chapter which gave to the fraternity, William McKinley, Philander C. Knox and Lewis Miller, the father of Mrs. Thomas A. Edison. Then came shortly afterwards, the chapter at Allegheny college, when northern expansion became a settled fact. From that time until the present day Sigma Alpha Epsilon has grown wisely and steadily until it has 103 chapters in 41 states, comprising every section of the United States, equally strong in all of them for the leaders of Sigma Alpha Epsilon have adhered to the very truthful policy that no one section of America has produced the finest type of young manhood, nor does any small group of colleges contain on its roster of students the names of all the promising youth of our country.

The history of Sigma Alpha Epsilon is romantic and stirring. Having been founded in the South, at the time that it was, it could not be otherwise. The history of its chapters during the Civil, Spanish and World Wars, the story of Lucy Pattie and many other romantic adventures cast a glamour about it that make it stand out in the fraternity world. The long roster of prominent men in the world today and yesterday prove that our members have been chosen wisely and well.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon has been a pioneer in many fields of Greek letter fraternity work. Many of the policies now in vogue among the majority of college fraternities and sororities were instituted by Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Our Fraternity is just completing the erection of the finest Memorial building among Greek letter fraternities. It has excited the interest, not only of our own members, but of those of the entire fraternity world. Already it is acclaimed as one of the outstanding architectural gems of the Chicago area.

Of the 103 chapters of the Fraternity there are 88 which own their homes, representing a valuation of real estate to the amount of $3,900,000. This does not include, of course, the grounds and building of the Memorial Temple in Evanston, valued at $400,-

000. If this is added, that would make a total of $4,300,000. Each year finds several chapters adding handsome new homes to the already brilliant list. The endowment fund of Sigma Alpha Epsilon is the largest of any fraternity—$394,563.89. Of this amount, $210,000 belongs to the Record Life Fund, the interest of which is now enough to pay for the printing of the RECORD. It will be remembered, too, that for two years we have been sending the RECORD to every member of the Fraternity whose proper address we had. The RECORD is the most widely read of the fraternity magazines. The circulation is 29,000 copies at each issue and this is increased by a thousand every year. It goes to nearly every civilized country in the world.

Since the founding of Sigma Alpha Epsilon there have been initiated into the order 35,219 members, over four thousand of whom have passed to the Chapter Eternal. At the end of every college year there are about 3,500 active men. Usually between 1,200 and 1,400 men are pledged each year by the chapters. For the past two years the national office has endeavored to keep a close supervision over the chapters, and the policy has borne fruitful results. Problems have been discussed, thoughtful advice given and cooperation obtained. Some chapters have been visited as often as three times in one year. As a result the chapters in general have perhaps never found themselves in such a splendid condition, if viewed from every angle.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon enjoys an enviable reputation in a hundred colleges and universities of America. It has reached this pinnacle of success through the foresight and wisdom of its leaders, through the cooperation and loyalty of its active members, through the abiding interest and counsels of its enthusiastic alumni and through the high ideals and aims for which it stands and which it teaches. The future holds much in store. Minerva, radiant in all her wisdom, is guiding us on for the accomplishments of still greater things.

The Artist of the Memorial Temple

Johannes Waller of Munich, Germany, who is painting the murals and portraits for the Memorial Johannes Waller was born in Munich, Germany, on February 28, 1902 and received his education in the schools of that city. In 1923 he entered the State Art Academy of Munich where he studied for five years under some of the most famous art professors of Germany and the world. His unusual talent was rewarded, while a student, with several first prizes from the Academy, in competition with several hundred students.

Since leaving the Academy he has been called to Dresden, Hamburg, Berlin and other large cities of Germany to paint the portraits of many persons of national importance and to fresco the walls of famous buildings. His paintings have been sold in many countries of the world.

Herr Waller came to Evanston in March, 1930, where he will paint, in the Memorial, the murals of the Panhellenic room and the frescoes of the chapel. He will also paint the portraits of our most prominent alumni, which are to be hung in the library, and will put on canvas several scenes of the most important events in our fraternity history. Much of his work will be completed in time for the dedication of the Memorial in December.

United States Senator Byron Patton Harrison

Senator Byron Patton Harrison of Mississippi, Louisiana Epsilon

Byron Patton Harrison, senior senator from Mississippi acquired the habit of working and playing hard at the age of seven, when his father, who was serving in the legions of General Lee, died from the effects of wounds, leaving Pat the "man" of the family. Selling papers to the citizens of his home town in Mississippi enabled him to support his family, and it is said that he often made as high as $200 a month.

By waiting on tables, teaching in country schools and pitching baseball he managed to work his way through Louisiana State University. Leaving college he took up the study of law and, after a successful term as county attorney, he was elected to Congress at the age of 29. For ten years Pat "worked and played" in Congress, to such a marked degree of satisfaction, that his state decided that he should represent it in the senate. There he has remained for the past eight years.

Among the many cognomens he is known by are, "The Democratic Gadfly," "Light Horse Cavalry of Democracy" and "The Mississippi Bearcat," but the name that suits him best is "Playboy of the Senate," for this he surely is. When he isn't driving the opposition to distraction he is probably tormenting the life out of Senator Smoot, of Utah. It is said that it used to be his chief delight to cause the late Senator Lodge to fly into a frenzy.

When he isn't bothered with senatorial duties, Pat is out on the links. This ancient and honorable sport he took up on the advice of Admiral Cary Grayson, physician to the late President Wilson, when he was on the verge of a breakdown after a trying year in Washington. Keeping his "eye on the ball" for three years has made Senator Pat the Bobby Jones of the senate. He shoots between a 78 and 82—scores that rank him with the best of players.

Pat continues, ever the "playboy" but also the constant and tireless worker, always "watching the ball" whether he is in knickers or frock coat.

Senator Harrison is one of the outstanding members of the upper house of Congress. He is one of the foremost leaders of the Democratic party in all of its deliberations. It may be remembered that he was the keynote speaker at the Democratic convention in New York six years ago. In spite of all that he has time to think of his fraternity. His son, Pat, Jr., is also a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and through his ability and leadership bids fair to follow in the footsteps of his illustrious father.

United States Senator Key Pittman

Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, Tennessee Zeta

Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, was born in Vicksburg, Mississippi, in 1872. He graduated from Southwestern University when that school was located in Clarksville, Tennessee. It was here that he became a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. After leaving Southwestern he studied at George Washington University and in 1892 began the practice of law in Seattle, Washington.

Shortly afterwards, he took up residence in Alaska, where he continued with law, becoming the first prosecuting attorney at Nome. In 1902 he moved to Tonopah, Nevada. Ten years later he was elected to the United States Senate, and since then, has been reelected to serve his state until 1935.

After practicing law for two years in Tennessee, he moved to Oregon, locating at Condon, where he resumed his practice. Later he took up residence in The Dalles, Oregon. He has served as a circuit judge, presidential elector, state senator and as a member of various state committees appointed by the governor.

In 1928 he was elected to represent his state in congress, his opponent in this election being Walter M. Pierce, former Governor of Oregon.

Governor Terrell appointed him judge of the superior courts in 1906 to fill an unexpired term and he was later elected by popular vote without opposition to the same office which he held until 1917.

He was elected to the sixty-fifth Congress on January 11, 1917 and has since been returned to each succeeding Congress. On June 7, 1927 he became a member of the Board of Directors of the Southern Mutual Insurance Company of Athens, Georgia, his native city and the following year president of the Brand Banking Company of Lawrenceville. He was engaged in the general practice of law in Robinson, Illinois until 1922, when he was elected to Congress. He is now serving his fourth term. He married Miss Kate Wheeler Busey of Urbana, Ill. His son, William Busey Arnold, was initiated into Illinois Beta this past year.

After completing his education he entered the legal profession. From 1911 to 1913 he was a representative in the state legislature.

He served as district attorney for the fifth judicial district of Arkansas from 1916 to 1920. In 1920 he was elected a delegate to the Democratic National Convention, and in 1928, chairman of the Arkansas Democratic campaign committee. He is at present a member of the House of Representatives from the fifth Arkansas district.

Congressman E. E. Cox

Congressman Edward Eugene Cox of Georgia, Georgia Psi

Edward Eugene Cox represents the second district of Georgia during the sessions of Congress at Washington. He received both his literary and law education at Mercer University in Macon, Georgia, graduating in the latter department in 1902. In this year he began the practice of law, serving later as judge of the superior courts in Albany from 1912 to 1916. He has been a member of Congress for the past five years.

E. E. Cox has already made a name for himself among his colleagues of both parties in the national capital. He is regarded as one of the brilliant members of the Democratic group and has been appointed on many of the important committees. In spite of his many duties as Congressman he still finds time to interest himself in his chapter on his return to his native city, during the recesses of the national lawmakers.

A World-Famous Bridge Builder

Joseph B. Strauss, Ohio Epsilon

Joseph Baermann Strauss, inventor and world-famous builder of bridges is another brother in S. A. E. of whom we are all proud.

He was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1879, attended the public schools of Cincinnati, then entered the University of Cincinnati from which he graduated, with the degree C. E., in 1892.

Starting, in 1892, as a draftsman for the New Jersey Steel & Iron Company he is today president of the Strauss Basculer Bridge Co., and president and chief engineer of the Highway Safety Barrier Company, both Chicago firms.

Brother Strauss has made a specialty of movable and fixed bridge design and is regarded as an authority in these fields. He has developed and built some of the world's most notable bridges, including the St. Lawrence bridge at Montreal, and the cantilever suspension bridge (now under construction) at Golden Gate, San Francisco.

In 1920, Brother Strauss designed and built the Basculer Door Hangar for the United States Postal Aerial Service, at Reno, Nevada.

President of the Dictaphone Corporation

Leon C. Stowell, Massachusetts Gamma

The youngest executive of Wall Street is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He is Leon C. Stowell, Mass. Gamma, president of the Dictaphone Corporation. He graduated from Harvard in 1914 after earning every cent that his education cost him during his college career. Tending furnaces and waiting on tables in college dining halls were his means of livelihood at Harvard. On leaving that venerable institution he began as a salesman with the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Company. It was while working here that he became acquainted with C. K. Woodbridge, then president of the Dictaphone Corporation. The latter used to speak of Leon as his oldest son. Later, when Mr. Woodbridge resigned, Leon Stowell succeeded him as president of the Dictaphone Corporation, after having been vice-president for several years. The amazing progress of the Corporation under the guidance of Brother Stowell is evident proof of his business genius and of the high esteem in which he is held by the wiser heads of Wall Street.

President of the Florida East Coast Railway

William Rand Kenan, Jr., North Carolina Xi

William Rand Kenan, Jr., joined Sigma Alpha Epsilon at the University of North Carolina in 1890 and was graduated from that institution in 1894. In his undergraduate days he was a prominent athlete, starting on the football and baseball teams. His father and grandfather were both prominent in the history of the Tar Heel state. The success of W. R. Kenan, Jr., since graduation has been almost phenomenal. The executive positions held by him include the presidency of the Florida East Coast Railway, the West Palm Beach Water Company, the Florida East Coast Hotel Company and the Carolina Apartment Company. In addition he is director of several financial institutions and is considered one of America's ablest engineers.

Two years ago he presented to the University of North Carolina the handsomest stadium in the south, as a memorial to his father and his mother. He is now a prominent chemical engineer in New York City, where he has his executive offices.

Internationally Known Artist

Remington Schuyler,
Missouri Beta

Three hundred years ago, in upper New York state, the forebears of Remington Schuyler were forced to engage in frequent and vigorous conflict with their neighbors, the red skins. Today, their last male descendant, who knows the American Indian as few people do, lives in a studio in Connecticut where he paints—portraits, magazine covers, illustrations—and Indians.

To say simply that Remington Schuyler is a great painter is making an important statement trite. An artist of international reputation, he is especially noted for his paintings of Indians and Indian life. In these paintings, he has caught the spirit of the Indian as the thinker, the primitive philosopher, the brooder and dreamer of the plains and the mountains. Among his better known pictures are "On the Trail" and "Indian Chief."

During the Great War, Remington Schuyler served the Government in the capacity of camouflage expert. Later he became official artist for the American Legion, doing several portraits for them, including one of the late Marshal Foch. Among the many commissions he has executed for American connoisseurs is a picture of the French Marshal being made an Indian and accepting the pipe of peace from one of the chiefs of the far west. This picture was painted for Mr. Wanamaker.

America's Largest Glass Manufacturer

John D. Biggers,
Missouri Beta

John D. Biggers, Missouri Beta, was elected president of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company, a new corporation formed by the merging of the Libbey-Owens Glass Co. with the Edward Ford Plate Glass Co. The new company will be the largest producer of window glass and shatter-proof plate glass and one of the largest manufacturers of commercial sizes of plate glass.

Biggers is widely known in both the glass and automotive industries in this country and abroad. After graduating from the University of Michigan in 1909 he was secretary of the Toledo Ohio Chamber of Commerce for several years, finally resigning from that position to become affiliated with the Owens Bottle Company, of which he eventually became vice-president and general sales manager. In 1926 he left the Owens Bottle Company and became connected with the Graham brothers in their management of Dodge Brothers, Inc., and the Graham Brothers' Truck Company, going to England, where, for a year, he was managing director of Dodge Brothers of Great Britain, Ltd. He returned to the United States in 1927 to become vice-president of Graham Brothers Corp. in New York.

Headquarters of the new firm will be in Toledo, Ohio where two of its most modern plants will be located.

Major-General of the U. S. Militia

Major-General William G. Everson, Indiana Alpha, chief of the bureau of militia of the war department, pastor emeritus of the First Baptist church of Muncie, Indiana, has recently completed a nationwide tour that included the major cities of the country for an inspection of military camps and air fields, for conferences with governors and to establish contacts with civic leaders.

Major-General William
G. Everson, Indiana
Alpha

Speaking before a group of church, civic and military leaders, at a luncheon given in his honor at Denver, Colorado, Gen. Everson iterated and reiterated the importance of preparedness. "The surest road to peace," he says, "is for a nation to be prepared for war."

General Everson enlisted as a chaplain at the beginning of the Spanish-American war. In one engagement, in which the senior officers of the company to which he was attached had all been killed, the junior officers refused to take the responsibility of ordering a move which might cost them victory. Chaplain Everson immediately assumed command, took the responsibility and turned a rout into victory. Since then, his advancement in the army has been rapid.

President of Warner Sugar Refineries

A. L. D. Warner was born some forty-five years ago at Jordon, New York. On December 9, 1904 he became a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Harvard University and has remained a loyal and devoted worker of the fraternity ever since. He has always been active in the alumni association of New York City. He is a member of the most important chemical and scientific societies of the United States and England. For several years he has been interested in the development of the sugar industry throughout the world and as president of the Warner Sugar Refineries, is considered a world authority on the subject.

A. L. D. Warner,

President of Colorado Fuel and Iron

A. Roeder, N. Y. Alpha,

Arthur Roeder was born in Pleasantville, New Jersey on June 6, 1884. He obtained his early training at Cartaret Academy, Orange, N. J., after which he attended Cornell University from which school he graduated in 1907.

For three years following his graduation he was junior engineer for the city of Newark, New Jersey. In 1910 he became assistant to the sales manager of Robert H. Ingersoll & Brother, and in a few months was made sales manager of the eastern division. In 1913 he spent several months in Europe and would have returned to take charge of the Berlin, Germany factory but the World War prevented his doing so.

In 1918 he resigned his position to become treasurer of the United States Radium Corporation, with which firm he remained until 1926, when he became affiliated with the American Linseed Company as executive vice-president. In 1929 he became president of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company of Denver.

President of Universal Service

James T. Williams,
South Carolina Phi

James T. Williams, S. C. Phi, is editor-in-chief of the Universal News Service, one of the country's outstanding news bureaus and a part of the Hearst organization. James Williams was born in Lincolnton, North Carolina in 1881. In 1901, upon his graduation from Columbia University, he became the Washington correspondent of "The State," Columbia, S. C. After spending several years in Washington as correspondent of various newspapers, he left for Tucson, Arizona, where he became editor of the Tucson Citizen. In 1912 he moved to Boston, where for the next thirteen years, he was editor-in-chief of the Boston "Transcript." In 1925 he left the "Transcript" to edit the Boston "American," where he remained for only a year. Resigning as editor of the "American," Brother Williams accepted the position of editor-in-chief of the Universal News Service, the position he holds today.

His business has called him to all parts of the earth. He has been a member of various committees and commissions in many foreign lands. In 1920 he was made a knight in the Order of Leopold (Belgium) and a commander in the Order of the Crown in Italy. In 1924 he was appointed by President Coolidge a member of the Board of Visitors to the United States Naval Academy.

President of Republic Steel Corporation Joins Chapter Eternal

Elmer T. McCleary,
Penn. Alpha-Zeta

Elmer T. McCleary of Penn. Alpha-Zeta, died April 21, 1930 at Youngstown, Ohio after a brief illness. Mr. McCleary was president of the Republic Steel Corporation, the third largest steel company of the United States. He was one of the youngest steel executives in this country. Actively interested in the affairs of his community and state, he was outstanding for the part that he played in backing the Mahoning Valley Sanitary District, and it was through his untiring efforts that this project will soon be a reality. He was a director of the First National Bank of Youngstown and recently was elected a member of the advisory board of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce. During the war Elmer McCleary's exceptional ability in the steel field was recognized when he was named one of a committee of three by the federal government to determine the steel requirements in the shell section of the ordinance department.

In a recent editorial after his death the editor of the Youngstown paper writes the following of Elmer McCleary. "He was the personification of integrity, honesty, and the great will to work unceasingly, not for himself but for all of us. His ability was recognized in the entire country. A wonderful career was broken in two. We have few men like him, and he will be hard to replace."

Even his competitors speak in admiration of him and one person with whom Mr. McCleary had been in competition for years, made this statement, "Mac, is a good business man. There are some men who know some things about the steel industry and are experts, but 'Mac' is the only one I know who knows all about the steel business."

On November 12th, 1918, Morehead was recommended for promotion to Colonelcy, which however was withheld on account of orders stopping all promotions. However, he holds a Lieutenant-Colonel commission in the United States Officers Reserve Corps, Ordinance, and in case of emergency is assigned to the manufacturing department of the Picatinny Arsenal.

The Honorary Degree of L.L.D. was bestowed on Brother Morehead on June 5th, 1926, by the University of North Carolina. Hollywood Goes S. A. E. Again

By Richard Strauss, California Alpha

Delmer Daves, Cal. Alpha

If you should chance to walk down Sunset Boulevard in Hollywood most any afternoon, you would very likely run into a young man, wearing an S.A.E. badge, smoking a pipe and tearing hither and yon, post haste. Should you approach him and give him the grip, he would smile, and begin immediately to talk of S.A.E., and you would have met none other than Delmer Lawrence Daves, California Alpha, the busiest young man in Hollywood, and the latest Sig Alpha to win laurels in the "Squawkie" capital.

He was born in San Francisco, California, on July, 24, 1904, B. S. (before sound). Two years later, the famous San Francisco earthquake occurred, and in his own words, "shook the family to Los Angeles." He attended the Los Angeles public schools, graduating from the Polytechnic High School in 1922. In high school he was president of the student body, board of finance, self-government and the glee club.

In the fall of 1922 he entered Stanford University at Palo Alto. His list of activities while in school reads like a college year book. Perhaps it will be easier to tell you what he did not do, rather than try to enumerate the many branches of extra-curriculum activities with which he was associated. However, we will list a few of the most outstanding positions he held while at college. He was president of the class of 1926, president of Rams Head, Class Fights and Bonfire Committee, manager of dramatics for 2 years, art director of the year book, also for 2 years, director of the Junior Opera and of Glee Club Novelties, member of nine societies including S.A.E., and played the leading roles in about twenty college shows. He was also a delegate to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon National Convention held in Boston in 1926. He graduated from Stanford in 1927.

After graduating from college, he returned to his home in Los Angeles and entered the moving picture industry, where we find him working as a property man for James Cruze, Inc.

Delmer's experience in the moving picture world has been diversified. He has served as actor, director and writer. He was the technical director of "The Duke Steps Out," starring William Haines. In the picture "So This Is College," of which he is the author, he was rehearsal assistant, technical director and also played the part of the "bad college boy." He has played parts in "Bossy," "The Duke Steps Out," "Beef," "Good News," "Sperling" and "The Bishop Murder Case." He has recently written an article entitled "These College Pictures" which appeared in a current issue of the College Humor Magazine. At the present time, he is rewriting "Queen Kelly," Gloria Swanson's new picture.

Delmer Daves is very interested and takes an active part in all fraternity affairs. This past month he was elected Treasurer and Recorder of Province Kappa. He has worked hard and attained much, and is justly entitled to a loud "Phi Alpha" from his brothers in Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Western General Manager of the Milwaukee Railway

By Albert S. Balch, Washington Alpha

C. H. Buford, Ark. Alpha-Upsilon; Jack Buford, Wash. Alpha

Charles H. Buford, Western General Manager for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway has "been working on the railroad" since he graduated from the University of Arkansas in 1907. Leaving college honors behind him, he took a subordinate position in the engineering department. Soon he was given another job. One of his interesting pieces of work was engineering the track elevation of the St. Paul tracks in and about Chicago. In 1916 he was transferred to the operating department, accepting a place as train master. From here he was promoted to superintendent in charge of 500 miles of main line. Succeeding unusually well as superintendent of one division, he was promoted to general superintendent with responsibility for five divisions. From general superintendent of the Southern district he moved to the assistant general managership of lines east of the Missouri River, during which time he resided in Evanston, Illinois.

In October 1927 Mr. Buford was made general manager of all the Western lines from the Pacific Coast to the Missouri River, with offices in Seattle. He frequently travels east to Moberge, S. D., for he is in entire charge of the operation, maintenance and construction in this large territory.

Charles Buford has an enviable reputation among the ranks of employes for fair and square dealing. They look up to him as a man of marked ability.

A chip off the old block is Jack W. Buford, his son, president of the freshman class at the University of Washington. By winning the class election with the unheard of vote of five to one, Jack finds himself in the center of school activities. Both the father and son are often seen together at the fraternity house.

Minerva's Highway

By John O. Moseley, Archon Province Theta

In these days when a Greek letter organization sprouts on every hill and thrives on every backstair it is no distinction merely to be a fraternity man. The honor lies in belonging to a good Fraternity and being a good Fraternity man. And that is as it should be. The one case that the Chapter diagnosticians invariably pronounce hopeless is the young pledge or neophyte who believes that his pin or ribbon is a badge of merit and that simple possession of it would indicate that he must be good. Such a man would congratulate himself on his uniqueness and distinction in happening to belong to the human race. Far from being a guarantee of eternal salvation, that ribbon or pin is the expression of a hope, the evidence of a faith. The fraternity which bestows upon a man its name and insignia thereby indicates to him and to the world its belief that he has the stuff and the will power to become a good fraternity man.

When a man enters a fraternity he is confronted with three roads down one of which he must travel. The choice is necessary and the route, once chosen (unless a miracle occurs), will be followed to the end. The three roads are close together at the start and look very much alike. The pathetic thing for both individual and organization is that the farther they are travelled the wider they diverge. Those who travel road number one are known as Zero Fraternity men. Their value to the fraternity may be symbolized by a bunch of space encompassed by a thin rim. That rim corresponds to the badge. They are the boys who believe that the badge guarantees all. Literally they hide behind the badge. They think that membership in the organization automatically makes them slick boys. With the true instincts of a cipher they never stop to picture themselves with the rim ripped off. If this rim were bent into letters they would spell complacency. This type of Fraternity man you can neither insult nor inspire.

From the foregoing it will appear that the Zeroes in the Chapter are not so good. And yet you cannot say that they are altogether bad. It is their nature that they must keep between the boundary lines of the positive and the negative. Cipher-like, they are useful in filling in the numbers. They really do well in making up a crowd. But woe to the Chapter accidentally or maliciously electing one of them to an office. But don't be shocked. Reversing the digits is a favorite indoor sport of many a Chapter on election night. A Chapter that rates 10 looks this way, 01, after reversing the digits.

But fortunately the cipher boys do not care about being elected to office and only occasionally do they have to be. They are quite content to drape themselves around the furniture and to make themselves as inconspicuous as possible, especially when there are guests to be entertained or any other fraternity work to be performed. And yet they make fairly good company. Many of them pay their bills with average regularity. A few of them actually graduate. And when they have gone, either by graduation or by quittance, there is not a mark or dent around the old organization that will ever betray the fact that they once existed there. They just vanish.

And a new alumnus is born! Since a cipher must follow his natural bent it is very easy to plot the curve of his after relationship to his fraternity. Under new stimuli he may bend his rim into real units or by a freakish fortune that loves to tease, he may become very rich and prominent. But for the fraternity he is still Brother Zero. He never answers a letter from his Chapter. He never responds to a call. When he returns, he is greeted fraternally because of the badge he wears. But he always has to leave right after the game. Often you see him at the best dances but never at the trying meetings. When he joined, he joined for life, so it is unnecessary for him to carry a card or pay dues to his local or national organizations. He can always finance an expedition for pleasure. His name and always uncertain address are carried on the books of chapter and national offices until finally, that great leveler, death, wipes out all distinctions and triumphantly enrolls him in the Chapter Eternal.

Those who travel road number two are known as Nero Fraternity men. Nero fiddled while Rome was burning. And these brothers are fiddling while their Chapters are burning. They are the boys who are out strictly for number one. Pleasure is their fiddle and their tune is loud and long. Unlike the cipher brethren, they do not stop at just doing nothing for the Fraternity, but if their own selfish interests are involved they do not hesitate to do something against it. The Nero man is he who spends his allowance on himself and then lets the Chapter board him a while. He is the boy who is invariably bored with the Chapter meeting and tries to liven it up a little for himself with bright cracks and other forms of disorder. You can absolutely depend upon his vote to make the meeting informal or even to do away with it altogether upon the slightest pretext. He thinks idealism is the bunk and that the ritualistic features of the meetings were designed by the founders for the express purpose of allowing him to display his talents for burlesque. The Chapter Songs to him mean just one more opportunity to put in his selfish and discordant note. It is absolutely impossible to make these Neroes understand that if everybody brought liquor in the house and drank at will that chaos and extinction would ensue. The thought never enters his head that the dances are given by thirty or forty men, not by two or three. He is willing to live on the reputation of the entire group but not to abide by the rules of the group. He really doesn't believe that lasting friendship is built on character.

Unlike the Zero, Brother Nero actually seeks office. He wishes to impress his views and stamp his personality upon the organization. He passes out the word to the younger members that if he is elected all this tom-foolery about striving for objectives is going to cease and he will make a real fraternity of HE men out of them. You hear him remarking cynically that congeniality is all that is necessary in a fraternity. He actually believes that if you get a group of young men together who think the same thoughts, wear the same brand of clothes, and have about the same habits that, automatically thereby, a bond is created which will impel these men to work together and fight for each other and stick to one another throughout their lives!

Let us imagine that "Bud" Nero Esquire has been elected to high office in his Chapter. You will find him there often the second semester. Watch the axes begin to grind. New control is assumed of the social committee. The rushing committee is likewise bolstered up a bit and the tracks are greased for the rail-roading in of a few home town pets who have until now been courageously blackballed. A spring drive is launched to initiate the flunkers "just before we go home." Announcement is made that the next dance is going to be a real one. The treasury surplus from the previous semester is invariably raided to provide a little entertainment for the farewell party. If the surplus happens to be large a few very select rushing parties, attended by the officers, rushing committee, several recent "one year" alumni, and two rushees, can be given. Brother Nero makes a careful survey of the chapter's standing by questioning a few girls who are being rushed out of their socklets, a few of the town non-collegiate hangers-on, and some of the slick boys in other frats with whom invitations to the big formals have been traded and proudly announce that dear old Alpha Falpha is on top of the pile.

And then comes June! And active man Nero, to the accompaniment of unpaid bills, unformed rushing plans, dirt covered house, and broken radio, forgotten social obligations, lowered scholarship, and shattered ideals, becomes Alumnus Nero. Again, unlike brother Zero, this alumnus keeps up his interest. He is forever bringing up to school some weak-chinned, thin-chested rushee who doesn't have a Chinaman's chance to pass in his work or, if he should make his grades, will retire after one year and live on the interest of his capital investment in the Fraternity. The Nero Alumnus is always loudest in his blame for some little mistake or oversight made by the chapter. You never fail to SEE him at the games and the bigger the load he has aboard the greater is his hurry and determination to get to the house so the younger men can enjoy his jag. Since, during all of his fraternity life his vote and voice have been against every forward looking movement it seems natural to hear him expressing opinions without facts, making judgments without evidence, and having no convictions without prejudice. When he joins the Chapter Eternal he performs even that service to his Fraternity reluctantly. Of course there are in our ranks no such composite Nero. Let us contemplate him as a fearful warning.

There is one other road to travel--the broad highway of Minerva--for the Hero Fraternity man. While Pledge Zero is gold bricking on the details and Pledge Nero is openly defying the chapter traditions of pledge service, Pledge Hero is doing and overdoing all fraternity tasks assigned to him by those in lawful authority. Every time he polishes a floor and hangs a picture and polices a room he does it with a distinct sense of loyalty and devotion. Even when some overbearing sophomore orders him to perform a purely personal service he does it with a smile and a silent prayer that Fraternity will not make a bully out of him. He regards the House as his Home and stays in it as much as possible in order to get acquainted with those whom he is to call brothers. In their characters and personalities he sees only the finest and best and hopes that some day he will wear a badge which will stamp him with those traits.

As brother Hero--the sophomore--his development is continued and carried on under the mystic influence of those worthy upperclassmen whom he now idealizes and idolizes. The right attitudes, carried over from his pledge service, impel him to seek ways of strengthening his chapter. Hospitality to him is a pleasurable service instead of a burdensome duty. He takes pride in the history of his local and national organizations and strives to hand down to others the written and picture records of his times. Remembering unsavory episodes of his freshman year he uses foresight in preventing their recurrence.

As junior and senior, the man travelling this third road comes into his own. Although Brother Zero is apathetic, he inwardly admires him; and although Brother Nero has consistently tried to make a donkey out of him, he discovers suddenly that the ears are on his own head. Brother Hero now realizes that the only reward for fraternity work is paid at the moment of performance, namely, the satisfaction of seeing the job done; and the only thanks he will ever get is the knowledge that he has been true to the ideal. And in this spirit he accepts chapter office and responsibility. He never quits under fire. He never lays down when things go wrong. He never lets up when things go right. He harbours no grudge and pets no peeve. He never sulks.

Above all, our Hero remembers those first troublesome years in the chapter when he was trying to find out what it is all about. He recalls that finally he had to interpret Fraternity, Brotherhood, and Friendship, not in terms of books and songs and furniture, but in terms of flesh and blood and spirit. He strives hardest to be the kind of Hero to the young and plastic members of the chapter which he, in the rosy dreams of youth, worshipped.

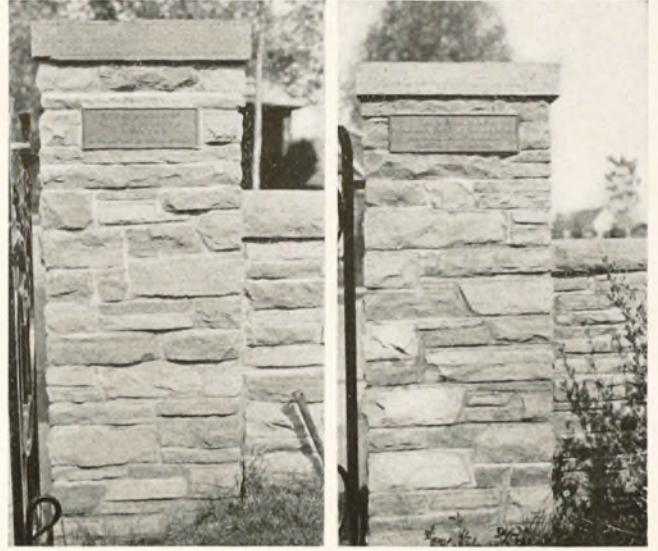

The transition from Hero Active Man to Hero Alumnus is easy and sure. From mere force of habit he answers Minerva's every call. Ingrained so deeply into his being are the many components of Fraternity and Friendship that to neglect or to injure her blessed name would to him be unthinkable.

And yet his road, like the others, leads to the Chapter Eternal where all are equal, where all distinctions are wiped away. Then what is the use? There are two answers to that question. The Fraternity is not only like life: it IS life. Service to its cause--if that cause be just--pays a certain recompense on the spot. And like the coral who is orthodox enough to deliver up his life to the reef rather than flit away on individual paths, the Hero has the satisfaction of knowing that he is building for future generations and at the same time is fulfilling his own destiny.

When Hercules was a young man he was travelling in Argos and came to forked roads. On each road stood a beautiful woman, a Goddess in disguise who beckoned to him. The entire life and labors of this great Hero are explained by his free choice of Minerva and her path of virtue instead of the path of pleasure of Venus, who was chosen by Paris, princely son of King Priam of Troy. Brother Fraternity man, every act and thought of every day of your Fraternity life is a choice. May you always be a loyal Son of Minerva. May our Chapter Halls be thronged with Hero Sig Alphas.

The Memorial Gates of Colorado Chi

By Gerald Henaghan, Colorado Chi

Those of you who have seen photographs of the beautiful home of Colorado Chi have no doubt noticed the attractive gates at the entrance to the lawn. These are memorials which are unique among the fraternity houses at Boulder, and they are admired by all who pass between their portals.

The beautiful gates at the south entrance near the automobile driveway were given to the chapter by Mrs. Mary G. Powell (lately deceased), in memory of her son William Gregory Powell, who died shortly after he left college. Mrs. Powell, who was a resident of Alexandria, Virginia, received the inspiration of erecting these gates from her nephew, Dr. Cuthbert Powell, of Denver, also a member of Colorado Chi. In 1924 the gates were erected. Mrs. Powell was very thankful for the suggestion of her nephew, for she knew that next to his family, her son loved his fraternity better than any thing else in the world, and it was with this thought in mind that she gave the gates in memory of William to be erected near the scene of his earthly hopes and ambitions.

The gates at the northern end of the lawn were erected at the same time as the others and were a gift of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Andrus, in memory of their son, Ralph Andrus, who died during the devastating flu epidemic several years previously. Ralph Andrus, at the time of his death was engaged in the practice of law with his father. His death cut short a career which gave promise of wide usefulness and great accomplishments. As a student, he took part in all activities of the university and of the fraternity, and was equally beloved within and without the chapter halls. His family felt that no more fitting memorial could be left his memory than these entrance gates to his chapter house.

These memorials, the inspiration of which means so much to every member of our chapter, give a background and atmosphere to the chapter house and to the university that will make for the finer things in life. They represent to everyone the expression of parental love.

A Charming Letter From a Confederate Soldier

Union-Springs, Alabama
May 18, 1930

MR. ERIC A. DAWSON,
EVANSTON, ILL.

Dear Brother:

I am enclosing check (with exchange) for three dollars ($3.00)—dues for 1930—just another case of procrastination.

I am wondering, as I send this, if it is the last. We old Confederate soldiers are dropping out fast and but a short time more when a Confederate soldier will be a thing of the past. Well I have gone 17 years over the allotted "three score and ten" and I have no kick coming.

With kindest regards personally and best wishes for SAE.

Yours truly and fraternally,

J. A. WEEMS.

The Almy Jewel

By Charles E. Lawrence, Chairman Jewel Committee

In the summer of 1920 at the Convention in Buffalo, during a chat with Don R. Almy, the suggestion was made by him that sometime he would like to see a Jewel of appropriate design presented to a retiring Eminent Supreme Archon, Province Archon or Eminent Archon, as a symbol of appreciation for earnest effort on behalf of the Fraternity; something of personal recognition; something which might be retained by the recipient and worn by him on appropriate occasions.

In later years Don Almy referred to this idea on many occasions, but his work on behalf of the Fraternity ended before it found fruition in the adoption of such a Jewel by the Fraternity that he loved so well.

At the last Convention of Province Alpha, December 14, 1929, Brother Almy's idea bore fruit, a Committee being appointed to bring in recommendations and designs for such a Jewel. The cuts show the design adopted by that Convention for Jewels to be presented to each retiring Province Archon and Eminent Archon by the province and chapters respectively in Province Alpha. It is known as the "Almy Jewel" in honor

On the left is the jewel of the Province Archon and on the right is that presented to the archon of the chapters and remembrance of Don R. Almy. This Jewel can be presented to and worn only by Past Province Archons or Past Eminent Archons. It is presented as a reward of meritorious service to the Fraternity by its recipient.

At the joint Founders' Day Banquet of Province Alpha and the Boston Alumni Association a Past Province Archon's Jewel was presented by Province Alpha to Brother Charles F. Collins, P.P.A., and Past Eminent Archon's Jewels were presented to sixteen Past Eminent Archons by the chapters in the province. Each Jewel is appropriately engraved on the back of the Fraternity shield, a standard form being adopted.

The one presented to Charles Collins being engraved as follows:

Presented by PROVINCE ALPHA to BRO. CHARLES F. COLLINS, P.P.A. Dec. 14, 1929.

The idea of thus recognizing the service of these brothers was highly commended by those present. It is hoped that this custom may be adopted by all other provinces and by the National Convention at Evanston in December of this year.

National Buildings

The time has come when many fraternities are actually building or thinking of building national homes, either as headquarters or as memorials of some sort. Phi Gamma Delta has bought an attractive lot in the city of Washington, on which it expects to build a handsome home in the near future. Kappa Alpha (Southern) has plans for a home in Richmond, Virginia. Phi Delta Theta has purchased a home in Oxford, Ohio, for $25,000, and later will build one of its own. Sigma Phi Epsilon is housed in a home of its own in Richmond valued at $150,000. Sigma Alpha Epsilon is completing a Memorial to its war heroes in Evanston valued at $500,000. This is the first building, actually to be built by a fraternity.

A Cup for the Best Scrap-Book

Beginning this year there will be offered a silver cup for the best, neatest, most clever and complete scrap book of the chapter, which will be presented at convention time. Begin now to prepare and maintain your scrap book with that aim in view. The outside cover will have no weight in the awarding of the cup. Only the inside of the pages of the book will count. Chapters that are located in small towns without access to large city dailies will be given proper consideration. The cup will be offered at each convention and the chapter winning it twice will thereby gain permanent possession of it.

Present Jeweled Badge to Rudy

The New York Mu chapter at Columbia University recently presented Rudy Vallee with a beautiful jeweled badge as a token of appreciation for the help he has given the chapter in rushing and in social affairs. The presentation was made in Rudy's suite at the Brooklyn Paramount Theatre.

Thank You Delta Gamma

(From the "Anchor" of Delta Gamma)

"The spirit manifest in this beautiful memorial removes all thought of envy from within our hearts and serves as a sort of benediction to the whole fraternity movement, showing what the years can accomplish and develop in a great national fraternity when it can produce the inspiration for so worth while a memorial."

Thank You Delta Sigma Phi

(Excerpt from an article in the "Carnation" about the founding of the "Interfraternity Conference")

"There was a statement of the reason for the call of the meeting. The minutes of the informal meeting in February were read. There was informal discussion. Then at a moment when there seemed to be hesitancy and indecision, the younger fraternities suspecting that this might be a sinister move, on the part of the older ones, Mr. Kimball rose and asked for the floor.

"He briefly and tellingly summarized the arguments, pointed out the need, and the possibility, and then moved that the 'Interfraternity Conference be and hereby is duly formed.' The effect was electrical. He crystallized the constructive opinion of the representatives and the motion was carried."

An S. A. E. Diplomat

Maxwell Blake of Missouri Alpha entered the foreign diplomatic corps in 1906 and since that time has gained many distinctions and honors in that service. After having served in Morocco for a number of years, he was transferred to Albania, serving in the capacity of Commissioner and Minister Plenipotentiary. Subsequently he was assigned to Turkey and the Far East. After spending several years in the Orient, he was reassigned to Morocco, and at present time is the principal diplomatic representative of the United States to the Shereefian Empire.

Confederate Flag Returned

In the spring of 1861 the ladies of Atlanta presented a Confederate flag to the Gate City Guard, and each member of the regiment treasured this token that the members of their community had given them. The stars and bars were carried through many battles and skirmishes, and each time emerged victorious, until one day the blue and the gray clashed at Laurel Hill, Virginia and as the Southerners were forced to retreat the flag was lost. It was found and kept by the northern soldiers. The Ohio Volunteers kept the flag as a fit trophy of their wartime days, and as each custodian of the flag passed on, it was handed to another member of the regiment. The survivors of the Gate City Guard tried several times to have the flag restored, but it was not until 1920 that the keeper of the banner notified Brother H. H. Cabaniss, Georgia Beta, that the flag would be returned.

Judge Tuttle Honored

On June 23, 1930, the University of Michigan conferred upon Judge Arthur J. Tuttle, Michigan Iota-Beta, the honorary degree of Master of Laws. The exact language of the presentation was as follows: "Master of Laws—Arthur J. Tuttle—lawyer, legislator and judge, who, since his graduation from the University of Michigan Law School in 1895 and his admission to the bar, the same year, has devoted himself to the public service, successively as county prosecuting attorney, state senator, United States district attorney, and, for the last eighteen years, United States district judge for the Eastern District of Michigan. Tireless in the maintenance of the law and the advocacy of good causes."

Judge Tuttle's two daughters, Ruth Beatrice and Esther Louise each received the degree of Bachelor of Laws from the university on the same day.

Grandson of Early Member Initiated

Seventy-three years after his grandfather had helped to establish Tennessee Nu, the second chapter of our fraternity, William R. Manning was pledged at Arizona Alpha not knowing of this previous family connection with the fraternity or of the important part his ancestor played in early SAE history. And this is how it all happened.

It seems that shortly after Manning was pledged last May, he began reading the Paragraph History and chanced upon the name of Van H. Manning. As this name coincided with that of his grandfather, the boy became interested, thinking the name might be that of a distant relative. He began making inquiries and learned, after interviewing several relatives, that the Van H. Manning who helped to organize Tennessee Nu was none other than his own grandfather, who had left Texas in 1857 to attend the University of Nashville.

Needless to say, we are all pleased to have Pledge Manning with us and we extend to him a warm fraternal welcome. We are sure his grandfather must have smiled down from the Chapter Eternal the day Phi Alpha was pinned upon his lapel.

Battle of New Hope Church, Ga.

By Posey Hamilton, Pleasant Hill, Ala.

... Late in the afternoon I saw our major, John B. Rudolph, walking behind our line of infantry, with pistol in his hand, and I called Lieutenant McKinnon's attention to him. Major Rudolph was looking for us, but we did not know it at that time. He was wounded and lost his left arm, it being amputated that night. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel for the part he took in this engagement, but was never with us any more. . . . It so happened that Colonel Rudolph and I lived for many years in the same town after the war. He was a kind and tender-hearted friend, and loved to serve and mingle with his fellow men. He served his country as tax-assessor one term, and as justice of the peace for many years. He was a good Bible student and loved the Sunday School work; was a member of the Baptist Church at Pleasant Hill, Alabama. He passed away several years ago and was buried here. Rest to his soul."

Four Members of Fraternity Meet in Chile

George Robertson, N. Y. Alpha, and Walter Hudson, Ohio Theta, arranged to meet in Oruro, Bolivia, last February to travel there in the interests of their respective companies. On arriving at Chuquicamata, Chile, where the mines of the Chile Copper Co. are located he discovered that the chief draughtsman, J. I. Ballard, was a brother from Ohio Sigma. This was discovered through seeing a copy of the December RECORD on his desk. He told the others that the superintendent of the purification test plant C. P. Donohue, joined SAE at Montana Alpha. Judson is manager of the Santiago office of the Allis Chalmers Co. of Milwaukee and Robertson is director of the Armco International Corp. for the entire southern half of South America. In the photograph are (left to right) Donohue, Judson, Robertson, Ballard. The photograph to the right is that of the Chile Copper mine at Chuquicamata.

The Story of Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Carnegie Tech

By William Gesling, Pennsylvania Phi

Pennsylvania Phi herewith presents a resume of its past year's history. Highberger, McCurdy and Baushke were among the outstanding performers on the football team during the current season. When the roll call of pledges was taken, we found that we had five stars on the freshman football team. Burzio at guard, Flizack at tackle, Vorderburg at fullback, Miller and Schmidt at halfback comprised that group of players which helped make the freshman team the most successful in the Tri-State district.

McCurdy and Highberger, football stars at Carnegie Tech.

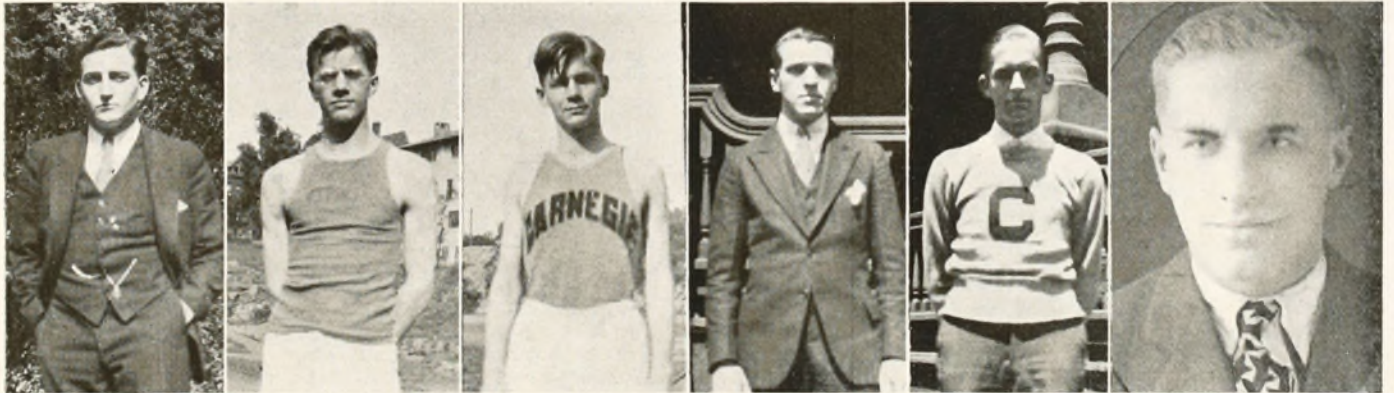

Brother Hopkins was a member of the varsity cross-country squad while Pledge Oakley was an outstanding member of the freshman team. Gesling was a first assistant manager.

On the freshman swimming squad, Pledge Searing showed up well in the distance trials. Redding was a member of the varsity squad and was largely responsible for their successful season. He is the captain-elect for this year. Near the end of the basketball season, the rifle team started their matches. Genter was a valuable member of the squad which won the Hearst Trophy in this district for the second consecutive year and finished third in the National Championship.

It was during this period that the pledges gave their annual dance to the chapter. It was a costume dance, representative of the South Sea Islands and the decorations were in tune with this idea.

Track season soon started and Schmidt, Oakley, McCurdy and Pledge De Bruyn were out earning places on the team. Schmidt proved an easy winner in almost every pole vault event. Lamphner of Ohio Sigma was another pole vaulter of merit. Pledge De Bruyn was a high jumper. The Interfraternity Meet took place near the end of the year with S. A. E. winning second place. Gesling was one of the members of the tennis squad which enjoyed a successful season.

During Campus Week, the various Honorary fraternities made their calls. McCurdy and Gesling were called into the Delta Skulls, the junior honorary and Flizack and Schmidt were called into the Druids, the sophomore honorary. Miller earned his activities key for two years service on the glee club. Gesling earned a similar key for two years service on the school paper, the Tartan. Genter was appointed business manager of the Tartan for the coming year, with Gesling as his assistant.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Harvard

By Delano Kennard, Massachusetts Gamma

The beautiful new home of Massachusetts Gamma at Harvard

A sum of one thousand dollars saved by clever management of the table expenses of the Massachusetts Gamma chapter back in the late ninties was the beginning of an undertaking which culminated last May, when eighty active and alumni members of the chapter located at Harvard University gathered together to celebrate the opening of the new chapter house.

Dean Chester N. Greenough of the University and Eric A. Dawson, E. S. R. of the Fraternity were guests of honor at the banquet which brought to a close a series of festivities which had opened with a dance the previous evening. E. J. Curtis '06, one of the trustees of the chapter, acted as toastmaster for the occasion, and introduced the speakers, including in addition to the above named guests, Phillip H. Smith '11, architect for the house, Harry Mueller '30, retiring E. A., and George Barner '30, incoming E. A. A feature of the housewarming party was a telegram received from Rudy Vallee, Maine Alpha, who in sending his regrets to an invitation to the banquet, stated that the best thing which he could do instead was to broadcast a number dedicated to the new chapter house. Promptly at twelve-thirty o'clock, the familiar voice of Brother Vallee announced from Villa Vallee in New York that he was about to play two of Sigma Alpha Epsilon's most popular numbers, "Violets," and "Friends," both of which he dedicated to the new chapter house of the Fraternity, located at Harvard University.

The new house is a three story building of Colonial brick corresponding to the general architectural scheme of the university buildings. The basement contains a billiard and card room, together with storage space, heating equipment and servant's quarters. The first floor contains a wide hallway which opens on either side into a dining room on the right, and a spacious living room, with an attached library, on the left. A kitchen and pantry together with a small telephone room complete this floor. The second and third floors, containing facilities for about sixteen men, with rooms divided into studies and bedrooms, are much alike, except for the guest suite with a bedroom and bath which is located on the second floor.

The house has been furnished from the building fund, made sufficient to cover the bare necessities of furnishing, together with numerous gifts from alumni, which include a baby grand piano, a handsome radio, several rugs and many smaller articles.

Situated but a block from one of the new Harvard House plan units, almost across the street from the new million dollar university gymnasium, and on the way from Harvard Square to Soldiers Field, the house should be an attractive spot for both active members, returning alumni, and visiting S. A. E.'s. It is across the street from the special stadium subway station which is used on days of the important football games, and should therefore prove a fine meeting place for returning alumni to greet brothers on all festive occasions.

Although handicapped by poor facilities for entertaining rushes throughout the greater part of the year, the chapter initiated thirteen men, all of whom are prominent in undergraduate activities in one way or another. Among the initiates of the past season are A. H. Stebbins, who has held the cox-swain's seat in the university crew during the entire season, Delano Kennard, who is an assistant managing editor of the college daily, George Hamman, who is an assistant manager of lacrosse, and a member of the swimming squad, and Robert Snider who is an assistant manager of lacrosse, and was manager of the freshman basketball team. Stewart Neil is an assistant manager of basketball, and will be manager his senior year, while Arthur Daniels was a member of Pierian Sodality orchestra and an honor student. John Larkin is likewise in musical activities, playing in the university band, the instrumental clubs, and the Gold Coast orchestra; William Guyer is a member of the wrestling squad; Herbert is prominent in the two chemical societies at the university, and Jack Brown sang in the glee club, and was also a member of the track squad.

Among the activities of the older members, George Barner, present E. A., is a member of the Harvard Flying Club, and the Dramatic Club, and was author of the book for the 1930 Pi Eta Musical Comedy "Wrong Again." George Heffner played in the University band, Seeger was on the track squad, and Waldo was a member of the Dramatic Club.

Of the nine seniors receiving degrees last June, George Heffner and Stewart Daniels received honors, the former receiving an A. B. degree with a Cum Laude in Biology, and the latter an S. B. degree, with a Cum Laude in Mathematics.

A Visit With Texas Delta

By Homer Jack Fisher, Texas Delta

Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Southern Methodist University has just completed a brilliant year. Eight of its most outstanding men having graduated in '29, Texas Delta faced the new year with a rather small but very enthusiastic chapter. The rush season saw the addition of twenty fine new men to the pledge chapter. The group included six high-school honor graduates, two of whom had highest honor rating, an annual editor, a business manager, a state champion debater, four football lettermen, and eight lettermen in other sports.

Just before school opened Billy Arthur won the junior diving championship and runner-up in the senior division of the Southern A. A. U. competition at New Orleans. On the varsity football squad S. A. E. had four representatives: Mason, Masters, Horn, and Winters. S. A. E.'s on the frosh football team were Jacobie, Cloyd, and Hawn.

William Chaddick was a member of the varsity basketball team; Douglas Stone lettered in freshman basketball; Chas. M. Moore was a varsity track man; William Penn was a member of the cross-country team. Scott Abernathy lettered in varsity and Fred Gardiner in freshman tennis. Monte Hall was a varsity golfer.

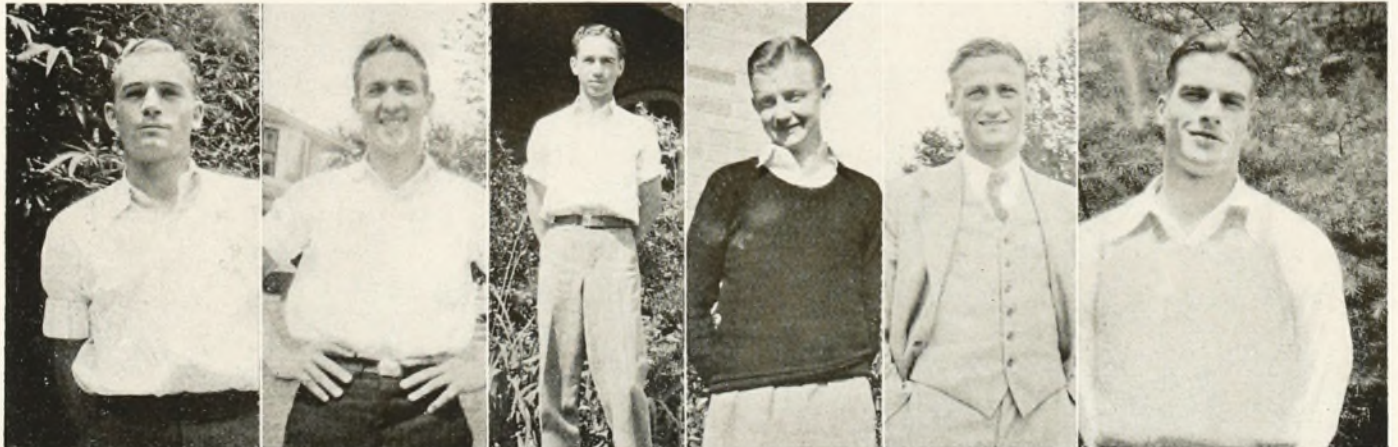

Texas Delta this year won inter-fraternity swimming, and baseball, and was runner-up in basketball, track, golf and tennis. This record won the athletic cup. The end of the first semester had brought to the chapter the cup for the highest fraternity scholastic average. Thus, the chapter now stands as the only fraternity ever holding both the athletic and scholastic cups in the same year.

In the political field the chapter has been quite successful. Ed Masters has represented the Arts and Science School on the Student Council, while T. R. Collet, student assistant in economics and member Alpha Kappa Psi, has been senior athletic director. In the Law Student's Association, the chapter had two officers: John Pope, secretary, and Taylor Armstrong, treasurer. Percy Amacker was president of the senior law class. In the recent elections for the coming year Wylie Johnson was picked to represent the law school on the student council, and Homer Jack Fisher was selected to edit the year-book.

Sam Burford made one of the few straight "A" averages recorder at mid-term. Lloyd Saunders and H. J. Fisher completed the season undefeated as varsity debaters. John Haskins and Billy Arthur were chosen to make the glee club tour. On the publications staffs were Jud Cleveland, Shepperd, and Fisher. Brother Paul Lindsey, succeeded Charlie Paine as director and announcer for the KRLD-SMU College of the Air. Paine originated the idea of such a broadcast last year.

The homecoming of two quite renowned alumni helped make '29-'30 a banner year for Texas Delta. Dr. Ivan Lee Holt, minister and educator now of St. Louis, who was formerly a member of the faculty and who himself chose the small group that in 1916 formed the local to petition S. A. E., visited the University in February. He conducted the conferring of the ritual on a class of nine neophytes, an event long to be remembered. Dr. E. D. Mouzon, charter member and faculty advisor to the chapter, assisted in the ceremony. Dr. Mouzon has been invaluable to the chapter since his return from Northwestern in February of last year. He has positions on several important faculty committees. Prof. Clyde Eagleton, one of the founders of the chapter, now Professor of International Relations at New York University, was sent to Dallas by the Carnegie Foundation to act as technic advisor to the Southwest International Relations Clubs Conference. He received a notable ovation from the school and from the city.

The end of the year 1929-30 shows that Louisiana Tau-Upsilon has enjoyed a most successful ten months. In sports we have probably an average representation. In football Brigham Craft, Will Littell, and Atkinson were among those out for spring practice and all show good possibilities of making next year's squad. In track we were ably represented by Fisher and Flowers. William Woods was one of the stars of the baseball team. In wrestling Drew Smith although not eligible for this year's team showed great promise of being one of the best for next year.

Many class officers are on the roll of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Brigham Craft is president of this year's sophomore Arts and Science class. He was vice-president of his freshman class and has just recently been elected vice-president of next year's junior class. In the Law School Shell is president of the Student Body, and Woods is secretary-treasurer of the freshman class.

In honor societies and various other organizations, Louisiana Tau-Upsilon has an outstanding representation. Waller Fowler is a member of Phi Delta Phi (honorary legal), secretary of the Board of Advisors, Tulane Moot Court Competition, member of Phi Beta Kappa, and is also vice-pres. of the Tulane Dramatic Guild. Shell and Little are also members of Phi Delta Phi. Littell, Maury, Barham, and Henderson are members of the "L'Apache Club." Dowling, Smith and Pledge Gelpi are members of the White Elephants (honorary freshman). Herndon Fair is president of the Architectural Society and was just recently elected to the Gargoyles (national honorary architectural society). He was also chosen to accompany Francis Bloom on the Mayan expedition to Mexico.

In the Band we are represented by Scott Flower who is Drum Major. Herman Busch is a member of the Glee Club and Fowler, Little and Shaw are members of the Tulane Dramatic Guild.

Thus as a whole La. Tau-Upsilon is well represented in each school activity. There is an active chapter of 27, none are lost by graduation, so we find ourselves facing a very successful year.

During the 1929-30 term, S. A. E. has been exceptionally well represented on the Washington and Lee campus. In athletics, Va. Sigma has had men in almost every field of competition. Harris made his monogram at guard, and Devine also saw service. Wofford and Goldenberg gained their numerals on the freshman team. Robinson won his monogram in boxing in the welterweight division, the former being undefeated during the entire season. Fred Cook represented the chapter on the freshman swimming team, and Darden on the track team.

In social affairs, Gilbert led the famous Fancy Dress Ball, and Foote led the Inter-Fraternity Dance. Hall was selected as junior manager of basketball. Paul Wofford as senior manager of boxing, and Schnath as alternate manager of track. W. K. Jennings was on the debating team, and also won the state oratorical contest. Minniece was selected to be business manager of the Troubadours, and Hall succeeded him as publicity manager. Gresham and DuPage played in the orchestra, the former being its leader. Vance held the presidency of the Glee Club and of the Biological Society.

Nor was Va. Sigma idle in publications. Devine was elected business manager of the Calyx for the coming year, while Russell, Hall, A. Wofford, Minniece, and Smith served on the staff. Hightower, Minniece, G. M. Jennings, and Hall were on the staff of the Ring-Tum-Phi. On the W. and L. magazine Hall and T. Smith were active. Devine was initiated into the "13" Club, Schnath into the White Friars, Minniece into P. A. N., Gilbert into ODK, and Russell and Harris into the Cotillion Club. Considering everything, Va. Sigma may feel justly proud of having completed one of the most successful years in its history.

Our Chapter in the World's Metropolis

Miss Olive Shea, chapter Queen, voted the most beautiful radio artist in America

Outstanding among New York Mu's achievements during the past year was the formation of stronger relations with the New York City Alumni Association. Beginning with the sumptuous Founder's Day banquet of the Alumni held at the Interfraternity Club on March 8th, at which four New York Mu brothers were honored guests, the two groups soon found that they had much more in common than they realized. Officials and other members of the Alumni were frequent and honored guests at dinners, meetings and other chapter affairs. The board of directors of the alumni association voted to assist the chapter in any possible way. Particularly valuable and constructive was the advice given by Brothers Carpenter, Balee, Noonan, Aspitt, and others of the Alumni. Relations between the two groups, begun so auspiciously last Spring, are expected to grow even more cordial this year and remain so for many years to come.

New York Mu's Honorary Eminent Archon, Brother Rudy Vallee, also rendered invaluable service to the chapter during the past year. At one of the affairs during rush week Brother Vallee gave an impromptu but very well received talk on the fraternity to a large group of rushees. On another occasion he sent one of his orchestras to play for a rush dance at the house, and as a Xmas gift he presented the house with a handsome radio.

Late in February Brother Vallee entertained a rushing party at his magnificently appointed night club, the famous "Villa Vallee." Once again he played host at the Villa when his brother William was formally initiated into the fraternity, the night of April 22nd. Previous to this affair an informal initiation was held in Brother Vallee's private suite at the Paramount Theater, Brooklyn.

The interest which Brother Vallee has unceasingly manifested in New York Mu is appreciated sincerely by the brothers of the chapter. It is the interest of a man who has for his fraternity only the deepest love and respect. New York Mu counts it a real honor and privilege to have Brother Vallee as its Honorary Eminent Archon.

An innovation destined to become a permanent fixture was made during the past year. It took the form of a weekly reunion and get-together held every Monday evening at the House. At these dinners members of the faculty and of the chapter and city alumni associations, and other prominent personages were present as honored guests.

The chapter during the past year was represented in many forms of campus activity. Louis Holmes served so well on the varsity managerial board that he was appointed one of the football managers for the present season. Blue Key, honor society composed of outstanding juniors, also elected him to membership. Pulver was adequately rewarded for three years faithful work in the glee club by receiving the presidency of that organization for this year. Posturaro, Hinkel, and Bowles are other members of the glee club.

Athletically the chapter held its own with most of the other campus fraternities. Brothers who have participated in various sports, are Johnson, Gaskill, and Nichols, wrestling; Schuler and Sweeney, baseball; Nichols, football; Rongetti (ex-captain) and Bartocchini, water polo; Booth, swimming; Eggleston and Magill, track; Mansfield, fencing; Bowles, crew; and Posturaro and Boyd, freshman basketball.

Brother Mankus heads the Sphinx Club and Eggleston serves as secretary of the same organization. Bartocchini is associate editor of the Columbia Engineer and also holds the treasurer's office in the engineers club. Howard Ochs has distinguished himself academically by his research work in the graduate school in psychology. Ripley serves on the Interfraternity Council. Haller was the outstanding star of the 1930 varsity show, thereby continuing unbroken the traditional chapter monopoly on dramatic honors. Hinkel was honored by College Humour magazine, his picture appearing in the Collegiate Hall of Fame in the January 1930 issue of that publication.

Van Duesen, Phi Beta Kappa and holder of a University Fellowship for 1930, is an instructor in contemporary civilization this year, having joined the half-dozen or so former brothers from New York Mu who are at present on the teaching staff of the University.

New York Mu is extremely fortunate in having as its chapter queen this year, Miss Olive Shea, winsome Warner Brothers star of "Glorifying the American Girl," and other motion picture productions. Miss Shea last year was selected as the most beautiful radio artist in America.

Pledging sixteen freshmen and three sophomores, California Alpha completed in April one of the most successful rushing seasons in the history of S. A. E. at Stanford. Of the nineteen men pledged, fourteen are shown in the enclosed photograph. Almost every form of freshman activity, athletic or otherwise, had one or more representatives from the group pledged by Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Humboldt Leverenz, '30, made a notable record in scholarship and athletics this year. Though winning all his games and heading the list of 1930 Cardinal baseball pitchers, Leverenz still had time to make such fine grades in his studies that he was awarded a scholarship for study at the German university of Munster by the Institute of International Education, New York. Leverenz, a chemistry major, has been especially interested in the field of X-ray analysis. He has served as president of Alpha Chi Sigma and as secretary of Phi Lambda Upsilon, chemistry societies.

Carl Cartwright, '32, and Reid Briggs, '32, monopolized the class presidency between themselves during the past school year. Cartwright was elected to the presidency of the class of '32 in Oct., 1929, and succeeded in office four months later by Briggs. Cartwright is a member of the staff of The Shaparral, Stanford humor magazine; and Briggs is a night editor on The Stanford Daily. Brother Charles Strong, '32, served his class as treasurer throughout the year.

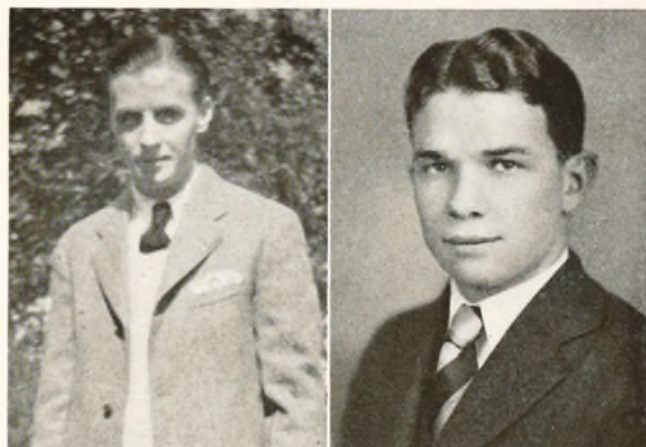

In spring football practice the chapter was represented by Ned Clark, '30 Herb Jones, '31, and Mike Lee, '31. Clark and Lee are ends, and Jones is a tackle.

Besides Leverenz, S. A. E.'s playing varsity baseball this year were Mike Lee, shortstop, and Pledge John McCarry, pitcher.

Frank Erlin, '30, and Pledge Howard Blethen, '32, were members of the varsity tennis squad.

Mike Walters, '30, served as senior boxing manager.

Marching With Illinois Theta

By Sam Van Dyne, Texas Delta

Harold Bluhm Sam Van Dyne William Knowles

Illinois Theta feels itself truly superior in its scholastic record, for in the last two years, in the face of competition from thirty-two other fraternities, Illinois Theta has not once fallen below fifth place and this year is second with a scholastic average approximating B minus. In the past two years Illinois Theta has had the honor of seeing three of its members, Taylor, Lindquist, and Apitz, elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and one of them, Lawrence Apitz, was elected to the supreme office of College Marshall, which is one of the highest honors that the University of Chicago can bestow on a graduating senior. This chapter has also enjoyed the unique privilege of having three brothers elected to receive the Besser-Lindsay Award within the past three years. These men were Robert Wolff, Lawrence Apitz, and Laurel Smith.

In the department of activities the chapter also does its part. Harold Bluhm performed as half-back last fall and was dangerous in every game and a marked man throughout the season. He will be remembered for his work in the great intersectional game at Princeton this year. Two other brothers, Lindklater and Quehl were out for the squad and expect to make a strong bid for positions in next year's varsity line. Test and Quehl are capable wrestlers and have fine prospects for next year. Another freshman brother, Stanley Jenkins made the freshman wrestling team and is considered excellent material for next year's varsity. Johnson and Poole made their numerals in freshman basketball and Poole is, in addition, a promising "cub" on the staff of the "Maroon", University of Chicago daily newspaper. Poole is also a splendid golfer and is expected to go far in the freshman tournaments this spring. Knowles, Bluhm, and Van Dyne are candidates for the University baseball team which tours the Orient this summer. Knowles is a fine southpaw hurler, Bluhm a fleet outfielder, and Van Dyne a third baseman.

In the field of dramatics, we find William Rhamy and Charles Phillips quite active at the University. Thus far Phillips has appeared in many plays this season and seems headed for big things on the histrionic boards. Sam Van Dyne is now art editor of the "Pheonix", humor publication of the University and upholds the publication activities of Illinois Theta.

Lawrence Apitz is now freshman football coach and it is rumored that he will assume a position as assistant to Stagg with next year's varsity eleven. Ned Merriam is of course nationally known as one of the country's most successful track coaches and is an alumnus of Illinois Theta. At one time he held the Big Ten record in the quarter-mile.

Aviation Field Named for a Member of S. A. E.

John A. Winefordner,
Ohio Theta

Lieutenant John A. Winefordner, Ohio Theta, member of the 94th pursuit squadron at Selfridge Field, Michigan, was killed at Lemmon, S. D. on September 5, 1929. He had just taken off on his return trip to Selfridge Field after assisting in the dedicatory services at Lemmon's new airport, when something went wrong with his plane, and it crashed to the ground almost immediately.

Lieutenant Winefordner was born at Duncan Falls, Ohio, on August 23rd, 1905. He was a graduate of the Brooks Aviation School, in Texas, and a member of the Culver Legion Alumni Association of Culver Military Academy. He was a contestant in the recent National Aeronautical Air Races Exposition held at Cleveland, and during this exposition he was singled out by Col. Lindbergh for three conferences. It was said that Col. Lindbergh was especially pleased with the way Winefordner handled his plane.

Lieutenant Winefordner's career was watched with interest by the officers of the Culver Military Academy. As a result of his many successful exploits, his name will be enrolled in the "Hall of Honor" in that institution. He was slated for rapid advancement to a position as instructor at Kelly's Field or in the Philippines. At Selfridge Field he was chief engineer, and no plane could be taken aloft without his inspection and approval. Post Mortem honors from Washington, showed him eligible to fly any plane now in use.

During the funeral ceremony, which was attended by many of his friends of the aviation service, "four planes, in formation, flew overhead, the place of Lieutenant Winefordner's being vacant in the "V."

As a tribute to this courageous young aviator who gave his life during the dedicatory ceremony of their new airport, the Chamber of Commerce at Lemmon, S. D., represented by John N. Bailey, has named the new port, "Winefordner Field."

Pledges of Vermont Beta, University of Vermont

Why I Wish to Become a Member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon

By William Orthman

(Each pledge at Washington Beta must write an article on the above subject, before initiation. The following was written by William Orthman, while he was still a pledge)

I am an "only child" and have spent much of my life in the company of older people. As my parents traveled quite extensively there was but one period in my pre-college life when I knew more than one or two acquaintances of my own age—my high school days. Even in high school there were many lonely moments for me, since my father and mother were not at home much of the time, due to business reasons. The thing that I sought for most was companionship.

In the middle of my second year at high school the wanderlust once more knocked at our door and my parents moved to San Francisco. Reluctant to leave the friends I had made I stayed in Seattle. My summers were spent in California and on these trips I came in contact with the students of practically every school on the coast. Besides this factor Seattle is a college town and the high school students plan their college careers at a much earlier time than those who are not face with collegiate advertisement all of the time. I used to pass often, the big Gothic structure owned by Washington Alpha, and soon it was connected with my day dreams. Everywhere I inquired about fraternities I learned that on every campus S. A. E. was held in high esteem.

However, I did not yet understand the full significance of what Sigma Alpha Epsilon would mean to me.

On September 11, 1929, I left San Francisco, Pullman bound. Five days later I was the proud possessor of a Sig Alph pledge pin. I did not even then realize what it would mean to me, but before the week was up I knew that I had found the companionship I had always sought. Surrounded by true friends, interested in each other's welfare, I began to see that my little sphere that I had called life had been seen through smoked glasses. One of the greatest things that S. A. E. taught me is my own unimportance and with this the realization that I could mingle with my fellow men in a way that had never been possible before. Little details in my character have been watched and corrected and I feel that I am a much better person for the teaching.

These things together with an inner feeling that comes over me when I hear "Violets" are the reasons that I hold for wishing to become a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. I want the character building process to continue, to strengthen the bond of fellowship that now exists between me and the members and pledges of S. A. E.; to try and help others as they have helped me. I hope that I will be an asset to my fraternity, although I know that no matter how much I give to S. A. E. I will never be able to do as much for it as it will do, and has done for me.

First Transatlantic Flyer Decorated

Seven men responsible for the first transatlantic flight in May, 1919, by the NC-4, were presented with medals by President Hoover at a ceremony held on the White House lawn during the early part of the Summer.

The first to be decorated by the President was Commander John H. Towers, Georgia Phi, assistant chief of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics. Towers can rightfully be called the "first man to fly the Atlantic," for, according to the New York Times of May 24, it was he "who conceived and directed the flight."

One of the first three officers assigned to aviation by the Government in 1910, Commander Towers has had an exceptionally distinguished record in the air service of the navy. He left Georgia Tech to enter the Naval Academy from which institution he graduated. His early air training he received from Glenn H. Curtiss, noted pioneer in aviation. He saw service in Mexico during the 1924 disturbance, being in command of the aviation unit established at Vera Cruz. During the World War he was an aviator observer in Europe and was later attached to the American embassy in London, where he remained for more than two years.

† In Memoriam—LeRoy Stoker †

LeRoy E. Stoker of Winnetka, Illinois, an initiate of Illinois Psi-Omega at Northwestern, who was this past year pursuing his education at the University of Florida, was injured on April 20, 1930 in an automobile accident near Tallahassee, Florida and died a few minutes after the accident occurred. His body was brought to Evanston and interred just a few feet from that of "Billy" Levere. The family of LeRoy has donated a pew to the Memorial Temple in memory of him, on either end of which will be carved the names of Illinois Psi-Omega and Florida Upsilon.

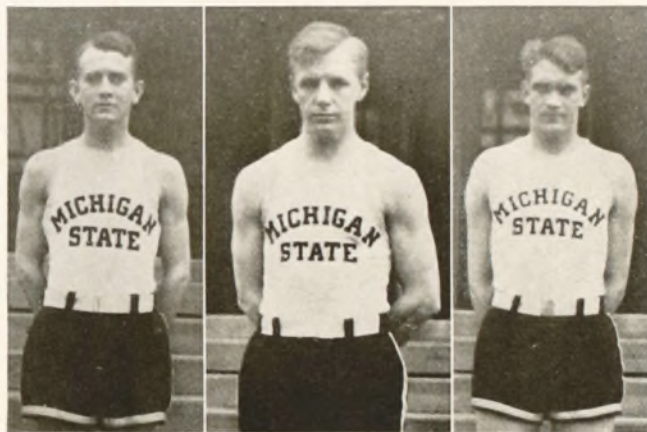

† In Memoriam—C. W. Constantine †

Cunningham Wilson Constantine, N. C. Xi, University of North Carolina, was killed in an automobile accident Friday, May 2, 1930. At the time of his death Brother Constantine was considered one of the chapter's most prominent juniors. He had been elected manager of the University's basketball team and shortly before his death had been elected to membership in the Gorgon's Head, junior social order. He was also active in fraternity affairs, his work during the past rushing season contributing much to the chapter's success in that field.

Three members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Bob Barker, Minnesota Alpha, Pierre Kenyon, Michigan Gamma and William Ford, California Gamma have just recorded for Victor (record number 22437) "Fight On," the fight song of the University of Southern California, in conjunction with Harold Grayson's Trojan Band. This record has just been released and is a splendid addition to the records of collegiate music and a great credit to the three members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

New York Rho Celebrates Anniversary

On June 10, 1930 New York Rho Chapter celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their founding as a local. Present and presiding at the banquet was the founder, S. Clayton Sumner of Syracuse. Eighty-five members were present and the reunion and anniversary was of much interest. At the banquet, announcement was made that Clarence Barter would award fifty dollars to each member of the chapter elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

The active chapter presented each one of the founders present at the banquet with an S. A. E. watch charm, decorated with the fraternity crest.

A Hero in the Oklahoma Riot

In a recent mob clash in Oklahoma, Brother H. G. White of Oklahoma Kappa displayed great valor in his attempt to prevent an enraged mob from lynching a negro for an alleged attack upon a member of the community. It was through White's heroism that a hanging was averted, for he went into the negro's cell alone and escorted him out, even though the building was then a mass of flames and the fury of the mob was at its highest. White is a Lieutenant in the National Guard of Oklahoma.

California Beta Wins Cup

California Beta just received a cup for winning first place in the inter-fraternity boxing tournament and a plaque for first place in interfraternity basketball. Since there are 63 fraternities which entered the basketball tournament, the competition was heated and interest was very high, the final game being played before a considerable gallery of Greeks. For the last several years California Beta has been in the quarter-finals or semi-finals, but was never quite able to break into and win the finals until this year.

Oregon Alpha Alumni News

A. C. Albrecht has been with the Portland Daily Shipping News for nine years and is now vice-president and general manager. Albrecht belongs to the Portland chamber of Commerce, served as a director of the Portland shipping Club, holds membership in the Traffic Club and usually finds time to attend formal invitations at the chapter house in Corvallis.

Charles Bramkamp of the class of '22 is holding forth at El Centro, California where he is working as plant superintendent for the Golden State Milk Products Co. That is the fourth plant in which "Chuck" has served as superintendent.

After holding down the position as pomologist for the Brazilian government for 2 years and acting in the capacity of assistant of horticulture at the University of Missouri for 4 years, H. A. Cardinell is in the extension service at Michigan State College.

Lathrop K. Leishman may be reached at 240 W. Green St., Pasadena, California. Lathrop is now manager of the Crown City Manufacturing Co., being associated with his father. He is a member of the Rotary Club of Pasadena and is a first Vice-President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Paul Peterson is in the Stock raising business at Venator, Oregon.

H. R. Wiley after leaving the bureau of Agriculture of Economics at Portland, Oregon has joined the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. as traffic assistant. Brother Wiley's address is 442 E. 17th St., N. Portland, Oregon.

Notes from California Gamma

Four Sig Alphas of California Gamma are on the varsity baseball squad. Bob Allen is a catcher; Lowell Dryden, a pitcher; Art Hudson and Paul Sylvester play in the infield.

Paul Sylvester may be a second Bobby Jones. To him par is a friendly rival and his game is seldom more than one or two over par and often below it. Paul played on the victorious University of Southern California team of the Pacific Coast Inter-collegiate Golf tournament.

Like Bobby Jones, Paul is very modest about his ability. He was pledged for several weeks before the other members of the chapter knew he played golf at all.

Matt Barr is editor this year of El Rodeo, the University of Southern California year book, and one of his assistant editors is Johnny Morley, a sophomore. Next to student body president, the position of El Rodeo editor is the most responsible one in school.

Warde Ogden made the highest scholastic average in the College of Commerce, of the University of Southern California, this last year. Although he was carrying eighteen hours of work and earning money at the same time, Warde maintained an average of 2.56, which is A minus, or from 95 to 100. He is a senior.

Fred Chase with International News

Few of the readers of Hollywood movie columns by Fred-eric A. Chase, staff correspondent of International News Service, know that he is a junior at the University of Southern California who works as night editor of the news service. Chase is twenty-two years old, and is a Sig Alph of California Gamma chapter. He acted as a delegate to the province Kappa convention in March. His movie columns are written when there are no important "immediate" stories breaking, and many publicity directors of the studios refer to him as the "I.N.S. movie editor."

Chase is also scholarship chairman and Eminent Chronicler of his chapter.
