FRATERNITY LOYALTY

Steadfast and Enduring as that Fixed North Star

The Pledge Master Discusses the Question of Fraternity Loyalty with his Neophytes.

Pledge Master: “. . . And then you must be loyal to our fraternity—living up to the ideals laid down by our founders which, like the silent strength of that fixed North Star, guide the lives of the initiates and alumni of our fraternity.”

Neophyte: “How can I best show my loyalty?”

Pledge Master: “In the wearing of your pledge button, be reminded of your pledge obligations and your loyalty to our fraternity. This first symbol of your association with our fraternity, like the Official Badge which you hope to wear later, is manufactured by our Official Jeweler, the L. G. Balfour Company.”

Neophyte: “Why is it necessary to have an Official Jeweler?”

Pledge Master: “Because we are enabled to get the finest quality for the lowest prices, because each badge is made under contract according to our official specifications, but most important because through patronizing our official jeweler exclusively we protect our Fraternity name and insignia from falling into unauthorized hands.”

Neophyte: “How do we come in contact with our Official Jeweler?”

Pledge Master: “The L. G. Balfour Company has 35 Branch Offices and 70 traveling representatives who visit every campus in the country. A representative visits our chapter frequently throughout the year.”

Neophyte: “Will I be disloyal to my fraternity if I do not patronize our Official Jeweler?”

Pledge Master: “Yes. As a fraternity man pledged loyal to our fraternity, it is your first duty to patronize only our Official Jeweler.”

Neophyte: “Does our Official Jeweler manufacture anything beside our official insignia?”

Pledge Master: “Yes. Our Official Jeweler manufactures fine rings, gifts, smoking accessories, compacts, dance programs, and favors beside many other things. All these are illustrated in the

The Cover Few followers of football will need to be told that the photograph on the cover of this issue is that of Irvine ("Cotton") Warburton, Calif. 1', dynamic quarterback of the University of Southern California who is expected to repeat his performance of 1933 when he was the outstanding gridiron hero of the United States. The cover is the work of Johannes Waller, Ill.  $\Psi$ - $\Omega$  '35.

S A E's Realm The outline map of the United States, showing the location by states of the 108 chapters of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, which appears as the frontispiece of this issue, is the work of Robert H. Col. McNeese Col. Oswald W. McNeese, La. E '03, the author of the article about Lieut. Robert M. In this position he had exceptional opportunities for getting all the facts about Lieut. Anderson's remarkable exploit which was one of the most dramatic incidents in the American participation in the World War.

Σ A Es Take Prominent Part in National Affairs

By Lawrence L. Gourley, W. C. Rho '23

▪ Hon. John H. Bankhead, Ala. M '91, Junior Senator from Alabama.

WITH a member of the President's Cabinet in the person of Hon. Daniel Calhoun Roper, S.C. Γ '88, Secretary of the Department of Commerce, five members of the United States Senate and eleven members of the House of Representatives in the Seventy-third Congress, in addition to scores of men holding responsible positions in the various departments and bureaus of the Federal Government, Sigma Alpha Epsilon occupies a paramount position at Washington. The Senators and Representatives are:

Plumley, Vt. A-Σ-II '96, of Vermont; and Jared Young Sanders, Jr., La. E '12 and Va. Σ '14, of Louisiana.

Representatives Blanchard and Plumley are republicans while the other nine representatives and the five senators are all democrats, which is about in proportion to the political make-up of the Seventy-third Congress, but the widespread territory represented by these men gives eloquent testimony to the truly national character of Σ A E. The senators come from Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Nevada, and Georgia while the representatives hail from such widely separated states as Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Georgia, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Ohio, Colorado, Tennessee, and Vermont.

Among the chapters of  $\Sigma$  A E, Louisiana Epsilon, with one senator and two representatives, and Tennessee Zeta, with two senators, take front rank. Although young in years, Senator "Pat" Harrison is the dean of the  $\Sigma$  A E delegation, having been a member of Congress since 1911. He served four terms in the House and is now serving his third term in the Senate. Senator Pittman is serving his fourth term in that august body. Senators Bankhead, Bachman, and Russell are serving their first terms.

Representative "Bill" Arnold of Illinois is oldest in point of service among S A Es in the House, being now in his sixth term, but is closely followed by Judge "Gene" Cox of Georgia who is serving his fifth term. Representative John R. Mitchell of Tennessee is serving his second term.

Two other S A Es were formerly members of the Seventy-third Congress: Hon. Charles Hillyer Brand, Ga. B '81, of the Tenth District of Georgia, who died during his ninth term on May 17, 1933; and Hon. Hiram Heartsill Ragon, Va.  $\Sigma$  '08 and Ark. A-Y '09, of the Fifth District of Arkansas, who resigned during his sixth term on June 16, 1933, to become judge of the United States District Court for the Western District of Arkansas.

As Creel Pictures Roper

By George Creel, in the "Elks Magazine"

DANIEL CALHOUN ROPER, S.C. Γ '88, Secretary of Commerce, is the administration's handyman. Professor Moley may have been called when a policy was to be decided but when it comes to a question of how that policy is going to be put into effect, and the way to make it work, "Dan" Roper is the man called in.

He was at the head of the select committee that planned the railroad law, the reorganization of government departments and the Industrial Recovery Act, not to mention a score or so of other like matters.

Oil is a rough and gritty substance compared to the smoothness of Mr. Roper for virtually all of his adult life has been spent in politics, and he has lifted the profession into an art. While a member of the South Carolina legislature, he made some remarkable discovery about cotton statistics that won him a ten year job with the United States Census Bureau. With that as a spring board he eased himself into Congress. The first Wilson administration elevated him to be first assistant postmaster general, and due to his invaluable services in the 1916 campaign, he was appointed Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Mr. Roper looks like a preacher, and strangely enough, the appearance is not deceptive, for his success in politics has not been due to slyness, but to simplicity and straightforwardness. Everybody knows that "Dan" Roper's word is as good as gold; there isn't a bitter drop in him, and best of all, he has an invincible modesty that makes him willing to let others have the credit for an achievement. Added to all this, he has ability and a most prodigious industry. When 1936 rolls around, and the Roosevelt record comes up for appraisal, nothing is more certain than that "Dan" Roper will be found to have played a great part in its accomplishment.—The Elks Magazine.

Caffery's Residence Attacked

▪ Jefferson Caffery, La. T-T '06, American ambassador to Cuba, broke into the headlines again early in June when Cubans shot into his residence at Havana and another gang waylaid the motor car of the first secretary of the embassy. Despite the threats made against him, Mr. Caffery walked calmly through the streets of Havana without special protection to meet a diplomatic appointment.

▪ Dr. Herbert C. Henton, Ore. B '27, received a signal honor from Johns Hopkins University when he was appointed to conduct research on diseases of the eye at Johns Hopkins Medical School. He will have entire charge of this field of research.

National Capital Beckons to S A Es

By Chas. R. Allen, Chairman, Convention Committee

ALUMNI of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, living in the metropolitan district of the National Capital, and the active members of Washington City Rho are combining pleasant anticipation and diligent effort in preparing to act as hosts for the biennial National Convention to be held in Washington, D.C., Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 27, 28 and 29, 1934, with the Willard Hotel as convention headquarters.

Plans already completed include the reservation of the entire eighth and ninth floors of the Willard for the accommodation of convention delegates and visitors, directly under the famous ball room in which the sessions of the Convention will be held; a trip to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., Friday afternoon; the Convention Dinner, with famous alumni as speakers and many surprise features Friday evening; and a Diplomatic Ball, such as only the National Capital can stage as the concluding social feature Saturday evening.

Visits to Mount Vernon, home of George Washington, and to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington, the home of General Robert E. Lee, will also be arranged and, if time can be found for the excursion, a visit will be made to the spacious suburban home of a prominent alumna who wishes to have the entire convention as his guests.

Round trip railroad rates on the certificate identification plan have already been arranged for the Convention, the rate being one and one-third fares for the round trip, with the privilege of using diverse routes for the going and returning journeys if desired. Delegates and visitors will be furnished identification certificates by the Eminent Supreme Recorder on the presentation of which at any ticket office, round trip tickets may be purchased for them—and the members of their families.

This will be the first time the alumni of Washington have had the pleasure of entertaining their brothers since 1902 when a convention was held which still occupies a prominent place in the memories of S A Es all over the country. Washington was also the host of the historic convention of 1894, the last of the annual conventions, but the city is now so much more attractive than ever before and  $\Sigma$  A E has made such great progress in recent years that the members of the entertainment committee feel that the Washington Convention of 1934 will far outdistance in brilliance and accomplishment either of the conventions held in Washington in the past.

For those S A Es who have never visited the Nation's Capital a distinct treat is in store while those who have not been in Washington in recent years will behold a wonderful transformation. Delegates and visitors arriving by rail will first behold the familiar sights, the Capitol and the Washington monument. At the left end of the mammoth concourse of the Washington Union Station they will find an  $\Sigma$  A E booth at which they will be given all necessary information.

Boarding special buses or private cars, they will ride to the Willard along the new and beautiful Constitution Avenue and historic Pennsylvania Avenue, so famous for its parades, which has undergone a remarkable change. The dilapidated business houses which marred its beauty have been removed and public buildings representing an outlay of $200,000,000 have already been completed or are under construction.

The Willard is located in the heart of the city, being within a stone's throw of the White House, the Treasury, the Pan American Union, Red Cross Headquarters, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the Department of Commerce, the Smithsonian Institute, the Bureau of Engraving and other public buildings.

A visit to Washington is an education in itself and delegates and visitors will be able to visit the Capitol, the Library of Congress, the Washington Monument, the Lincoln Memorial and the hundreds of other places of interest which make the National Capital a city of absorbing interest.

The alumni of Washington and the active men of all the chapters of Province Gamma are proud to act as the hosts of the 1934 Convention and have contributed generously of their time, talent and resources to make sure that the Convention will be a success. At least 500 registrations from outside Washington are expected and entertainment plans have been made on that basis.

To any brother who may hesitate about visiting the Convention, let me say, you just can't afford to miss it.

■ Lyle C. Wilson, Okla. K '21, Manager of the Washington Bureau of the United Press.

LYLE C. WILSON, Okla. K '18, has been appointed chief of the United Press Bureau at Washington, D.C. This elevation of a brother so young in years but so rich in experience is a cause for great pleasure not only to his chapter mates who "knew him when" but also to the whole fraternity that it should be represented at Washington in a position of such esteem and importance in the newspaper world.

Wilson was born August 2, 1899, in Topeka, Kan., later removing to Oklahoma City where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin, still reside. He was initiated into Sigma Alpha Epsilon February 10, 1918, at the University of Oklahoma, later affiliating with Missouri Alpha at the University of Missouri.

During the war he was a second lieutenant of infantry. After the war he served in the office of the U. S. Wheat Director in Washington, and later joined the staff of the Daily Oklahoman of Oklahoma City. In 1922 he went to Europe, and after travel through various countries joined the United Press in London. In London he handled many important news events of the old world, including the election of the first Socialistic government in Great Britain; Mussolini's Fascist march on Rome, and the French occupation of the Ruhr.

In 1924 he was transferred to New York as cable editor of the United Press, and in 1927 was sent to Washington on permanent assignment. In 1930 Wilson was assigned to the United States Senate where his handling of political news has been an outstanding accomplishment in recent reportorial history. Maintaining a complete independence and an objective viewpoint he has covered one exciting and difficult session after another in a distinctive manner.

As a result of his meritorious work Wilson has been made chief of the United Press Bureau at Washington, D.C., and his many friends and fraternity brothers will continue to expect great things of him.

Will They Be Gridiron Heroes of 1934?

By Walter Colbath, III. Psi-Omega '30

WHEN the air gets nippy and the crowds begin filling the huge stadiums of the colleges and universities of the country; when students set aside their books on week-ends and the old grads come back "for the big game"; when sports writers go into ecstasies of praise over young collegiates who can "carry the ball"—how many of the names which will flash through the headlines on the sports pages of the newspapers of the country will belong to members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon? . . . what young men wearing the emblem of Minerva will cover themselves with glory through their exploits on the gridirons of the nation?

Out on the Pacific coast at the University of Southern California there is a young football prodigy whose name has already blazed through the football sky for a season and who was easily the outstanding back in the country last year. Irvine "Cotton" Warburton, Calif.  $\Gamma$  '35, only unanimous selection for All-American in 1933, will again be the field general of another of Howard Jones' splendid teams. Small—he weighs only 145 pounds—fast, elusive, a splendid broken field runner and a deadly tackler, Warburton is the answer to a coach's prayer for a great back. He has a steady head and last year, playing against some of the best teams in the land, he led U.S.C. through a season which might well have been disastrous except for his brilliant general-

■ Norman "Red" Franklin, Ore.  $A$  '35, Oregon State Back.

■ Howard C. Kohout, Penn.  $\Phi$  '36, Carnegie Tech Guard.

ship and startling ability to wend his way through a field literally covered with tacklers for big gains of from ten to eighty yards. He hits a line like a small bundle of dynamite, squeezes through seemingly impossible holes, and in returning punts he has no peer.

In the line ahead of the midget cottontop will be Hueston Harper, Calif.  $\Gamma$  '35, one of the best tackles on the Pacific coast. In his sophomore year Harper was picked for one of the tackle posts on the All-Pacific Coast team picked each season by the sports writers and coaches of that section, and in 1933, though handicapped during the greater part of the year by an injury to his leg, was given honorable mention for that position. While not a flashy player of Warburton's type, he is big, fast, and dependable and is a regular bulwark of defense. Unless there is a recurrence of the old injury to his leg, there should be two S A E All-Americans on the U.S.C. team this year.

At Oregon State

■ At the other end of the Pacific coast there is Norman "Red" Franklin at Oregon State. This red-topped spark plug of Oregon State's famous "Iron Men" eleven in 1933 was one of the big reasons why that team held Southern California to a 0-0 tie and beat Fordham's Rams, one of the outstanding teams in the East, by a 9-6 score. Franklin is a fine backfield man and an excellent passer. He was named on several All-American selections last year and is also intercollegiate middleweight boxing champion of Oregon. He is a senior this year and a member of Oregon Alpha.

In the East two S A Es will lead their teams onto the gridiron as captains. Pennsylvania Zeta's Ralph Furiel, '35, will captain another great Bucknell team and Johnny Pennypacker, Penn.  $\Theta$  '35, will toss the coin for Pennsylvania. Furiel, a guard, was given honorable mention on quite a few All-Eastern and All-American selections last year and the sports writers of the New York Times and the Pittsburgh Post rated him with Metzger of Notre Dame as a guard. Coach Snavely of Bucknell says that he is one of the best guards he has ever coached.

Pennypacker also received honorable mention on the All-Eastern team, and is one of the finest ends ever to play at Pennsylvania. Because of his outstanding work during 1933, his teammates elected him captain of the 1934 team by acclamation, an honor which is almost unheard of in the history of Penn's athletic teams. Pennypacker also played on the Penn basketball team which won the Eastern Intercollegiate League title last winter.

At Carnegie Tech, Elmer Vorderburg, Penn.  $\Phi$  '35, and Howard Kohout, Penn.  $\Phi$  '36, will be back in football togs. Vorderburg, a halfback, played on the freshman team of 1929 at Carnegie and then dropped out of school for two years. When he returned in 1932 he earned a varsity berth in his sophomore year and last year was one of the most dependable backs on his team. He is consistent, reliable, a good blocker, and is one of the fastest men in the backfield. Kohout, a guard who is beginning his second year of competition at Carnegie Tech, has an ideal build for his position. Last year he was handicapped by the return of the varsity guards at Tech who had played two years, but this year these guards are gone and he is looked upon by his coaches as an excellent prospect to fill one of the vacancies.

In the Sunny South

Down South at the University of Tennessee, Major Bob Neyland is rumored to have another of his famously great teams. When his eleven trots out on the gridiron, Murray Warmath, Tenn. K '35, and Fred Moses, Tenn. K '36, will take their places at end and quarterback. Warmath has received All-Southern recognition for the last two years and is also president of the student body at Tennessee. Moses, who will be playing his second year of college football, weighs only 148 pounds, but has proved that he has the ability and courage which Neyland requires in a quarterback. He is considered by many as the best field general Tennessee has produced since the days of the great Bobby Lloyd.

At Duke University, the school which has made such wonderful progress in football since Wallace Wade came up from Alabama to take charge of its football destiny, it seems that the whole varsity backfield will be made up of members of North Carolina Nu. B. O. "Corky" Cornelius, '35, mainspring of Duke's offense, will easily be the man to watch this year. Last year it was Bob Cox, N.C. N '34, the hard-hitting fullback who was accorded All-Southern and All-American honors. Cornelius, too, received mention on the All-Southern selections of many papers and this year should reach even higher glory. Alexander, Ward, and Kelley, all members of N.C. N, will line up with Cornelius in Duke's backfield most of the time when the whistle blows for the kick-off.

At Tulane, a school that is feared throughout the country by its football opponents, Dick Hardy, La. T-Y '35, will be playing at one end. He is big and fast and is the best pass receiver Tulane has had since the great Jerry Dalrymple was graduated. When Tulane's famed air attack gets under way this fall, Hardy will be on the receiving end of a great majority of the passes.

Joe Ruppert, Ky. E '35, will be captain of Kentucky's 1934 eleven. This will be his third year at the end position and he has already been accorded All-Southern and All-Southeastern honors. He also plays basketball and baseball and is one of the most popular men on the Kentucky campus.

Brothers at Georgia Tech

The only brother act in  $\Sigma$  A E football circles during 1934 will be the Wilcox brothers, members of Georgia Phi at Georgia Tech. Each will hold down a guard position on Tech's team. Dave, '35, is a veteran and was mentioned on last year's All-Southern. John, '36, a member of the 1929 All-Southern prep team, showed great promise last year as a sophomore at Tech and much is expected of him in 1934.

In the Big Ten conference in the Middle West there are two S A E sophomores at Purdue University who are looked upon hopefully by the partisans of that school to bring it back to its former position of prestige in the conference. John Drake, '37, star fullback on last year's freshman team, was awarded a gold watch by the university athletic department for being the best freshman player in the school. Roberty Purdy, '37, a half-back, was runner-up for the award won by Drake.

At Ohio State, where Francis A. Schmidt, Neb. A-II '07, has just taken over the reigns as head coach of football, Frank Fisch, Ohio O '36, will carry out Coach Schmidt's ideas on the field of play. He will occupy the quarterback's post, and is considered one of the best prospects for that position Ohio State has had for many a day. During his sophomore year he showed great promise and this year should see him receiving the recognition he deserves.

There are numerous other S A Es who will be playing the All-American game for their respective schools this fall. Some will receive prominence, others will fail, but all will enjoy the trying. Maybe someone never before heard of will be a greater player than the men mentioned in this article, maybe these men will be all that is expected of them—either way it is a reasonably sure bet that S A Es will again receive their share of the glory and prominence during the gridiron season of 1934.

Four of the eighteen winners of the Big Ten Conference Medal at Northwestern University have been members of Illinois Psi-Omega. This award has been presented each year since 1915 to the senior who was most outstanding in scholarship and athletics in each school in the Big Ten Conference. No award was made in 1918. The  $\Sigma$  A E winners of the award at Northwestern are Reuben A. Marquardt, 1919, Robert Johnson, 1927, William Drogemuller, 1928, and Kenneth Willard, 1933. Can another chapter in the Big Ten show such a high percentage of winners?

Henry H. Wootten, Okla. K '21, cotton oil mill man of Chickasha, has been elected as a member of the Athletic Council of the University of Oklahoma where he will serve with Neil R. Johnson, Okla. K '17, giving  $\Sigma$  A E two of the three alumni members.

A chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon began, this year, to send cards to alumni on their birthdays.

Σ A E in the National A.A.U. Basketball Tournament

By E. G. Keefe, Wyoming Alpha '28

FIVE members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon participated in the final game of the national A.A.U. basketball tournament at Kansas City, Mo., March 17, 1934, when the Tulsa DX Oilers, the defending champions, defeated the hard driving Wyoming University team by the score of 29-19 for the honor of being champions of the United States. Four of these men were playing in the battle for cage honors, three with the Wyoming team and one with the Oilers. The fifth S A E was Willard Witte, Neb. Δ-Π '30, the youthful coach of the Wyoming quintet.

Wyoming Alpha was represented on the University of Wyoming team by Les Witte, forward and brother of Coach Witte, Haskell Leuty, center, and Arthur Hamon, guard. All of these men have won many honors in basketball and had helped their team win the Rocky Mountain Conference title a week prior to the national tournament. Les Witte was the star of the Wyoming team and scored more than 1,000 points during his college career. He is considered one of the best left-handed hook shot artists in the game.

At center on the Tulsa Oilers team was Tom Pickell, Ark. A-Y '29, a former All-American from the University of Arkansas.

Each year the Kansas City Star and Kansas City Journal-Post pick all-tournament teams which are considered in sporting circles as the All-American teams in basketball. The Journal-Post placed Witte and Pickell on its first team, and the Star picked Pickell and Hamon on its first team and Witte and Leuty on its second.

Norby Wins Belated Glory

By A. M. Sowder, Idaho Alpha '25

Three seasons devoted faithfully to the "dirty work" in football—effective blocking and deadly tackling while others carry the ball and draw the cheers—brought manifold if belated glory to "Honest John" Norby, Idaho A '34, in his senior year. An excellent blocking halfback and the finest defensive fullback on the Pacific coast last season, Norby proved himself to be an iron man among iron men when he climaxed his collegiate football career by playing longer in the last All-Star East-West game than any other man on the field—56 out of a possible 60 minutes of play. He paved the way for the West's first score when he blocked out Skladany of Pittsburgh to leave the remaining distance to the goal line open for the West ball-carrier.

Norby's first award came when his teammates elected him honorary captain of the 1934 Idaho team at the close of the season. Soon after, Western coaches and scouts picked him for blocking half on the West's team in the annual San Francisco Shrine game. As a final honor, his classmates at Idaho elected him president of the senior class in February. "Honest John" desires to become a coach, and will take a whirl at professional football for a few seasons to gain further experience. Rumor has it that he will appear in the uniform of the famous New York Giants next season.

Alumni Activities Here and Abroad

By Chas. A. Price, Mississippi Gamma '33

FOUNDERS' DAY was celebrated on the Isthmus of Panama for the first time in history, when eight members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon gathered at the American Legation in Panama City on the evening of March 9, 1934, and organized a new alumni association. Antonio C. Gonzalez, W.C. P '09, American Minister to Panama, was host to Leslie C. Davies, Mich. Γ '23, U. S. engineer, Thomas M. Dykers, La. T-Y '26, Lieut. U.S.N., Maurice G. Eggleston, N.Y. M '31, U. S. engineer, Wayne Gilder, Ala. I '16, doctor at Colon Hospital, Ralph C. Jensen, Colo. Δ '31, U. S. engineer, C. Roland Jones, Me. A '21, U. S. engineer, and Lyle E. Womack, Iowa Γ '24, Panama business man, at an excellent dinner during which toasts were drunk to the fraternity and those members who had passed on into the Chapter Eternal.

After dinner the group was conducted to the cleverly arranged roof-garden of the Legation by Gonzalez and here, amid the red and green running lights and life-rings which gave a definite sea-going appearance to the garden, a new alumni association was formed. Gonzalez was elected president and Davies secretary. All S A Es planning to visit Panama should communicate with the Hon. Antonio C. Gonzalez, American Minister, American Legation, Panama City, in order to be accorded a real Σ A E welcome by this new-born association in a foreign country.

A group of twenty S A Es in Waterloo, Iowa, and surrounding towns have formed an informal alumni association and expect soon to apply for a charter. Several meetings have already been held under the leadership of George B. Worthen, Ill. B '98, president of the group, one of which was attended by members of the active chapter of Iowa Beta at the University of Iowa. Regular monthly meetings have been planned and alumni of that vicinity should get in touch with Worthen at Waterloo, Iowa.

Ohio Cities Active

▪ The Cleveland, Ohio, Alumni Association had the largest turnout in its history for the Founders' Day banquet on March 9. One hundred and sixty-eight S A Es attended. Following the course of its program in other years, prizes were awarded by the association for the best "Founders' Day Oration," best "Original Founders' Day Song," and best "Original Founders' Day Poem." Erwin G. Guthery, Ohio Δ '00 and new president of the association, was the orator of the day, Kline F. Leet, Ohio Σ '99, the songster, and Philo P. Rhoades, Ohio Δ '01, was again the poet with his poem "The Founders."

A majority of the monthly meetings of the Columbus, Ohio, Alumni Association during the current year will be held at the chapter house of Ohio Theta at Ohio State University, thus bringing about a much closer contact between the actives and alumni in that city. The April meeting was held at the University Club in Columbus with Francis A. Schmidt, Neb. Δ-II '07, new coach at Ohio State, as the guest of honor. At the May meeting at the chapter house Royall H. Snow, Mass. Γ '20, was guest of honor. Snow is in the English department of Ohio State and is an author of note. Much enthusiasm has been shown and the association is in fine shape. In the fall it plans to issue a directory of S A Es in Columbus and a monthly bulletin concerning its activities.

At the regular luncheons of the Boston, Mass., Alumni Association a prominent speaker is secured for each meeting. One of the most enjoyable during the past year was that at which Conrad Nagel, Cal. Γ '27, was guest of honor. Through his kind invitation, many S A Es enjoyed Nagel's histrionic skill at a Boston theater during his engagement there. John S. Bridges, III, Pa. Θ '30, is president of the association.

The Buffalo, N.Y., alumni meet regularly once a month for golf tournaments during the summer and spring and for bowling during the winter. Weekly luncheons are held at the Buffalo Athletic Club.

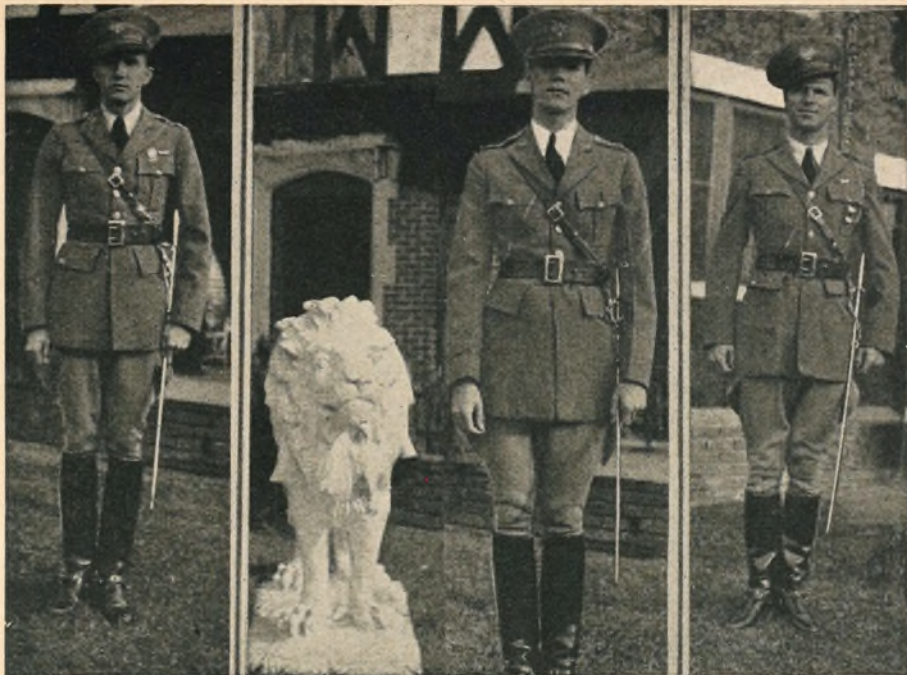

The presentation of an alumni association charter to the Central Virginia Alumni Association was a feature of the Founders' Day banquet at Richmond. This association has been meeting informally for about three years and has grown and prospered, having meetings regularly on the second Friday of each month and social events arranged at the convenience of the members. Robert G. Richards, Mass. Γ '16, is president.

The Pittsburgh Alumni Association featured a 30-minute memorial service preceding its Founders' Day dinner at the University Club. Because of the scourge of psittacosis (parrot fever) in Pittsburgh which centered around McCreery's store, the meeting place of the alumni for many years, the association was forced to find new quarters for its regular meetings. The luncheons are now held in the Harvard-Yale-Princeton Club every Thursday with Eric G. Johnson, Pa. X-O '23, presiding as president.

Speakers at Los Angeles

Featuring an outstanding man as guest speaker at each of its regular weekly luncheons, the Los Angeles Alumni Association has built up alumni interest steadily during the past year. Some of the notable speakers who have appeared are Bishop W. B. Stevens, Loring Andrews, Merle Armitage, Howard Jones, Sam Berry, and Major Henry Lanagan. Once during the year the association held a fathers' and sons' day, and another occasion of much interest was the field day which was attended by the members of the active chapters in Los Angeles. A section of seventy seats was reserved by the association for all of Southern California's home football games.

The wide-awake Cincinnati Alumni Association meets for luncheon every Thursday at the Netherland-Plaza Hotel, besides having many outside functions such as picnics, smokers, football luncheons, bowling parties, and rushing parties. The association mailing list has been completely revised and now consists of about 325 names of local alumni, and the bulletin, Phoenix Feathers, has been issued three or four times during the past year and mailed to all local alumni. Names of prospective rushees for the active chapters are obtained by means of a questionnaire circulated among the alumni, and much help has been given to the chapters along this line. Harry L. Franklin, Ohio E '26, is serving his second successive term as president.

Alumni in and around Longview, Texas, have organized the East Texas Alumni Association and expect to apply for a charter in the near future. Several meetings have been held under the leadership of Roy I. Tennant, Jr., Tex. P '30, since the first meeting on Founders' Day, and all alumni of the vicinity are cordially invited to join with the group in future meetings.

The Chicago Alumni Association had a very active year in which it entertained at a luncheon in honor of the visiting members of the Supreme Council who were in session in Evanston, joined with other members of the National Interfraternity Council and the Panhellenic Conference in a dinner and dance at the Palmer House, and had several golf parties at the Columbian Country Club. Many members of the association attended the Province Mu convention at the Levere Memorial Temple, and on the anniversary of Billy Levere's death a delegation paid respect to his memory by placing a wreath upon his grave. Dewey F. Fagerburg, Mich. I-B '20, was elected president of the association at the annual Founders' Day banquet on March 9.

The Atlanta Alumni Association kept up its schedule of weekly luncheons on each Monday as in past years and on March 9 held the annual dinner dance in honor of the Founders at the Piedmont Driving Club. This has come to be one of the established social affairs to which Atlanta society looks forward and is always attended by members of the fraternity from over the state. The Monday luncheons are now being held in the Kimball House Terrace Restaurant. Judge E. E. Pomeroy, Ga. B '97, a past province archon and veteran fraternity worker, heads the association and has an active staff of young lieutenants.

Three and Two

The only legislation of importance at the Alpha Rho Chi convention was the change of one word in the fraternity's famous Statute 200 to allow consumption of 3.2 beer in the chapter houses. The statute forbade use of "alcoholic" drinks in the houses and the wording was changed by a decisive vote to read "intoxicating," leaving definition to the Congress.—Alpha Rho Chi.

Anent the same subject, the Dartmouth chapter of Phi Gamma Delta commenting on their new practice of serving beer every week after chapter meeting, reports in what might be construed as unintentional ambiguity, that it "has shown very worthwhile results in helping to unify the house."

He Found the "Lost Battalion"

By Col. Oswald W. McNeese, La. Epsilon '03

ROBERT MARSHALL ANDERSON, Wyo. A '17, at the age of sixteen had received his diploma from the high school of Rock Springs, Wyo., and at twenty had been graduated from the University of Wyoming with the degree of bachelor of arts.

With his school and college days behind him and the virtues of Minerva in his breast, and before reaching his full majority, he stood, in the summer of 1917, on the threshold of life ready and willing to advance eagerly and hopefully into what normally would have been the valley of opportunity. What in reality appeared before him was a world aflame with war; a conflict of nations which mercilessly called for the priceless sacrifice of millions of the youths of many lands.

Young Anderson did not hesitate. On August 15, 1917, he enlisted as private, first class, Aviation Section, Signal Enlisted Reserve Corps, and was assigned to active duty at the School of Military Aeronautics, University of California. On January 9, 1918, he was commissioned first lieutenant, Aviation Section, Signal Officers' Reserve Corps, and entered on active duty at Rockwell Field, San Diego, California.

It is easy to understand why this intelligent and physically fit brother in Sigma Alpha Epsilon eagerly sought out service in the air forces. He was seeking adventure, romance; daring to serve his country banked high in a cloud watching for the opportunity to pounce on an enemy plane and give battle below, or flying low over the lines of the opposing forces on dangerous reconnaissance missions.

He left the United States for overseas service March 4, 1918; was assigned to duty overseas with Headquarters, Third Aviation Instruction Center; transferred to Second Aviation Instruction Center in orders of June 24, 1918, and assigned to the 50th Aero Squadron, August 15, 1918. He served as a pilot, and was in action with that squadron at the St. Mihiel Offensive, Toul-Verdun Sector, and the Meuse-Argonne Offensive. Lieutenant Anderson returned from France, May 8, 1919, and was honorably discharged May 20, 1919, at Camp Funston, Kan. So reads tersely the military record of Brother Anderson.

In the Argonne Forest

■ In the Argonne Forest on October 2, 1918, Major Charles W. Whittlesey, a battalion commander in the 308th Infantry, 77th Division, received this laconic order:

The advance will be resumed on 'D' day at 'H' hour. Your objective is the line 294.5-276.6. You will take your objective and hold it at any cost until support arrives.

Following the usual artillery preparation and barrage and against determined resistance Major Whittlesey's battalion broke through and continued to advance. At noon, October 3, 1918, the battalion found itself cut off from friendly forces. The enemy in superior numbers, well provisioned and armed, formed a perfect circle around the battalion. The creditable manner in which this group of American soldiers, for five days until relief arrived, maintained their positions without food, water or medical supplies, is a well-known epic of the war.

The 50th Aero Squadron was called upon by the 77th Division Commander to attempt to drop food, ammunition and medical supplies to Major Whittlesey. This mission necessitated the flying of planes at a very low altitude in the face of fire of innumerable machine guns and rifles. Major Whittlesey released several carrier pigeons giving the coordinates of his position. This did not check with maps at Division Headquarters and thus caused the planes to search according to the map location furnished by the battalion commander. This error caused much of the supplies to be dropped within the lines of the Germans. Thirteen planes were engaged in this work but it was finally left to Lieutenant Anderson as pilot with Lieutenant W. J. Rogers as observer to locate the exact position. The following extract is taken from the log of operations of the 50th Squadron:

But finally Anderson and Rogers, by dint of the greatest sort of courage, the morning of the 7th, in continually circling over the supposed position of the "Lost Battalion" at a very low altitude, spied a panel a short distance from where they were last reported. Those who were brought out of that hell-hole owed their lives to Anderson and Rogers.

Praised by Commander

■ In a report from the commanding officer, 50th Aero Squadron, to the Chief of Air Service, A.E.F., dated France, February 9, 1919, is contained the following:

The acts quoted for the award are certainly of the highest character. That of Lieutenants Anderson and Rogers on expending all their ammunition on enemy ground troops while eighty kilometers in the German lines took a courage out of the ordinary, as any pilot or observer flying over the 1st Army Sector at the time can give evidence of the fact that enemy air craft were numerous and did their best to cover the retreat. That act alone was one of extraordinary heroism and the greatest display of valor and disregard of personal safety. Moreover, Lieutenants Anderson and Rogers were the ones who found and reported the "Lost Battalion" of the 77th Division in the Argonne, enabling troops of the 77th Division to reach that battalion the same afternoon, thus preventing the extinction of the battalion.

Lieutenant Anderson received citations as follows:

General Orders, No. 33, 1st Army Air Service Commander, A.E.F., dated November 30, 1918,

1. Par. g. First Lieutenant R. M. Anderson, Pilot of the 50th Aero Squadron, by his willingness and ability has at all times been a most valuable member of the Squadron.

He was also cited in Citation Orders, No. 1, June 3, 1919, G.H.Q., A.E.F., for gallantry in action northwest of Susaney, France, November 3, 1918. Brother Anderson received the Silver Star Decoration.

Thus did this brother, just emerging into his twenties, write his name high on the list of those other S A Es who marched off to war for the glory and honor of their country.

Consanguinity in the Chapters Collegiate of $\Sigma$ A E

By Mrs. Margaret S. Becker, Keeper of Archives

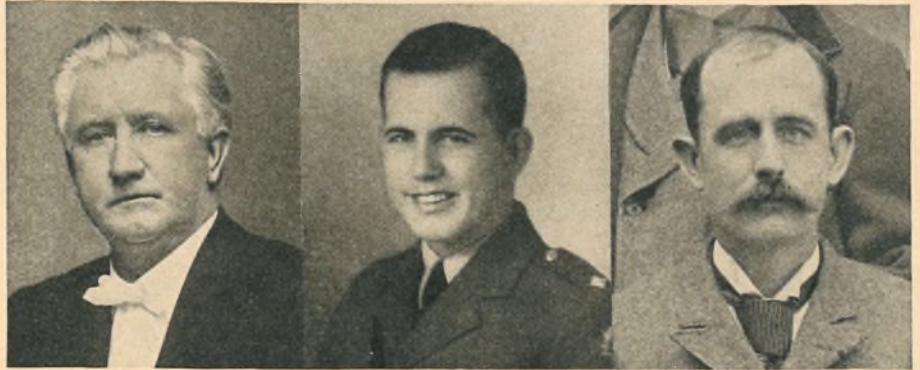

AMONG the members of the 108 chapters collegiate of Sigma Alpha Epsilon during the college year, 1933-1934, there were three great-grandsons, twenty-two grandsons, 269 sons, and 451 brothers of S A Es.

This large family connection was scattered from Maine to California and from Washington to Florida, there being only three chapters in which it was not represented.

Tennessee Kappa with 25 members, including three great-grandsons, two grandsons, six sons, and fourteen brothers, stood at the head of the consanguinity list. Georgia Beta with 24 (two grandsons, eleven sons, and eleven brothers) was second; North Carolina Theta with 22 (one grandson, ten sons, and eleven brothers), third; while Tennessee Nu followed with 19 (two grandsons, nine sons, and eight brothers) and Tennessee Omega with 18 (two grandsons, seven sons and nine brothers). North Carolina Xi had one grandson, ten sons and five brothers; Georgia Phi had one grandson, four sons, and fourteen brothers; Texas Rho two grandsons, seven sons, and seven brothers; Arkansas Alpha-Upsilon eight sons and eight brothers; Ohio Delta eight sons and seven brothers; and Ohio Epsilon five sons and ten brothers.

The three Wilcox brothers of Georgia Phi, the three Treder brothers of Pennsylvania Alpha-Zeta, and the three Johnson brothers of Wyoming Alpha helped to swell the consanguinity standing of those chapters while Ohio Epsilon had five pairs of brothers. Sons of three former members of the Supreme Council were on the active roll, Thos. P. Almy, son of Don R. Almy, Past E.S.A., at New York Alpha; Edward H. and Zadoc Harrison, sons of Rev. G. Hendree Harrison, Past E.S.A., at Tennessee Omega; and John H. Stowell, son of Col. C. W. Stowell, Past E.S.R., at Rhode Island Alpha.

New York Sigma-Phi, Pennsylvania Chi-Omicron, and Wisconsin Phi were the only chapters which did not have blood relatives on their chapter rolls during the past college year. The men of the other chapters with their great-grandfathers, grandfathers, fathers or brothers are listed herewith. For the purpose of brevity, son of has been abbreviated into "sf" and brother of into "bf" while the name of the chap-

Wilson Portrait Presented to Virginia Sigma

By Morton Brown, Va. Sigma

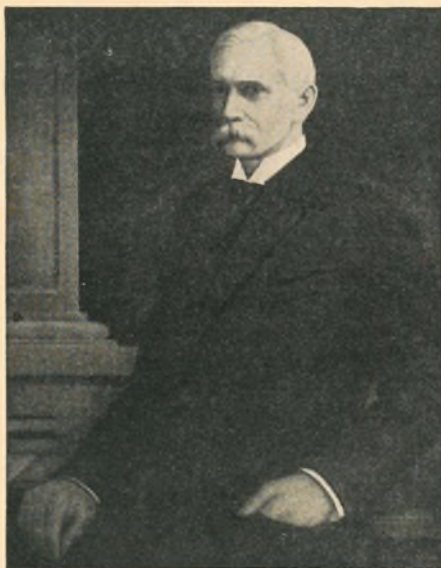

■ John Dean, E.A., Va. Σ

ABOVE the fireplace, on the paneled wall of the library in Virginia Sigma's new chapter house in Lexington, Va., the site of Washington and Lee University, is a new portrait. It is of the late William Lyne Wilson, W.C. P '60, postmaster general in President Cleveland's cabinet and former president of Washington and Lee, and was presented to Virginia Sigma and the University by Judge Alfred K. Nippert, Ohio E '92, Hon. E. S. A., on May 20, 1934.

The portrait was formally presented following a buffet supper at which Virginia Sigma entertained in honor of Judge and Mrs. Nippert who spent the week-end in Lexington as the guests of President Francis P. Gaines, president of the university, and Mrs. Gaines.

The guests were welcomed by John Dean, E.A., who introduced Dr. Gaines who, after pointing out the achievements of Mr. Wilson, introduced Judge Nippert who presented the portrait, explaining that it is a copy of the painting by Johannes Waller, Ill. Ψ-Ω '35, the original of which is in the Levere Memorial Temple, and that another copy has been presented to Washington City Rho.

Mr. Wilson was one of the early members of Washington City Rho, the only chapter which lived through the War between the States, and one of the two chapters which had members in both the Confederate and Union armies. After a short stay at Columbian University, as the institution was then known, he transferred to the University of Virginia where he affiliated with Virginia Omicron. He went into the Confederate Army as a drummer boy and rose to the rank of captain. He was a member of the U. S. House of Representatives from 1883 to 1895, after which he served as postmaster general under Grover Cleveland. In 1897 he was called to the presidency of Washington and Lee and died in this office in 1900.

Victor Tucker, Past E.A., accepted the portrait on behalf of Virginia Sigma, expressing the gratitude of the chapter and of the university for the gift. Other speakers were T. Gibson Hobbs, Va. O '09, Past E.S.A., and Dr. A. L. Wilson of Lynchburg, son of William L. Wilson, who presented the chapter an original letter, written to him by his father when he was away at school. The ceremonies were closed with "Violets."

In addition to Judge and Mrs. Nippert, Dr. and Mrs. Gaines, Dr. and Mrs. Wilson and Past E.S.A. Hobbs, there were present: Dr. Theodore H.

Jack, Ala. I '01, president of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, and Mrs. Jack; Frank J. Gilliam, Va. Σ '17, dean of Washington and Lee, and Mrs. Gilliam; Brothers Walter Forrester and Wm. M. McElwee, both Va. Σ '79 and trustees of the chapter; Chas. R. McDowell, Ky. K '14, professor of law, and Mrs. McDowell; John P. Darnall, Ky. K '07, and Mrs. McDowell of Cincinnati; S. Huston St. Clair, Va. Σ '21, and Mrs. St. Clair; and Mrs. Fannie Ryland, the competent housemother of Virginia Sigma, who entertained the guests admirably.

John Dean, the new E.A., who presided, is a member of O Δ K, "13" Club and the Cotillion Club, was president of the junior class, and junior manager of football.

Victor Tucker, the Past E.A., was business manager of the Southern Collegian, editor of the freshman handbook, president of the Publication Board, member of important university committees, and twice made his monogram in boxing.

When Greek Meets Greek

By H. Parker Lowell, III. Psi-Omega '10

WHEN Greek met Greek in the good old days a tug-of-war was the proverbial result, but now when Greek meets Greek there ensues a bull-tossing contest that extends far into the night, particularly if those Greek-letter men find themselves thrown together in America's newest and most informal—and perhaps the most practical educational institution—the Civilian Conservation Corps.

You may perchance find standing room among your glamorous gallery of track stars, football heroes, captains of industry, and other inspirational leaders for a picture of two humble actors in this great drama of the C.C.C. who might have passed as athletic heroes a quarter of a century ago.

Reading from left to right—and modestly skimming over the handsome author of this article—we take pleasure in introducing Captain George Eynon, 240 pounds of Σ N, educated at Mount Union College and the University of Utah, now second in command of Company 577, C.C.C., at Sand Run, State Park No. 6, near Akron, Ohio.

As a part of my activities as a member of the educational staff, I deemed it my solemn obligation to see that Captain Eynon received the refining influence of fraternal contacts. There being no regular meetings of Σ N alumni in Akron, I startled the Akron Alumni Association of Sigma Alpha Epsilon out of sixteen years' growth of complacent conservatism by inviting this healthy specimen of Σ N to our regular monthly meetings.

So well received was this daring invitation that we followed it up by inviting two other Greeks from the C.C.C., Superintendent E. S. Bain, K Σ from Purdue; and Foreman Claude E. Smith, A T Ω from the University of Pennsylvania.

These Greeks, whose recent years of unemployment made it possible for them to find worth-while work and to form worth-while friendships in the C.C.C., have undertaken the responsibility of building up a clearer understanding among the citizens of neighboring cities as to the purpose of the C.C.C. Because they are college trained men they may perhaps be able to reconcile the young men enrolled in the C.C.C. to the educational advantages connected with emergency conservation work.

The public as yet has not taken the trouble to acquaint itself with the problems confronting these young members of the Civilian Conservation Corps encamped far from their own homes, but fortunately clothed, fed, sheltered, and provided with healthful, body-building work which is bound to make them better able to hold a job if Better Times make it possible for them to come face to face with a job once again.

Paramount in the mind of each C.C.C. enrollee is the thought, "When and where can I get permanent employment?" Some of them want to go on to college. Some already had started on an academic career only to get shunted into the tall timber because of lack of funds due to unemployment.

Education in the C.C.C. camp is not compulsory, but educational advisers are on the job ready to respond to whatever demand may arise for mental, moral, and physical improvement. In our own camp, for example, we have taught English, Spanish, history, Red Cross first aid and life saving, boxing, dancing, choral singing—yes, even piano playing of a sort. The boys hear weekly talks by citizens prominent in business or professional life. They appreciate sympathetic but not condescending interest on the part of the outside world.

They are every inch men. Many of them, if granted the opportunity, would make ideal college fraternity men. Some of them were pledged to fraternities before financial stress interrupted their quest for higher learning. But even in the out-of-the-way places where C.C.C. camps are set up their opportunities for adding to their store of practical knowledge have not been blocked. Public libraries, school boards, and nearby universities have co-operated generously to round out the educational program hastily established by the Bureau of Education under the United States Department of the Interior.

And regardless of the shape of the pins we wear, we Greeks are pulling together for the general welfare of these earnest young sojourners and hoping that the day will soon dawn when employment for all will erase the need for the C.C.C. and all other emergency relief measures.

Racing Commission Secretary

■ William F. James, Jr., Ore. B '27, of Seattle, has been appointed as Secretary of the new State Horse Racing Commission, which will regulate and supervise all racing in the state of Washington. The newly created commission is composed of three members appointed by Governor Clarence D. Martin, and its function is to promulgate rules and regulations; license racing associations, owners, trainers and jockeys; make all collections of fees and monies due the state; and to supervise the "Sport of Kings" under the recently enacted pari-mutuel racing law.

James has been an enthusiastic booster of the thoroughbred sport and assisted in drafting the racing bill before it became a law in the 1933 Washington Legislature. He graduated from the University of Oregon in 1927, and has since been associated with investment and insurance businesses in Tacoma and Seattle. He has also participated in alumni activities for Σ A E, having been vice-president and president respectively of the Seattle Alumni Association for the years 1929 and 1930.

Heads Portland Water System

■ Benjamin S. Morrow, Calif. A '07, formerly chief engineer of the water bureau of Portland, Ore., was promoted to general manager in supreme command of all departments of the Rose City's water supply system by order of the mayor on May 21, 1934. He has made an enviable record in his long service with this bureau.

The E.S.H. Swings Around the Circuit

By Charles H. Barker, Archon, Province Mu

NEXT to the E.S.R., the man who probably does more traveling and makes more Sigma Alpha Epsilon contacts than any other member of the Fraternity is the present Eminent Supreme Herald, Charles F. Collins, of Boston. Brother Collins is an agency official of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, and during the first three months of the year toured thirty-six states in connection with his work, at the same time capitalizing the opportunity to make many  $\Sigma$  A E contacts and visit several chapters and alumni associations.

The first stop on his tour was at Washington, D.C., the site of the next national convention of  $\Sigma$  A E in December, 1934. From there he traveled to Richmond, Va., where he spent several hours with Sterling King, Archon of Province Gamma. At Petersburg, Va., he was entertained by the alumni of that city with a luncheon in his honor. While in North and South Carolina the E.S.H. saw several prominent members of the Fraternity and at Greenville, S.C., he was the dinner guest of Henry Mills, alumnus adviser of the chapter at Furman University. entertained for Brother Collins at a reception at the chapter house.

In Georgia, the E.S.H. made a pilgrimage to the grave of our founder, Noble Leslie DeVotie, at Columbus. Next came Florida, where he was the guest of Florida Upsilon at Gainesville, and then Montgomery, Ala. Here he spent several very delightful days as the guest of Judge Walter B. Jones, the Eminent Supreme Archon. In Memphis, Tenn., he visited with the chapter at Southwestern University. Brother Collins was the guest speaker at an alumni luncheon at the University Club in Kansas City, Mo., and met several of the S A Es there on subsequent occasions. In Denver he attended the joint Founders' Day celebration of the Denver Alumni Association and Colorado Zeta, and was entertained for a day by the Eminent Supreme Warden, George D. Kimball.

The western terminus of Brother Collins' trip was Los Angeles, where he was entertained with true California gusto by Province Archon Carl Rice and the Los Angeles Alumni Association. Here he renewed the many friendships made during the national convention of 1932. On the return trip from the west coast, Brother Collins stopped in Butte, Mont., where he was the guest of George Short, Archon of Province Lambda, for several hours, and in Chicago and Evanston, Ill., where he visited the Levere Memorial Temple and was the guest of the E.S.R.

The Viewpoint of an S A E Housemother

By Mrs. Elizabeth Luxon

THREE years ago I came to live in the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house at the University of Kentucky as the boys' first housemother. It was a new experience for all of us. The boys wondered what they would do with a housemother and I, what I would do with so many boys. While I have not been registered as a student at the university, I have been receiving a most liberal education by observing the fine art of character development, co-operation, and loyalty.

A fraternity house is a home for a boy when he is in college—a place where lifelong friendships are formed. Here a boy often learns his first lesson in household management; the little social niceties which are an asset throughout life are here developed. He learns to co-operate; he learns to be kind, to be charitable, and to be considerate of others.

Among a great many people there seems to exist the idea that a fraternity house is a "den of iniquity." This is all wrong. It is true that once in a while something may happen which is a little off color. But when one considers that there are forty-five or fifty red-blooded American boys grouped together in a common bond and that their energies must have an outlet, he would marvel with me at how seldom these little "skids" occur. And those who are prone to criticize should remember that at times there are upheavals in the best regulated families.

I am often asked what is expected of a housemother. That is a difficult question to answer, as the boys demand very little of one; but I think first and above all, a housemother must have a keen sense of humor. Under certain conditions, as when she has been made a confidant, she must have an excellent "forgettery"; but when a hammer is misplaced, a book lost, a telephone number forgotten, or upon an occasional visit from an alumnus, she must have a marvelous memory.

She must at all times be a hostess; must be ready from nine in the morning until midnight to meet any guest who comes; must look after the health of her boys; must sympathize, must rejoice, must suggest just as the occasion requires; must be interested in their sports, in their achievements, in their ambitions, and in their girls. This may sound as though it were somewhat of an arduous task, but we all know that when the heart enters into a task, it becomes a joy, and each boy gradually slips into a niche all his own in the affections of the housemother, and soon she finds herself becoming so vitally interested in each boy that she must guard herself or that interest will become an obsession with her.

One thought a housemother must never lose sight of is—that the fraternity was a successful organization before the housemother became an institution, and any improvement or change which she feels might be beneficial, can better be done by suggestion than by trying to assert too much authority. Remember the chapter belongs always to the boys; a housemother is merely an influence.

Before coming to live at the Σ A E house, I asked a nephew, whose fraternity had a housemother, just his idea of what was necessary to become a successful one, and his reply was: "Hear no evil, see no evil, speak no evil—to outsiders; if necessary, talk things out with the boys and forget it." How grateful I have been for that advice! Though I know I am not a perfect success, I have been happy and as I become a senior next year, I am hoping that my boys have been happy enough in the association, that I may continue to do some postgraduate work.

Judge Schenck began his public career in 1907 when he was elected mayor of Hendersonville and was appointed solicitor for the 18th District in 1913, serving in this position until his appointment as judge of the Superior Court.

During the Spanish-American War he served in Cuba as secretary to General Tasker H. Bliss and during the World War served as major in the Judge Advocate General's department of the U. S. Army.

On the bench of the North Carolina Supreme Court, Justice Schenck will serve with two other members of Σ A E, Justices Heriot Clarkson, N.C. Ξ '84, and George W. Connor, N.C. Ξ '92.

The Fraternity New Year

COLLEGE fraternities, like the Hebrews and the Chinese, really begin their new years in the fall. That is the season when new plans are put in operation, new blood brought into the chapter community, and a general new start made.

While much useless ink has been wasted in bewailing the difficulty that fraternity chapters experience by reason of their annually changing personnel, it is, after all, just that which makes fraternity work interesting and intriguing.

While last year's seniors who were justly considered the pillars of the chapter are gone, there is always a new generation to take the place of the preceding one and, in its turn, it will be just as much regretted and will seem to leave just as much of a void as the one that went before.

The opportunity as well as the obligation to take on responsibility is really the rising junior's greatest heritage. In it he meets the first test of the stuff that is in him. He will meet many more such tests throughout life but they will all be easier and less disturbing if he meets the first one like a man.

Likewise, the sophomore has his opportunity in filling the place left vacant by the junior and in preparing himself for the greater responsibility he must shoulder next year. It is all a part of the game of life, the greatest game of all, and the college fraternity performs its greatest service in teaching its sons to play well their parts in this game.

————— Φ A —————

To Fathers and Brothers

IF YOU have a son or brother who will enter an institution at which Sigma Alpha Epsilon has a chapter this fall, don't be swayed by any feeling of false pride and fail to give the necessary information so that the chapter may get in touch with him.

Of course, not all sons and brothers of members of the fraternity will enter its portals. After all, the final decision as to who it will bid properly rests with the chapter and the final decision as to what bid he will accept rests with the young entrant. But an injustice is done to the fraternity and to the son or brother when information is withheld which might result in the giving and acceptance of an  $\Sigma$  A E bid.

The freshman who has  $\Sigma$  A E blood in his veins or who has learned to respect the fraternity as the order of his elder brother is already on his way to make the fraternity a desirable and valuable member. The chapter which gets such a pledge is fortunate and the pledge is doubly fortunate in assuming a fraternal relation which provides an additional bond with those to whom he has the closest blood relations.

A study of the chapters of any fraternity will show that those who have profited by consanguinity are uniformly the strongest; likewise the pledge who can look forward to knowing his father or blood brother as a fraternity brother has a prospect in life which any one might envy.

If any  $\Sigma$  A E father or brother has a son or brother entering a school where he is not acquainted with members of the active chapter, or if, for any reason, he prefers not to communicate with the chapter directly, he can have the chapter advised by writing to the Central Office at Evanston which will gladly and promptly put the information in the proper channels for accomplishment of the best results.

————— Φ A —————

Democracy at its Best

FOR A demonstration of American democracy in practical operation, those carping critics who are rarely able to see anything good in anything, should visit almost any American fraternity house and note the attitude of the members of the chapter toward those of their fellows who have such house jobs as waiting on the table and washing dishes. Frequently these positions are held by men who are the leaders in the chapters and on the campus and the fact that they are working their way through school by performing domestic service in no way interferes with the esteem in which they are held by other fraternity men or even with their social standing among the women of the college community. This is about the best answer we know to the charge, sometimes still heard, that college fraternities are undemocratic institutions.

Family Tree of $\Sigma$ A E

THREE great grandsons of the late Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus Lamar, Miss.  $\Gamma$  '66, Secretary of the Interior under Grover Cleveland and later Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, who were active members of Tennessee Kappa at the University of Tennessee during the college year, 1933-1934, head the imposing list of 745 active chapter members who are either descendants or blood brothers of members of the Fraternity, given in the article by Mrs. Margaret S. Becker, Keeper of Archives, which appears in this issue of THE RECORD.

Study of this article will reveal much interesting information as to the part played by chapters in the development of  $\Sigma$  A E through the initiation of men whose descendants or brothers later became members of other chapters. Many chapters who have only a few sons or brothers on their own rolls will be found to have contributed substantially to other chapters in this way. On the other hand, many chapters show a remarkable hold on their own families, as generation after generation or a long line of brothers have followed one another to the institutions at which they are located and there become followers of Minerva.

The national character of the Fraternity is again exemplified by this compilation of blood relatives, as Northern, Southern, Eastern, and Western chapters have initiated each others' relatives, thus giving  $\Sigma$  A E a cross-fertilization which has established the closest possible relations between chapters separated by great distances.

To the New Alumni

THERE is an old joke about the Irishman who, in writing to a friend of whose address he was uncertain, closed by saying "if you don't get this, send me your right address and I'll write you again."

At the risk of making the mistake of the proverbial son of Erin, this appeal is being addressed to the graduates of 1934. Having paid your life subscription fee at the time of your initiation, you are entitled to receive THE RECORD until you join the Chapter Eternal but you won't get it unless your address is known at the Central Office of  $\Sigma$  A E where the mailing list of THE RECORD is kept.

Every effort is made to keep this mailing list up to date and, while it costs something to make new address plates, provision has been made for this expense and the new address will be gladly recorded whenever the information is received.

If you hear any brother complaining that he does not get THE RECORD, suggest to him that he invest one cent in a postal card, write his name and address on it, and send it to THE RECORD of  $\Sigma$  A E, P.O. Box 425, Evanston, Ill. He will then get THE RECORD as long as he stays at the address last given.

The Gentler Sex

■ A study of the philanthropy of the sororities belonging to the National Panhellenic Congress, appearing in the Angelos of Kappa Delta, reveals the fact that more than 4,000 persons are the annual beneficiaries of the projects of these groups. Summer camps for underprivileged children, community centers, health stations, foreign residence fellowships and scholarships are among the services rendered.—The Phi Gamma Delta.

■ College education for women pays in dollars and cents, according to a survey of the earnings of 14,000 business women, made by the University of Michigan in connection with the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. College graduates show a financial advantage averaging $345 a year over their sisters who have attended college without graduating. In general, women's earnings are shown to rise with the number of years of schooling they have had.—The Teke of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Thunder over New Mexico

■ A senator in New Mexico recently instituted a bill in the state legislature to have fraternities and sororities in that state banned from further existence.

The attack was launched by Senator Juan Sedillo, a graduate of Georgetown University, on the grounds that the fraternities and sororities discriminated against Spanish-American students. The move was started by a group of Spanish-American students at the state university, who petitioned the senate and house for abolition of the Greek letter organizations, on the grounds that racial prejudice prevented them from being on the same footing as the Anglo-American students. Independents at the university joined in the attack.

The measure met a quiet death at the hands of the senate committee on education, and the measure was dropped by the senate without argument. Sedillo is not a social fraternity man, but is a member of a legal fraternity at Georgetown.

The New Rhodes Scholars

■ Out of this year's batch of thirty-two Rhodes scholars, fifteen are members of college fraternities, as follows:

John M. Templeton, Yale, Zeta Psi.

George A. Gordon, Yale, Psi Upsilon.

Lyman Emerich, Illinois, Psi Upsilon.

Wilfred Sellers, Michigan, Phi Kappa Phi.

Hedley W. Donovan, Minnesota, Delta Upsilon.

Robert H. Michelet, Dartmouth, Psi Upsilon (deceased).

Robert W. Barnett, North Carolina, Beta Theta Pi.

Robert C. Moore, North Dakota, Alpha Tau Omega.

George McGhee, Oklahoma, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Abolishment

■ A sane and well stated argument against the abolishment of Greek Letter Fraternities is this one, clipped from the Portals of Alpha Delta Theta who clipped it from the Lamp of Delta Zeta who clipped it from H. O. Brock's article in the New York Times Magazine section.

"Fraternities should not be abolished, if for no other reason than that they could not be abolished at present without substitute groupings of undergraduates promptly taking their places. These substitute groupings would lack the traditions of the existing organizations, their alumni backing and the control over them thus indirectly exercised. . . . The new groups, more accidental and less responsible, would be less in tune with the college spirit, if not with purely academic aims."

A Century and a Quarter

■ Miami University, at Oxford, Ohio, frequently referred to as "the mother of fraternities," is 125 years old. Here was founded Beta Theta Pi in 1839, Phi Delta Theta in 1848, Sigma Chi in 1855, Phi Kappa Tau in 1896, and Delta Theta Chi in 1926. Here also are located the national offices of Phi Delta Theta, of which Arthur Priest is the secretary, Phi Kappa Tau with Richard Young as executive secretary, and Beta Kappa with Richard Duncan as secretary. President Upham is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon, and one of his close friends and a resident of Oxford is John C. Scott, national historian of Sigma Nu. Truly Oxford is the "Athens of America," and deserves sincere congratulations on this milestone.—The Fraternity Month.

Studs and Stags

■ What seems to us an elegant idea is the establishment of a "tux bureau" by Frederick Bale at Mount Union College. A card index is in process of compilation listing every man who owns a tuxedo, with his height, weight and size. Men lacking tuxes apply at the bureau, receive one conforming as nearly as possible to their own bodily peculiarities, pay $1.25, and depart in peace. The fee covers pressing, laundering, and leaves a quarter revenue for the capitalist who owns the garment.

Pledge and Repledge

■ The attitude that no fraternity should pledge a boy who ever before has broken his pledge to another fraternity is inexcusable. A pledging, it must be remembered, is not a wedding; it's simply an engagement, an indication of intention and the beginning of a trial marriage that either party should be permitted to end "without prejudice" before initiation.—Caduceus of Kappa Sigma.

Philippine Greeks

■ The general scholastic organization, Phi Kappa Phi, has recently authorized its second chapter in the Pacific. The University of the Philippines will be the seat of the new chapter. This same society established a chapter at the University of Hawaii several years ago.—Scroll of Phi Delta Theta.

Progress

■ We are interested to observe the upward trend in scholarship by Sigma Alpha Epsilon. No longer do they place periods after the letters S A E. We regret that certain chapters and alumni associations in D K E still cling to these misplaced dots.—Quarterly of D K E.

This and That

■ Seikichi Iwasaki, president of the Tokyo Gas Company, is a member of Phi Gamma Delta, as is Dr. Isley Boone, managing editor of The Nudist, official publication of the International Nudist Conference.

■ A real interfraternal article is one in Banta's Greek Exchange in which Donald E. McGuiness of Sigma Alpha Epsilon reviews the tutor system installed two years ago by the Iowa State College chapter of Phi Gamma Delta.

■ A suitable set of books is the award to be made by Theta Chi to the chapter which makes the greatest improvement in its chapter library in the ensuing year.

■ Germany has decided that only fifteen thousand students will be permitted to enter German Universities next year. Only one woman for every ten men will be allowed to matriculate. Germany hopes in this manner to solve the problem of jobless possessors of doctor's degrees.—Banta's Greek Exchange.

■ In 1932 the average monthly cost of Fraternity life at Ohio State was $52.07. In 1934 it had dropped to $42.80, or a decrease of two per cent in two years' time.

■ The Pittsburgh chapter of Phi Gamma Delta uses three terms to designate the three types of brothers: "The Heroes are those who make things happen. The Neroses are those who watch things happen. The Zeroes don't do a thing."

■ In a questionnaire sent out by the National Recreation Association to 5,000 persons on the subject of hobbies, stamp collecting was chosen by 87 per cent of those questioned.

They Say

■ It is doubtful if public opinion exists concerning sunrises, Kepler's law, the return of Halley's comet, X-ray, radio operation or television.—Prof. Ernest H. Hahne in the Deltasig.

■ Fraternity people as a rule, are not people of extreme wealth.—Aglaia of Phi Mu.

■ A fraternity is "A body of men associated for their common interest, business or pleasure; a company; a brotherhood; a society." And further, "men of the same class, profession, occupation, character or tastes."—Webster's Dictionary.

■ When one looks about today for that joie de vivre which is said to be so abundant in the collegiate mind and spirit, one is apt to say with a shake of the head, "Students ain't what they used to be."—Dr. H. Alan Skinner, in the Centaur of Alpha Kappa Kappa.

■ Our merchants are compelled to extend credit to the active chapters in order that they may eat because the active chapters are paying for food that was eaten ten or fifteen years ago.—Dean of Men Heckel, Missouri.

Province Beta Convention at Canton, N.Y.

By J. M. Crandall, Province Recorder

Part of the Crowd Attending the Province Beta Convention at Canton, N.Y., May 4-5, 1934, Photographed in Front of the Home of New York Rho. Province and National Officers Seated in the Front Row Are: John M. Crandall, Mich. A '25, Recorder-Treasurer; Lauren Foreman, Ga. E '01, E.S.R.; Chas. M. Carpenter, Mich. A '17, Deputy Archon; Floyd W. Smith, N.Y. P '09, Archon; Judge Alfred K. Nippert, Ohio E '92, Hon. E.S.A.; Dr. Burton A. Hoffman, Ill.  $\Psi$ - $\Omega$  '26, Alumni Secretary.

NEW YORK Rho at St. Lawrence University was host to the convention of Province Beta on May 3, 4, and 5, 1934. This was the first time a province convention has ever been held at Canton and many alumni of the local chapter came back for the occasion. By supper time most of the fourteen chapters were represented by from one to four men and when the smoker started at eight o'clock the visitors already felt at home and were beginning to call each other by their first names. New York Rho put on a great show for the delegates.

Friday morning the convention came to order with Province Archon Floyd W. Smith in the chair and Recorder Charles M. Carpenter in charge of the minutes. In addition to the active men, delegates and visitors included Lauren Foreman, E.S.R., John Crandall of the Harrisburg Alumni Association, Burton Hoffman of the Buffalo Alumni Association, and Harry F. Davis, chapter adviser of New York Rho. The morning session was given over to the reports of officers, appointment of committees and a memorial roll call. Speeches of welcome were made by Dr. Richard Eddy Sykes, President of St. Lawrence, and J. W. Jones, E.A. of New York Rho.

The Convention dance took place in the afternoon with a  $\Sigma$  A E alumni orchestra furnishing the music, and Judge Nippert, Hon. E.S.A., arrived in time to dance with some of the prettiest coeds. At five o'clock the college chimes played a selection of  $\Sigma$  A E songs.

After the convention picture everyone attended the convention dinner at which about one hundred were present. The serenading by the sororities and the responses by the local chapter were a novel feature which was much appreciated. Toastmaster Smith called upon Dr. Sykes, the President of St. Lawrence, Millard Jencks, the chairman of the St. Lawrence Board of Trustees, Lauren Foreman and Judge Nippert. Archon Smith presented an Almy Jewel to William Hill, retiring archon of old Pennsylvania Delta, on behalf of his chapter and in his turn was surprised and delighted to receive a beautiful jeweled badge from the alumni of his own chapter.

Saturday morning brought the closing session of the convention with unusually fine reports from the various committees. The province dues were increased from \$1.00 to \$1.50 a year, the Province Scholarship Cup was awarded for the second time to Pennsylvania Gamma at Lafayette, the next convention was awarded to New York Alpha at Cornell and the following officers were elected: Honorary Province Archon, Dr. Charles H. Richardson, N.Y.  $\Delta$  '92; Province Archon, Floyd W. Smith, N.Y. P '09; Province Deputy Archon, C. M. Carpenter, Mich. A '17; Province Recorder Treasurer, John M. Crandall, Mich. A '25; Province Alumni Secretary, Burton A. Hoffman, Ill.  $\Psi$ - $\Omega$  '26. Paul Breneman, Penn. A-Z '94, the retiring Deputy Archon who has served the Province so faithfully for the past six years, declined a renomination.

The local alumni committee, which is entitled to great praise for the splendid way in which they carried out every detail of the convention, consisted of Harry F. Davis, Clarence Armstrong and Lyndon Merrill, active workers for  $\Sigma$  A E.

THE regular biennial convention of Province Iota was held March 8 and 9, 1934, at the Hotel Noel, Nashville, Tenn. The convention was called to order by Everett S. Penick, Province Archon, and was regularly opened by W. P. Maury, Jr., E.A., Tenn. K, as prescribed in the ritual. Jerry Winter, Tenn. N, delivered the address of welcome on behalf of his chapter, which was host to the gathering, and Robert Dallas, Ky. E, responded for the delegates and visitors. J. Washington Moore, Past E.S.A., then spoke briefly, extending a hearty welcome from the entire city of Nashville, and his remarks were greeted with sustained applause. In attendance at the convention, besides the some thirty-odd delegates, alternates, and officers of the chapters in the province, were Judge Alfred K. Nippert, Honorary E.S.A., and J. Washington Moore, Past E.S.A. After the adoption of the report of the credentials committee Judge Nippert took the floor and, after extending to the convention the greetings sent by Thomas S. Mell, first Eminent Supreme Archon of  $\Sigma A E$ , delivered a most vigorous and inspiring address. The report of the Deputy Archon of the Province, Roger Murray, was heard and committees were appointed. The convention then adjourned for the morning and the delegates attended a luncheon at the Noel Hotel.

The afternoon of the first day was given over to discussion of dues, pledging, chapter problems, and relations with the alumni and much constructive work was done. Co-operation with the National Office was stressed in this session.

The second day of the convention was opened with the reading of the report of the Province Recorder-Treasurer, which report was readily accepted. After completion of the reports of the various committees, Judge Nippert gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the collection of alumni accounts and explained the very valuable help to be obtained in connection therewith through the co-operation of the National Office. made a brief talk regarding experiences had by his chapter and others with imposters and suggested steps to be taken to avoid the continuance of such fraudulent activities. In the election of officers the following were elected to serve until the next convention of Province Iota: Roger G. Murray, Tenn. H '19, Province Archon; E. Wilbur Cook, Ky. K '23, Deputy Province Archon; Frank B. Creekmore, Tenn. K '33, Province Recorder-Treasurer. This concluded the business side of the convention.

The social side of the convention was eminently successful. The first event was a luncheon at the Noel Hotel at which several interesting talks were made. On Thursday night the delegates and visitors were guests at an informal dance given in their honor by Tennessee Nu at the local chapter house. A tea was given on Friday afternoon at the Tennessee Nu chapter house by the Minerva Club of that chapter and the ladies left nothing undone to make this event an enjoyable one. On Friday night came the big event of the social side of the convention, however. All visiting delegates and officers of the province were given tickets to the annual Founders' Day dinner dance of the Nashville Alumni Association at the Noel Hotel. A feature of this affair was the unveiling and presentation of portraits of the late Judge Jacob M. Dickinson, Tenn. N, and of General Benjamin F. Cheatham, Tenn.  $\Omega$ , to their respective chapters. Judge Alfred K. Nippert, Honorary E.S.A., made the presentations on behalf of the national fraternity. The portrait of Judge Dickinson was unveiled by Jacob M. Dickinson and Miss Peggy Dickinson, grandchildren of the former Secretary of War. General Cheatham's portrait was unveiled by his sister, Mrs. Telfair Hodgson. This gathering was further honored by the attendance of Captain Walker Marion Bennett, Tenn. H '61, the oldest living member of the fraternity. Captain Bennett not only attended the banquet, but made a short talk telling some of his early experiences in  $\Sigma A E$ . All of the wit and humor of ninety-three years' full living went into his talk and it was instantly conceded by those present to be the "hit" of the entire convention.

PROVINCE LAMBDA convened at Missoula, Mont., on April 6-7, 1934, for its eighth biennial session, with Montana Beta as host. Province Archon George N. Short presided and the Supreme Council was represented by George D. Kimball, E.S.W. There were twenty delegates present from the active chapters of the province, three alumni association delegates, and numerous visitors from the active chapters and alumni associations, this being the largest convention ever held by Province Lambda.

The convention was welcomed by Wilbur Wood, E.A. of Montana Beta, who offered the hospitality of the local chapter, and then the report of the Province Archon was given. In this report the Archon touched upon the all-important subjects of scholarship, pledging, finances, and discipline and gave an account of his visitation trips to the chapters in the Province. The Archon's report was followed by that of the Province Treasurer, which showed a cash balance of $916.85 and a savings account of $650.00.

Next came the report of the Committee on Alumni Activities. This committee was appointed several weeks prior to the convention, and its report was submitted from a study of conditions existing at present in the Province. If the report is adopted as outlined by all of the chapters it will do more than has ever been done before to revive alumni interest and bring about closer relations between the alumni and the active chapters.

After an inspiring address at lunch by George D. Kimball, the convention settled down to the discussion and consideration of a new set of by-laws which were read, discussed, and adopted section by section. The sessions of the convention on Saturday were taken up by the various reports of the committees and the election of officers. The following officers were elected unanimously: George N. Short, Ohio Δ '05, Province Archon; Clarence F. Rohwer, Wash. B '24, Province Deputy Archon; Emmett B. Moore, Mont. A '24, Province Recorder-Treasurer; Guy DiJulio, Wash. B '29, Province Alumni Secretary. The convention was officially closed by a few well-chosen words from George D. Kimball, who stressed the value of fraternities to colleges and pointed out the fact that if the fraternities should ever become useless to the colleges, the fraternities would be abolished.

The convention was no less a success from the social side than it was from the business side. Three major social events filled the evenings, yet most of the active delegates found time for other dates as well. On Thursday evening Montana Beta was host to the convention at a smoker which served as a general get-acquainted party. On Friday evening nearly 100 delegates, visitors, and alumni assembled around a downtown banquet table, with Colorado's famous "Scotty" Wilson, as full of his Scotch dialect stories as ever, acting as toastmaster. The principal speakers were George Kimball and Harry Turney-High, N.Y. ΣΦ '22. Henry Gardiner, Mont. A, delighted the gathering with his tricks of magic, and Terrill and Waite provided music throughout the program.

On Saturday evening Montana Beta entertained at a most pleasing dance at the Mount Sentinel Club, which had been artistically decorated for the occasion. To adequately describe this party is impossible. Suffice it to say that the setting was beautiful, the music superb, the ladies most charming and that it was a fitting climax.

Activities Men of Washington Beta at Washington State: Ronald Kelley, Track Captain, Football; Rex Scott, Basketball Captain, Vigilance Comm., Athletic Council; Grant Graber, Jr. Baseball Mgr.; Norman McIver, Track; Lee Sonedecker, Basketball, Baseball; Ross Armstrong, Jr. Class Pres.; Don Stevenson, Swimming.

He Deals with Eggs

■ There was no doubt in the mind of Dr. T. Lowell Swenson, Wash. B '23, B.S., Ph.C., M.S., Ph.D., as to the effect of Eastern cold storage upon the quality of the eggs from his home state. Therefore, immediately after his appointment as Associate Bacteriologist in Food Research in the U.S. Department of Agriculture, he took occasion to study the situation. These studies, in part, have resulted in the development of a vacuum carbon-dioxide oiling process to preserve eggs in storage that has received international recognition; the designing of an apparatus for testing the shell strength of eggs, universally conceded to be the most accurate of its kind; and the isolation from egg white of a new peptide of more than passing biological significance. After his

A High-Altitude Aviator

■ According to a story related by "Magpie" in a recent issue of the Chicago Tribune, Senator Key Pittman of Nevada,

Tenn. Z '88, proved himself capable of piloting an airship in an emergency when he felt the small cabin plane in which he was riding with the governor of Nevada suddenly go into a dive.

"The pilot apparently had fainted, but I think he just fell asleep," the senator said.

At any rate Pittman jumped for the control, leveled off the ship and the pilot soon came to, reassuming charge.

"I never knew before the advantage of two pilots in a plane," gasped the governor. "Think what would have happened if you hadn't known how to fly!"

"O! I can't take off or land," returned the senator. "I just know how to keep level."

"But what would we have done had our pilot not awakened?" his companion queried.

"Governor, you figure that one out," replied Pittman with a grin.

Judge Thomas, who has been merchant and lawyer, brings to his job an unusual background of training in the law, years of experience in farm management, and a life-time of service as legal counselor to large corporations. He has never run for office, has had no political aspirations, but his reputation for sound judgment and knowledge has led to his appointment on numerous occasions as Judge of the district courts in Tupelo, Miss., his home, in the absence of the presiding officer. The wisdom and fairness of his decisions and his incorruptibility are well known to the citizens of Lee County, Miss., where he lived so long.

E.A. of Indiana Alpha, member of Blue Key and editor of The Franklin, the student publication. He bids fair to follow the long line of distinguished men that this chapter has given to Σ A E.

Faulkner Scores Again

■ William Faulkner, Miss. Γ '19, author of Sanctuary, the macabre literary sensation of 1931, has scored another hit with his latest book, Dr. Martino and Other Stories, a collection of fourteen short stories. Faulkner seldom writes about ordinary human beings; his forte is pathology; his most effective stories depend on madness gradually unveiled. The four best stories in his latest book stand out from the rest. Three daredevil neurotics with a condemned airplane, no licenses, tour the country putting on a crazily dangerous show for a living. A Southern officer and his Negro servant, on their way home from the War Between the States, stop for the night at the wrong Tennessee mountain cabin. A very young British naval officer is rescued from a gutter by a U. S. airman and taken on a night bombing flight. Next day he reciprocates by showing the airman what his tiny torpedo-boat can do. An old judge dies and, finding heaven uncongenial, comes back to earth in time to go with his body to the grave.

Maddox, Ga. B '31, and his father, George Edmondson Maddox, Ga. B '97, prominent attorney and political leader of Georgia. Another coincidence is that both John and William received the Besser-Lindsay award, each having excelled in scholarship and athletics as well as having displayed general leadership. For the past two years John W. Maddox has held an athletic fellowship at Emory University where he has attended the law school and has taken an active part in campus life and in the affairs of Georgia Epsilon.

Masquerade Party at Pullman

THE annual masquerade which is held by Washington Beta at Washington State College was held this year on March 17. This dance is one of the outstanding fraternity dances on the campus and is held in place of a formal. Taxis call for all of the "gal friends." When the young ladies arrive at the chapter house they are taken up a ladder to the second floor. They travel through dark halls and in order to get to the dance floor, they must go down a long slide. The spring motif was used this year and ten thousand daffodils decorated the walls. The background was a landscape with numerous Dutch windmills. Refreshments were served in the chapter room which was decorated to represent a cabaret. Many outstanding people on the Washington State campus were among the seventy couples who attended this dance.

JOHN HOOPER ALEXANDER

Georgia Beta '79

John Hooper Alexander, Ga. B '79, militant political leader, prominent attorney and teacher of law in Georgia for 43 years, died suddenly at his home in Decatur, Ga., May 21, 1934. A progressive in politics and an ardent dry, Mr. Alexander was one of the authors of Georgia's "bone-dry" prohibition law which he introduced while a representative of DeKalb county in the General Assembly of Georgia. He served as U. S. Attorney for the Northern District of Georgia from 1913 to 1921. He was one of the founders of the Atlanta Law School in 1890 and remained a member of its faculty until a few months before his death. He took an active part in the affairs of  $\Sigma A E$  in its crucial period. As Georgia Beta's delegate to the Augusta Convention of 1878, he was the author of the resolution which brought about the establishment of THE RECORD of which he was assistant editor when the first number was issued in March, 1880. He was a delegate to the Atlanta Convention of 1891, delivered the address of welcome at the Atlanta Convention of 1906, and will be remembered by all delegates to the Miami Convention of 1928, to which he was introduced as one of the "old war horses of the fraternity" and to which he made a stirring address. He was the father of Thomas W. Alexander, Ga. B '24.

JAMES RICHARD FRINK, JR.

James Richard Frink, Jr., Ga.  $\Phi$  '30, an honor graduate of the Georgia School of Technology, who was prominent as an athlete and in other campus activities, was lost in the China sea on April 10, 1934, while flying the Shanghai-Canton mail route. Frink, a co-pilot, the superintendent of the line and a Japanese passenger went down with the plane, wreckage of which, the mail bags and the body of one man have been recovered. He was an expert flyer, having received his training at the Pensacola Naval Base. He was with American Airways before he went to China in January, 1934, to fly the mail route for the Pacific American Airways. While at Georgia Tech, Frink was substitute quarterback during the years when the school had one of its greatest football teams, was regular third baseman on the baseball team and was an outstanding campus leader, being a captain in the Naval R.O.T.C. and holding membership in Phi Kappa Phi, Skull and Key and a number of high ranking local honor societies. He was a brother of Fred F. Frink, Ill. B '34, acting captain of the 1933 Illinois football team.

Higley was a member of the Evanston police department for nine years and had been juvenile officer for more than a year. He was one of the most popular men in the department, not only with his fellow policemen, but with the citizens with whom his duties placed him in contact. His death was a shock to the entire community.
