Fraternity Griteria

Adopted by the National Interfraternity Conservence

APPROVED FOR SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON BY THE SUPREME COUNCIL

E CONSIDER the fraternity responsible for a positive contribution to the primary functions of the colleges and universities, and therefore under an obligation to encourage the most complete personal development of its members, intellectual, physical, and social.

Therefore, we declare:

- (1) That the objectives and activities of the fraternity should be in entire accord with the aims and purposes of the institutions at which it has chapters.
- (2) That the primary loyalty and responsibility of a student in his relations with his institution are to the institution, and that the association of any group of students as a chapter of a fraternity involves the definite responsibility of the group for the conduct of the individual.
- (3) That the fraternity should promote conduct consistent with good morals and good taste.
- (4) That the fraternity should create an atmosphere which will stimulate substantial intellectual progress and superior intellectual achievement.
- (5) That the fraternity should maintain sanitary, safe, and wholesome physical conditions in the chapter house.
- (6) That the fraternity should inculcate principles of sound business practice both in chapter finances and in the business relations of its members.

These criteria should be applied in close co-operation with the administrative authorities of the institutions. Detailed methods of application will necessarily vary in accordance with local conditions. It is the purpose of the National Interfraternity Conference to offer detailed suggestions, after further study and investigation, regarding practical steps to make this co-operation effective.

Convention Postponed - Second School in August

By Lauren Foreman, Eminent Supreme Recorder

ECISION to hold a second Leadership School in Evanston in August of this year, provided alumni would respond to an appeal for additional financial support, and to postpone the next National Convention until August, 1937, subject to the approval of the electorate of the Fraternity by direct vote, when it can be held in connection with a third Leadership School, was made by the Supreme Council at its meeting in January.

The alumni came through with the desired financial support in the shape of increased payment of annual Chapter National dues in fine style; the Chapters Collegiate, Alumni Associations and individuals entitled to vote ratified the proposition for the change in convention dates overwhelmingly, so the following announcements, of great importance alike to members of the Chapters Collegiate and to alumni, may now be made officially:

(1) Sigma Alpha Epsilon's Second Leadership School will be held at Evanston, Sunday, August 30, to Friday, September 4, 1936, and each Chapter Collegiate will be invited to send a representative whose expenses for meals and lodging while in Evanston will be paid out of the general funds of the Fraternity;

(2) The Eighty-First Anniversary National Convention of Sigma Alpha Epsilon will be held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago,

Ill., Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 26-27-28, 1937, following a third Leadership School, to be held at Evanston earlier in the

Announcements as to arrangements for chapter representatives, attending the Second Leadership School, will be sent out as soon as all details are completed and replies to a questionnaire which has been sent to the chap-ters are received. The general ar-rangements will be similar to those in effect in 1935. Transportation expenses to and from Evanston for its official representative must be paid by the chapter and, if a chapter wishes to send additional representatives, their expenses while in Evanston must Pledge Training will be the theme of the Second School as Rushing was the theme of the First. The School will follow the meeting of the Supreme Council, to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 28-29-30, 1936, which will be attended by all the Province Archons and it is hoped that they can all arrange to reman in Evanston for the School.

The change in the dates for the next National Convention was voted under the provisions of Section 20 of the National Laws, this being the first time in many years that the machinery provided by this section has been used. The result was announced by the Eminent Supreme Archon in the following proclamation:

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON FRATERNITY

Office of the Eminent Supreme Archon Edmond, Okla., April 18, 1936

EXECUTIVE PROCLAMATION No. 1

SUBJECT: Change in Date for Next National Convention of S A E

The Supreme Council at a regular meeting on January 4, 1936, by unanimous vote decided to submit to the Fraternity in accordance with Section 20 of the National

Laws the question:
"Should the date of the next Σ A E
National Convention be changed to August
26-28, 1937?"

According to the report of Lauren Fore-man, Eminent Supreme Recorder, the vote as of March 17, 1936, stood 233 for and 6 against the proposition submitted. Therefore, acting in behalf of the Supreme Council and at the direction of its members, I declare that this referendum, submitted to a direct vote of the Fraternity by means of voting blanks mailed from Evanston, Ill., on January 29, 1936, has carried and that the next National Convention of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity will be held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, Ill., Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 26-27-28, 1937.

Done at Edmond, Okla., this Eighteenth Day of April, Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Six.

Complete details as to arrangements for the Eighty-First Anniversary National Convention will be announced as plans are developed.

1936 Founders Day Celebrations

By Robert H. Wilson, Illinois Beta '35

POUNDERS DAY was enthusiastically observed by at least 126 centers of Σ A E activity this year, when 4 provinces, 51 alumni associations, and 71 active chapters held special meetings to commemorate the 80th anniversary of the founding of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Although most groups met on or near March 9, there were dinners and dances, initiations and joint celebrations conducted all the way from February 15 to March 28; so it is readily apparent that with so many evidences of alumni and active chapter enthusiasm, there was no limitation to one section of the United States of the important positions on Σ A E's Founders Day roster.

The following accounts of memorable 1936 Founders Day achievements are as reported by officials of such assemblies of Σ A E:

MARION, OHIO

At their regular meeting on March 8, the Marion alumni elected, as president for the coming year, Floyd G. Browne, Ohio M '18, to succeed Arthur H. Harris, Ohio Δ, who one week later, was elected Archon of Province Delta at its convention in Indianapolis. Fred J. Allen, N.Y. Σ-Φ, has replaced E. G. Seifert, Ohio T, as secretary for the alumni association in Marion.

Founders Day festivities MONTANA in the State of Montana centered in the Placer Hotel in Helena on the seventh, when 42 \(\Sigma\) A Es sat down at the banquet table—14 actives and 2 pledges of Montana Alpha and Montana Beta, and 26 alumni, representing 10 different chapters. J. H. McCall, registrar of the State College at Bozeman, presided as toastmaster, and called for responses from the 2 active chapters as well as from the alumni. Following these responses, George N. Short, E.S.H., gave an interesting account of the activities of the Supreme Council.

The Dickinson chapter's celebration ran for 3 days with something new taking place all of the time: The week-end was inaugurated by a formal dance in the chapter house on Friday, the 6th. This event was memorable for the good feeling and air of clean fun that were present. On Saturday, the Minerva Club held a tea in the house, giving special attention to the new members, while the alumni, the active chapter, and the pledges met in the Argonne

Hotel for the Founders Day banquet. This meeting was eventually concluded by a timely and interesting talk from "Jack" Crandall, Recorder-Treasurer of Province Beta, whereupon the group returned to the chapter house, where formal initiation of 6 pledges was conducted. After the inspiring ceremony, the day's activity was climaxed by an informal dance. Sunday, the 8th, was the third and last day of this chapter's "birthday party," with the staging of a get-together of the chapter, the alumni, and wellwishers. A timely visit by Burton A. Hoffman, Alumni Secretary of Province Beta, on the way home to Buffalo from festivities in Harrisburg, served to make this year's observance of Founders Day in Carlisle, Pa., something not to be soon forgotten.

ALLIANCE, Ohio Sigma served as host to the 65 alumni, actives, and pledges that assembled on the 10th to observe another birthday of our fraternity. John M. McLaughlin, Ohio Σ '96, principal of South High School, Pittsburgh, Pa., was the main speaker, while Dr. William McMaster, Ohio Σ '95, President of Mount Union College, was toastmaster. Sherlock L. Banks recited his poem, "The Pledging of Samuel Starr." The honored guest of the occasion was Arthur H. Harris, new Province Archon.

SPOKANE, WASH. WASH. B IDAHO A lumni Association, held on the 7th, proved very satisfactory, a fine dinner being held at the Hotel Washington in Pullman, Wash., at which about 100 Σ A Es were present, representing 15 different chapters. A fine address was given by Dean Charles E. McAllister, N.Y. Σ - Φ '14, of the Episcopal Cathedral in Spokane. A similar joint affair is being planned for next year.

HARRISBURG, PA.

About 40Σ A Es congregated at The Harrisburger on the 10th, 15 of them bringing their wives to help enjoy the occasion. The speaker of the evening was Dr. Burton A. Hoffman, Alumni Secretary of Province Beta, who accompanied his remarks with a showing of his far-famed Σ A E movies, and a gala time was had by all who were wise enough to attend.

Other notables at the affair included Dr. Arthur E. Brown, E.S.W., and John M. Crandall, Recorder-Treasurer of Province Beta.

NEW YORK CITY, On the 9th, 81 men from 30 different chapters met to renew their pledges and to celebrate the 80th anniversary of the founding of Σ A E. The program was opened by a patriotic display, through the advancement of the colors by bearers and guards in military uniform, proceeding down the center aisle and coming to attention before the speaker's table, during which "To the Colors" was sounded on the bugle. After the presentation and placing of the colors, invocation was pronounced by Bishop Kroll, N.Y. Σ-Φ '97, who shortly will take up his duties as Bishop to Liberia for the Protestant Episcopal Church; the invocation was followed by a period of silence in honor of our war dead, during which taps were sounded by the bugler. Prominent members of Σ A E in attendance at this celebration included Albert M. Austin, Ohio A, Past E.S.A.; Philip H. Senior, Pa. O, member of the Fraternity's Board of Trustees; Floyd W. Smith, N.Y. P. Province Archon, and Charles M. Carpenter, Mich. A, Province Deputy Archon. The good turn-out was appreciated since the association at present is actively campaigning for new members and for attendance at the weekly luncheons at the City Club, 55 West 44th St., New York City.

them. Prior to the dinner, 14 pledges of Iowa Beta and 8 pledges of Iowa Delta were initiated into Σ A E. The banquet itself was climaxed, under the direction of Toastmaster Russell Wellman, E.A. of Iowa Δ , by an address given by Judge G. E. Brammar, Iowa Δ '08. Over 100 alumni, actives, and pledges were present at this joint affair.

The Sheldon Munn Hotel in IA. Ames, Iowa, was the scene of Г Iowa Gamma's banquet, held on Sunday, the 8th, with the roll of those present including 17 alumni, and 39 actives and 19 pledges of the local chapter. With Frank Reynolds as toastmaster, Carrold A. Iverson as the main speaker, and Fred Moore and Frederick J. Poyneer-both of Iowa Beta, the latter of whom helped install Iowa Gamma-as distinguished guests, the meeting went off in fine style: G. Howard Tellier, delegate to the 1935 Training School, told of its accomplishments and discussed the financing of this newly effected project. The banquet was followed by the annual meeting of the alumni, at which reports were presented and officers for the coming year were elected.

John O. Moseley, E.S.A., con-MO. ducted Missouri Beta's 43rd annual initiation for 10 men, in the First Congregational Church of Clayton, Mo., on February 23. The entire service was accompanied by a medley of Σ A E songs, played by Paul Miller, Mo. B '15, Alumnus Adviser of Missouri Beta and the organist and choirmaster of this church. The large number of alumni stated that the initiation was the most effective they ever had seen. On the following night, E.S.A. Moseley spoke at the new initiates' first chapter meeting.

The St. Louis alumni and active members of ST. LOUIS, MO. Missouri Beta assembled at the Hotel Melbourne on Saturday, February 14. Judge Franklin Miller acted as toastmaster, while Harry W. Castlen spoke on "S A E and Good Citizenship," Dr. Ivan Lee Holt used as his subject, "The Fraternity: An Adventure in Human Understanding,' and two other interesting talks were given by Robert E. Miltenberger and John Doyne, E.A. The program also included two skits and quartet- and group-singing. Following the entertainment, the Missouri Beta Association held a business meeting and an election of officers for 1936.

The newly organized Durham Alumni Association DURHAM met for the first time on the 9th, celebrating Founders Day in common with North Carolina Nu. A delightful program was followed by the election of officers for the association.

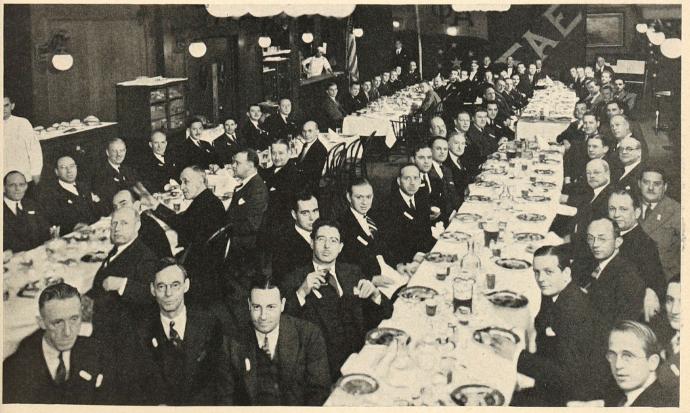

The Akron Men's City Club AKRON, was the scene of more Σ A E OHIO festivities on the 9th, when that city's active alumni association met to observe Founders Day. The Akron association has the distinction of having held meetings on the last Wednesday of each month for over 15 years; during the summer months the meetings are held at the Turkeyfoot Golf Club, where, after a game and a swim, a dinner is enjoyed at the Turkeyfoot Island Club, while meetings for the other months of the year are held at the Akron Men's City Club. Speakers are found within the membership of the association, which has 85 resident members from nearly 50 chapters.

In keeping with the RUDY VALLEE'S BROADCAST Founders Day atmosphere, Rudy Vallee, Me. A, graciously broadcasted both "Violets" and "Friends" at the beginning of his radio program, Thursday, the 5th, on the Fleisch man Hour, and thereby let many radio listeners benefit unknowingly by the arrival of the 80th birthday of Σ A E.

OHIO Δ OHIO M оню ө

In the way of COLUMBUS, OHIO Founders D a y mergers, the meeting at Co-Ohio, lumbus, was one of the largest, and correspondingly successful. On the 9th, there were gathered in the main ballroom of the Columbus Athletic Club 205 Σ A Es, including active members and pledges of 3 Ohio chapters as well as many of the town alumni. Reports were given on the conditions of Ohio Delta, Ohio Theta, and Ohio Mu, by the 3 Eminent Archons, and the chapters also furnished music. The addresses of the evening were given by Arthur H. Day, Judge of the Ohio Supreme Court, and Francis A. Schmidt, Ohio State's popular football coach, the latter speaker bringing out the point that a brother trained correctly in the chapter halls will be a loyal alumni worker later.

Three-score alumni of CINCINNATI, OHIO 17 chapters, together with many members of Ohio Epsilon and 2 members of Ohio Tau, met on Saturday evening, the 7th, at the Cincinnati Club to celebrate the founding of the fraternity. Fine reports as to the accomplishments of Ohio Epsilon and Ohio Tau in the fields of campus activity, scholarship, and athletics were given by the Eminent Archons of these two chapters; a delegate to the first Training School, held at Evanston, Ill., last August, passed on to his listeners the enthusiasm and confidence he has gained from its sessions. G. A. Ginter, Ohio E '97, gave a graphic history of Ohio Epsilon and presented to that chapter an autographed picture of one of the chapter's organizers, Paul Heinrichsdorf, Ohio E '93. Judge Robert N. Gorman followed with an excellent address, "Eighty Years of Sigma Alpha Epsilon."

DETROIT, MICH. MICH. A MICH. I MICH. I-B The Detroit Alumni Association entertained as its guests, at a stag party at the Detroit

Athletic Club on the 7th, the 3 Michigan chapters. After dinner these alumni and members of Michigan Alpha, Michigan Gamma, and Michigan Iota-Beta listened to talks by

Hon. Robert N. Gorman, Mass. Γ '18, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Hamilton County, Ohio, Chief Speaker at the Founders Day Celebration in Cincinnati, March 7, 1936.

John V. Brennan, Judge of the Recorder's Court; James D. Kennedy, the oldest ∑ A E present; Clyde I. Webster, Judge of the Circuit Court, and Cloice W. Hatfield, then archon of Province Delta.

DULUTH, MINN.

On the 9th, a group of 15 alumni assembled in the Medical Arts Building for the Founders Day banquet. Merritt Hughes presided, while Thomas Naylor, the local county attorney, gave the main speech.

JACKSON, TENN.
TENN. H
Tennessee Eta, and 50 alumni representing 25 different chapters, all met at the New Southern Hotel in Jackson. Roger G. Murray, re-elected Archon of Province Iota at its convention on March 6-7, was the guest of honor, while Carroll Ijams of the active chapter gave a report on the convention, which several Jackson students and alumni had attended. Penick Carlton analyzed the fine condition of the local chapter, whereas H. E. Henry, Jr., summarized the activities for the past year of the Jackson Alumni Association.

PEORIA, ILL. Five Peorians met voluntarily, in the absence of any formal organization, and celebrated our 80th anniversary at the University Club of Peoria. These alumni now are looking toward nearby cities for increases in attendance at any future meetings.

OHIO
The Miami chapter held not only a banquet for the active members and Oxford alumni, but also an initiation for 6 neophytes, conducted in the Oxford Memorial Church. The speakers at the banquet were Edward W. Nippert, Professors Whitcomb and Switzer, and the father of 1 of the initiates, Ralph C. Siggins, Pa. \(\Omega\) '08. At this time the chapter was presented with a bronze tablet, to be placed at the Bruce Fink tree, under which are buried the charters of the 2 locals that combined to form Ohio Tau, signifying "Twins."

speakers of the occasion were Charles F. Collins, E.S.D.A.; Wallace E. Campbell, Province Archon, and Basil S. Collins, Province Deputy Archon, while sleight of hand accomplishments of Curtis W. Covell amazed everyone. The Almy Jewel was presented by Gilbert Ruest, present E.A. of Rhode Island Alpha, to Thomas L. Fortin, '34, past E.A.

SAN FRANCISCO, The enlivened San Francisco association called forth 83 \(\Sigma\) A Es on the 13th, when 43 alumni from nearly half as many chapters, plus 15 active men from California Alpha and 25 from California Beta, met at the Hotel Wm. Taylor on the Civic Center. The meeting, attended by Joseph B. Strauss, the chief engineer on the Golden Gate bridge; Oscar Fernback, and Dave G. Martin was characterized by very friendly feeling, enthusiastic singing, and the discussion of such timely subjects as the Training School, Life Membership in the National Endowment, and the plans of the alumni association.

IND. The Purdue chapter invited as many alumni as possible to the chapter house for a dinner and smoker, the former being even more excellent than usual, and the latter given over to reminiscing by the alumni, to the delight of all present.

Founders Day was celebrated royally in Atlanta, when 320 \(\Sigma\) A Es—with nearly as many alumni as actives, in a city containing 2 active chapters—attended the dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving Club.

The members of the CLEVELAND, fraternity who assem-OHIO bled at Hotel Statler in Cleveland, on the evening of the 9th, were privileged to hear interesting remarks from 3 interesting alumni: Sherlock L. Banks recited his own poem, "The Pledging of Samuel Starr"; Elliott Ness, Safety Director of Cleveland and a man whose work as a member of the Department of Justice long has been recognized, gave a talk, while Arthur H. Harris, then Province Deputy Archon (and since elected Province Archon) briefly reviewed the work being carried on in the province.

JACKSONVILLE, The meeting of the Jacksonville Alumni Association on the 9th, at the Seminole hotel, was memorable not so much for the large attendance as for the presence of a distinguished guest and principal speaker, Judge Alfred K. Nippert of Speakers' Table at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, Founders Day Celebration: Dr. Burton A. Hoffman, Province Beta Alumni Secretary; Mrs. Arthur E. Brown; Rev. Oscar F. R. Treder, N.Y. Cincinnati, Ohio, Past E.S.A. Introduced by William Dickson, Ohio E '97, whom he pledged to \(\Sigma\) A E, Judge Nippert spoke mainly about the Levere Memorial Temple, describing its erection and purpose, its dedication and wonders, but also spoke about The Record, as to its financing, frequency of appearance, and worldwide circulation. At this same meeting, new officers were elected for the coming year.

FLA. The activity in Gainesville, Fla., on the 14th, when well over 90 alumni and actives congregated in the Hotel Thomas, may be laid again to the inspiring presence of Judge Alfred K. Nippert, Past E.S.A. Other speakers at the banquet were George Young and George Smathers, both members of the active chapter, while William Gillen, E.A., officiated as toastmaster for the happy affair.

CHANNEL CO'S.,
CALIF.

At a banquet held on the 7th at Ventura and attended by alumni from nearly a dozen different chapters, new officers were chosen to guide the association during the coming year. The very successful Founders Day observance made everyone feel that the alumni organization of Ventura and Santa Barbara counties is off to another good start.

STATE OF ARKANSAS

The Freiderica Hotel in Little Rock, Ark., was, on the 14th, the scene of what seemed the best Founders Day celebration in Arkansas for many a year. At least 13 alumni spoke on this occasion. It is worthy of note that, of the 50 alumni who attended, from 10 outlying towns as well as from Little Rock, some traveled as much as 150 miles to be on hand. A highlight of the affair was the reuniting of 2 men who had not seen each other for over 25 years: A. D. Dulaney, Ark. A-Y '05, and D. B. Morrow, Ark. A-Y '05.

PORTLAND, ORE.

The Portland alumni held their banquet in the Crystal Room of the Benson Hotel, on the 9th. More than 50 men assembled to commemorate the 80th anniversary of our founding and to mark the conclusion of the most active and successful year this association yet has experienced; the retiring president, Robert C. Thurston, is considered mainly responsible for this record. Introductions were managed by Harry Norquist; entertainment, by Marshall Harrison, and general arrangements, by Stan Diefendorf.

Saturday, March BALTIMORE, MD. 7, was filled with MD. $P-\Delta$ happy activity for all Σ A Es in the vicinity of St. John's College at Annapolis, Md., for on this day, chosen as near the 80th anniversary of the national fraternity and the 1st anniversary of 1 of our 2 "baby chapters," Maryland Rho-Delta chapter and the Baltimore alumni staged the chapter's first initiation for 9 regular pledges. Leading parts on the initiating team were taken by O. K. Quivey, Past E.S.A. and A. Brown Caldwell, who, with strong support from members of the chapter, exemplified the ritual in historic Great Hall, scene of the installation just 1 year ago. Following this ceremony there were the appropriate dinner in Carvel Hall, and a much enjoyed dance, both of which combined with the memory of the initiation to make Founders Day festivity of 1936 not easily forgotten.

As recently DALLAS, TEXAS FORT WORTH, TEXAS has become the custom, the Dallas and Fort Worth Alumni Associations held their Founders Day celebrations in combination, with this year's host being the Fort Worth alumni, and the joint observance and banquet being held in the Blackstone Hotel in that city, on the 9th. The colorful program included such features as a number of pleasing speeches, the singing of many Σ A E songs, and the election of the Dallas association's officers for the coming year. Although from 75 to 100 alumni came for this affair in Fort Worth, the Dallas alumni even now are hoping to have a turn-out of 200 alumni next year, when the 2 associations will meet in Dallas.

DECATUR, ILL.

Double significance was attached to the good time had by the 70 Decatur alumni and actives on the 15th, at the chapter house, for the year 1936 has contained both the 80th birthday of the national fraternity and the 25th birthday of Illinois Delta. With proof given that the alumni association is a source of real help to the chapter, and that the chapter itself is in the best financial condition in its history, this banquet is remembered as an outstanding Founders Day success.

SPARTANBURG, S.C. Twenty members of the Wofford chapter and 10 town alumni met at the Elite Banquet Hall in Spartanburg on the evening of the 10th, commemorating in proper manner the founding of Σ A E. The principal speaker was Julian Humphries, who stressed the dire need for a more universal feeling of fraternity throughout the whole world; other speakers were John W. Keller, retiring president of the association, and James Caldwell, E.A. of South Carolina Gamma.

Founders Day with the Reno. Nevada, chapter was run-off in conjunction with the Province Kappa convention, when more than 100 delegates, alumni, and active members gathered, on the 2nd day of the convention, March 7, at the Riverside Hotel. A telegram was received from Senator R. Key Pittman, recently elected Honorary Province Archon; Nevada Alpha chapter awards for scholarship and scholarship improvement were made. S. E. Ross, Sr., former Deputy Archon of Province Kappa, acted as toastmaster, introducing as speakers Dr. Carl J. Rice, re-elected Province Archon; Eber Jaques, changed from Province Recorder to Province Deputy Archon, and Lauren Foreman, E.S.R.

One of the most unusual BUFFALO, methods of celebrating N.Y. an Σ A E anniversary was conceived by the alumni of western New York when, on the suggestion of retiring President Edwin H. Robinson, a chapter from out of the state conducted an actual initiation-Pennsylvania Omega chapter from Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., sent to Buffalo, N.Y., its initiating team of 10 active members, who inducted Gardner Youtz, Pa. Ω '37, into Σ A E at Buffalo's 28th annual Founders Day banquet, held at the University Club on Saturday, the 7th. Election of officers, entertainment, and an interesting talk by Dr. Burton A. Hoffman, past president of the association and present Alumni Secretary of Province Beta, all helped to crowd the program, and the whole affair generated real enthusiasm. The Buffalo alumni have shown much originality during the past year in the variety of their programs: A roller-skating party, theatre party, golf match, picnic, rushing party, holiday meet, possum dinner (truly reminiscent of early Σ A E history, and just as successful), and this Founders Day banquet.

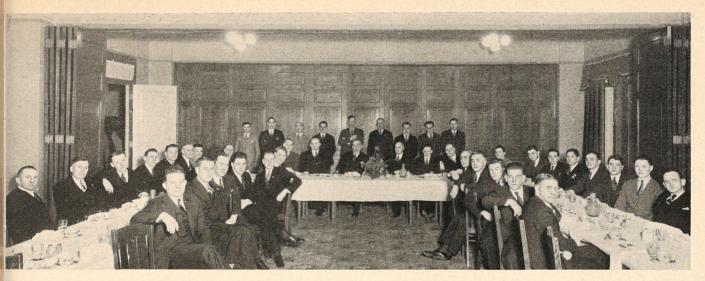

This chapter's observance MISS. was deeply inspirational: On Sunday, the 8th, a portrait and tablet were unveiled in the large lounge of the new house in memory of Buchanan Moore, who lost his life last fall in an automobile accident. Dawson Hall was filled with friends, relatives, and brothers of the late brother, all paying respect to his character and his devotion to Σ A E. On Monday, the 9th, the entire chapter met for a formal banquet in the private dining room of the University Commons, at which talks were given by Professor Eric Dawson, Chancellor Butts, and members of the graduating class. After the dinner, there was a formal dance in the chapter house, giving an appropriate finish to this year's Founders Day respects.

PA. The Lafayette chapter assembled at the Hotel Easton on the 9th, with William Jefferson, E.A., serving as toastmaster at the dinner, and Rev. A. Brown Caldwell, Pa. Γ'13, present to deliver the principal address of the evening—a talk sprinkled with anecdotes but always showing the significance of the fraternity, and not only reflecting past achievements of the chapter, but also looking forward by the inclusion in the speech of several valuable suggestions on rushing.

In preparing for a mem-CHICAGO, orable celebration on ILL. the 9th, the Chicago Alumni Association went so far as to put out a new, up-to-the-minute newssheet—Volume 1, Number 1 of The Sig Alpher. But the 125 brothers who attended were further treated by hearing from several noteworthy speakers Avery Brundage, president of the A.A.U., who gave his own impressions of the 1936 Winter Olympics, just recently held in Germany; Hal Totten, famous N.B.C. sports announcer, who related hilarious baseball stories; W. M. Todd, a guest from Fort Worth, Tex., who led considerable singing and then, later on, gave an extemporaneous and flowery address which kept the house in an uproar; and Don Robertson, who showed his movies of Mexico. The meeting was memorable as being attended by Robert Franklin Bunting, Tenn. Z '88, a co-founder of the Chicago Alumni Association, who had come all the way from Calabogie, Ontario, Canada.

LOS ANGELES, CALIF. The alumni of Los Angeles joined with the 3 active chapters located in that city on Saturday, the 7th, at the Jonathan Club, and preceded the big banquet, scheduled for 7:30 p.m., with a joint initiation for pledges from these chapters.

Thirty-five SEATTLE, WASH. members of the WASH. A active chapter met, on the 7th, with nearly 90 alumni from 35 different chapters, with R. W. Norquist as toastmaster, Worth Caldwell and Victor Zednick as distinguished guests, and Lawrence Parkhill, E.T. of Washington Alpha, as an interesting speaker on the subjects of the 1935 Training School for chapter leaders-which he attended last August-and the meaning and purpose of life and annual memberships in the Chapter National.

A dozen representa-CENTRAL VA. tives of Virginia (RICHMOND) Kappa met on the 7th with 30 Virginia alumni, among whom were H. N. Phillips, 1 of the 2 surviving members of old Virginia Tau; Mason Manghum, director of the Richmond, Va., Chamber of Commerce, and W. Stirling King, Archon of Province Gamma. The innumerable benefits of the recently conceived Training School were discussed, and the membership of the Central Virginia association much impressed. (Gamma was 1 of only 2 provinces to be 100% represented at the first—1935—school in Evanston, III.)

WIS. This chapter and its members gave Founders Day its due prominence in 3 ways: On the 7th, 3 actives attended the Minneapolis-St. Paul Alumni Association banquet held at the University Club in St. Paul, as a feature of the Province Mu Convention, held on March 6-7; on the 9th, Wisconsin Phi held its annual dinner for the many alumni of Beloit, Wis., and Rockford, Ill.; also on the 9th, 4 active members of the chapter attended the Chicago Alumni Association festivities, as also did 14 alumni of the Beloit chapter.

The joint meeting of our 2 Oregon chapters, held at the ORE. B Café Del Rey in Eugene, on the 8th, marked a further determination on the part of those chapters to coöperate more and more in the interests of S A E in Oregon, both in meetings of this sort and in rushing. The main speaker of the day, Warren D. Smith, Professor of Geology at the University of Oregon, stressed the necessity of interfraternity friendliness on both campuses, and reminded his listeners that there are almost always many good boys at a school who are not members of fraternities, and consequently rushing never need slow down for lack of material.

re-elected Province Archon, and Albert J. Schoth, similarly re-elected Province Recorder-Treasurer.

This chapter held its annual ARK. Founders Day banquet on the evening of the 9th, at the Washington Hotel in Fayetteville, Ark., with 70 brothers present, including a number of alumni from Fayetteville and nearby towns. David Boatright, E.A., was toastmaster; opening and closing with toasts to Σ A E, the banquet was a gala affair. Short speeches were made by active members who will graduate in June and also by Dr. William Hosford, Ernest Deane, and Coach Fred Thomsen, brothers on the university faculty.

More than a dozen alumni MOBILE. met in the home of W. M. ALA. Boykin, Jr., at 7:30 P.M. on the 9th, and amid attractive decorations and helped by such entertainers as a pianist and tap dancer, held both a useful and pleasant meeting. Officers were elected, a rushing committee was appointed, and future projects of the association, including the late spring and early fall rushing parties, were discussed. It must be mentioned too that in addition to Σ A E and floral decorations, purple and gold colors were used in the last course of the dinner.

PROVINCE A BOSTON, MASS.

There was staged at Boston, on the 7th, a form of revival of the historic "Auburndale" joint-initiation which prospered in Province Alpha from 25 to 45 years ago. The evening's merger of 9 chapters, 1 Alumni Association, and many other alumni brought out a crowd of around 125 persons, most prominent among whom where Dr. Arthur E. Brown, E.S.W., all the present officers of Province Alpha, and past Province Archons Waterhouse, Peters, and Lawrence. An initiation for 21 neophytes was started at 4:00 P.M.; the annual business meeting of the Boston association, at 6:00, and the banquet, exactly at 6:30, a successful attempt was made to both start and stop on time, because some of the alumni came from as far as 250 miles away. It was felt that such an affair is worthy of duplication in other provinces, in that it again gives the alumnus a chance to witness the exemplification of the ritual and to recall his own thrills at past initiations.

The Lincoln Hotel in Nebraska's capi-LINCOLN, NEB. NEB. Λ-Π · tal was the scene of real Σ A E enjoyment on the 28th, for at this time John O. Moseley, E.S.A., conducted one of his highly inspira-tional initiations in the Venetian Room of that hotel, this time for a group of 23 neophytes of the local chapter. At the banquet at 6:30, the assembled crowd of S A Es was treated by meeting several of the Nebraska Lambda-Pi's charter members. The principal talk of the evening was given by E.S.A. Moseley.

Founders LEXINGTON, KY. Day was proper-KY. E ly observed on the University of Kentucky campus when 25 alumni met with 50 active members and pledges for a banquet at the chapter house. At this function, Homer Baker served as toastmaster, while the main speaker was Keen Johnson, Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky.

Thirty-five alumni HARTFORD, from nearly half that CONN. number of chapters attended the banquet at the City Club in Hartford on the 14th. The program included a short eulogy for Champe S. Andrews, the election of officers for the coming year, and talks by Wallace E. Campbell, Archon of Province Alpha, and Charles F. Collins, E.D.S.A., guest speaker for the occasion, who fully covered both the subject of the Training School and the meaning of Chapter National dues.

In addition to all the above observances, reports were made, although in brief, on activity in several other centers, as follows:

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.: Formal dinner dance held the 9th.

LOUISVILLE, KY.: New officers elected at annual get-together, and committee named to increase turn-out. TUSCALOOSA, ALA.: Meeting, 11th.

COLORADO A: Banquet held the 7th with 44 present, including Prof. J. M. Coke, Loyd Donnely, A. M. Mueller, and Dean Jesse R. Morgan. Training school heartily approved.

Augusta, Ga.: Meeting on the 7th attended by 11 alumni—preliminary to reorganization of the Augusta Alumni Association.

Indiana A: Combination of annual homecoming, initiation, and Founders Day celebration, all held on the 8th, with further activity at the convention of Province Delta, the 13th and 14th.

SOUTH CAROLINA: State-wide observance called at Columbia, S.C., on the 14th, with South Carolina Delta as hosts.

Province Kappa Convenes at Reno

By William A. Warner, Calif. Gamma '38

ROVINCE KAPPA delegates assembled for their biennial convention in Nevada Alpha's chapter house, at Reno, Nevada, March 6-7, 1936, where the hospitality extended to all evidently was created by Nevada Alpha, the Reno Alumni Association, and three brothers in particular—Silas Ross, Harold Luce, and Melvin Ruedy.

A high light of the convention was the presentation of a Life Membership in the Chapter National by Province Kappa to Dr. Carl J. Rice, Archon, in appreciation of his work and love for Σ A E in general, and for this province in particular during his past six years as head of the province. Another feature was the impressive memorial service conducted for the twelve brothers from this province who have joined the Chapter Eternal since the 1934 convention.

Nominally the convention took place on March 6-7, but the chapters started to work in January, when all delegates received questionnaires and information blanks requesting serious thought and study on the following subjects: Campus activity, Hell Week, chapter alumni advisers, house mothers, large pledge classes, finances, pro-rate system of accounts, collection attorney services, special trial commissions, rushing file of prospective pledges, scholarship, extension, size of chapters, alumni support, inactivity, and the Summer of 1937 Training School and National Convention. Reports were made by delegates on each of these topics, with frank discussions following. The 1935 Training School was enthusiastically recalled by Louis Mendelssohn, Calif. A '36, and William Fisher, Calif. F '37.

Luce, Alumnus Adviser of Nevada Alpha; Jack Jurgensen, Joseph Foley, Guy Nunn, Calif. E.

Reports by the province officers indicated the development of team work between chapters, and an "esprit de corps," besides pointing to the constantly improved financial condition of the province. All discussions carried on at the convention were materially aided by the timely presence of Lauren Foreman, E.S.R., who gave his listeners many interesting and educational comments, particularly in the sense of Σ A E as a national organization.

Although the delegates had assembled for the purpose of working hard and obtaining solutions to mutual problems, the hosts of the whole affair entertained royally with many social functions, outstanding among which were the convention dance on Friday evening and a splendid Founders Day banquet, with 107 attending, on Saturday evening, at which latter event Silas Ross was toastmaster and talks were made by Lauren Foreman, E.S.R.; Dr. Carl J. Rice, Archon; Eber E. Jaques, Recorder; and Guy Nunn, Past E.A. of, California E.

Officers for the Arizona-California-Nevada-New Mexico section of Σ A E- land for the coming two years were elected, and stand as follows: Honorary Archon, Hon. Senator R. Key Pittman, Tenn. Z '88; Archon, Dr. Carl J. Rice, Minn. A '15; Deputy Archon, Eber E. Jaques, Calif. T '30; Recorder, William J. Milliken, Calif. B '34; Treasurer, C. Burdette Sadler, Iowa A '23; Alumni Secretary for Arizona, C. Zaner Lesher, Ariz. A '17; for Nevada, William A. Ligon, Nev. A '30; for Northern California, Raymond F. Luce, Calif. Province Mu Convention Held in Minneapolis

By Stewart McClendon, E.D.A., Minn. Alpha

INNEAPOLIS was the scene of the sixth biennial convention of Province Mu March 6 and 7. The Minnesota Alpha chapter house was the place, and it is the first time it had been so honored since old Province Delta "came out to the West" in 1904. Careful and thoughtful preparations for the physical wellbeing of the delegates had been made by the convention committee of the chapter, headed by Rolf Haugen, E.A. True hospitality was shown by both active chapter and alumni. The social program provided the delegates and visitors with relaxation and entertainment from the business of the meeting.

Province officers in attendance were Charles H. Barker, Ill. Ψ-Ω '22, archon; George O. Pierce, Ind. B '23, deputy archon; Robert R. Aurner, Iowa B '20, recorder-treasurer. Among the guests was Fred Turner, Nat'l Scholarship Commissioner and past archon; Arthur Dudgeon, alumnus adviser Minnesota Alpha; Clarence Deakins, Ill. Δ '23; Philip Neville, Minneapolis Alumni Ass'n. Delegates were present from each chapter in the Province, there being a total of thirty-one delegates, alternates, and visitors. North Dakota Alpha was represented by seven.

The convention was called to order at 9:30 A.M. March 6 by Archon Barker. Mr. Otis C. McCreery, dean of student affairs at the University of Minnesota, a member of A T O, welcomed the meeting on behalf of the University. This was followed by the report of the credentials committee, and the meeting then resolved itself into a committee on the state and condition of the Province, with each chapter reporting. All are healthy and active on their respective campuses. The North Dakota chapters, with their low house bills, were the envy of the others.

After a luncheon at which one of the members of the university faculty gave a talk on world politics, the convention picture was taken. The meeting then resumed with additional chapter reports. S. K. Parks, Ill. B, gave a talk on rushing methods employed successfully by his chapter, after which he led a discussion on the subject. Adjournment at 2:30 was followed at once by the Province Initiation, at which the Minnesota Alpha team officiated. Rolf Haugen acted as E.A., Lee Runyon as E.R., Frank Conkey as E.Ch., Jack Kuehn as E.H., Jim Lund as E.W. Those initiated were Talbot Jones, Minnesota Alpha, and Fritz Callier, Ill. Ψ-Ω.

Members of the convention toured the campus in the time remaining before dinner and ended with a swim in the pool of the University of Minnesota's new recreation building. Dinner was marked by evidence that ∑ A E is the "singingest" fraternity in the country, after which Walter C. Coffey, Ind. A '01, dean of the College of Agriculture at the University of Minnesota, gave a short talk.

A formal dance marked the evening, at which the music was furnished by Bob Bass, Minn. A '34. The local "date" committee surpassed all expectations, and provided a bevy of lovely dates for the visitors. The Minnesota Alpha chapter house at which the dance was held presented a beautiful picture with everyone, delegates, visitors, and alumni of the chapter, having a most enjoyable evening.

When the convention resumed on Saturday, committee reports were the first order of business. The reports of the Auditing, Internal Development, and Resolutions committees were made and approved, and will appear in Phi Alpha. Chairman Pierce of the Extension Committee reported on the possibility of Lawrence College as a field of expansion after Mr. Deakins, Ill. Δ '23, who is on the staff had presented a picture of the college. The question was sent back to the committee and was brought up again in the afternoon. After much discussion it was finally voted to approve the school itself as a good field for expansion, but to disapprove of any of the existing locals.

Brother Haugen, E.A. Minn. A, discussed the pledge-training plan in operation in his chapter, and provided each chapter in the province with the carefully written instructions used by Minnesota Alpha. He was followed by Alan Worm, E.D.A. of $Ill. \ \Psi$ - Ω , who discussed the successful financial methods employed by his chapter.

Elections put Charles H. Barker again in the archon's chair and moved Robert R. Aurner up to deputy-archon. Philip Neville, Minn. A '32, was elected recorder-treasurer. The next convention will meet with Illinois Beta at Champaign in 1938. Before the convention adjourned, it went on record as disapproving the move to re-district the Province.

The members of the convention attended the Founders Day Banquet given by the Twin Cities Alumni Association at the St. Paul Athletic Club. Henry C. Mackall, Minn. A '06, was the toastmaster who very pleasantly introduced the following: Dr. Arthur E. Smith, Minn. A '05, John A. Anderson, Wyo. A '14, Phil Bengston, Minn. A '35, Ralph H. Sherman, Minn. A '16, L. G. Wynn, Wis. A '15, Wm. Graves, Minn. A '40, Fred H. Turner, Ill. B '22, all of whom spoke. The Province officers were also called upon. The Streator Award, given annually by the Minneapolis Alumni Association to the sophomore of Minnesota Alpha who has the interests of the chapter most at heart, was awarded to Jack Kuehn. The Bobby Jones Golf Trophy, given by him to be awarded annually to the member winning the annual golf tournament, went this year to David McMillan, Idaho A '22, coach of the University of Minnesota basketball team. Rolf Haugen was awarded the Minnesota Alpha Cup, significant of the most valuable man in the chapter, and Ralph Sherman was given a gift of appreciation by the alumni of Minneapolis for his services to fraternity and chapter.

The whole convention was voted a most successful celebration of the 80th anniversary of \(\Sigma \) A E's founding.

Delta's Clans Gather in Indianapolis

By James G. Frey, Deputy Archon, Province Delta

Arthur H. Harris, Ohio Δ '15, New Archon of Province Delta.

PROVINCE DELTA'S twenty-second biennial convention was held at the Lincoln Hotel, Indianapolis, Ind., Friday and Saturday, March 13-14, 1936, with all chapters collegiate, except Ohio Theta at Ohio State University, and six alumni associations represented. Each of the chapters had at least two delegates present. Two members of the Supreme Council, Dr. Arthur E. Brown, Eminent Supreme Warden, and Lauren Foreman, Eminent Supreme Recorder, and four Past Province Archons, of Province Delta, G. A. Ginter, Ohio E '97, Clyde K. Cairns, Ohio E '00, Harry W. Dragoo, Ind. A '06, Albert D. Hockensmith, Ind. Γ '24, and Francis A. Schmidt, Neb. Λ-Π '07, Past Archon of Province Theta, were present through all sessions of the convention and took an active part in all discussions that came up.

Province Archon Cloice W. Hatfield, Ind. Γ '11, called the convention to order promptly at 10 o'clock Friday morning and, after the invocation by Rev. William Burrows, N.Y. Σ - Φ '02, the convention immediately got down to work. Delegates from each of the chapters gave detailed reports, following a prescribed form, that had been prepared by Archon Hatfield, which limited the reports to matters of common interest and enabled them to present a comprehensive picture of conditions on their respective campuses. The delegates showed especial interest in that part of the reports dealing with financial affairs and showing how this difficult problem is handled by each chapter.

The delegates evidenced a desire for a more active province program, voting that a province quarterly be published and raising the province dues to $1.00 per man per year in order to finance this venture and to give the province officers additional funds with which to work in general

treasurer. All elections were unanimous.

Following adjournment Saturday afternoon, the delegates repaired to the cemetery in which Harold Vater Hill, Ill. B'11, author of "Violets," is buried where a beautiful wreath was laid on the grave in the presence of his mother, Mrs. Edwin Hill. Lauren Foreman, E.S.R., spoke briefly of the affection in which Harold Hill is held by all members of Σ A E as the author of its favorite song and Mrs. Hill told of the love which Σ A E's sweet singer had always evidenced for his fraternity.

The Indianapolis Alumni Association provided a delightful entertainment program, the high spots being the dinner on Friday evening at which the Indianapolis Founders Day celebration was combined with the convention function, and the formal ball on Saturday evening.

Charles W. McCarty, Ind. Γ '15,

Charles W. McCarty, Ind. Γ '15, managing editor of the Indianapolis News, presided at the dinner and more than lived up to his reputation as a toast-master par excellence. The principal address was made by Hon. Frederick A. Wiecking, Ind. Γ '13, judge of the Appelate Court of Indiana, and showed thoughtful preparation and a thorough grasp of what the college fraternity means in the American educational system. Francis Schmidt made one of his inimitable impromptu addresses and talks were made by the national and province officers.

The ball on Saturday evening was the concluding feature of the convention. The Indianapolis alumni had secured an unusually attractive array of dancing partners for the delegates and the entire affair proved a most delightful occasion.

Province Theta Convenes at Norman

By Gentry Lee, Past Province Archon

HE biennial convention of Province Theta was held at Norman, Oklahoma, at the Oklahoma Kappa chapter house, Friday and Saturday, April 3-4, 1936. In attendance were delegates from all of the nine chapters in the province, and from the Fort Worth, Texas, and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Alumni Associations. The assembly also was honored by the presence of John O. Moseley, E.S.A.; Lauren Foreman, E.S.R.; and Eric A. Dawson, Past E.S.R.

A pre-convention smoker was held at the chapter house on the evening of Thursday, and registration and preliminaries were attended to on Friday morning. The convention was called to order by the Province Archon at 10 o'clock, the first business session continuing until noon. At that time, a luncheon was tendered at the chapter house.

Following the afternoon business session, the convention journeyed in a body to Oklahoma City, where seventeen pledges of Oklahoma Kappa and one pledge of Texas Rho were initiated into the mysteries of the order by John O. Moseley, E.S.A., the initiation being held at the Oklahoma Club. This ceremony was followed by the convention banquet.

Business sessions were held on Saturday morning and afternoon, and in the afternoon there also was held a memorial service for the members and alumni of the chapters of Province Theta who have joined the Chapter Eternal since the last province convention. This is a regular feature of conventions in this province. On Saturday evening, the delegates were entertained at a dinner dance in the Students Union Building on the campus of Oklahoma University.

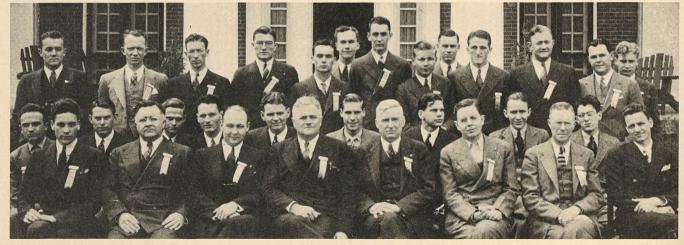

Reports at the province convention generally indicated a healthy condition of the chapters in this section of the country.

The convention went on record as favoring the division of Province Theta into two provinces, with the chapters in Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Texas continuing together and the chapters in Mississippi and Louisiana being added to other chapters to form a new province. The convention felt that the geographical expanse of the present province is too great for effective administration and supervision.

At the conclusion of the convention, the following officers were elected: J. Lewell Lafferty, Ark. A-Y '26, of Fort Worth, Tex., succeeding Gentry Lee, Okla. K '26, as Archon; Dr. Edley H. Jones, La. T-Y '22, of Vicksburg, Miss., as the new Deputy Archon, having just served as Recorder-Treasurer, and Grover D. Strother, Okla. K '14, of Oklahoma City, Okla., becoming the new Recorder-Treasurer.

A new bridge at Fort Benning, Ga., has been named officially "Betjeman Bridge," in honor of the late John A. Betjeman, Ga. Φ '98, prominent civic leader of Columbus, Ga., who is credited with being largely responsible for the decision of the War Department to retain Fort Benning as a permanent infantry instruction post.

Province lota Holds Biennial Convention in Memphis By Frank B. Creekmore, Tenn. Kappa '33

ITH the Tennessee Zeta as hosts, and the Peabody Hotel as base of operations, the regular biennial convention of Province Iota was held at Memphis, March 6 and 7.

After invocation was spoken by Charles F. Collins, Eminent Supreme Deputy Archon, and preliminary speeches of welcome were made, the minutes of the last meeting were read and committees were appointed for the handling of the business at hand. The Memphis chapter and the Memphis Alumni Association fortified the delegates against the rigors of the afternoon session with an elaborate luncheon in the hotel dining room.

The feature of the afternoon session was the report of the Province Archon, Roger G. Murray, Tenn. H '19, who based his highly interesting remarks on personal visits to all chapters in the province. At the close of the Archon's report, the Committee on the State and Condition of the Province made an oral report. Successful rushing seasons, general financial stability, and a report on Tennessee Omega's new $3,000 addition to the chapter house contributed to make the committee's report one of encouragement and pride to the delegates.

On the second day, the Province Recorder-Treasurer read his report, showing a substantial increase in the funds. It was voted that the next meeting be held in Lexington, Kentucky, the exact date to be left to the convenience of Kentucky Epsilon, the host chapter.

The following officers were elected; Roger G. Murray, re-elected Province Archon; Frank B. Creekmore, Tenn. K '33, Province Deputy Archon; Albert W. Hutchinson, Tenn. N '30, Province Recorder-Treasurer. In addition, Henry (Bevo) Anderson, Tenn. K '28, was elected Alumni Secretary, and J. Bayard Snowden, Tenn. Ω, was elected Honorary Province Archon.

On the final evening, the delegates were royally entertained by a Founders Day banquet, followed by a dance at the University Club.

South Dakota Sigma Celebrates Silver Anniversary By Joseph S. Marshall, South Dakota Sigma '38

WENTY-EIGHT years Charles W. Sterling, Colo. Z '09, a law student at the University of South Dakota, saw an opening for a chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon on the campus of the University of South Dakota. At this time there was one national and one local fraternity on the campus. He chose nine of his special friends to form a local fraternity known as P. H. P. with the primary purpose of petitioning S A E. At the time of the Atlantic City Convention in 1909 P. H. P. sent an informal petition to the convention informing them that at the 1910 convention in Kansas City a formal petition for Σ A E would be presented.

The men in P. H. P. spent two years working to make their organization worthy of receiving a charter from Σ A E, and in 1910 the formal petition was presented and passed the convention unanimously. South Dakota Sigma was installed on January 27, 1911; at this time twenty-one active members and two alumni members were initiated by Wm. C. Levere.

During the twenty-five years that Σ A E has been on the South Dakota campus it has been one of the leading fraternities. Up to March 15, 1936, 302 men have been initiated into South Dakota Sigma. By 1918, 140 men had been initiated and of this number 108 saw active service in the World War. Twenty-one of the founders are living at the present time; four of them in South Dakota, Dr. Leo Patrick, '14, Mitchell; James Kirk, '11, Pierre; George Puder, '10, Timber Lake; and Herschel S. Morgan, '17, Vermillion.

In conjunction with the regular Founders Day banquet South Dakota Sigma celebrated its Silver Anniversary with a dinner. The program for the day consisted of a brief resume of the history of the chapter from the time it was installed in 1911 in rented rooms over a local clothing store up to the present time when it is the owner of the finest fraternity house on the South Dakota campus.

Many of the original founders were present, especially those living in South Dakota including Charles W. Sterling of Minneapolis, for many years secretary of the South Dakota Sigma Chapter House Association.

The Message of Horace to the College Man of Today

Part One: The Message of His Life

By John O. Moseley, Eminent Supreme Archon

JUST two thousand years ago on December 8, 65 B.C., was born the Roman poet Quintus Horatius Flaccus whose birthday has been celebrated during the past twelve month period all over the civilized world. No man can be remembered that long and loved so well unless his life and message has been a moving power in the hearts of those who cherish his memory. Countless generations have hailed him as guide, philosopher and friend and have acknowledged their debt to him in their quest for happiness.

It is because all men desire happiness and seek it in many ways with all their might that any force which impels them nearer their goals is joyfully received and honored with gratitude. That is why Horace has been translated into more languages and vernaculars than any other poet. That is why Petrarch, Nietzsche, Montaigne, Pelayo, Pope, Wordsworth, Andrew Lang, Eugene Field and a thousand others have been influenced by him and in words of Hagedorn, call him, "My friend, my teacher, my companion." That is why Oliver Wendell Holmes says that Horace will be found on the student's table near at hand. That is why many well worn copies of Horace were to be seen in the trenches in France. That is why I discovered a limp leather edition in a one-room home back in the Osage hills in Oklahoma.

It has been claimed that Horace is the poet of middle age. With this theory I disagree, for most of those who in their latter years revere and cherish Horace were introduced to him in their youth. Certainly, the more mature can read his works with keener appreciation and clearer understanding but they are reading him because his message caught their lives and minds at a formative period. This is the dynamic power of Horace and it can be understood only if we consider his message both from the standpoint of his life and of his works.

Since Horace's message to mankind largely concerns the paths of happiness, it is a great satisfaction that he not only tells us but also shows us how to achieve it. When he tells us that happiness is to be sought not outside but within the human breast, we are gratified to know that in his own life he disdained pomp and display. When he tells us to cultivate independence of spirit, we glow with pleasure over his offer to Maecenas to give back all Maecenas had given him, even though we suspect that he knew good and well that it would not be necessary. At any rate, we are sure that at a more critical time in his life he refused to become the companion of Augustus because it meant giving up a mode of living he had found well.

When Horace writes of the joys of friendship we know that he is on sure ground. Leaving religious worship aside, I do believe that no one ever had more friends, man to man, than the poet Horace. I am including of course the innumerable thousands who have counted him their real, true, personal friend and felt toward him as if he were a living person. For Horace is the poet of friendship. Almost all of his poems are addressed or dedicated to men who were his friends. What a gallery of pictures he has left to posterity, just as if the photographs of dear friends, now hanging in my den, could be miraculously preserved for two thousand years. Just as clearly delineated as the features of those pals of mine do the rugged expressive faces of Horace's friends peep out from his poems. Every class and type is there: school friends, business associates, comrades in arms, fellow poets, advisers, advisees, and just plain buddies.

Nowhere in literature can the fraternity man learn so much about friendship and at the same time see it in action. Horace truly teaches by precept and example that the way to have a friend is to be a friend. He calls Virgil "The half of my soul." He is ready to go places with Septimius. As much as he hates war, he will enlist again to be with his friends. He declares that he cannot live without Maecenas, and three weeks after the death of his friend he is buried by his side on the Esquiline Hill.

The greatest lesson on friendship in Horace's life for the fraternity man is that for friendship to be worthwhile it must be lasting. Alas, too often this lesson is poorly understood by corporate groups. Parlor tricks and dazzling clothes do attract and entertain, but the impression soon fades away. Horace wants solid achievement. Not the man who can high-pressure or amuse but he who has something to offer which you must respect and admire is the one to bind to your heart with bands of iron. Character, personality, and attainment are the bonds of friendship.

To the college man Horace's education presents many striking parallels to modern times. Here again Horace seems just as fresh and up to date as next year's stream-lined models. He could walk into any chapter house or college reunion, laugh at the same old stories and probably drag out a few that some of the boys hadn't heard. He could tell of the same old aspirations and struggles, the same joys and sorrows. If the boys would listen to him (and they would, for he is irresistible if you know him) he could tell them a lot about the follow through of life, the finesse of living, how best to mingle pain and pleasure in order to have the least of one and the most of the other, how to practice energetic repose, and much more about money, ambition, and power. The boys would know at once by his sincerity and conviction that he was looking at life steadily and seeing it whole. Above all they could tell by looking in his face that he represented in his person his philosophy in action. This is why Horace's education has for the college man such a dynamic message.

Upon completion of his undergraduate courses at Rome, Horace like all lucky Roman and English lads, began his grand tour, or the year of polishing off, in study and travel abroad. He chose as the scene of his graduate work the ancient and renowned schools at Athens where (to use his own figure) he flitted about like a bee and gathered honey from the flowers of mathematics, logic, and philosophy of every hue which bloomed so luxuriantly in that old university town. Horace in using this figure of the bee would seem to commit himself to the elective system for graduate work and might well sound a warning to the young man of today to learn some one or two fields of knowledge well before beginning to browse around. This is the English system: first to sharpen the tools of the mind, next at college apply them to one specialized field of knowledge and then to sip honey where you may. At least we may be sure that Horace was a master of certain subjects before he went to Greece, in fact, if not by proclamation.

Then in the fateful year of 44 B.C. came the Ides of March and another blow that was heard around the world. Into the academic calm of the distant campus burst the news that great Caesar was dead and like many another twenty-two year old college boy of our own times, Horace joined the army of the half mystical Brutus and Cassius of the lean and hungry look and took up arms to make the world safe for everybody except those who lived in it.

Horace was surely not a very happy warrior. He had all the imagination of one group of our forces in France who fancied that every shell was marked with their name and address plus a realization of the futility of it all. So when the disastrous rout at Phillipi ended the war he was probably glad and semi-humorously tells us that Mercury in a cloud of dust safely got him out of that scrape.

In 41 B.C. under the terms of the general amnesty, Horace returned to Italy now only twenty-four but prematurely old, impaired in health, embittered in spirit, father dead, his property confiscated, and no job. This was the testing time of Horace's life. Can we in the light of our own experience suppose that he was tempted to say to himself, "What is the use? The depression got me?" Did he allow the war to fill his soul with bitterness and wreck his life? His example of taking a lowly clerical position is a good one for the impatient college man who wants to start at the top.

But most illuminating of all, he did not let the job which he despised get him down. Instead of despairing because of drudgery and poverty he used what time and talents he had in writing verse which soon attracted attention. In 33 B.c. Maecenas, his great friend and patron, gave to Horace the Sabine farm, a small estate in a rich and romantic valley among the Sabine hills. The end of the story is the dream of every true collegian: financial independence, the leisure to read and write, faithful and stimulating friends and a measure of immortality through the medium of work.

The fact in Horace's life most significant for today is that he was a child of the frontier. He was born on a farm near Venusia, a small town in Apulia, southeast of Rome. This district was one of the last of the disappearing frontiers in Italy and in Horace's time there was stationed in Venusia a Roman garrison to keep peace on the border. His father, like pioneering Dads of today, pinned all his faith on this thing called education of which he himself had so little.

He put the little Horace through the elementary schools of this rural community and then sold the farm and moved to the city to put the boy in college. He even humbled himself to the point of acting as his son's paedagogus, a kind of slave attendant, in order that his boy might be on an equality with the sons of the rich. The father sacrificed his own position of respect back home, his friends, his dignity and ease in order that his life might flower more completely in the life of his son. The story is not unusual in our day and will never be old, unless you except the gratitude and thanks showered upon the father while alive and the immortality bestowed upon him after death by the son.

What did Horace get out of his education that sustained him throughout life? Nothing except that which he put into it: the temperance, the devotion and sacrifice, the prudence and shrewd worldly wisdom which he gained from the frontier and his father. Our college boys too are coming from the vanishing frontiers. Unless like Horace they can put into their education the sturdy qualities of their pioneer Dads it will in the end turn out all ashes to them.

Horace to the college man of today represents the value of dynamic education. He brought the qualities of his genius up against the great minds of the past and the stirring events of the present and they exploded him into spiritual action. Young men are coming to college today with these same qualities of genius but they are held in solution so to speak. They do not precipitate.

Their mechanistic education brings them up against only hours, credits, groups, and other hurdles to say nothing of a few dry lectures. Because of these trees they never get a glimpse of the woods. Horace counsels college men who are fed up on the exhaltation of the commonplace and the glorification of mediocrity to bring their minds and lives into contact with some dynamic power and I know no better suggestion to make than Horace himself

NE of the gamest exhibitions ever seen in World Series competition was given by Thomas D. (Tommy) Bridges, Tenn. K '30, in the ninth inning of the sixth and last game of the 1935 baseball classic. Through his courageous last inning stand Bridges, 155-pound Detroit Tiger pitcher, won the acclaim of numerous baseball experts as one of the outstanding World Series heroes of all time.

After winning the second gamethe very important game which put the Tigers in the Series after they'd dropped the first game to the Cubs— Bridges captured the sixth game and the championship for Detroit. He outpitched Larry French, 4-3, in a battle filled with drama, intensity, and thrills. Both hurlers were sailing along on even terms until Billy Herman's fifth inning home run gave Chicago a 3-2 lead. The Tigers tied it up again in the sixth when Bill Rogell doubled and scored on Marvin Owen's single to left. For the next three innings both clubs battled furiously. In each inning the Cubs threatened, but Bridges, always master of the situation, turned them back with his sharp breaking curve and excellent control.

Then came the ninth with the score still 3-3. Stan Hack, Cub thirdbaseman, led off with a triple to deep center field. Now Bridges had to pitch as he never pitched before. Straining every muscle, he bore down. He struck out Jurges on three pitched balls. After putting over two strikes on French, he made the Cub pitcher roll weakly to the pitchers' box. Then with two strikes and a ball on Galan, Bridges forced him to fly to Goslin in left. In the last half of the ninth after Clifton fanned, Mickey Cochrane singled and advanced to second on Gehringer's grounder to first. Goose Goslin singled to right, scoring Cochrane with the winning run and giving Detroit its first world championship since 1888.

But what happened in the last half of the ninth was only an anti-climax. The blow that really beat the Cubs was delivered in the first half of the ninth by Tommy Bridges when he retired three Cubs on 10 pitched balls with what would have been the winning run on third base. Had Hack scored from third it is likely that Detroit would not have scored in their half of the ninth. Bridges smothered the Cubs' hopes and gave new impetus to the Tigers with his brilliant mound work. He rightly deserves the title of World Series hero.

SALUTE

By RUSSELL McLAUCHLIN in the Detroit News

My comrades, when the final sun slips slowly past the ridges
And life's concluding afterglow fades rosy in the west,
You'll see, unless I much mistake, a shadow-shape named Bridges
Among the phantom-figures that precede you to your rest.

There was, you see, a touch of doom and triumph and damnation, When fate's occasion, metal-shod, went marching grandly by, A little fellow gave the moment proper salutation.

I rather think his Maker liked the look in Tommy's eye.

A game is doubtless petty, in humanity's long story,
And baseball is a tiny wave on history's great shore.
But if our Tommy's gains were small, as ages measure glory,
Leonidas of Sparta—never doubt it—gave no more!

The 1935 World Series wasn't the first in which Bridges has played a major part. He outpitched Dizzy Dean in the fifth game of the 1934 Series, after Paul Dean had defeated him only three days before. Although only 30 years old, Bridges has pitched eight years in organized ball and six years for the Tigers. Tommy attended University of Tennessee, where he was initiated into Σ A E, in preparation for a medical career. Both his grandfather and his father had been doctors and they wanted Tommy to follow their profession. But while pitching for Tennessee, Bridges was scouted by Larry Doyle of the Tigers who convinced him that the rewards of professional baseball were more alluring than those of the overcrowded medical profession.

He signed with the Tigers, who farmed him to Wheeling in the Mid-Atlantic for the 1929 season. Next season Bridges pitched for Evansville of the I.I.I. League. His record with Wheeling and Evansville earned him a chance with the Tigers. He reported to Detroit late in 1930 and has been there ever since. At first Bridges had trouble controlling his curve ball, which is recognized as the best in baseball. But after a few years' experience he came into his own. In 1932 and 1933 he won 14 games and lost 12, both times while pitching for a second division team. Then in 1934 when the Tigers won the pennant Tommy captured 22 games while losing 11. Last season he won 21 and lost only 10. For the past two seasons he has been selected to compete in the annual mid season game between the American and National League all-stars.

Three times since he has been hurling for the Tigers Bridges has pitched a one-hit game. On August 5, 1932 he had a no-hit game—the goal of all pitchers—within his grasp. For eight and two-thirds innings Bridges had retired the Washington Senators in order without a man reaching first base. With two out in the ninth Dave Harris, Washington pinchhitter, singled and ruined Tommy's no-hit game. The next batter was retired.

game. The next batter was retired.

blessed with a daughter, Evelyn

Good Golfer Despite Blindness Handicap

By Charles H. Barker, Archon, Province Mu

(The following was rewritten from an article by the late William C. Robertson which appeared in the November, 1935, issue of The Elks Magazine and has been summarized for readers of The RECORD through the courtesy of the editor of the official organ of the B.P.O.E.)

R IGHT now the newspapers ring with the details of Bobby Jones' three practice rounds of fourteen under par golf for fifty-four holes. It seems fitting, therefore, now that Jones has brought golf to our attention for this season, to do honor to another Σ A E golfer who merits great praise, for his scores in the low eighties are made in spite of his complete blindness.

Clinton Francis Russell, N.Y. A '20, consistently plays his home club in Duluth, Minn., with such scores. Not only does his golf game put to shame the feeble efforts of most of us, but he makes high scores in bowling, is a consistently good fisherman, and enjoys dancing. Because Mr. Russell does not like publicity, the news of his remarkable ability did not reach the world until Mr. William C. Robertson, former Grand Treasurer of the Order of Elks, arranged a golf game with him, and secured his permission to write a story of it for the Elks Magazine. We are indebted to the latter for our information, and we recommend to any Σ A E who wants to read in detail of the game, that he consult the November, 1935,

Mr. Russell, educated in Duluth's public schools, entered Syracuse University in 1916 for further training. He there joined New York Delta. In 1917 he enlisted in the army, and after the war returned to Syracuse, leaving in 1920 to marry and enter the business world. He is now treasurer of the dairy products firm of Bridgeman-Russell.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Russell took up golf in 1921 and played much, both in Duluth and California where they spend most of each winter. It was, however, a pastime, not an occupation. When an automobile explosion brought about the loss of eyesight to Mr. Russell, one thing that seemed a most terrible shock was the fear that he would be unable to continue his active participation in sports. Fishing soon opened up to him a return to such activity followed by golf a little later at his wife's insistent urging. Scores of 120 to 130, however, drove him to constant practice under the guidance of the club professional, and in 1930 he scored 98 on his home course. A year later he had reversed those numbers, and shortly thereafter scored 82, the best score he had ever made, even when he was not handicapped by lack of normal eyesight.

When Mr. Russell and Mr. Robertson played their game, the former scored 84. We have the latter's word that no concessions were made to Mr. Russell. The caddy placed the ball on the tee, soled the driver directly behind the ball, and stepped aside. For shots on the fairway, the caddy soled the club again, and stated the approximate distance to the hole. Again the same action by the caddy took place when the green was reached. Mr. Russell has perfected his swing so that he secures good distance and great accuracy with only that much help, and his touch and memory of the terrain, enable him to putt with remarkable accuracy. Moreover, he can tell whether the drive of another player is straight, or a hook or slice, by the sound of the impact of ball and club.

We learn of one hole, the 13th, played by Mr. Russell on this round in par. It is a 480 yard dog-leg, with a hilly grove of small trees and bushes to the left that completely smothers any shot that does not carry over to the fairway. Instead of electing the easy course-straight ahead. and sacrificing distance to safety-Russell chose to drive over the trees, which he did, his ball settling on the fairway 230 yards from the tee. His second shot left him short of a creek across the fairway, and a pitch shot was short of the green. The second pitch, however, was dead to the pin, and he holed out easily for a par 5.

All honor to this valiant member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. May we all do as well in life and sport.

Fraternity
Criteria
ON THE Frontispiece of this issue of THE RECORD appears a reprint of the Fraternity Criteria adopted by the National Interfraternity Conference and approved by the nity Conference and approved by the Supreme Council of Sigma Alpha Epsilon as being fully in harmony with the purposes and policies of Σ A E.

These criteria were formulated at a joint meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Interfraternity Conference and its Educational Advisory Committee of which Dean Fred H. Turner, Ill. B '22, former Archon of Province Mu and now Scholarship Commissioner of Σ A E, was a member.

The standards set up in the criteria are such that no one can find ground on which to take issue with them and the leaders of every Chapter Collegiate should see that they are loyally and cheerfully observed. Alumni can also do their part in helping to create a spirit of service which will make for the observance of these standards in every Σ A E chapter home.

In order that these criteria should be where they will be constantly before the eyes of all pledges and initiates of each Chapter Collegiate, they should be framed and hung in a prominent position in every Σ A E house.

THE GRIM hand of Death Lays deathhasbeen grievously laid on Heavy Hand Sigma Alpha Epsilon during the early months of 1936. News of the death of Rev. George Hendree Harrison, D.D., Ga. Φ '95, Past Eminent Supreme Treasurer and Past Eminent Supreme Archon, had hardly been circulated among the brotherhood when news came of the passing of his co-worker, Champe Seabury Andrews, Ala. A-M '94, Past Eminent Supreme Treasurer, former Editor of THE RECORD, founder and first president of the Board of Trustees of Σ A E, on February 25. Just three days earlier, the veteran Captain Walker Marion Bennett, Tenn. H'61, for many years the oldest member of the Fraternity, died at the ripe age of 97 years. Another colorful figure passed to his final reward when General J. Colton Lynes, N.C. P-P '76, Inspector General of the United Confederate Veterans, died on February 26. Edward Harmon Cabaniss, Ga. ¥ '75, father of five ∑ A Es and grandfather of two, died on March 10. Clifford Lanier, Tenn. Ω '90, who was both a Σ A E son and father, died on March 7 and Frank Wallace Flenniken, Tenn. K '00, for many years alumnus adviser of Tennessee Kappa at the University of Tennessee, died on March 4.

The passing of these elder statesmen who did so much for the development of Σ A E in the critical years of the Fraternity's life leaves gaps which will be hard to fill but, at the same time, should prove a challenge to the younger generation to develop a new leadership which will know the joys of unselfish service and be ready to take on new responsibilities when occasion demands.

WITH the opening of the fall term of the 1936-37 college year, Traveling Secretary the Supreme Council will be able to give the chapters collegiate of Sigma Alpha Epsilon more intensive supervision than has been possible during recent years. Albert J. Schoth, Ore. A '18, known affectionately as "Al" Schoth in his native diggings and throughout Province Zeta, especially in Kansas, has accepted the position of traveling secretary and will spend practically his entire time visiting the chapters and the alumni bodies. The members of the Supreme Council feel that Mr. Schoth is peculiarly fitted to assist the Eminent Supreme Recorder in the work of visitation and that the Fraternity is most fortunate in being able to secure his services in this capacity.

PLEDGE TRAINING will be Second the theme of the Second School Leadership School of Sig-ma Alpha Epsilon, to be held at Evanston, beginning Sunday, August 30, and running through Friday, September 4. The first school proved so successful that the representatives of the Chapters Collegiate in attendance unanimously requested that a second be held and that all chapters be invited to send representatives. To meet this request, the Supreme Council made an appeal to the alumni for additional financial support through the payment of annual Chapter National dues and the response has encouraged the Supreme Council to go ahead with plans for the school in the belief that sufficient funds will be provided to pay the room and board for one representa-tive from each Chapter Collegiate while at Evanston. Rushing was the theme of the 1935 school and the results of the fall rushing campaign showed that the chapter leaders had learned how to get the men they wanted. It is believed that equal progress can be made in the development of an improved technique for the even more important responsibility of training the pledges so that they can be developed into the leaders of the future.

Life Membership Contest

George N. Short, Eminent Supreme Herald, believes that undeveloped talent for salesmanship can be uncovered in every Chapter Collegiate of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and, to prove his theory, has inaugurated a contest for the sale of Life Memberships in the Chapter National to alumni which is unique in its plan and purpose. The chapter winning the contest will be given a handsome statue of Minerva to adorn its temple.

Convention Postponed ACTING in accordance with the provisions of Section 20 of the National Laws for the submission of questions to a direct vote of the Fraternity, the Supreme Council gave the electorate an opportunity to express its will on the proposition to change the date of the next National Convention from December, 1936 to August 26-27-28, 1937, and the vote was almost unanimously for the affirmative. In consequence, the Eighty-First Anniversary National Convention will be held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, Ill., in the summer of 1937, following a three-day Leadership School, to be held at Evanston.

Alumni Epsilon are continuing to show their interest by the formation of regularly chartered alumni associations which are integrated bodies of the Fraternity with the right of representation in Province and National Conventions. Applications for charters for alumni associations have recently been granted to groups of alumni in the following cities:

Honolulu, Hawaii; Hollywood, Calif.; Fargo, N.D.; Tallahassee, Fla.; Providence, R.I.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Canton, N.Y.; and Gulfport (Mississippi Gulf Coast), Miss.

there is no vision the chapters perish." This paraphrase contained in a recent appeal to support one of the fraternity's projects by paying dues to the Chapter National conveys more than a modicum of truth to anyone acquainted with the Greek letter system generally. In visiting many chapters of many fraternities the most consistent observation is that weakness is the result not of finances, nor of houses, nor of politics. nor of school conditions, but of a lack of proper perspective.

- The most tragic failure in life is not to live up to one's capabilities. By this standard nearly all men and all organizations are failures. And so the measure of success is not absolute but depends upon the degree of utilization of powers and opportunities. Many chapters in a fine way strive to meet the possibilities inherent in Greek letter fraternities; most chapters attain their apparent and immediate objectives and in a less degree reach for the hidden treasures of an association founded on friendship; and some chapters neither reach nor grasp and in the words of Browning, "What's the use of any Heaven for them?"
- Every chapter in chronic trouble will place the blame on some symptom rather than upon the real disease. The most persistent cry that comes out of Macedonia is, "Give us a new house. We cannot compete with our rivals until we live as elegantly as they." Now I believe in comfortable homes and covet for every fraternity man the opportunity to live his most pleasurable years in attractive, even sumptuous surroundings, provided he can take them. But some of the poorest chapters I have ever seen were housed in palaces and some of the best in ramshackle fire traps. There were mighty good fraternities long before the time of mortgage row. The first lesson to be learned is that fraternalism is not a matter of brick and plumbing and of love seats and radios but of flesh and blood and of spirit and personality.
- Another well worn complaint is some financial muddle which is always the result and not the cause of a chapter lacking vision. One reason for the existence of a fraternity is to bring into every man's life during his plastic years some object of his affections greater than self. The histories of all Greek letter fraternities record deeds of self sacrifice indicative of organizations which did at one time merit more devotion than some chapters whose members now say by their acts "dollars for pleasure but due bills for room and board."

- Often a brother will say, "This school frowns on fraternities. We can not do well here." Does he forget the loyalty engendered in those sub rosa chapters of the early day in certain schools where fraternities were prohibited? Once again the disapproval is the result and not the cause of the chapter's lack of vitality.
- Other symptoms are numerous and well known and need not be discussed here. The real disease, to put it colloquially, is that the weak sisters just don't know what it is all about. They not only don't know where they are going but they are not even on their way.
- The most pathetic thing is to find a chapter that really does know that it is down and is trying to get up by pulling on its boot straps. One earnest brother said to me some years ago, "If we only had a few good rushers we could get this chapter out of the hole." I wanted to tell him but didn't that it would take super-salesmen to give away what his group had to offer. Last year I was visiting with a group who were in difficulties and the constant plea was, "Get the alumni to send us some men!" This very crowd right then had twice as many men as the average chapter a few years ago. Not numbers, but fraternity zeal is the crying need and that can be had in numbers great or small.
- To pull itself up the weak chapter must take ahold not of its own boot straps but of something higher and stronger than itself. Let it organize itself into a harmonious group. Let it strive to inculcate in its members those qualities which make for the perpetuation of lasting friendship. Let it infect those members with lovalty and enthusiasm. That chapter will never lack men who will be eager to identify themselves with an organization so virile and dynamic.
- It is more important to know what to do with the man after you get him than to get him. Of course getting the right man is important but wise rushing is the result rather than the cause of a good chapter. The strong chapter is made and kept that way by intelligent pledge training. At the second leadership school which will be held in Evanston August 30-September 4 the theme study will be pledge training. All of the now traditional features of the first school will be maintained, the class work being held in the Panhellenic room of the Temple and the inspirational addresses in the beautiful chapel preceded by a short program of pipe organ music. Whereas the theme study of the first school was rushing, the principal conferences this summer will be based upon a questionnaire on pledge training which is now being answered by the active chapters.

- The third school, since it will be held prior to the National Convention in the summer of 1937, will be concerned largely with chapter advisers. Many fine representatives of this group—really the backbone of the fraternity—were present last summer; more are expected this summer: and by the summer of 1937 there will be a great ingathering from all over the country of these loval brothers who are actually on the firing line investing their time, skill and devotion in the youth of our fraternity. They will be honored in every possible way at the National Convention, not only because of the slight recognition for the unsung heroes of our fraternity this means affords, but also in the hope that their example will inspire many other loval alumni to join their ranks. Without their vision the fraternity itself would perish.
- What you are to be, you are now becoming—A man doesn't get to be a leader all at once. Nor does putting on a pin make him a good fraternity man. You can't say to a man. "I am your brother," and let that be all there is to it. Nor can a chapter escape being shiftless, ineffective and friendless by saying, "Tomorrow we will clean the attic, memorize the ritual, entertain the ∑ A E sisters." The price of leadership, brotherhood and fraternity is desire plus eternal vigilance in working at it.
- I'd like to endorse the plan of Stanford University whereby every fraternity has on file with the dean of men the amount of board and a complete financial statement. It is the business of every rushee to go there and get that information. We have committed a good many crimes against unsuspecting freshmen by letting them get into a financial mix-up of which they knew absolutely nothing when they signed on the dotted line.

On the Library's Shelves

By William Converse Haygood, Ga. Epsilon '31

NUMBER of publications from the pens of \(\Sigma \) A E authors have been received by the Levere Memorial Library since this department last appeared in print. From the scope of the subject matter it can readily be seen that \(\Sigma \) A E is not only making substantial contributions to the scholarship, inspiration and entertainment of the land, but that there is developing at the Levere Temple a fraternal book-collection of considerable strength and significance.

One of the most notable of the recent acquisitions is not the work of a member of the fraternity, but because of its theme and format is nevertheless of peculiar interest. The reference is made to Wirt Armistead Cate's Lucius O. C. Lamar; Statesman of Secession and Reunion (Chapel Hill, University of North Carolina Press, 1935. $8). A masterful delineation of the life and times of the founder of Mississippi Gamma, this handsomely executed volume is illustrated with reproductions of the Peace window, inspired by Lamar's oration on Sumner, and the Lamar Memorial window, both in the Levere Memorial Temple, and by the portrait painted by Johannes Waller, Ill. Ψ -Ω '35, which is likewise in the Temple.

From the lotus-land of La Jolla, the perennial and ever satisfactory Max Miller, Wash. A '23, has contributed two more books during 1935. The Great Trek: the Story of the Five-year Drive of a Reindeer Herd Through Icy Wastes of Alaska and Northwest Canada (Doubleday, Doran, 1935. $2.50) is as strange and absorbing tale of contemporary adventure as one could wish. Written with that clarity and unobtrusive craftsmanship which combine to make Max Miller's prose a delight to read, the story tells how the Lomen brothers, greatest reindeer owners in the world, fulfilled a contract with the King of England to deliver a herd of three thousand of the animals from Alaska to the Mackenzie Delta in Canada to be used as food for the Eskimos. Acting on instructions from Burton Rascoe of Doubleday, Doran, Mr. Miller made the trip to the Mackenzie Delta where he obtained exclusive use of all the records, pictures and other information taken on the drive. In the second book, The Man on the Barge (Doubleday, Doran, 1935. $2.50), Miller, through the medium of John (the man on the barge), speaks his mind concerning the various types of humanity who come to enjoy the hospitality of the barge for a moment. A college student, a newspaper reporter, a prostitute and others furnish the basis for this essay-novel evaluation of men and manners.

Wasehington Alpha seems to be Σ A E's major literary well-spring, for in addition to Max Miller, two other members of the same chapter have recently purchased immortality through print. Vic Hurley, Wash. A '23, classmate of Miller and onetime star sprinter for the University of Washington, is the author of the recently published Southeast of Zamboanaga, the fruit of his experience as a cocoanut planter in the Eastern Tropics. The Bureau of Fisheries of the Department of Commerce has recently issued as Fishery Circular Number 21, The Story of Oysters, by R. H. Fielder, Wash. A '21. In pamphlet form and available from the Superintendent of Documents for five cents, it is a popularly written and highly interesting account of the country's most widely distributed seafood. Working within the spatial limitations of a bureau circular, the author has presented a remarkably complete picture that takes up the biology and culture of the oyster as well as the industry that has grown up to care for it. Gourmets will want the tantalizing recipes furnished in the back.

Although published two years ago, Dr. George Lyman's Saga of the Comstock Lode; Boom Days in Virginia City (Scribner, 1934. $3.50) is a book that retains current interest. Dr. Lyman, Calif. A '05, is a San Francisco physician, born in Virginia City, and has, as expressed by the Christian Century, "every qualification for writing the story of Virginia City as it should be written." The work rests on a solid foundation of research, and is written with sprightliness and that elusive feel for historical material, without which such a volume becomes either antiquarianism or dry-as-dust chronicling. It is undoubtedly a book that everyone interested in Americana will want for his collection.

Vernon E. Vining, Ohio △'11-Ohio
©'14, has made a contribution to the gaiety and sanity of salesmanship with his book, Sam's Selling Slants (Greenberg, 1935. $1). The title page describes the work as "a series of letters—inspirational and sometimes amusing—but always honest and helpful." The description is adequate but modest, for the volume is consistently amusing—a breezy, slangy mixture of hilarity, practical psychology, and horse sense, well worth the attention of all who have something to sell, and that probably includes most of us.

The inclusion of a diary setting forth a Tennessee soldier's diurnal account of campaign life under Stonewall Jackson, imparts to the Phillips Family History by Harry Phillips, Tenn. A '32 (Lebanon, Tenn. Democrat Press, 1935. $2.50) a wider appeal than is usually inherent in genealogical works. Made public here for the first time, the diary is a remarkable narration of the rigors of Southern life during the war years. The author, a member of the eighth generation of the family in this country, is one of the youngest members of the Tennessee General Assembly, is a practicing attorney and also secretary of Watertown, Tenn.

The stormy and eventful history of South Carolina, from the threatened slave uprising of 1822 to the present day is told from a new angle in The Story of the Citadel, the history of the State Military College written by Col. O. J. Bond, S.C. A '86, and published posthumously by Garret and Massie of Richmond. Col. Bond died in 1933, after half a century's association with the institution whose past he recreates. Successively cadet, instructor, assistant professor, professor, superintendent, president and dean, he lived fifty years with the American cadet, and his book is a notable contribution to this phase of the national academic pattern.

Rev. Harris E. Kirk, Tenn. Z '96, has recently published his seventh book entitled A Man of Property; or the Jacob Saga (Harper, 1935) in which the figure of Jacob is humanized without recourse to the frequently fatal scalpel-technique of the modern biographer. Rev. Kirk, who has been pastor of the Franklin Street

Presbyterian Church of Baltimore since 1901, dedicates his book to the congregation of the Westminster Church of London, of which he has been the summer pastor for the past twelve years.

Costa Rica from the economic, political and sociological point of view is the subject of Costa Rica and Civilization in the Caribbean, by Chester Lloyd Jones, Wis. A '02 (University of Wisconsin Studies in the Social Sciences and History, Number 23. Madison, U. of Wis., 1935). The author is professor of Economics and Political Science at the University of Wisconsin and his volume is a careful and authentic consideration of the Central American country in the light of such topics as Costa Rica's progress towards popular government, the effects of imperialism, the economic potentialities of the country, and the like.

Franklin Collins, Pa. Ω '90, of Ryegate, Vermont, sends a volume of verse, Songs from the Hills (Driftwood Press, Montpelier, Vt., 1934). The poems cover a wide range of moods and emotions, but Mr. Collins is most satisfying in the verses that bespeak his sensitivity to the seasonal pulse of New England countryside.

In a pamphlet, "The American Jury System," Judge Walter B. Jones, Past E.S.A., Judge of the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama and President of the Board of Jury Supervisors of Montgomery County, sketches the historical development of the jury system, the system as it exists in its present imperfect form, and the jury of the future, in which common sense and collective intelligence will be more integral factors than they are today, both in the selection and training of jurors.

Among S A E authors who write for the younger readers are Hubert V. Coryell, Mass. I 'll and John F. Cowan, Mich. A '82. "Indian Brother" by Mr. Coryell (Harcourt, Brace, 1935. $2.50) is a vivid and believable tale of Indian raids and capture along the Kennebec, and though it speaks to an adolescent audience, oldsters who once thrilled to the story of Deerfield, will find the recital still lively and engrossing. Dr. Cowan, the Brother of Harry Cowan, Mich. A '90, a former editor of THE RECORD, has to his credit an extensive bibliography of books for and about young people. Three new volumes have appeared recently: Colorado River Boy Boatmen (1932); Boy Campaigners of '61 (1933); and Capturing a King's Calabash (1934). All are stirring tales of adventure and the active life, accurately and zestfully presented.

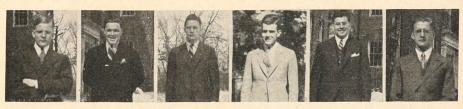

Henry T. Mills, N.C. @ '06, has presented the Library with a copy of

The Life Work of James Clement Furman, by Harvey Toliver Cook, S.C. Φ '82 (Greenville, S.C., 1926). The subject of the biography, James Clement Furman, S.C. Φ '68, was the founder of South Carolina Phi, the first Σ A E in South Carolina, and the first president of Furman University. He was placed at the head of the Furman Institution in 1845, saw the school through the difficult and bankrupt days of the post-war South, and lived to see it placed on a sure foundation.

Another valuable addition is a copy of The Site of Old "James Towne" 1607-1698, by Samuel H. Yonge, Va. \(\Sigma\) '68, presented to the Library by Alexander B. Andrews, N.C. \(\Sigma\) '93. Published in Richmond in 1907, this book has been long out of print, and because of the original researches of Mr. Yonge, and the numerous plans and drawings reproduced in the text, the volume is welcome indeed.

Additional gifts are reprints of investigations conducted by St. Clair

Dr. Gardner Chosen New Jersey Coadjutor

By Rev. Stephen Gardner, N. Y. Sigma-Phi '09

N MARCH 10 last at a special convention of the Diocese of New Jersey the Rev. Wallace John Gardner, N.Y. 5-4 '06, vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession. New York City, was elected Bishop Coadjutor of the diocese. Dr. Gardner was born in Buffalo, N.Y., on July 25, 1883, the son of Frederick A. Gardner and Sarah Jane McConnell Gardner. After graduation from the high school in Catskill, N.Y., he went to St. Stephen's (now Bard) College at Annandale-on-Hudson, N.Y. He was initiated into Σ A E in 1903 and served a term as eminent archon of New York Sigma-Phi. He has maintained his interest in the chapter and the fraternity at large, visiting the chapter as often as duties permit.

He received the degree of bachelor of art at St. Stephen's in 1906, his master's degree in 1910, and the doctorate of divinity in 1923. After his graduation from St. Stephen's he taught in St. Paul's School, Concord, N.H., for two years, going to the General Theological Seminary in 1909. On graduation from the Seminary in 1911 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Doane of Albany and advanced to the priesthood in 1912 by Bishop Burgess of Long Island. His diaconate and first year of his priesthood were spent as assistant at St. Paul's Church, Flatbush, Brooklyn. He was successively chaplain of St. Giles the Cripple, Garden City, L.I.; chaplain of Cathedral Schools of St. Mary and St. Paul, Garden City, L.I.; and rector of St. Paul's Church, Flatbush, Brooklyn, where he spent the first part of his ministry.

In June, 1933, he became vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession, succeeding the Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, who at that time became rector of Trinity Parish, New York. As vicar of this chapel, Dr. Gardner has carried on the fine traditions of the chapel and has already established new traditions by his own work. Although serving in the Diocese of New York less than three years he has become prominent in several of the most important enterprises of the diocese. He is a member of the diocesan board of religious education. and is associated with other committees. He is also a trustee of the General Theological Seminary.

Wins Praise for Rescue Work

Rear Admiral Harry G. Hamlet, Mass. I-T '95, has recently become the recipient of considerable praise from the Commander-in-Chief of the Military Order of the World War for his effective work with members of the U. S. Coast Guard in bringing succor to thousands whose lives were endangered by the recent unprecedented storms and blizzards. The prompt and effective services of the Coast Guard in time of natural disaster is made the basis for a plea for increased appropriations for national defense to guard against possible dangers of disaster resulting from armed aggression.

Philadelphia Alumni Association Revived

POR the past several years there has been no active alumni association in Philadelphia, although some Σ A Es, notably those from Pennsylvania Alpha-Zeta, have coöperated with the Pennsylvania Theta alumni and the active chapter of the University of Pennsylvania in making the annual Founders Day banquet a success. Recently, however, at the suggestion of Dr. Burton A. Hoffman, Alumni Secretary of Province Beta, J. Fred Vollmar and several others in conjunction with the active chapter again decided to make an attempt to stimulate interest.

Consequently an organization luncheon was held, on March 23, at the Princeton Club, 1223 Locust St., Philadelphia, with the resulting attendance being the largest within the last five years. Officers were elected as follows: President, J. Fred Vollmar; Vice-President, Michael J. Stoney; Secretary, Clinton S. Bradley, and Treasurer, F. Gilkeson, after which election it was agreed to hold future meetings at the Princeton Club, on the first Monday of every month. Also, it was suggested furthermore that a smoker or some other entertainment be scheduled for one evening each month, to be held at the Pennsylvania Theta chapter house or at one of the country clubs.

J. H. M. Andrews, vice-president of P.R.T., gave a very interesting talk on "Alumni Spirit," while Charles S. Krumrine, president of the Liberty Title and Trust Company, made a number of pertinent comments about alumni organization possibilities, and Charles M. Sullivan, manager of the Otis Elevator Company for all of the Middle Atlantic states, gave a graphic description of the Cleveland, Ohio, Alumni Association, and told of the many interesting parties that have been organized by that district—such as golf tournaments, card parties, and dances and joint meetings sponsored by the Cleveland Minerva Club.

The following are part of the group of over 30 alumni who attended the organization luncheon on March 23: John F. Vollmar, '23; Harry T. Saylor, '26; James J. McGinnis, '28; John J. Hess, '16; George H. Roberts, '24; Charles T. Hill, '27; Frank L. Shants, '17; Robert R. Urick, Jr., '34; John S. Steele, '21; Frank A. Reeves, '25; Albert H. Swing, '27, and Dee C. Al Schoth Named as Traveling Secretary

Albert J. Schoth, Ore. A '18, Recorder-Treasurer of Province Zeta, Named as Traveling Secretary for Σ A E.

A '18, recorder-treasurer of Province Zeta and alumnus adviser of Kansas Beta at Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kan., has accepted the place of traveling secretary, to assist the Eminent Supreme Recorder in visiting the chapters collegiate and alumni associations, offered him early in the present year by the Supreme Council, and will take up the duties of his new position with the opening of the 1936-37 college year.

Graduated from Oregon State College in 1918 with the bachelor of science degree, Mr. Schoth has been a member of the faculty of Kansas State College, doing agricultural extension work, for fifteen years. Ever since he went to Manhattan he has been a staunch friend of Kansas Beta and for many years has served as its adviser. He was elected recorder-treasurer of Province Zeta at the convention held in Lincoln, Neb., in December, 1933, and was reelected at the convention held in Lawrence, Kan., in December, 1935. As alumnus adviser of Kansas Beta, he has acquired intimate knowledge of the problems of chapter management and will be able to bring sound advice, based on actual observation and experience, to the chapters he visits. He was a member of the "faculty" at the First School of Instruction of Σ A E in Evanston in August, 1935.

On May 1, 1918, he enlisted as a private in the U.S. Army and was assigned to the Presidio at San Francisco, Calif., where he was enrolled in the officers training camp and commissioned as second lieutenant of infantry and detailed to Camp Pike, Ark., as instructor in the officers training camp. After leaving the army, he taught and coached athletics in Oregon high schools for three years before going to Kansas State. He has had many interests and is widely-traveled, having visited ten countries on a 9,000-mile tour of Europe during the summer of 1935.

Gen. Ford Transferred to Fort Hamilton

AJ. GEN. STANLEY FORD, Ohio © '98, formerly in command of the first brigade of the army at New York City, was transferred March 24, to the command of the First Division, with head-quarters at Fort Hamilton, N.Y., succeeding Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, who was assigned to command the Eighth Corps Area at Fort Sam Houston.

A native of Columbus, Ohio, Maj. Gen. Ford received his bachelor of philosophy degree from Ohio State University in 1898. Having taken advanced military training at the university, he went immediately into the army as an infantry officer and rose through the ranks from second lieutenant to his present high position. He has seen service in the Philippines, Cuba, China, France, Belgium, Germany, and the Baltic States. His most recent command has been the first infantry brigade at New York City.

Major General Ford has numerous honors and citations, including the Distinguished Service Medal, Officer of Legion of Honor of France, Belgian Croix de Guerre with Palm, New York State distinguished service cross, Philippine service medal; Cuban pacification service medal, Spanish-American War service medal.

Among the varied assignments he has had are as regimental adjutant with the Fifth U. S. Infantry, construction quartermaster at Jefferson barracks and adjutant of the China expedition at Tientsin, 1914. On Dec. 16, 1917, he sailed for France, later serving as chief of staff of the 27th division throughout all its operations. After the war he was military attache at the American embassy in Paris for two years. Other assignments have included those of assistant chief of staff for military intelligence, and as chief of brigade headquarters at Vancouver barracks in the state of Washington.

Following his graduation from the Pasadena school in June, he plans further study in directorial work in England.

Youth an Impediment

 The soft impeachment of youth proved at least a temporary impediment to political preferment in the case of James W. Collier, Ky. E '32, who, after serving four-teen minutes as a member of the State Highway Commission of Kentucky, found that he was disqualified since the law required an age of thirty years for members while he could boast of only twenty-seven. The appointment was made on February 1, 1936. Mr. Collier is connected with the auditing department of the Highway Commission with offices at Frankfort but lives at Paris, Ky.

"Bobby" Quits Writing

Robert T. "Bobby" Jones, Ga. $\Phi$ '22, all-time international golf champion, has severed one more of the bonds which connected him with the field of sport, having discontinued the series of golf articles which he wrote for a newspaper syndicate. After writing two articles a week for seven years on golf and the theories of playing the game, Jones was quoted as saying that he had used up about all he had in his system. Though chiefly known to fame through his preëminence on the links, Jones takes his career as a lawyer very seriously and, one by one, is getting away from things which interfere with attention to his law practice.

Winter Carnival at Dartmouth

By Ted Rideout, New Hampshire Alpha '37

Members of New Hampshire Alpha, Dartmouth College, and Guests Assembled for the Winter Carnival.

Sculpturing, and entertaining 56 potential Carnival Queens at the chapter house, combined to make New Hampshire Alpha's enjoyment of Dartmouth's famed Winter Carnival hit a new high this year. The artistic laurels were won for Σ A E by Bob Bright, who has won honorable mention in the same contest for the past two years. The Sculpture represented a dog-team pulling a sledge in which rides the Carnival Queen. As it turned out, the Queen was Miss Ann Hopkins, daughter of President

Hopkins, and it was she who presented the loving cup to Bob. Credit for the high success of the chapter party is due William (Bill) Clay. And the excellent music of Jan Campbell and his orchestra seemed even smoother when enlivened by the presence of Miss Polly Blogett, junior figure skating champion, and three charming members of the Queen's court. Roger Watson added a novelty in the way of an unusually good Signet, and once again New Hampshire Alpha sank back into the grip of the Great God Winter.

Statue Offered as Prize in Life Membership Contest

By George N. Short, Eminent Supreme Herald

S OF March 15, 1936, 1088 Life Members have been enrolled in $\sum A E$. In an effort to increase this enrollment, the following scheme has been devised. Having faith in our active members as to their ability as salesmen, I have a proposition to make. Beginning as of December 1, 1935, and ending November 30, 1936, I will give to the chapter selling the greatest number of Life Memberships in the Chapter National (See National Laws, Section 143 (2), a statue of Minerva, by Caproni Brothers of Boston. The statue is a replica of the one used for the model initiation at the Summer Training School in Evanston. It would be a real asset to the initiation paraphernalia of every chapter.

The following regulations will govern the contest, which will be judged on a point basis:

1. A chapter to qualify must sell at least two Life Memberships, paid in full or partial payment.

2. For a membership ($50.00) sold for cash, 7½ points will be credited.

For a Membership sold on a partial payment basis, each $10.00 paid into the Evanston Office during the life of the contest, 1 point will be credited.

4. The chapter making the sale will be credited accordingly, whether the Alumnus is from his own chapter or not. For example: If Alabama Mu sells a Life Membership to an Alumnus of Washington Alpha, Albama Mu receives the credit as far as the contest is concerned.

5. For any Life Membership sold direct through the Evanston Office, credit will go to the chapter in which the Alumnus was initiated.

6. At the close of the contest, the chapter receiving the greatest number of points will be awarded a statue of Minerva.

7. Announcement of award will be made at the next National Convention.

If the winning chapter already has a similar statue, the chapter may choose any article of equal value.

No Stags, No Tags

Technocracy, the League of Nations, the Townsend plan and even the New Deal have dropped into the background as subjects for debate on the campus of Okla-homa A. and M. College at Stillwater, homa A. and M. College at Stillwater, since Oklahoma Mn precipitated discussion of the momentous question, "stags or no stags; to tag or not to tag" at the college dances. It all came about when Oklahoma Mu extended invitations to its sixth annual formal for the evening of February 15, bearing the legend, "No stags—Date only." This announcement carried the implication that the dance program of each guest that the dance program of each guest would be made out by her partner and that each number would be danced through according to the program. Whether this would confer a coveted privilege or impose an onerous obligation and whether the gentlemen or the ladies would be most pleased or displeased by the innovation immediately became the burning questions of the hour at Stillwater and at last accounts the discussions were still growing in prolixity and intensity.

Initiation at Arizona Alpha

RIZONA ALPHA was singularly A honored on March 15, 1936, in having Sigma Alpha Epsilon's Eminent Archon, John O. Moseley, conduct eight of her neophytes through formal initiation. Mr. Moseley, now president of the Central State Teachers College at Edmond, Okla., came to Tucson on an inspection tour of the chapter. He consented to conduct Arizona Alpha's formal initiation, a phase of the E.S.A.'s work which he considers "the best part of the job."

After formal initiation on Sunday morning, March 15, a buffet dinner was held at the chapter house in honor of Mr. Moseley and the eight new initiates. Attending the dinner were all active members of Arizona Alpha, many faculty members of the University of Arizona staff, members of the Tucson Alumni Association, and several members of the Salt

Dickinson's E A E Crest

Pennsylvania Sigma-Phi at Dickinson College is the proud possessor of a Σ A E crest, painted in true colors and in correct heraldry over the mantel of the living room of its chapter house in Carlisle, Pa., by Wilhelm Rohrbeck, a talented artist, formerly of Dresden, Germany, who donated this work to the chapter through friendship for Phil B. Lewis, Pa. X-O '20 alumnus treasurer. The crest is placed on a painted representation of a piece of parchment. It was necessary for the artist to fake two registers, to balance the painting with a real one on the left of the mantel and the faked registers can hardly be distinguished from the real one. Artist Rohrbeck has been holding art classes in the chapter house and wished to show his appreciation of the cordial treatment he received.

Walter Crampton, Mass. Γ '36, Harvard's leading featherweight boxer, won the championship of the 125-pound class in the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Tournament, held at State College, Pa., March 14, 1936. Crampton went through the boxing season at Harvard undefeated, winning five matches by knockouts and three by decisions.

Tops at Columbia

Bill Nash, N.Y. M '36, captain of Columbia University's undefeated basketball team, and Referee's choice for the most valuable player in the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League as well as one of the ten most outstanding players in the country, was high scorer in the East-ern Intercollegiate Basketball League for the 1936 season. Runner-up for the honor last season, this year he amassed a score of 138 points from his position as guard. Nash and his team won over fast company, the other members of the League being Pennsylvania, Dartmouth, Yale, Princeton, Cornell and Harvard. Besides his prowess on the basketball court, Nash is varsity catcher on the baseball team and Columbia's most reliable batter. In a recent poll taken among seniors at the Manhattan University, Nash was chosen as the "best allaround man." Edwin E. Dunaway, likewise a member of New York Mu, was selected as the man who had "done most for Columbia." Top-rankers in the poll were duly photographed and exhibited to the public via New York's most representative newspapers.

Vital Statistics

Expansion-Recently installed, or about to be installed, among fraternities, are the following chapters: Sigma Chi, Hanover College; Kappa Sigma, Mississippi State College; Kappa Alpha (Southern)—Washington College, Chestertown, Md.

Contraction—Among the charter sus-pensions and withdrawals have been: Kappa Sigma, Emory University; Lambda Chi Alpha, Carnegie Tech; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Howard College; Sigma Nu, Tulane University and University of Arkansas, Phi Delta Theta, Columbia University.

Consideration—Sigma Nu is seriously considering petitions from locals at University of Toronto and Rollins College; Phi Kappa Sigma, locals at Duke and University of British Columbia; Alpha Chi Rho, locals at Rutgers and Johns Hopkins.

Hell Week Going

Indicating the seriousness of its intent to do away with Hell Week, the University of Michigan has recently suspended the chapters of Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Nu on its campus. The houses have been closed and padlocked because of infractions of the rules governing this childish practice.

Concerning Scholarship

 A recent report shows that the larger percentage of failures in college can be directly traced to a foolish waste of time and energy upon the side-shows of college life. Rules and regulations are of no avail, unless the whole personnel of the active chapter is willing, individually and collectively, to accept scholarship as the main business of the college student, and to give to study the major portion of time and energy.

The fraternity group by the very nature of its organization can easily imbue its members with a sense of the importance of intellectual advancement. It can place the emphasis upon scholarship and thereby readjust the over-emphasis upon activities of secondary importance. Ways and means can be devised whereby the brothers can assist each other in developing methods of study, and in generating the will-power to do better than average work. Each member of the chapter should be made to feel that there is no place for laxity and indifference towards the main business of study in the worth-while active chapter; and the brothers as a group must create an atmosphere and an environment of group solidarity in the drive for high scholastic standings .-The Carnation of Delta Sigma Phi.

No Central Office

Kappa Sigma, one of the two fraternities with more than 50 chapters not maintaining a central office, considered and rejected at its Richmond convention plans for creation of such an office. The convention, however, did not seem to rely too much on its judgment, and ordered appointment of a committee of five to survey the costs, advantages, disadvantages, and history of this type of government.—Cross and Crescent of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Withdrawals From Chicago

Tau Kappa Epsilon has withdrawn from the University of Chicago, where Lambda Chi Alpha to all intents and purposes has done the same thing. The action in the latter case has been suspension of the charter, with formal revocation probable at the next general assembly. Sigma Nu withdrew just a little more than a year ago, while Delta Tau Delta and Phi Pi Phi followed shortly thereafter. This is another university in which withdrawals have been quite numerous, others in recent years hav-ing included Delta Chi, 1927; Acacia, 1932; Delta Sigma Phi. Several others are expected.—Cross and Crescent of Lambda Chi Alpha (Dec. 1935).

Among The Greeks

In a long article with the above title, the Cross and Crescent of Lambda Chi Alpha presents a comprehensive picture of what is happening among fraternities. We quote the following:

Phi Beta Kappa, following installation of chapters at Connecticut, Florida, and Utah, has a chapter roll of 122. This is 12 more than that of the largest general fraternity, Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Following come Kappa Sigma with 107 and Phi Delta Theta, 105. These are the only fraternities with more than 100 chapters. In the nineties come Sigma Chi, 97; Sigma Nu, 96; Alpha Tau Omega, 94. In the eighties come Beta Theta Pi, 87; Lambda Chi Alpha, 80.

For Rushing Chairmen

This first campaign must cover a period of about six months. One letter, even two, will not accomplish much. Advertising men have found that about six letters are necessary to carry through a direct-by-mail campaign. There is practically no response to the first letter, some to the second. The fourth letter usually brings in the biggest mail sacks. The fifth and sixth exhaust the possibilities, at least for the time being.—
The Theta News of Theta Kappa Nu.

Lest We Forget

The fraternity is a non-profit-bearing organization. It was created for, and continues to function completely for the benefit of its membership. There can, then, be no financial concessions to certain brothers without the distribution of added burden to all others.... The fraternity can neither a borrower nor a lender be, for its definition of friendship conceives of per-sonal obligation as inviolate.—The Phi Gamma Delta.

Refreshing

"Our Football Year Just So-so. Lacking All-America Names, Fiji Gridiron Line-up Is No Cause for Delirious Dash to Tear Up Goal Posts"—Headline in *The Phi Gam*ma Delta, to find that every Phi Gam chapter harbored not an all-time, all-American last fall, as most of us claimed.

Founder's Badge

The founder of Alpha Tau Omega designed the badge of that fraternity. He had one made by Galt and Co. of Washington, and wore it for many years. It has been presented to A T O by the son of the Founder, and is one of A T O's most cherished possessions. This fact, together with much other interesting inforgether with much other interesting information, came from the history of A T O now being published serially in The Palm of A T O. The first installment pictured the early times of Virginia Military Institute where the fraternity was founded; the founder himself; the first rules and customs, and the period (about 1860-70).

On Rating Fraternities

"We neither can nor will, out of our knowledge and experience, attempt to rate fraternities or sororities. Such rating is almost impossible to give; at best it would be biased and only a matter of personal judgment. The basis on which one might be judged would be unfair to the next.

Reasons: On what basis could one judge? Social life, scholarship, activities, age, prestige, number of men, number of chapters, number of chapter homes owned, value of property, famous men or women, achievements?

Where one group would excel in scholar-ship another would lead in social activities; a third would stand high in chapter prop-erty owned, a fourth would boast of its large membership, while a fifth would base its claim upon numerical chapter strength.

There is no one great national fraternity that stands above all the rest. There is no single group that is strong in every point. Some weakness will always be found. Ratings and listings on the basis of

"best" are dangerous, unfair, and cannot be judiciously made on any basis.-The Teke of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Hardy Perennial Politics

Mortar Board asks the sororities of the National Panhellenic Congress to work towards solving the problems created by that ol' debbil, campus politics. In an open letter to each member sorority it is pointed out that politics on the campus creates friction between organized groups, has an unhealthful effect on student morale, sets up weak officers, and is generally detrimen-tal. An election code that protects the voter is urged; a party system of individ-uals, not groups, is recommended; and it is desired to eliminate graft, and to have candidates chosen on their merits.

Miscellanea

Forty-five members of Beta Theta Pi have been Rhodes Scholars since 1904. . Theta Chi is eighty years old. . . . Phi Kappa Psi publishes in its magazine, The Shield, the pictures of 160 alumni members that are life subscribers. All Phi Psis initiated since 1930 have paid $25.00 and are thenceforth life subscribers. There are more than 3200 of the latter. . . . Oldest Member of Σ A E Joins Chapter Eternal

By Robert H. Horsley, Tennessee Nu '33

MAPTAIN WALKER MARION BENNETT, Tenn. H '61, born at Sparta, Tenn., February 12, 1839, who for many years had enjoyed the distinction of being the oldest living member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, died February 22, 1936, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. B. Barnes, in Nashville, Tenn., after more than ninety-seven years of rich and fruitful living. His death resulted from pneumonia and came after a week's illness. It is a coincidence that he was born on Lincoln's birthday and died on Washington's birthday.

Initiated into S A E in 1860 at Union University when it was located at Murfreesboro, Tenn., Captain Bennett left his alma mater a month before graduation to enter the Confederate States Army, serving with the Twenty-Fourth Tennessee Infantry. As a lieutenant, commanding L Company, he was wounded at Shiloh and on return to the service in August, 1862, was promoted to captain of G Company with which he served until the end of the war. He took part in many of the bloodiest battles of the War between the States, was highly complimented for his bravery at Shiloh and was voted a medal by the Confederate Congress for "Gallantry at the Battle of Chickamauga.'

Following the war, Captain Bennett engaged in teaching and farming for ten years and then moved to Nashville where he formed a connection with the Phillips Butterhoff Manufacturing Co. which lasted for fifty years. He retired from business in 1925 and since the death of his wife had lived with the daughter at whose home he and was always happy when he could have the younger members of the Franity seated about him and could tell them of his early experiences. During the last years of his life, many prominent members of \(\Sigma \) A E visited him at his daughter's home in Nashville and all came away with a renewed realization of what the Fraternity can mean to a man who has put his heart and soul into it. His last request was that "his boys," as he called the mem-bers of Tennessee Nu at Vanderbilt University, should conduct the S A E burial service at his grave and that all members in Nashville should be his honorary pallbearers.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. Barnes with the members of Tennessee Nu acting as honorary pallbearers. The burial service at the grave was carried out by the following seven members of the chapter: Charles Nancarrow, Byron Beard, Robert Oliver, Robert H. Horsley, Eugene Morris, Edward Greve and Charles Sadler. The Supreme Council was represented by General J. Washington Moore, Past E.S.A.; Tennessee Eta by William E. Barry, Tenn. H '21; and Tennessee Nu by Kinnard T. McConnico, Jr., Tenn. N '27. James B. Rike, Ohio Δ '08, grandson of Captain Bennett, was one of the active pallbearers. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Walter L. Caldwell, father of Paul Lanier Caldwell, Tenn. Z '29, pastor of the Woodland Street Presbyterian Church of which Captain Bennett was a member.

The last public dinner Captain Bennett attended was the Σ A E Founders Day Dinner in Nashville in 1934 when he was an honor guest with Judge A. K. Nippert, Past E.S.A. Judge Nippert introduced him as "the youngest Σ A E" and Captain Bennett responded with a toast to the ladies present and told of his early frater-nity experiences before the War between the States. He said that when the "new" ∑ A E pins appeared on the Union campus all of the girls wanted to wear them and that he was one of the few members who refused to be influenced by the young ladies. His speech was reported in THE REC-ORD as the highlight of the Iota Province convention and the Founders Day Dinner in Nashville.

Captain Bennett celebrated his 97th birthday with his family on February 12 and went to the dinner table without aid. He never used a cane and could read without glasses. He invited a twelve-year-old neighbor girl to his birthday dinner and insisted that he help seat her at the table before he took his seat.

Champe S. Andrews, Fraternity Leader, Dies

By Wallace E. Campbell, Archon, Province Alpha

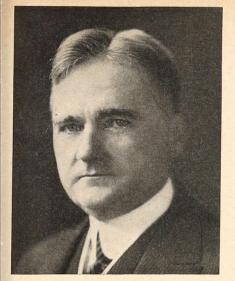

THAMPE SEABURY ANDREWS, Ala. A-M '94, Past Eminent Supreme Treasurer, former Editor of THE RECORD, founder and first president of the Board of Trustees of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and one of the most constructive figures in the development of Σ A E into a great national fraternity, died February 25, 1936, in New Haven, Conn., from peritonitis, following an emergency operation for appendicitis, aged 60 years.

For the past ten years he had made his home in New Haven, having been vice-president and director of sales for the National Folding Box Company, one of the world's foremost producers of containers in the folding carton field. Prior to his career in manufacturing he had been an outstanding member of the New York City bar for more than ten years.

Born in Yazoo City, Miss., May 13, 1875, he matriculated at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn) in the fall of 1890 and on October 10 was initated into \(\Sigma\) A E by Alabama Alpha-Mu. Four years later he was graduated as the valedictorian of his class and was a captain of the cadet corps during his senior year. In the meantime, he had represented his chapter at three national conventions-Atlanta, 1891; Chattanooga, 1892; and Pittsburgh, 1893—and had become known throughout the Fraternity through his contributions to its publications.

At the Washington Convention of 1894 he was elected Eminent Supreme Treasurer and was reëlected at the St. Louis Convention of 1896. He turned the duties of this office over to the late Rev. G. Hendree Harrison to accept a commission as captain in the Third Tennessee Infantry with which he served during the Spanish- American War. At the Nashville Convention of 1898 he refused reëlection but continued his active interest in Σ A E and at the Boston Convention of 1900 made his greatest contribution to the upbuilding of the Fraternity when he led the fight for the establishment of the Board of Trustees which was the beginning of the present financial policy of the Fraternity. He was elected a member of the Board of Trustees and at its organization meeting, March 25, 1901, was chosen at its first president. He was appointed editor of THE REC-ORD early in 1902 and handled this responsibility with signal success during the year, declining reëlection at the Washington Convention of 1902.

Immediately after moving to New Haven he took an active interest in the affairs of Province Alpha and was always in demand as a speaker at conventions and Founders' Day celebrations. He was the Hartford Alumni Association's delegate at the Washington Convention of 1934 and in December, 1935, attended and took an active part in the Province Alpha Convention, held at the home of Massachusetts Gamma at Harvard University.

He is survived by his widow and three sons, one of whom is William K. Andrews, N.C. N '33, and three brothers, two of whom are Andrew Beirne Andrews, Ala. A-M '96, and Oliver Burnside Andrews, Ala. A-M

Alva Lumpkin Honored

Alva M. Lumpkin, S.C. Δ '08, past archon of Province Gamma and Past Supreme Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, was appointed on February 19, 1936, as one of the commissioners of the United States on the Uruguayan Commission for the Arbitration and Settlement of International Reciprocal Disputes. The post is one of great honor and without compensation except during actual service. A distinguished attorney and former president of the South Carolina Bar Association, Mr. Lumpkin was highly acceptable to officials of the State Department who expressed gratification over his appointment. It will be necessary for him to take a trip to Uruguay during the summer of 1936 in connection with the duties of his new post.
