Grand Old Man of $\Sigma$ AE Joins Chapter Eternal

By Lauren Foreman, Eminent Supreme Recorder

GEORGE DEERING KIMBALL, Colo. Z '95, for thirty-six years a member of the Supreme Council of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and founder of the National Interfraternity Conference, died at Denver, Colo., on July 8, 1936, as the result of complications resulting from a three-month siege of allergy. He was buried in Denver on July 10 with full Masonic honors, services having been held in the temple of the Colorado Consistory of the Scottish Rite bodies with Knights Templar and members of other bodies attending in uniform. Services at the grave in Fairmount cemetery were conducted by Denver Union Lodge of Masons, of which he had been a member for forty-six years. Delegations from Colorado Zeta and the Denver alumni of  $\Sigma$ AE attended and the Supreme Council was represented by Lauren Foreman, E.S.R.

An intimate associate of the late William C. Levere, long-time E.S.R., for whom he named his only son, George Kimball wrote his name high on the scroll of  $\Sigma$ AE and interfraternity leaders. His record of thirty-six years of continuous service on the Supreme Council in four different posts has not been equaled by any other member of the Fraternity. As the author of the resolution calling for the organization of a Panhellenic union of all Greek-letter fraternities, adopted at the famous meeting of the Department of Universities and Colleges of the Religious Education Association, held in Plymouth Church, Chicago, February 11, 1909, and as a participant in the meeting at the University Club, New York, November 27, 1909, at which organization was perfected, he was the moving force in the formation of the National Interfraternity Conference and is entitled to be known as the founder of this important body.

Born in East Portland, Me., May 17, 1868, he moved to Denver in 1886 and received his college education at the University of Denver where he was initiated into  $\Sigma$ AE, December 18, 1891, at the installation of Colorado

Zeta, of which he was a charter member. He immediately began to take an active part in all  $\Sigma$ AE affairs, was elected president of the Colorado State Association, and, although he was not present at the Pittsburgh Convention of 1893, he was elected by that convention, as was then the custom, to be president of Eta province, which at that time included Arkansas and Texas and all the United States north and west of those states. He presided at the first convention of Eta province in Denver, December 27, 1895, and was re-elected as president, serving until the second convention in 1897.

He attended the national convention at St. Louis in 1896 and was made chairman of the finance committee, thus beginning his long career of constructive statesmanship for  $\Sigma$ AE. He attended every national convention since held. At the Nashville Convention of 1898 he was elected Eminent Supreme Deputy Archon and at Boston in 1900 he was elected Eminent Supreme Treasurer. He was elected Eminent Supreme Archon at Atlanta in 1906 and re-elected at Atlantic City in 1909; again elected Eminent Supreme Treasurer at Kansas City in 1910; held this office until the St. Louis Convention of 1920 when he was elected Eminent Supreme Warden; and continuously re-elected until the Washington Convention of 1934 when he refused to let his name be put in nomination for another term.

Through all these years he exercised a marked influence in the councils of the Fraternity, always insisting on sound business policies and practices, and the present financial stability of  $\Sigma$ AE is in no small measure the result of his efforts. The friendship that existed between George Kimball and Billy Levere might, without exaggeration, be likened to that of David and Jonathan or of Damon and Pythias but, nevertheless, they frequently disagreed sharply over matters of policy. Billy was something of a dreamer, always having in mind some constructive plan for the betterment of  $\Sigma$ AE, and was impatient of delay. George, on the other hand, looked at every expenditure made or proposed (to quote Past E.S.A. Gibson Hobbs) "with a microscopic eye" and was never willing to authorize the expenditure of a cent until the money to pay it and a comfortable surplus besides was in hand. Their debates frequently enlivened  $\Sigma$ AE gatherings and the terms, "the Eminent Tight-Wad of Denver" and "the distinguished literary genius of Evanston," which they applied to one another became by-words throughout the Fraternity.

By faith a Methodist and a Republican and in practice a strict prohibitionist, George Kimball frequently found himself in disagreement with  $\Sigma$ AEs, particularly those from the South, of Democratic leanings and more liberal views as to personal habits but there was not a man of them who did not give him credit for the sincerity of his convictions and hold him in the highest esteem and affection.

He was a thirty-third degree mason, captain general of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar, almoner of Colorado Consistory No. 1 of the Scottish Rite, past commander of Colorado Commandery No. 1 of the Knights Templar, and treasurer of El Jebel Temple of the Mystic Shrine. Many years ago he was an officer of the Knights Templar drill team which won many national competitions.

The greater part of his business career was in connection with coal mining and he was president of the Rugby Coal Co., though he had retired from active business several years ago.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Grace Porter Kimball, who has attended many  $\Sigma$ AE conventions with him, by one son, William Levere Kimball, Colo. Z '33, second lieutenant, United States Army, who was graduated from West Point in June, and by a sister, Miss Martha Kimball, a former national officer of IIB $\Phi$ .

Matthew Luckiesh, Wizard of Light

By O. K. Quivey, Past E.S.A.

BRILLIANT student though he was, and a member of the Purdue chapter of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, little did we who were members of Indiana Beta back in 1909 realize that we had in the subject of this sketch one whose contributions to the electrical industries were destined to place his name at the very top of those engaged in scientific research.

Matthew Luckiesh, Ind. B '09, is an amazing individual, as his record attests. Still young, he is one of the great scientists of the world. At twenty-one he was still prospecting for gold in Nevada where he had wandered after a precocious career as trombone player in a minstrel troupe. To show you how his mind works, his scientific career began one night when, as he was trudging across the Nevada wastes, he chanced to observe the phenomenon called "will-o'-the-wisp." Then and there deciding to find out what it was all about, he packed himself back home and, aided by his trusty trombone, put himself through Purdue.

The trombone is laid away but not Matt's minstrel spirit. He loves night clubs and crowds, parties and theatres, says night was made to play and young people to play with. He asks people whether they are disappointed because he hasn't whiskers, takes a prima donna's care of his figure and works like the devil. He finished a one hundred thousand word scientific book in twenty-five nights.

Graduating from Purdue in 1909, Mr. Luckiesh went to Cleveland as physicist in the research laboratories of the Incandescent Lamp Department of the General Electric Company. In 1920 he became Director of Applied Science and since 1924 has been Director of the Lighting Research Laboratory. During the twenty-four years that Luckiesh has been at Nela Park he has initiated researches along many fundamental lines and is responsible for many notable developments. He developed the first accurate glass filter to be used with a MAZDA lamp for the production of artificial daylight. Those blue-green daylight MAZDA lamps are his, as are the lamps called "Flametint."

In one year General Electric sold 6,000,000 each of daylight MAZDA and Flametint lamps. A still newer development was the use of artificial sunlight with its health-giving rays, but his idea entails more than the mere invention of a new bulb. Statistically he will prove to you that daylight costs as much as 100% in lighting and heating efficiency in New York, adding that windows waste heat and space and that their light is inefficient and limited. His ideas of the efficiency of daylightless factories are set forth in his book "The Cost of Daylight."

Dr. Luckiesh is a prolific writer, having published hundreds of scientific and technical as well as popular articles. The titles of his books indicate the wide scope of his knowledge and the perusal of them will convince one that he knows whereof he writes. The titles of his books to date are as follows:

Color and Its Applications, 1915, 1921; Light and Shade and Their Applications, 1916; The Lighting Art, 1917; The Language of Color, 1918; Artificial Light, 1920; Lighting the Home, 1920; Visual Illusions, 1922; The Book of the Sky, 1922, 1933; Ultraviolet Radiation, 1922; Light and Color in Advertising and Merchandising, 1923; Light and Work, 1924; Portable Lamps, 1924; Foundations of the Universe, 1925; Lighting Fixtures and Lighting Effects, 1925; Light and Health, 1926; Artificial Sunlight, 1930; Seeing, 1931; Seeing and Human Welfare, 1934.

In addition to lighting the work-world, Dr. Luckiesh has been a leader in the analysis and development of the possibilities of residential lighting, having years ago conducted surveys along this line in the development of lighting fixtures which produce a variety of lighting effects suitable for specific rooms and specific purposes. Much of the progress in residential lighting has been due to the interest aroused by his surveys of the prevailing conditions and prophecies of future possibilities in that field, supplemented by the development of fixtures and lighting recipes.

In 1932 Dr. Luckiesh received the Gold Medal Award of the Distinguished Service Foundation of Optometry for his researches in Seeing and also for the contribution of his valuable book entitled "Seeing—a Partnership of Lighting and Vision." For more than twenty years he has been laying the foundation of the new science of seeing which provides such radically new concepts that the entire approach to lighting and human welfare has been altered. Already this new science is awakening a lighting consciousness on a broad front, revolutionizing lighting throughout its many fields and promising to revise many other practices of mankind because seeing is nearly synonymous to living.

The science of seeing is being accepted as the greatest contribution ever made to lighting development. It is evolving a crude art of lighting into a science. Seeing is a most important controllable activity of human beings. It is almost as complex as living. Dr. Luckiesh has evolved the idea that seeing is an activity of human beings operating as human seeing-machines. He assumed that human beings see not only with eyes and light but with their bodies and minds. Thus he opened an entirely new vista of research and directed a new attack in this direction. Eventually long tedious researches upon eyes, muscles, nerves, heart, etc., pointed toward daylight conditions as ideal for seeing easily. They revealed penalties due to conditions of barely seeing. They provided knowledge for specifying light for human efficiency and welfare. Artificial lighting which was developed—and practiced—as a competitor of darkness became a competitor of daylight.

Dr. Luckiesh is a member of numerous societies, including the Edison Electric Institute, the Illuminating Engineering Society, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, the American Physical Society, the Franklin Institute, the Optical Society of America, etc. He was awarded the Edward Longstreth Medal and certificate of merit by the Franklin Institute for his work on visibility of airplanes during the World War. It was at that time he served as chairman of the Committee on Camouflage of the National Research Council.

At its commencement exercises in June, 1935, Purdue University conferred the degree of Doctor of Engineering on Dr. Luckiesh with the following citation:

"Matthew Luckiesh, illuminating engineer whose skillful moulding of the candles of science has furnished new light for the darkened places where men live. Upon the nomination of the President and the Faculty and by the authority of the Trustees of Purdue University, he has been admitted to the degree of Doctor of Engineering."

This degree is highly prized as it is rarely conferred by Purdue. It is a coincidence that the first man to whom this degree was given by Purdue was another member of  $\Sigma$  A E, Harry Robinson Safford, Ind. B '95, executive vice-president, Missouri Pacific Lines, Houston, Tex.

Further details regarding Dr. Luckiesh's life and work may be found in Who's Who in America, American Men of Science, Who's Who in Engineering, etc. A perusal of the above mentioned biographies gives only a one-sided picture of Dr. Luckiesh. They portray only the scientist and scholar. Dr. Luckiesh is not only one of the world's authorities on light and lighting—a man consulted on problems of color, art, architecture, general science, design, etc.—he is a most human sort of person. While he is a dreamer he is a realist at the same time. He loves Nature and his vacations are spent in the wilds of Canada. Anyone who enjoys Nature should read his "Book of the Sky" which portrays the beauties and wonders of cloudland.

Although a great portion of his writings and lectures are devoted to technical and scientific subjects, he also enters the broad and deep phases of living, including esthetics, happiness, economics and civilized progress. Perhaps his most outstanding gift is the ability to convey these ideas to the layman in the layman's language. His most outstanding characteristics are alertness and enthusiasm. He doesn't plan ever to grow old, although he allows he may retire and let the world catch up with his works. While waiting he will write—but not technical works as are most of those he has already published—instead, novels, books on popular science, and a major work on his philosophy of light and life.

Luckiesh is a firm believer that ignorance is the overwhelming cause of all ills and that scientific knowledge can and will eventually be the salvation of civilization.

'Doc' Hand of Mississippi State

By Robert T. Bonney, Mississippi Theta, '37

SERVING Mississippi State College in the capacity of four positions should leave the normal person with little energy or ambition for endeavor beyond administrative detail. Not so Dr. William Flowers Hand, Miss.  $\Theta$  '93, who holds down the position of dean of the School of Science, vice-president of the college, state chemist, and instructor in chemistry.

Although relatively frail in stature, Dr. Hand sets a pace that is the despair of his students and colleagues. He literally lives in his office and laboratory, greeting his classes with the eight o'clock bell, although sleepless students will tell you that on the night before, his laboratory windows were lighted until two or three. He likes to do research at night, and saves his most exacting analyses for the lonesome time when there is no noise, no one to bother him. At such times he divides his activity between the microscope and the dictaphone, replying to the voluminous inquiries that pour into his offices daily.

Dr. Hand began his academic career with Mississippi State, and his fraternity career with old Mississippi Theta. He was graduated from Mississippi State in 1893, and remained to serve as assistant state chemist and assistant chemistry professor. Obtaining the M.S. degree in 1895, he was promoted to state chemist and professor of chemistry four years later. The requirements of the Ph.D. kept him at Columbia for a while at the turn of the century. In 1920 he was elected vice-president of the Association of Agricultural Chemists of North America, and became president of that body in 1921. For several years he was on the board of the Association's Journal, and later became a member of the National Standards Committee.

He has also been a president of the South Central States Food and Drug Officials.

His classmates know him as "Bill"; his students as "Doc," and his scientific pursuits do not preclude a close and affectionate bond between him and the latter. To them he likes to tell stories of old Mississippi Theta, when it was sub-rosa at State. At that time fraternities were strictly forbidden under the regulations of the military discipline locally in effect. When the presence of the chapter was discovered by General Stephen D. Lee, the president, the members were given the choice of renouncing their vows, or leaving the college. Unhesitatingly they chose the latter. Their departure from the campus was marked by wild enthusiasm on the part of their fellow classmates, who crowded the station and sped the heroes homeward with cheers and waving hats.

"That was a great moment," Dr. Hand recalls, "and that train ride held the highest and lowest moments of my life. I left the station with my head in the clouds, but I was back to earth before I reached home. As the group thinned out and we got nearer home, it suddenly dawned on me that my father might see nothing so heroic in my escapade, for he was not at all interested in college fraternities."

ΣAE Alumni Secretaries

By Herbert F. Taylor, Mass. Delta, '12

TREAT 'em rough and get their money," is the playtime theme song of the American Alumni Council, an organization of some 250 college alumni secretaries and allied racketeers. Because I was president of that outfit two years ago, Lauren Foreman picked on me to disclose to the Fraternity that there are at least eleven sons of Minerva who are members of this exclusive profession.

The modern alumni secretary is, by his own admission, the most important functionary on the campus today. Even some college presidents secretly admit the fact. He invents most of the propaganda, keeps alumni in a friendly and beneficent state of mind, leads or fights off attacks on the football coach, and often writes the president's speeches. In some colleges he is chief proselytist in student recruiting, and placement director for those whom the faculty eventually bless with a diploma.

A well known debunker admitted in a recent magazine article that the alumni secretary is a hard worker, even though little else can be said in his favor. For most of us the hours are long, and there is no such thing as getting away for the summer as our faculty colleagues do. We get a great kick out of our work, including some kicks on sensitive spots. Conversely, we punch no time clock, report to no visible boss, and generally run the office as suits our individual whims.

But this is not a treatise on the profession. It is an introduction to some live sons of Minerva who are giving fine service to alma mater and alumni. To avoid the appearance of favoritism and reflections on age or previous conditions of servitude, let's take them alphabetically.

Etheridge B. Baugh, Ind. B '23, executive secretary of the Purdue University Alumni Association, is a newcomer to the alumni secretariat field, having been elected to his present office in June, 1935. While a student in Agriculture at Purdue, Eth was manager of the varsity football squad, captain and manager of the ΣAE championship basketball team. He served as rush captain of the chapter for two years. After graduation he joined the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad as agricultural agent in the Commercial Development department, serving with Paul Hurley, Ind. B '21, under O. K. Quivey, Ind. B '12 Past E.S.A. He was stationed in Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Columbus. Prior to returning to Purdue he was with the Extension Division of Ohio State University and president of the Columbus Alumni Association of ΣAE.

Ω '27*, University of the South ("Sewanee"); David Grier Martin, N.C. Θ '32, Davidson College; Charles W. Beachem, Pa. Δ '25, Gettysburg College; Lower Row, Randolph John Thiesen, Ga. Φ '10, Georgia School of Technology; Dr. Marion Leigh MacQueen, Tenn. Z '19, Southwestern at Memphis; Herbert F. Taylor, Mass. Δ '12, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Former President of the American Alumni Council; Etheridge B. Baugh, Ind. B '23, Purdue University.

Charles W. Beachem, Pa. Δ '25, alumni secretary of Gettysburg College, is the first and only incumbent of that office, the position having been created in 1929. He has built up a fine organization and a well equipped office, is editor of the alumni magazine, and conducts a successful alumni fund. Like many of us, he started as a teacher. He taught chemistry and coached athletics in the Mt. Pleasant (Pa.) high school for two years, was then elected principal, and served in that capacity until called back to Gettysburg. Beachem was a topnotcher on the campus and in the chapter during student days. He served as E.C. and alumni secretary during his junior year, and as E.A. during both terms of his senior year. Although playing three years of varsity football, representing his class on the student council, and serving as treasurer of the Y.M.C.A., he came through with honors in chemistry. He was elected to KΦK, national educational fraternity, and served on important committees. As a result of all these achievements he received a Besser-Lindsey award in 1925. This year Beachem is serving as director of District II, American Alumni Council, which includes colleges in Delaware, D.C., Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Ontario and Pennsylvania.

Gordon M. Clark, Tenn. Ω '27, organizing secretary and director of athletics, University of the South, is a modest chap and one has to read between the lines of his brief biography. Having met him at several Council conventions, I am convinced that the Associated Alumni of Sewanee have given him an appropriate title. He is an organizer and his work is bearing abundant fruit. A native of Memphis, Clark entered University of the South in 1923, and was initiated into ΣAE the following year. He was E.A. of the chapter in his senior year. He must have been an athlete of some prominence, for after making off with a B.A. degree in 1927, he became athletic director at the Memphis Tech High school. Three years later he was called back to Sewanee to be athletic director and alumni secretary.

Lt. Col. Archibald T. Colley, Ga. B '06, United States Army Retired, alumni secretary of the University of Georgia and editor of the Georgia Alumni Record, took up this work in 1935 after leaving active service in the army. After his graduation as A.B. from the University of Georgia where he was initiated into ΣAE he entered the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., from which he was graduated in 1909. He served in the Cavalry in the U.S. and the Philippines and during the World War attained the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, 28th Division. After the war he served as major on the General Staff, then spent seven years as professor of Military Science at University of Georgia. He was retired as Lieutenant Colonel in 1934.

Ernest C. Deane, Ark. A-Y '34, editor of the Arkansas Alumnus and assistant alumni secretary at the University of Arkansas, is not only the youngest instructor (Journalism) on the University staff, but also the youngest  $\Sigma$ AE in alumni work. He is also assistant director of the University news bureau. After graduation from Arkansas, Ernest went to Northwestern, where he received his M.S. in Journalism in June, 1935. He had previously been editor of the Arkansas Traveler, student newspaper, and last summer did editorial work for the Civic Education Service at Washington. Deane has a fine  $\Sigma$ AE record, having served in various offices of the chapter up to and including E.A. He was chapter delegate at the Los Angeles convention.

Jefferson K. Hamm, Miss.  $\Gamma$  '17, alumni secretary at the University of Mississippi, is on the way to being an old-timer, for he has been on the job since 1924, the first full-time incumbent. He is also financial secretary of athletics, and secretary of the School of Law. Hamm entered the University from Meridian, became president of the freshman class, managed the baseball team, was elected to the senior honorary society, and held various other posts. He was E.T. of the chapter for three years, represented it at the Pittsburgh convention, and attended the Boston convention. He went to France with the Sewanee Ambulance Unit soon after getting his B.S. degree in 1917, served with this unit until the Armistice, then went to Germany with the Army of Occupation. Jeff held a variety of jobs after the war, before landing in this one. He is making it hum, for "Ole Miss" is well regarded in professional alumni circles.

Dr. Marion Leigh MacQueen, Tenn. Z '19, has recently abandoned the alumni secretariat to devote all his time to being professor of Mathematics at Southwestern. His admirable work during a five-year tenure entitles him to honorable mention, however. MacQueen was responsible for organizing the Alumni Association at Southwestern in 1928. He initiated the alumni magazine, and for two years served as the director of District IV, American Alumni Council, which includes colleges in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee. Dr. MacQueen was one of many  $\Sigma$ AEs whose college careers were interrupted by the war. He entered college in 1914, served for a year in the Field Artillery, returned for his degree in 1919. For a year he taught in the extension division, University of Wisconsin, at Milwaukee, then went to Madison to complete work for his M.A. degree in 1923. He returned to Southwestern that fall and has taught there since, except for a year's leave of absence in quest of a doctorate at the University of Chicago. That year and four summer quarters did the trick. His Ph.D. degree was awarded in 1933. Dr. MacQueen continues his research, and has had papers published in various mathematical journals. He is also a member of  $\Sigma$  $\Xi$ ,  $\Gamma$ A, and  $\Omega$ AK.

David Grier Martin, N.C.  $\Theta$  '32, until June, 1936, alumni secretary at Davidson College, was one of the youngsters but he certainly put Davidson on the alumni map during the three years he acted as secretary. He started a fine magazine and kept it going in the face of numerous discouragements. He did an equally fine job in other alumni fields. He resigned to enter the commercial field with the Campbell Coal Co. in Atlanta, Ga. Grier was in on about everything as a student at Davidson, editor of the weekly paper, captain of the R.O.T.C., president of the International Relations club, member of the varsity track and basketball teams, and elected to six honorary societies. He was E.T. of the chapter for two years and rushing captain for one year. And he wonders why he received a Besser-Lindsey award! Martin studied at Emory after graduation, majoring in History under Dr. T. H. Jack, Ala. I '01, and earning an M.A. degree.

Guy Nason, Miss.  $\Theta$  '05, alumni secretary of Mississippi State College, had a varied career before entering on his present work. He has been full-time alumni secretary for the past three years, although he directed the job on a part-time basis from 1930 on, while employed as advertising manager of a Starkville newspaper. His has been the task of locating some 4,000 alumni, organizing local clubs, and at present setting up alumni committees in every state of the Union.

From 1905 to 1917, Nason was in the accountancy field. He then served for two years as Captain, Field Artillery, U.S.A., and was retired on the War Department list of disabled emergency officers. After the war he was secretary of the Hardware Associations of Mississippi and Louisiana, then secretary of the Chambers of Commerce of Columbus and Starkville. The present assignment is the most interesting of all, and he is making fine progress in it.

Herbert F. Taylor, Mass.  $\Delta$  '12, alumni secretary, Worcester Polytechnic Institute. If the story is to be complete, there seems to be no way to get around a brief autobiography. Having been in this game since 1921, I suppose I rate among the deans. I have managed to make myself somewhat conspicuous, but never indispensable. I came back to Worcester Tech in 1920 as assistant professor of civil engineering, after a varied engineering and military career. For five years I was construction engineer for the Northern Pacific Railway in the Northwest, spent two years in the U. S. Army, one year overseas, as captain, 319th Engineers, then a year as sanitary engineer, City of Cleveland. My degeneration from a professorship has been gradual, one course sloughed off a year until I let go of the last one in 1929. Only an average student at Tech, I had to branch out in other lines—member of the track team, senior class president, and member of Skull, senior honorary society. I have since been honored by  $\Sigma$  $\Xi$  and served as chapter president, but that doesn't count. I joined the fraternity late in the course and held no offices. In later years I was more active, serving as first president of the Spokane Alumni Association and as its delegate to the Pittsburgh convention, also a faculty adviser and trustee of Massachusetts Delta.

R. John Thiesen, Ga.  $\Phi$  '10, alumni secretary, Georgia School of Technology, is also one of the deans. He has been executive secretary, National Georgia Tech Alumni Association since 1922, when he was called back to reorganize the work there. He is also editor of the Alumnus, director of the graduate personnel department and of the Expansion Fund projects. In 1930, Jack was president of the Georgia College Placement Office, and a member of the Presidents' Club of Atlanta. While he was a student, Thiesen played two years of varsity football and managed the team one year. He was business manager of the college annual, and member of several honorary societies. He served the Georgia Phi chapter in various capacities up to and including E.D.A. After graduation in 1910, Jack was successively president of a construction company, high school instructor, plant manager on gas manufacturing equipment during the war.

Omitting write-ups of one or more important persons is the usual sin of feature writers. If there are other ΣAEs in alumni work, the editor of THE RECORD and I would like to know about them. When I was a mere neophyte in the profession, there were at least three other sons of Minerva in the group, all of whom rated as giants. Outstanding among them was H. S. Warwick, Colo. Z and Ohio © '06, who was the initial promoter of an association of alumni secretaries, at a meeting held at Ohio State in 1913. Out of this came the American Alumni Council. At or soon after Warwick's time came Robert S. Crawford, Wis. A '03, alumni secretary at the University of Wisconsin, and A. G. (Gus) Pierrot, Ill. © '07, alumni secretary, University of Chicago.

Major General Breckinridge, U. S. Marine Corps

By Col. Oswald W. McNeese, La. Epsilon '03

THE great southwest was reached by pioneers through the gateway of the present states of Kentucky and Tennessee, and such men as Daniel Boone and Sam Houston traveled this route to open up lands. Some families stopped off in the Blue Grass regions and cast their lot in what is now the state of Kentucky. Among the early families whose blood has done much toward making history for that state stands the name of Breckinridge. Kentucky and Breckinridge are synonymous. John Cabell Breckinridge was Vice-President of the United States under President Buchanan; he settled in Lexington, Ky., in the early 1800's.

In 1846 a son, Clifton, was born to John; early in life Clifton appreciated the standing of his family, and guided his life accordingly. In his early thirties he was sent to the United States Congress by his fellow state folk to represent the Memphis, Tenn., district, which he did ably for nearly fifteen years. As President Grover Cleveland was selecting his foreign ministers, his mind settled on Clifton Rhodes Breckinridge as Minister to Russia. When he started to this far off strange land in 1894, he took a seventeen-year old son, James Carson, a fair haired, blue eyed, erect, quiet lad, who had been attending the public schools and the University of Tennessee, where he was initiated by Tennessee Kappa of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

During James Carson's stay in St. Petersburg from 1894 to 1897, he learned the problems and language of that vast country and, as with all boyhood impressions, these experiences have had a lasting place in his heart. Upon his return to the United States James Carson was nearly of age. At that time our country was about to enter into a war with Spain. True to form, he accepted a volunteer appointment as a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps in July, 1898. From that date to the present he has passed through all grades and ranks from second lieutenant to major general, which rank he attained in February, 1935.

The service of General Breckinridge, known among his contemporaries as "Breck," carried him to the Philippines, Cuba, Nicaragua, Mexico, Santo Domingo and China. He has the distinction of having more sea service than any marine officer on the active list. He reads, writes and speaks

French, German, Russian and Spanish and has the reputation of being the best informed officer in the naval service on Russian affairs.

His duty in 1916 was assistant naval attache in Petrograd, Russia. He performed additional duty in the same capacity at Christiania, Norway, Copenhagen, Denmark, and Stockholm, Sweden, at the same time. These were no chance assignments, for memories of his boyhood days when he lived in Russia lingered long, and he desired to see the changes that country had undergone. The General filled these assignments with such outstanding success that the Navy Department awarded him the decoration of the Navy Cross for "distinguished service on this duty." In addition he wears the Philippine, Spanish, Cuban and Mexican campaign badges, the Expeditionary Medal, as well as the Victory Medal. He was also awarded the Medal of Merit by the President of the Dominican Republic.

Early in 1916 General Breckinridge commanded the American Legation Guard at Peking, China. At the present time he is in command of the Department of the Pacific, U. S. Marine Corps, with Headquarters at San Francisco, Calif. He is a graduate of both the Army War College and the Naval War College.

His brother ΣAEs, who remember the General as a young man, will be interested to know that today his hobbies are his two sons, who are typical chips off the old block, his home, and last, but not least, good books. In 1908 the General changed his usual residence to Fort Smith, Ark.

Major General James Carson Breckinridge, Tenn. K '01, Commanding General of the U. S. Marine Corps.

Senator Pittman Visits Tenn. Zeta

By Leon G. Jones, Tenn. Zeta '37

Hon. Key Pittman, Tenn. Z '88, United States Senator from Nevada, from Portrait by Johannes Waller, Ill. Ψ-Ω '33, which hangs in the Levere Memorial Temple.

ACTIVE members of Tennessee Zeta at Southwestern, the College of the Mississippi Valley, in Memphis, Tenn., have wondered about the portrait of Hon. Key Pittman, Tenn. Z '88, senior United States senator from Nevada, which hangs over the fireplace in their lodge and is a copy of the original by Johannes O. Waller, Ill. Ψ-Ω '33, which occupies a place in the library of the Levere Memorial Temple, the shrine of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, at Evanston, Ill. Is Senator Pittman really as austere as that painting would have him?

The question was to be answered on June 1, 1936, when the president pro tempore of the Senate visited his alma mater to make the principal address at the alumni day celebration. Tall, slender, handsome Senator Pittman, who is definitely not austere, was to answer it himself when he recounted what he said on first seeing the portrait.

"It was done by our good friend and brother, Johannes Waller, the artist of the Levere Memorial Temple, who is a native of Bavaria, and he could not help thinking that he was complimenting me by giving me a serious Teutonic air," said the senator. "I told Waller that, as a work of art, the portrait was fine but that he had made me look more like a military man than I deserved."

In a great hurry to get back to his duties in Washington, he nevertheless spent about an hour and a half at the chapter house. A goodly amount of delicious punch and sandwiches was consumed by the actives, alumni, and the honor guest who was shown about the house and introduced to all the brothers. Then he gave a highly interesting informal talk in which he touched on many subjects including his interest in the fraternity especially in the founding of the chapter at the University of Nevada, the bright future which, he feels, is in store for Southwestern, and several of his humorous experiences in the Senate.

It was now time for the senator to leave and after the inevitable picture taking was over he bade farewell to the chapter which he has honored.

Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky

By Wm. Kerr Bassett, Tennessee Lambda '34

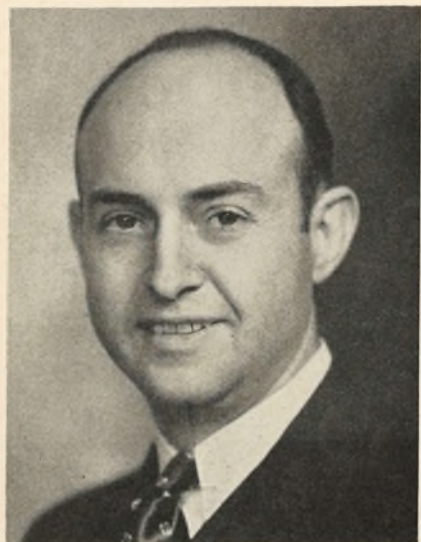

WITH the election of Hon. Keen Johnson, Ky. E '21, as lieutenant governor of Kentucky, another name was added to the long list of illustrious members of ΣΑΕ who have achieved political prominence in the Blue Grass State. Mr. Johnson, a neophyte in the political field, won the Democratic nomination over nine rivals and led his ticket in the final election with a record-breaking majority of a hundred and five thousand votes.

Mr. Johnson was born in Lyon County, Ky., in 1896, attended Central College in Fayette, Mo., for two years, and received the Bachelor of Arts degree in journalism from the University of Kentucky in 1922. Several years of experience in the weekly field preceded Mr. Johnson's advancement to his present position of prominence in Kentucky journalism. He has served as president of the Kentucky Press Association, is now a member of the executive committee of that body, and is editor and publisher of the Richmond, Ky., Daily Register.

For two and a half years Mr. Johnson served as first lieutenant of the 89th Division of the A.E.F. and is a member of the American Legion. He is also secretary of the Kentucky Democratic State Central Executive Committee, a position he has held for some years.

Mr. Johnson, who is president of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association, is an active and loyal alumnus of Kentucky Epsilon and is a frequent visitor at the chapter house in Lexington.

Hon. Keen Johnson, Ky. E '21, Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky.

At "Marse Henry's" Desk

Mark F. Ethridge, Miss. Γ '18, for the past year president and publisher of the Times-Dispatch of Richmond, Va., resigned on June 1, 1936, to become general manager of the Courier-Journal of Louisville, Ky., where he is directing the editorial policy of the paper made famous by the late Col. Henry Watterson who was its editor for many years. Mark Ethridge's rise in the newspaper world has been rapid. For nine years he was connected with the Telegraph of Macon, Ga., going from cub reporter to assistant editor. From Macon he went to Washington, D.C., as head of the political editorial staff of the Associated Press and later became assistant general manager of the Washington Post. He went to Richmond as general manager of the Times-Dispatch in December, 1934, and was elected president and publisher the following spring.

Imperial Potentate of Shrine

By Joel A. Yarbrough, Jr., Virginia Sigma '26

ELECTED as Imperial Potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine by the Imperial Council at Seattle, Wash., July 16, 1936, Judge Clyde I. Webster, Mich. I-B '99, reached the highest office in the gift of this branch of the Masonic order one year sooner than he expected when he was elected Imperial Outer Guard, the lowest place in the Imperial Divan, in Miami, Fla., in May 1928. Judge Hugh M. Caldwell of Seattle, Deputy Imperial Potentate, declined to take the chief executive position and Judge Webster, being the next man in line, stepped into the place.

Judge Webster, formerly a prominent practicing attorney of Detroit, served as United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Michigan under Federal Judge Arthur J. Tuttle, Mich. I-B '92, Past E.S.A., and then became a circuit judge for Wayne County, Mich.

He has long been prominent in the Shrine and was elected Imperial Outer Guard on the first ballot at the Miami meeting of the Imperial Council. Under Shrine custom, this is the only office for which there is ever a contest and, after a man is elected to it, he is automatically raised a grade each year, ten years being required for him to negotiate the long route.

Judge Webster has always taken an active interest in  $\Sigma$ AE affairs, has served as an officer of the Detroit Alumni Association and of Province Delta and is a tower of strength for the Fraternity in Michigan.

Judge Clyde I. Webster, Mich. I-B '99, of Detroit, Imperial Potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Province Beta Convenes at Ithaca

By John M. Crandall, Deputy Archon

MEETING at "Hillcrest," the home of New York Alpha at Cornell University, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 30, May 1-2, 1936, Province Beta held its most outstanding convention. Under the leadership of Archon Floyd W. Smith, N.Y. P '09, for the past four years, the province has made excellent progress and the convention showed its appreciation of his untiring efforts in behalf of province organization by presenting him with a past archon's Almy Jewel and a Life Membership in the Chapter National of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Delegates were present from all chapters in the province and from seven alumni associations, the total attendance of delegates and visitors being over fifty in addition to the members of New York Alpha who were ever present, extending their delightful hospitality. The convention was honored by the presence of Judge Alfred K. Nippert, Past E.S.A.; Charles F. Collins, E.S.D.A.; Lauren Foreman, E.S.R.; Wallace E. Campbell, N.Y. Δ '19, Archon of Province Alpha; F. Brewster Wickersham, Pa. Δ '15, Past Archon of Province Beta; and William A. Clark, N.Y. A '92, charter member of the host chapter. All the members of the Province Council were also present: Floyd W. Smith, Archon; Charles M. Carpenter, Deputy Archon; John M. Crandall, Recorder-Treasurer; and Dr. Burton A. Hoffman, Alumni Secretary.

The convention opened with a delightful smoker in the chapter house on Thursday evening. Business sessions were held at the house Friday morning and afternoon and Saturday morning, Messrs. Nippert, Collins and Foreman being among the speakers. Officers for the coming two years were elected as follows: Charles M. Carpenter, Mich. A '17, New York, Archon; John M. Crandall, Mich. A '25, Harrisburg, Pa., Deputy Archon; Dr. Burton A. Hoffman, Ill. Ψ-Ω '26, Buffalo, N.Y., Recorder-Treasurer; Eric G. Johnson, Pa. X-O '23, Pittsburgh, Pa., Alumni Secretary. William A. Clark of Maumee, Ohio, was elected a life member of the Province Beta Convention, although he lives outside the province.

Social features included lunch at the chapter house on Friday; the convention dinner, presided over by Archon Floyd W. Smith, at the Ithaca Hotel Friday evening; and the convention dance on Saturday evening at the chapter house.

Three New Province Archons

By Albert J. Schoth, Oregon Alpha '18

Charles M. Carpenter, Mich. A '17, Archon of Province Beta.

Laurence E. DeMuth, Colo. X '31, Archon of Province Eta.

J. Lewell Lafferty, Ark. A-Y '26, Archon of Province Theta.

THREE new names are shown in the list of province archons carried in this issue of THE RECORD:

Charles M. Carpenter, Mich. A '17, of New York City, archon of Province Beta, succeeding Floyd W. Smith, N.Y. P '09;

Laurence W. DeMuth, Colo. X '31, of Boulder, Colo., archon of Province Eta, succeeding James E. Blue, Colo. X '30; and

John Lewell Lafferty, Ark. A-Y '26, of Fort Worth, Tex., archon of Province Theta, succeeding Gentry Lee, Okla. K '26.

Each of the new archons was elected by the convention of his province, following refusal of the retiring archon to permit his name to be offerred for reëlection.

The new archon of Province Beta is a busy practicing attorney but he has found time to render signal service to Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Immediately after going to New York to make his home, he became active in the New York Alumni Association and was made its president in 1929, serving until 1932 when he was elected recorder-treasurer of Province Beta. He was promoted to deputy archon at the convention held in Canton, N.Y., in May, 1934, and to archon at the recent convention in Ithaca, N.Y.

Laurence W. DeMuth is professor of law at the University of Colorado and secretary-treasurer of  $\Phi\Delta\Phi$ , the international legal fraternity. Thus he brings to his work for  $\Sigma\text{AE}$  a wealth of experience in fraternity administration though he had not previously held office in the province. He has practiced law in Missouri, was formerly president of the Rotary Club of Boulder and is a member of the Colorado Bar Association, the American Bar Association and of many learned societies.

John Lewell Lafferty is assistant cashier of the Fort Worth National Bank of Fort Worth, Tex., and has been continuously identified with the banking business at Dallas and Fort Worth since leaving the University of Arkansas. He has been active in the affairs of the alumni associations of the two Texas cities in which he has lived and is well equipped to discharge the duties of the office.

Province Lambda Convention at Idaho

By Emmett B. Moore, Province Archon

PROVINCE Lambda's best convention of all time was held at Moscow, Idaho, Friday and Saturday, April 17 and 18, 1936, with Idaho Alpha at the University of Idaho as host. Dr. John O. Moseley, Eminent Supreme Archon, represented the Supreme Council, being the first E.S.A. to visit Province Lambda officially while in office. Each chapter was represented by its full quota of delegates and there were also numerous visitors from the chapters collegiate. All the province officers were present as follows: Archon, Emmett B. Moore; Deputy Archon, Clarence F. (Scotty) Rohwer; Recorder-Treasurer, Spencer R. Collins; Alumni Secretary, Guy DiJulio.

The Friday morning session was opened by a short address of welcome from Kent Peterson, E.A. of Idaho Alpha, followed by reports of officers. Each chapter was called upon to give a short report of its activities and of any unusual features of chapter management. These reports opened the way for many splendid discussions of financing, rushing, study conditions and other important chapter functions. They gave each delegate new ideas to carry home and had a great deal to do in bringing about the keen interest maintained throughout the entire convention.

The real high-lights of the convention came Friday afternoon and evening. The first was the famous lecture on the crest given by Dr. Moseley, which was pronounced as sufficient reason for holding the convention. Following the initiation, Dr. Moseley put on a model initiation for fourteen pledges, ten from Idaho Alpha and one each from Washington Alpha, Oregon Alpha, Oregon Beta and Montana Beta. This was of course a great privilege for these fourteen new brothers, but it was no less a privilege for everyone else in attendance. Dr. Moseley was ably assisted by an initiation team from Idaho Alpha. These latter had put a tremendous lot of work into their preparation, which was evidenced by their fine performance.

Immediately following the initiation, a banquet honoring the new ini-tiates was held at Idaho's famous Blue Bucket. As each new initiate was led into the banquet hall, a toast was sung and drunk to him, a very fine practice. Once again Dr. Moseley was pressed into service as banquet speaker. He gave a fine inspiring talk based on the subject of real living. This was his third major contribution of the day, any one of which was more than worth the expense, time and trouble of traveling to Moscow.

The two Saturday sessions were largely taken up with convention committee reports and discussions thereon. All committees gave excellent reports. One important development was the decision to publish a new Province Alumni Directory, this task being taken over by Alumni Secretary, DiJulio.

Officers were elected as follows Archon, Emmett B. Moore, Mont. A '24, Pullman, Wash.; Deputy Archon, Don W. Fry, Wash. A '21, Seattle, Wash.; Recorder-Treasurer, Spencer R. Collins, Ore. B '21, Eugene, Ore.; Alumni Secretary, Guy DiJulio, Wash. B '29, Seattle, Wash. The 1938 convention will be held in Corvallis with Oregon Alpha at Oregon State College as host.

Saturday evening the delegates and visitors motored to Washington Beta's chapter house at Pullman to attend a formal dance in their honor. About seventy-five couples were present at this delightful affair, with delegations from the active chapters of Idaho Alpha and Washington Beta included. The dance was a fitting climax to a splendid meeting.

No outstanding new legislation was undertaken at the convention, the time being largely spent with constructive discussions designed to make for better and stronger chapters. Province Lambda is as large and externally expanded as it will ever be. Its problem now is to strengthen each and every chapter within itself and to work for more coöperation among the chapters. This convention took a long stride in this direction.

Province Gamma Meets at Charlottesville

By W. S. Verplanck, Jr., Virginia Omicron '37

MEMBERS of Sigma Alpha Epsilon from South Carolina to Maryland convened in Charlottesville, Va., April 23-25, 1936, for the Province Gamma convention, with Virginia Omicron serving as host chapter.

Routine afternoon business was followed by a banquet at the Monticello Hotel on the night of April 24, with Stirling King, Province Archon, presiding as toastmaster. Such practised after-dinner speakers as Arthur E. Brown, Eminent Supreme Warden, Judge Callan Brooks, Ga. E '08, and Dr. M. G. de Chazeau, Mass. Γ '29, made addresses. Dr. Brown's speech, "The Next Eighty Years," traced the fraternity's growth during the last eighty years and indicated ways in which it might develop in the future. Last of the after-dinner speeches, one familiar to all ΣAEs who have ever been in or near Charlottesville, was made by Virginia Omicron's aged Negro servitor, "Brother Will" Marshall, who has served the chapter for over fifty years, who remembers all the chapter's alumni, and who has not missed an ΣAE banquet for as long as anyone can remember. Will's frail voice told the assembled delegates his happiness at being present, and finished with his famous toast, "Let my name be kindly spoken. . ."

Two happy announcements featured the banquet: first, that for the second consecutive time Province Gamma's scholarship cup was won jointly by South Carolina Phi and

North Carolina Xi; second, that after five years of effort, Virginia Omicron had at last succeeded in obtaining funds for a complete remodeling of the chapter house.

Morning business centered around an endorsement of the petitioning local, Pi Delta Sigma of the University of Richmond, and the election of officers for the next two years. T. Gibson Hobbs, Past E.S.A., presided. Officers elected were: Frank J. Gilliam, Va. Σ '17, dean of students at Washington and Lee, honorary archon; W. Stirling King, Va. K '26, and Adlai C. Holler, Mass. Γ '26, re-elected archon and deputy archon respectively; Charles R. Allen, W.C. P '18, alumni secretary; and Mason Gibbes, N.C. Ξ '35, recorder-treasurer.

Province Gamma Convention Dinner at the Monticello Hotel, Charlottesville, Va., April 24, 1936.

During the afternoon, delegates toured the beautiful grounds of the University of Virginia and Thomas Jefferson's estate at Monticello, after which the host chapter held an open house.

Among the large number of alumni attending were T. Gibson Hobbs, Past E.S.A., and God-father to Virginia Omicron; W. H. Bauman, delegate of Washington, D.C., Alumni; J. R. Mecredy, delegate of Baltimore Alumni; R. G. Richards of Richmond, Va., delegate of Central Virginia Alumni Association, and R. K. G. Rice, adviser to Province Gamma's newest addition, Maryland Rho-Delta, at St. John's College.

Dr. Edley H. Jones Honored

By Charles A. Price, Miss. Gamma '33

GOVERNOR Hugh White, of Mississippi, has recently appointed Dr. Edley H. Jones, La. T-Y '22, superintendent of the Mississippi State Charity Hospital at Vicksburg, Miss. This is one of the many honors that have been received by Dr. Jones, who was certified by the American Board of Otolaryngology in 1927, and granted the degree of F.A.C.S. in 1931. Dr. Jones has been a member of all the medical societies in his specialty and at present is the secretary of the Louisiana-Mississippi Ophthalmological and Otolaryngological Society.

In civic work Dr. Jones has been quite prominent, serving as chairman of the Disaster Relief Division of the American Red Cross. He is the secretary of the Vicksburg Rotary Club, and has been so for ten years, with the exception of one year during which he was president of the club.

In fraternity life Dr. Jones has maintained an unflagging interest. At the time of his medical school training, Dr. Jones was instrumental in having Louisiana Tau-Upsilon secure its first chapter house, and served as E.T. and E.A. of the chapter. Before leaving Tulane, Dr. Jones was made a member of the AOA medical honor fraternity, and since he has been practicing in Vicksburg, he has been in part responsible for the organization of the Vicksburg Alumni Association.

With his assistance and direction, Louisiana Tau-Upsilon has just completed the most successful financial year for the past several seasons. At the Theta Province convention of 1932 he was elected Recorder-Treasurer and more than faithfully discharged his duties.

Dr. Edley H. Jones, La. T-Y '22, Deputy-Archon of Province Theta, Recently Appointed Superintendent of the Mississippi State Charity Hospital at Vicksburg.

Province Eta Holds Convention

By James Blue,
Past Archon

PROVINCE Eta, assembling delegates from Colorado and Wyoming, met in Denver, April 25, the guests of Colorado Zeta. The convention was opened by James Blue, Province Archon, reading the purpose of the convention from "The Province Convention," prepared by Dr. John O. Moseley, E.S.A., who was in attendance.

Reports were given by Colorado Zeta, Colorado Chi, Colorado Lambda, Colorado Delta, and Wyoming Alpha, all of which stressed present needs and accomplishments of the respective chapters, and served to give delegates a unified picture of ΣAE throughout the province.

Election of officers resulted in the following members being selected: Laurence W. DeMuth, Colo. X '31, archon; Joseph Henry Lanphier, Colo. X '32, deputy archon; and John M. Coke, Colo. A '28, recorder-treasurer.

Election was followed by a model initiation conducted by Dr. Moseley. The convention dinner was held immediately following. The presence of two national officers, Dr. Moseley, and Lauren Foreman, E.S.R., added immeasurably to the interest and effectiveness of the convention.

Sons and Brothers in ΣΑΕ

By Leleith H. Barker, Keeper of Archives

CONSANGUINITY was again a major factor in the selection of men for initiation into Sigma Alpha Epsilon during the college year, 1935-36, ten grandsons, 104 sons and 162 brothers, out of a total of 1,702 initiates, having been inducted into the Fraternity, as against seven grandsons, 109 sons and 174 brothers, out of a total of 1,718 initiates in 1934-35.

Alabama Iota was the only chapter to initiate two grandsons but Mississippi Gamma and Mississippi Theta initiated first cousins, grandsons of the same man. The other six were distributed among Alabama Alpha-Mu, Georgia Beta, North Carolina Xi, Tennessee Eta, Tennessee Omega and Texas Rho. Seven of the ten grandsons were also sons in direct line of descent and a large proportion of the sons initiated were also brothers.

North Carolina Xi initiated one grandson, five sons and three brothers; Mississippi Gamma one grandson, two sons and six brothers; Texas Rho one grandson, three sons and four brothers.

Initiation of grandsons, sons or brothers were reported by 89 chapters as against 92 in 1934-35. # Leader in Recreational Work

By Raymond F. Luce, Calif. Alpha '31

SAN FRANCISCO has long been in the lead among American cities which recognize the social utility of planning and directing leisure and recreational pursuits. The Recreational Commission of the city and county of San Francisco is nationally renowned for the brilliant work it has done in this field of municipal organization. Assistant Superintendent of the Recreation Commission is Raymond S. Kimball, Okla. K '28, who has been in on the ground floor of many of the widely imitated social experiments first tried out in the West Coast city.

Born in Altus, Okla., in 1903, Mr. Kimball served in the Navy during the World War and holds the distinction of being one of the youngest members of the American Legion. After sporadic excursions into active pedagogy in various schools, he came to San Francisco, bent on studying law, but became interested in recreation work and found himself a playground director in the year 1929. From that post he advanced to Supervisor of Playgrounds and Community Centers and thence to his present position.

Mr. Kimball was active in the establishment of the director-at-large system of dealing with young delinquents. Under this plan gangs of boys are brought into recreation centers; delinquents are given an opportunity for healthful play under supervision and are taught wise uses for leisure. The lowered juvenile delinquency rate of San Francisco, and the adoption of the system by many other large cities testify to its soundness.

Raymond S. Kimball, Okla. K '28, Assistant Superintendent of the Recreation Commission of San Francisco, Calif.

Kimball was also instrumental in establishing the first District Coordinating Council in San Francisco, a clearing house for all organizations working in the interests of Youth.

In addition to his official capacities, Mr. Kimball is a member of the Board of Directors, Metropolitan Division of Boy's Work for the Y.M.C.A.; is a member of the Board of Stewards, Glide Memorial M. E. Church (South); and first president of the Northern California Drama Association for the Little Theater Movement.

Led American Olympic Hopes

Avery Brundage, III, B '09, President of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and Chairman of the American Olympic Committee for the 1936 Games.

AVERY BRUNDAGE, III, B '09, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and chairman of the American Olympic Committee, led the American entries for the 1936 games in Berlin when they sailed from New York and the Associated Press announced on July 17 that he had been selected as a member of the International Olympic Committee, representing the United States, to succeed the late General Charles E. Sherrill.

Mr. Brundage, who is a prominent building contractor of Chicago, led the fight for American participation in the Berlin games and after winning the fight was drafted for another term as president of the A.A.U., a place from which he had voluntarily retired in 1934 after service of six years.

Despite the financial difficulties which he had to face in raising the money to pay the expenses of America's athletes, he refused an offer of $100,000 from a breakfast food concern on the condition that its product would be included in the athletes' menu and advertising of this fact permitted.

"Though tempted to accept this means of solving most of the money worries," he said, "the committee rejected the offer on the ground that it would be unethical and set a precedent injurious to sport."

Bryan M. Grant, Jr., N.C. '33, the "Mighty Midget" of the Tennis Courts.

Great Year for "Bitsy"

NAMED as a member of the team to represent the United States in the matches for the Davis Cup, supreme world tennis trophy; going to the quarter finals of the All-England championship at Wimbledon, where he lost to Fred Perry, the final winner of the championship; and besting the best of the American players in various sectional tournaments during the spring, Bryan M. Grant, Jr., N.C. '33, proved to all tennis followers during 1936 that he is one of the world's masters of the court.

Although Grant was not given an opportunity to play against Australia in the North American zone finals at Philadelphia, his prestige did not suffer in consequence. In fact, many of the most competent critics felt that, if he had been called into action, the United States would have made a better showing. Grant had handled himself creditably in the matches against Mexico and was in excellent form.

Known variously as the "Atlanta Atom" and the "Mighty Midget," Grant in his 27th year still weighs only 128 pounds though he has gained seven pounds since last year when he rose to No. 3 in the rankings of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association. He won the Southern championship in 1927 and has held it eight times; was national clay courts champion in 1933, 1934, and again in 1935; and has been a serious contender for the United States championship whenever he has entered this contest. Karel Kozeluh, coach of the 1936 United States Davis Cup team, rates Grant as one of the best match tennis players in the world.

Cody Directs Florida Athletics

ONE ΣAE succeeded another in a tough spot when Joshua Crittenden ("Josh") Cody, Ky. I '15 and Tenn. N '17, accepted the position of head football coach at the University of Florida, succeeding Dennis K. ("Dutch") Stanley, Fla. Y '29, who for the last three years has been head of a staff of coaches, made up entirely of Florida alumni.

Cody was named as football coach in December, 1935, and on April 30, 1936, was appointed as director of athletics at Florida by the State Board of Control. At the same time it was announced that Stanley would be retained as director of physical education, head track coach and assistant football coach and that Andrew G. Pattillo, Fla. Y '27, would continue as assistant athletic director.

After one year at Bethel College where he was initiated into ΣAE by Kentucky Iota, Cody transferred to Vanderbilt University and affiliated with Tennessee Nu. He made a great record on the gridiron and was named as an all-time tackle. He entered the first officers training camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., in May, 1917, was commissioned as second lieutenant and later promoted to first lieutenant in the Motor Transport Corps with which he served until the close of the World War.

He became football coach at Mercer University in 1920, went to Vanderbilt as assistant football coach and coach of baseball and basketball in 1923, became head coach at Clemson College of South Carolina in 1927, and returned to Vanderbilt in 1931 as assistant athletic director and head line coach. His son, Ernest Cody, was recently initiated by Tennessee Nu.

Monthly Audit System at Oregon State

By Benjamin F. Schumacher, Oregon Alpha '22

A NEW program requiring a monthly audit of house books has been inaugurated at Oregon State College. Even though this administrative ruling has been in force less than one year, the results produced thus far warrant its continuation in the future.

The question quite naturally arises just what is this audit system and how did it all come about? For some time the thought has been prevalent that certain weaknesses in the fraternity method of operation needed correction. Carelessness in the handling of cash items; inaccuracy in making monthly charges and the giving of proper credit; inefficiency in the collection of house bills; and the permitting of large past due balances to accumulate (with willful dishonesty on the part of some house managers and treasurers) were some of the problems in need of satisfactory solution. With the decrease in registration, caused by the economic depression, the need for financial revision was given an added impetus.

About seven years ago one of the fraternities on the Oregon State campus became hopelessly involved financially. The majority of its members were not paying their board bills, resulting in the chapter's not being able to meet its obligations. The faculty adviser for this fraternity appealed to the Cooperative Managers Association (a business organization of the 41 fraternities and sororities on the campus) for aid. It was decided that the association would actually keep the books for this fraternity, submitting a monthly audit to the faculty adviser, as well as making out the monthly national reports. In less than two years, with the aid and advice given the managers, this organization had paid off more than $1400.00 in back debts and had completely reversed itself financially. Three more houses later on seeing the benefits to be derived from this monthly audit joined the ranks. These actions were all voluntary on the part of the fraternities and unsolicited by the Cooperative Managers Association.

For over two years a faculty committee had been trying to get the college administration to do something with reference to the increasing number of men in each fraternity owing large sums on back board bills. The idea was that, by withholding credits or by imposing some disciplinary measure on a student who permitted his board bill to run from one month to the next, an improvement in fraternity finances would be the outcome. After several meetings with fraternity representatives, the college put into operation in April, 1935, what is commonly known as the "monthly audit" and "forced collection" ruling. This measure in simple language provided for a monthly financial report from each fraternity and sorority, showing a list of members' accounts and balances owing at the end of each month. Before accepting these reports, however, the college insists on a competent audit of the same and where large balances appear that student is refused registration at the beginning of the next quarter.

To provide for the additional work that this actual bookkeeping and auditing necessitated, the Cooperative Managers Association enlarged its office space, increased its office equipment and hired a full time accountant. Conferences are arranged between the house manager or treasurer and the auditor. Details such as the time of bringing in the books, the number of reports required, the name of the faculty adviser and many other problems and questions are ironed out. Helpful and timely hints are given in matters of routine in correct bookkeeping procedure.

In order to facilitate the handling of information required by the college a uniform report was adopted. This report is divided into three main headings. First, there is a cash summary showing the receipts and disbursements, with the cash balance at the end of the month. Where the funds come from and where the cash goes is shown in detail. The second phase of the report indicates the monthly payroll to members for work, the amount of the accounts and notes payable and the monthly assessment for board and room. The number of members and pledges living in and eating in the house is also indicated. The third and most important part of the report is a copy of the accounts receivable ledger. Here is found every member's name with the balance owing at the beginning of the month, if any; the monthly charge; the total amount due; the amount paid during the month; and, finally, the balance owing at the end of the month. From the above it will be seen that the house manager, the faculty adviser and the dean of men's office at the college get a very clear picture as to the general progress of the chapter.

DECEMBER DEAD LINE

November 1 is the dead line for the December issue of THE RECORD and all material intended for use in that issue should be sent in well before that date. Photographs for use in the December issue must be received not later than October 15. All material for THE RECORD is judged primarily on its news value but, other things being equal, will be given priority in accordance with the date received. Articles and photographs should be addressed to Editor, THE RECORD of ΣAE, P.O. Box 425, Evanston, Ill.

Like all new things and changes of the old order, this ruling by the administration was not accepted without some opposition. Some felt that the administration was acting outside of its field in asking for these monthly reports; others felt sure that the fraternity secrets would be exposed; and still others bemoaned the added cost this auditing would entail. Suffice to say, these fears were mainly imaginary and those who raised their voices the loudest in protest are now the most enthusiastic in support. With a nominal cost of $1.50 to $3.00 per month for an audit and with a monthly charge ranging from $4.00 to $6.00 maximum for the actual bookkeeping and audit, is it any wonder that the Cooperative Managers Association is now doing the work almost 100 per cent?

Speaking as financial adviser for Oregon Alpha, the writer can unhesitatingly say that our chapter is now having one of the best years in its history. No one will question that with the disappearance of financial difficulties, other chapter troubles and problems no longer exist or bother. To be more specific, the report turned in by Oregon Alpha as of December 31, 1935, in which 54 men out of 55 charged, had paid in full before leaving for the Christmas holidays, has no equal at this chapter. With all due respect to our present efficient E. T. and our hard working manager, the knowledge that board bills had to be paid in full before registration in college would be permitted, was an important factor in the fine showing made.

A receipt from the house manager must be presented to the dean of men's office, showing that the balance reported owing at the end of the quarter has been paid in full, before permission to register for the new term is granted. In this way the possibility of accumulating large unpaid balances is eliminated. Learning to take care of one's financial obligations while going to college will not only reflect credit on the individual, but will also strengthen and promote the welfare of the fraternity in the years to come.

Five years later he was elected district attorney and in May, 1915, was appointed judge of the Court of Common Pleas of that county. Great regret was felt in Los Angeles over the decision of Judge William M. He has been president of the board since its organization. While feeling that, in justice to himself and his family, he should relinquish some of the civic work he has been doing, Judge Bowen will continue as president of the Sixth District Agricultural Association which supervises the management of Exposition Park and the State Building at Los Angeles. In the latter capacity, Judge Bowen presided at the dedication of the Redwood Empire diorama at Exposition Park on April 17, 1936.

Rev. Ivan Lee Holt, D.D., Tenn. N '04, pastor of St. John's church of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in St. Louis, Mo., and president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, attracted wide attention by his proposal before the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Columbus, Ohio, on May 5, 1936, that the proposed union of the northern and southern branches of the Methodist Church be followed by a movement for a still larger Protestant union. He expressed the thought that beyond a united Protestantism there may come a united Christendom.

A Banker's Fraternity Confession

By Harry S. Bunting, Tennessee Zeta '91

MARVIN E. HOLDERNESS, Tenn. N '02, vice-president of the First National Bank of St. Louis and Past Eminent Supreme Archon of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, recently wrote to a friend this confession of his infatuation for Minerva:

I am not given to over-sentimentalism, but it is true that I feel a greater attachment for  $\Sigma$  A E than I can ever explain.

It would be impossible for me to voice my affection for the Fraternity. Tennessee Nu Chapter comes closer to my heart than I can express, for that chapter was not only brother to me, but also father, mother and friend at the most critical period of my life.

From that chapter have flowed well-springs of friendships and happiness that have attended me and comforted me all through the graying years.

$\Sigma$  A E has given me the dearest friends of my life; so why should I not be grateful for so much help and happiness received from our brotherhood?

No man could get that amount of pleasure out of his fraternity unless he had loved it ardently, had worked for it faithfully and fruitfully. Marvin Holderness was not only a devoted servitor of his chapter all the time he was in college, but was also a useful, efficient province official, and later an active member of the Su-

He was also elected a director of the company and a member of its finance committee. After seventeen years in the office equipment industry, Mr. Stowell was considered the ideal man to act as managing director of Underwood Elliott Fisher.

come absorbing and arduous. Yet he answered that call, too, and proved derelict in nothing in the performance of his duties, and in furnishing a high order of leadership to the Fraternity.

In the course of his long period of active service, Marvin Holderness held successively nearly every chapter, province and national office of  $\Sigma$  A E, and his retirement to the ranks has not dimmed the measure of his interest in the activities of those who are currently carrying on the Fraternity's affairs.

The collegian who would derive pleasure and profit from his fraternal ties, could well tear a leaf from the book of Marvin Holderness' experience. The oft-repeated proverb still holds true. To get the maximum joy and satisfaction from fraternity associations, one must put something of himself into the brotherhood. He must give while getting. If he never turns his hand over to do anything for his chapter or for the national organization, if he never makes any sacrifices for the fraternity's betterment, how can he hope that it will mean very much to him?

Verily, where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. And treasure here means not only the dues paid into the fraternity, but the work and the sacrifice expended to carry the chapter along and to keep it at the front.

Memorial Candle-Sticks for Auburn

HONORING the late Gordon Houston Jones, Ala. A-M '01, a pair of handsome solid brass altar candle-sticks, were presented to Alabama Alpha-Mu at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala., by his brother, Judge Walter B. Jones, Ala. A-M '10, Past Eminent Supreme Archon, at the chapter meeting held on February 5, 1936, the presentation being made in person.

Gordon H. Jones was a son of the late Governor and Mrs. Thomas Goode Jones, of Alabama, and was initiated into Sigma Alpha Epsilon by Alabama Alpha-Mu in September, 1898, when he was eighteen years of age. After leaving college he engaged in business at St. Louis and Lockhart, Ala., dying at Montgomery in 1911.

In THE RECORD for September, 1911, this tribute was paid him:

His kindness of heart, his loyalty and devotion to his friends, and his appealing address drew about him a large circle of friends who mourn his untimely demise. No one could know Gordon Jones and fail to love him. His cheerful disposition, his generosity and charitableness for the frailties of others, and willingness to go to any inconvenience or sacrifice if thereby he might aid his friends attached his friends to him by a strong bond of friendship.

The memorial candle-sticks were placed on the altar of the chapter, and accepted for the fraternity by Wm. W. McTyeire, E. A. Charles V. Ingram, Ala. A-M '26, adviser to the chapter, spoke briefly in memory of the departed brother.

Oklahoma Fraternities Declared Tax-Free

A PROBLEM which has been harassing fraternities from time to time has been definitely solved by one of the recent decisions of the Supreme Court of Oklahoma, handed down in December of 1935. In the spring of 1935, all fraternity houses on the campus were assessed for taxes for the first time. On the refusal of the fraternities to pay the assessed taxes, the County Attorney for Cleveland County with the assistance of two tax ferrets, Gorrall and Asher, brought suit against three of the fraternities as the basis for a test case. The Inter-Fraternity Council hired Brother Coleman Hayes and Brother Fisher Ames to handle the case for the fraternities. The trial case was conducted before Judge Pendleton, local county judge, who handed down a decision adverse to the fraternities.

The case was then appealed to the Oklahoma Supreme Court where it was finally disposed of last December. The highest tribunal in handing down its decision declared that fraternities were tax-free under that provision of the Oklahoma statutes which exempts all charitable institutions from tax assessments.

A decision to the contrary would have eventually put fraternities out of existence on this campus, due to the increased financial burden. Thus many thanks are due, not only from this chapter but from other fraternities and sororities as well, to Brothers Ames and Hayes for their defense of the fraternities in this suit. We only hope that this has finally cleared up this problem and nothing more will be said about it.—The  $\Sigma$ AE Dope Sheet of Oklahoma Kappa

EDITORIAL

He Stood Like Saul MANY times in the councils of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the late George D. Kimball has been likened to one of the tall pine trees of his native State of Maine. In truth, he stood like Saul among his brethren physically and the comparison could be as aptly applied whenever a moral question was at issue. No one ever had any doubt as to the stand George Kimball would take. His sound counsel has been of inestimable value to ΣAE and, in his passing, the Fraternity has lost one of its stalwart and most beloved leaders.

Scholars Succeed AS PART of a feature article, entitled "Sorry But You're Wrong About It," in its February, 1936, issue, the Reader's Digest carried the following which should be of especial interest to college men:

Dr. Hugh A. Smith of the University of Wisconsin recently engaged in a two-year research, studying the records of 1800 graduates who had been out in life from 15 to 45 years to find out just how the good, bad and mediocre students in this list had really turned out. His findings knock into a cocked hat the notion that the brilliant student in college is likely to fail in practical life. In fact the agreement between the lists of those who had succeeded in college and those who later achieved worldly success was almost unbelievable. As Professor Smith says: "If a man was high in one list, he was almost invariably high in the other; and if low in one, low in the other." But the most striking development from the study came when, from the list of 1800, a separate list was made up of the 97 who were considered "the most worthy, successful or eminent." Another list was made up of the 93 who had the highest grades. The astonishing thing is that these two lists contained 87 names in common! From these and other studies, it is evident that the man with high college achievements has statistically a much greater chance of achieving business or professional success than has the mediocre or dull student.

Athletic Subsidies WHATEVER may be said of the ethics or advisability of subsidizing college athletics, there is no justification for the pressure frequently put on fraternity chapters to provide room and board for prospective stars in football and other fields of sport, no matter from what source the pressure may come. One chapter of ΣAE reports as one of its major problems: "requests from alumni that we support athletes." If alumni whose chief enthusiasm is for the athletic prowess of their alma maters wish to recruit impecunious high school students with athletic reputations, they should arrange to pay their expenses out of their own pockets and not pass this responsibility on to the parents of the boys making up the fraternity chapters on which they seek to impose such candidates. Very few college students have independent incomes and the expenses of running fraternity houses are necessarily paid by remittances from their parents.

If certain men are subsidized, there is no escape from the result that their expenses are in reality being paid by the fathers and mothers of the boys in the chapter which is permitting itself to be bamboozled in this manner. Active men should give careful consideration to this before giving in to requests that they undertake to help the athletic prospects of their school by the subsidizing process.

The financial question entirely aside, it is rare indeed that the presence of such men in a fraternity house adds anything to its prestige, athletically or otherwise. The parents of many of them are fully as able to pay their way through college as are the parents of bona fide students but are entirely willing to permit them to work their way on their reputations as athletes which are seldom found justified.

For the real college student and loyal fraternity member who achieves athletic distinction every fraternity chapter is grateful and such a man will be given all possible help, if he really needs it, but athletic ability should be the last instead of the first consideration and proved before it is given any consideration at all.

Make Possible The Impossible AS PART of a long-time plan to develop Emory into one of the nation's outstanding universities, the Alumni Association of Emory University has incorporated into its program these words: "Patience, Perseverance, Common Sense and Time Make the Impossible Possible." This motto may well be adopted by chapters collegiate and house corporations which are endeavoring to provide new houses or struggling with the financial problems resulting from ambitious house programs undertaken under economic conditions different from the present. Such problems can be worked out if all concerned will keep their shoulders to the wheel and keep on keeping on.

Send Names of Rushees TO REMIND alumni to send the names of desirable freshmen to the chapters of ΣAE located at the institutions they will enter and to make it easy to compile and forward the necessary information, a form for this purpose is printed on the back cover of this issue as was done last year and it is hoped that alumni will again make liberal use of it.

All the chapters are glad to get information about men entering their schools and will appreciate the assistance of alumni who supply it to them. It is not necessary that you know any one in the chapter concerned. A letter to the Rushing Captain and forwarded to the address shown for the chapter in the directory printed in this issue will fall into the proper hands for attention. Remember that promptness is most important as the chapter which meets a freshman first has a great advantage over those that meet him later.

If for any reason, an alumnus wishes to recommend a man but prefers not to write the chapter direct, the Eminent Supreme Recorder will be glad to relay any recommendations sent to him at P.O. Box 425, Evans-ton, Ill.

—Φ Α—

New Members To Get Cards EVERY member of a Chapter Collegiate who leaves his chapter in good standing automatically becomes a member of the Chapter National of ΣAE and a card showing him as such will be sent to him as soon as the National Office is advised that he is no longer a student and the address at which he can be reached is furnished either by the chapter or the new alumnus himself.

Not for Sale Was His Name REV. SAMUEL B. MCGLOHON, one of the charter members of Tennessee Omega at the University of the South, now rector of an Episcopal church in Savannah, Ga., recently related the following incident, as illustrating the Sewanee spirit and high ideals.

"General Edmund Kirby-Smith, the distinguished Confederate chieftain, who was one of the founders of Tennessee Omega, was professor of mathematics at Sewanee and drawing a salary of approximately $1,500 a year when the University could pay its salaries in full. He was called to New Orleans to attend the funeral of General Beauregard and while there was offered the place of commissioner of the Louisiana Lottery at a salary of $40,000 per year. His answer was 'I have never put a price on my name and never shall. Your offer is declined.'"

By John O. Moseley, Eminent Supreme Archon

DEAR BROTHERS:

There is one question which goes straight to the heart of the Fraternity system. It is one question which cannot be ignored. The answer to it settles without further argument whether the individual, the chapter, or the national organization making the answer is aware of and on the side of the only feature of the Greek-letter fraternity which can guarantee its permanence as a useful adjunct of college life and its harmony with the enduring traits of our so-called Western civilization. The question is, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

This question was first asked by the first son of the first man. By a rhetorical evasion he was seeking to justify a dastardly deed committed against his brother. By sacrifice and ritualistic propitiation he thought his account could be cleared. But the same small still voice which is resounding now in the hearts of men more clearly than ever before asking, "Where is Abel, thy brother?" convicted him of his responsibility.

This is a day of awakened conscience regarding social responsibility. Perhaps nations like individuals have periods of remorse following instances of gross inhumanity. No wonder every institution is being checked and double-checked under the glare of pitiless publicity and the college fraternity which seemingly was so comfortably safe must now come forward and prove its worth.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon has conceived in the thought of self-improvement and progress. Noble Leslie De Votie committed his fraternity to the noblest impulses of occidental man—the projecting of the pattern and improvement of the type. Our ritual is shot through with the ideal of mutual aid to a common goal. Friendship is the bond which binds us together and this bond is forged by the cultivation in ourselves and in one another of certain qualities which make for the most intimate and lasting friendship. Therefore, there is no quibbling about our answer to the question, "Am I my brother's keeper?" The next issue to be settled is, "What are we doing about it?"

At the next Leadership School to be held in Evanston during the last week in August, the theme study will be Freshman Training. In preparing for that program a questionnaire containing fifty-five studies was submitted to the chapters. Ninety-four chapters replied, and a complete analysis of their findings has been made. By the time this article appears in the September RECORD it will have been submitted in full to the chapter representatives at the Leadership School. However, a few of the findings such as may be included in an article of this length will be of general interest to the Fraternity.

One of the most vital questions of the study is the matter of pledge fatalities. Among the ninety-four reporting chapters there were almost 1000 men pledged during the school year, 1935-36, who had not been initiated up to the time of the submission of the report. In the case of most chapters, the above date averages around May 1, 1936. This means that with the exception of a few men initiated late in the school year practically all of the above mentioned 1000 pledges are genuine casualties. This indicates injudicious, unwise, and unprepared rushing on the part of most of our chapters. The above statistical tables, arranged by province and by chapters, will be presented with detail and emphasis at the first afternoon conference of the school. By far the greatest causes for failure to initiate were finances and grades, the former accounting for 254 of these pledges, and the latter for 238. The following reasons were advanced most frequently to account for the failures of the remaining pledges: parental objection, pledge broken by chapter, illness, pledge continued by chapter, and left school for a variety of reasons. Around 150 of these pledges were eligible for initiation at the time of the report.

It is very interesting that 91 chapters reported that they do try to secure desirable men after the regular pledging date (although many without success), and only three chapters admitted that they do not. The most challenging fact brought out by this section of the report is that a far greater percentage of the men pledged after the regular pledging date qualified for initiation than those pledged during the so-called rushing season.

It was a pleasure to find that most of the chapters conform to standard practices regarding the use of pledge pins, the time of their bestowal, and the formal pledging ceremony. Twenty-seven chapters reported that they employ no pledging ceremony whatsoever, and of those who do have a formal ceremony some use the pledge ritual in a modified form.

The matter of Freshman Training, the time, place, and manner of holding the regular chapter meeting and pledge meeting are important. Sixty-two of the reporting chapters meet on Monday night, the others voting for the remaining days of the week, including three chapters which meet on Sunday. The chapters averaged about two regular meetings each called off for various reasons during the year 1935-36, and if this is accurately reported, it is a good record. Most pledge meetings are attended by one or two especially designated initiated men, or by the Upper Council, or by the officers of the chapter, although 15 chapters reported that all initiated men attended their pledge meetings and seven chapters reported that no initiated men attend their pledge meetings. Their pledge meetings are usually held on the same night as the regular chapter meetings, but in a different place and are conducted for the most part by the pledge master. Practically all of the pledge classes are organized, their officers being known by various titles, some comic.

The most distressing fact brought out by these questionnaires is the scarcity of alumni work with the pledge class. Forty-five chapters reported that at no time during the year did an alumnus talk to their pledges, meeting as a group, while the other chapters had only two or three such opportunities, one chapter in Province Zeta and one chapter in Province Iota reporting as a maximum six meetings of the pledges with the alumnus adviser. By far the greatest number of talks made to the freshmen were concerning the Fraternity, personal conduct, and grades. The questionnaires indicate beyond a doubt that such training as the freshmen are receiving is given by active chapter men, and even that is very casual and informal. Only 17 chapters report a visit from a member of the faculty to their pledge group.

We come now to the type of Freshman Training which seems to arouse most enthusiasm generally, especially in the hands of the sophomore. Eighty-seven chapters report that they require manual labor around the house as a part of the pledge service, and I believe that this is a good thing for it develops the habit of fraternity work and loyalty. However, I do believe that the chapters do not plan and execute this work as efficiently as they might do so, for 45 chapters admitted that they assigned pledge duties as the need arises, and many chapters do not have a special officer entrusted with these details. More than half of the reporting chapters admitted that they permitted initiated men to require personal service, such as the running of errands, from the pledges. This is a nefarious practice and should be stamped out at once. No individual or chapter can ever hope to command the loyalty of a freshman so treated. Fagging is a worn-out and passé feature of a past generation of college and fraternity life. Evidently the chapters are doing a good job in teaching the fraternity history for most chapters consider that their pledges could pass a fair examination conducted by a member of the Supreme Council.

One of the catch questions in the questionnaire was the report of the percentage of active chapter men whose attitude toward the pledges is "Do as I say, not as I do." It appears that hardly any of our chapters are without a few of these brothers whose mode of teaching is by precept rather than example.

In this article I am not going to go into great detail regarding the status of Hell Week. Suffice it to say that the question is still with us, but progress is being made. Most chapters report a modified form of Hell Week, and I truly believe that considerable advance has been made since the last Leadership School. The most alarming disclosure in the questionnaire on this point and on the general subject of paddling is that some chapters still allow sophomores to swing the paddle. This practice is subversive of every good principle of pledge training and thwarts every good motive of the sane leadership of the fraternity, to say nothing of creating in our chapters a bunch of bullies who represent the perpetual adolescents in our national membership. Those chapters which reported no very definite system of penalties for failure to perform pledge duties and said that the number of licks with the paddle more or less depended upon the mood of the occasion I suspect are the ones which permit sophomore beating.

To bring this rather long article to a close, the majority of the chapters seem to place special emphasis in Freshman Training on hospitality, ΣAE history, intramural athletics, grades, and finances. However, it is encouraging to note that many chapters are stressing such abstract qualities as democracy, tolerance, temperance, sportsmanship, self-respect, and even appreciation of good music, good pictures, and good books.

Let us not forget the slow and tortuous path of mankind. Many of our chapters are still in the barbaric age; some of them have glimpsed the light of a better day; and a few are definitely headed in the right direction. A thousand commencement orators next spring, as last, will shout that our generation is living in a heaven of science but in total darkness as regards the humanities. May our ΣAE, founded on a brotherly love which does admit a responsibility to the younger brother, meet this age old but very real and modern challenge to the social order.

Present Day Fraternity Costs

PACKED with valuable statistics was the survey of fraternities, prepared by Harold Jacobsen, executive secretary of Sigma Pi, which he presented before the College Fraternity Secretaries Association at its meeting in New York on November 27, 1935. Not only does the report give a numerical picture of the 65 fraternities that compose the National Interfraternity Conference, but it reveals how widely different financial procedure is among them.

The 65 fraternities have a total of 2,541 chapters. The total number of men initiated a year by the 44 fraternities reporting on that point total 21,225, an average of 10 to a chapter each year. Sixty fraternities have initiated a total of 748,475, of whom 535,852 are reported as living members by 45 fraternities. A total of 1,769 houses are owned by 62 fraternities. Only 36 of the 62 report on the estimated valuation of chapter houses; these give $40,262,299 as the total for 1,182 houses.

Costs vary greatly, that fact being brought out even in regard to badges, which range from $2.50 to $22. Membership shingles cost from 50 cents to $3, magazine subscriptions from $1 to $9; life subscriptions to magazines from $10 to $45; general endowment memberships $2.50 to $25; song-books, $1 to $2; directories, 50c to $3; and pledge manuals from 25c to $1.50.

National initiation fees range from $1 to $55, and as might be expected these fees include varying items, such as endowment memberships, life subscriptions, undergraduate dues, pledge manuals, badges, and other items. For instance the $55 fee includes an $11 badge, a shingle, magazine subscription and active dues for four years. Fifteen dollars goes into a general endowment fund and $18 is used for general and administrative expenses. Another fraternity collects $40 and furnishes the initiate a $5 badge, a shingle, and a life subscription to its magazine. It uses $20 for general and administrative expense and puts $5 in a general endowment fund. The combinations are almost as many as the fraternities, indicating that the amount of the fee means little unless one knows what it covers.

The survey shows a steady advance in the number of fraternities that include a life subscription in the national initiation fee, the total being 15, while eight others send the magazine to the initiate without charge. Others offer life subscriptions on an optional basis.

Active or per capita yearly dues range from none to $15, but again the amount means little unless it is known what is given the member and the relationship of the dues to the national initiation fee he has paid. Some yearly dues include a subscription to the magazine, convention assessment, or perhaps an endowment payment. In at least six cases the national initiation fee is large enough to make yearly dues unnecessary.

Out of 46 fraternities reporting, 29 hold biennial conventions, 16 annual, and one triennial. December is the most popular month for conventions, 15 being held at holiday time; 9 prefer September, 8 August, 5 June, and 1 May, while 5 say summer, and one, fall.

The fraternities find many ways to handle the convention costs, including special assessments, registration fees, and provision in the national budget. The custom of equalizing the expenses of chapter delegates is somewhat general.

E.S.A. Now LL.D.

AUSTIN College of Sherman, Tex., conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws on John O. Moseley, Eminent Supreme Archon of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, on June 1, 1936, following his delivery of the commencement address to the graduating class. Dr. Moseley was graduated from Austin College with the A.B. degree in 1912 prior to his attending the University of Oklahoma where he became a member of ΣAE. The citation read as follows:

John Oleyer Moseley—Child of the manse; worthy alumnus of Austin College in the Class of 1912, Master of Arts from the University of Oklahoma; college professor of scholarship and distinction; national leader in college fraternity life; president of the oldest teachers college in his state; teacher of teachers; guider of youth and leader of men—Doctor of Laws.

Two distinguished alumni of the University of North Carolina and of ΣAE, Judge Michael Schenck, N.C. Ξ '97, of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, and Robert D. W. Connor, N.C. Ξ '99, Archivist of the United States, were given the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws by their alma mater in the 1936 commencement.

Vital Statistics

Expansion—recent charter grants or chapter installations have been: ΣΦΕ, Utah State College; ΒΚ, Fresno State College, Fresno Calif.; ΤΕΦ, University of Virginia; ΣΑΜ, Mississippi State College; ΦΜΔ, New York University. Honorary: ΟΔΚ, Westminster College, University of Georgia, University of Mississippi. Sororities: ΔΓ, American University, Washington, D.C.; ΧΩ, Mississippi State College.

Contraction—ΠΚΦ, Tulane and University of the South.

Political Forecast?

The Phi Gamma Delta proudly announces "that no Fiji (member of ΦΓΔ) who has been nominated for president or vice president of the United States has been defeated in the general election—except by another Fiji." Gov. Alf M. Landon, Republican candidate for president is a member of ΦΓΔ. Neither Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Garner, Democratic candidates, belong to that fraternity. Will the above paragraph be true on Nov. 4, 1936?

Denial

ΦΙΠ states in its Quarterly that "at no time has it thought of losing its identity through any merger and no merger is now contemplated nor will there be any merger with any group which will cause our name to disappear."

Item—Loyalty

The Washington University chapter of ΚΣ, having abandoned its house as an economy measure, now occupies two suites of rooms in one of the dormitories. With commendable self-sacrifice and loyalty the twelve members earn the money to pay for them by reading to two blind students, who thus learn their lessons, $500 per year being paid by the government for this service.

Directory Argument

ΣΧ claims its new membership directory of 1136 pages to be the largest publication of its kind to be issued to date, disputing ΚΣ's claim of largest for its 900 page directory. Of the 37,558 ΣΧs initiated, all but 400 were located. Back in 1929 ΣΑΕ issued a directory of 982 pages.

In the Swim

Mooring their canoe to the rail of the first floor stairway, three members of the Bucknell chapter of ΚΣ went upstairs to bed one night in April, content in the knowledge that they had done more than one good deed that day. They had rescued many unfortunate and marooned victims of the flood that had swept the neighborhood. The three feet of water in the first floor of their chapter house ruined several pieces of furniture that had been too heavy to move, and enabled them to paddle right up stairs (almost).

Gave Wrong Grip?

Frank Morgan, eminent actor, working in The Dancing Pirate, recently showed up on the Pickford-Lasky set at United Artists, where One Rainy Afternoon was being shot. I greeted him and, in course of the conversation, said I understood he was a fellow Phi Gam.

He smiled cordially and said: "Glad to hear it."

GREEK WORLD NEWS

Edited by Charles H. Barker,
Archon, Province Mu

Then on second thought, he corrected himself.

"No, no," Morgan continued, "I'm a Chi Psi. My brother Ralph is a Phi Gam. Somehow I always get the two mixed."—The Phi Gamma Delta.

Swing

Music for the world is provided by orchestras and bands conducted by fraternity men. Rudy Vallee, Herbie Kay, Arlie Simmons, Tommy Tucker, all ΣΑΕs, head the list of: Glen Gray, ΤΚΕ; Ted Weems, ΔΣΦ; Hal Kemp, ΔΣΦ; Jan Garber, ΔΣΦ; Fred Waring, ΑΧΡ; Don Kaye, ΑΤΩ; Horace Heidt, ΒΘΠ; George Olson, ΦΚΣ; Tom Coakley, ΦΚΨ; Jimmie Grier, ΣΦΕ; Buddy Rogers, ΦΚΨ; Kay Kyser, ΣΝ.

Rushing

"is salesmanship in its most vigorous form. Here in our ever-present campaign for new members, we enter a field of competition that becomes keener with each year!"—The Alpha Gamma Delta Quarterly

... Salesmanship

No matter what job or position you secure after leaving college YOU MUST BE A SALESMAN. You must first be able to SELL YOURSELF. A man who cannot sell himself will always be hampered to a great extent; he will find his progress blocked, and success a distant goal. The lawyer must sell himself to a jury; once he has established their confidence in him he has gone a long way towards the successful conclusion of his case. The doctor must sell himself to his patients if he is to inspire confidence. The engineer must sell the idea that he is the man for the job, that he has the knowledge, ability, and courage to carry the job to a finish. And thus it goes through the professional and trade ranks of life today.—The Emerald of ΣΠ

... And the Product

During the depression too many fraternities have been selling a house bill instead of selling their organization. It is an axiom in the commercial world that if your product is good enough and the salesman makes the prospect want it bad enough, the price will not prevent a sale. Investigation has disclosed that the same principles hold true in the fraternity world. Instead of selling their fraternity and making the ru-ee want to join, too many chapters have been holding out inducements and practically begging rushees to join.—The Fraternity Month.

Greeks on Supreme Court

Eight of the nine men who recently struck a note that will be reverberating for some time to come, when they declared the New Deal unconstitutional, are members of Greek-letter fraternities. Chief among the justices of the Supreme Court, Charles Evans Hughes is a member of ΔΤ. Willis Van Devanter, one of the oldest of the associate justices, belongs to ΒΘΠ. Sutherland and McReynolds, next in years of service, are members of ΦΔΦ and ΦΔΘ, respectively. Harlan Stone is a member of ΑΔΦ, and Pierce Butler wears the badge of ΦΚΨ. Roberts claims ΦΨ as his society, and Cardozo, the youngster of the bench, is a member of ΖΒΤ. Brandeis, the renowned liberal of the Court, is the only member who does not belong to a fraternity.—The Triad of Acacia.

Note: Justice Van Devanter belongs both to ΒΘΠ and ΣΧ, he having recently been re-instated in the latter after being expelled many years ago for joining the former.

Stand Outs

ΑΓΔ undergraduate chapters voting on the three outstanding, living women of America chose Amelia Earhart, first; Frances Perkins, second; Ruth Bryan Owen, Anne Morrow Lindbergh, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt tied for third; and Martha Berry and Carrie Chapman Catt tied for fourth. Others receiving votes were Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Katherine Cornell, Helen Wills Moody, Margaret Sanger, Helen Keller, Willa Cather, Grace Coolidge, Grace Moore, Peal Buck and Mignon G. Eberhart.—Alpha Gamma Delta Quarterly.

In Political Spotlight

On the following fraternity members will fall the attention of the world in the forth-coming political campaign, (and from them will come much of the oratory): Franklin D. Roosevelt, ΑΔΦ, President of the United States and Democratic candidate for re-election; Alf M. Landon ΦΓΔ, Governor of Kansas and Republican candidate; William E. Borah, ΒΘΠ, U. S. Senator from Idaho; Byron (Pat) Harrison, ΣΑΕ, U. S. Senator from Mississippi; Richard B. Russell, Jr., ΣΑΕ, U. S. Senator from Georgia; Eugene Talmadge, ΣΝ, Governor of Georgia; Harold L. Ickes, ΦΔΘ, Secretary of Interior; Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell, ΔΥ, Under-secretary of Agriculture; Key Pittman, ΣΑΕ, U. S. Senator from Nevada; Albert B. Chandler, ΠΚΑ, Governor of Kentucky; Thomas T. Connally, ΦΔΘ, U. S. Senator from Texas; James V. Allred, ΑΧΑ, Governor of Texas.

Miscellanea

The two rival candidates for governor of Nebraska are both members of ΑΤΩ. . . . ΚΣ has recorded the voice of its last surviving founder. The speech was originally intended for distribution only after his death, but plans are being made to give his words to the fraternity next fall. . . . The son of one of the founders of ΦΚΤ is president of the Miami chapter, the first chapter of ΦΚΤ. . . . ΣΝ has completed a sound moving picture entitled "The Trail of the White Star." It records the history of ΣΝ, its present strength, and its prominent members. Running throughout is the theme song "White Star of ΣΝ" played on the organ by a member. . . . "Sixty Years a Magazine" is the theme of the June 1936 issue of The Scroll of ΦΔΘ, and most of the issue contains excerpts from former issues, reproductions of other-day covers, and photographs of the editors. . . . ΘΞ mourns the death of its oldest living member, who was initiated in 1875, and ΠΚΑ its first initiate, who was initiated in 1868, two months after its founding. . . . The Trident of ΔΔΔ publishes a poem by Thomas C. Law, ΣΑΕ, Ohio T '13, dedicated to Tri Delt. Mr. Law has great interest in the sorority because of six relatives who are members. . . .

Delegate to Olympics

James William Barton, Wash. B '35 and Wash. A '36, who majored in physical education at the University of Washington, was one of the 27 delegates selected by the American Olympic committee from physical education students at American universities to attend the International Sports Congress, held at Berlin, Germany, in connection with the 1936 Olympic games. He was a visitor at the Levere Memorial Temple on July 5, 1936, while on his way to New York from which he sailed with the American Olympic team.

Pittsburgh Sending Station

Charles C. Miller, Pa. X-O '38, who owns and operates station W8JSU in the ΣAE chapter house at the University of Pittsburgh, thought he was the only ΣAE operating an amateur radio station from a chapter house until he saw the article about William Vandermay, Wash. A '37, operator of short wave station W7DET, in the chapter house at the University of Washington, which appeared in the March, 1936, issue of THE RECORD. As the result of this article, Miller and Vandermay struck up quite a friendship and intend to keep in touch with one another through transcontinental conversation via the ether route. Otto Herbst, Jr., Pa. X-O '37, operator of station W8KD, also does his share of sending from the Pittsburgh house.

Calif. Alpha Buys House

California Alpha at Leland Stanford University became the ninetieth chapter of ΣAE to own its own house during the spring of 1936 when negotiations were completed with the University under which the chapter purchased the house at 521 Lasuen Ave. which it has occupied for a number of years. Extensive improvements will be made on the house which is a handsome and liveable structure and is ideally located.

Tablet for First House

With formal exercises Tennessee Omega at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., unveiled on the afternoon of Sunday, June 7, 1936, a tablet which had been presented to it by the Supreme Council in recognition of its position as the first chapter in the Fraternity to be the owner of its own house. The inscription on the tablet reads as follows:

Seyl Outstanding Graduate

Frank Lydston Seyl, Ill. Ψ-Ω '36, in his four years at Northwestern University earned membership in Sextant, Lynx, and Deru; was on the Sophomore Social committee, Junior Class committee, Senior Class Commission, Student Governing Board, and Waa-Mu Board of Governors; worked on Syllabus and Purple Parrot; served as battalion commander of the Naval R.O.T.C., president of Sextant, and co-chairman of the 1936 Waa-Mu show, and acted as E.C. and E.T. (two years) in the active chapter.

St. John's Honor Student

Joseph Burnham Gray, Md. P-Δ '36, distinguished himself at St. John's by receiving the Governor's medal for the highest four-year average in his class, the Woodcock Cup for excellence in chemistry, and the Keene Cup for mathematics, being on the Board of Visitors and in intramural and Collegian work, and being one of only two initiates of ΔΚΦ. He was graduated Magna Cum Laude last spring, and expects to enter the Graduate School of Medicine at Johns Hopkins this fall.

ΣAE Golfer Gets "Dodo"

Dillon Turney, Iowa Γ '37, joined the mythical "Dodo" club during the 1935 Big Six Conference golf match between Iowa State and Nebraska at the Wakanda Country Club in Des Moines, Iowa, when he sunk his tee shot on the 110-yard second hole. Despite the brilliant performance by the ΣAE golfer, the Nebraska team took the match.

Ran in Parallel Lines

Albert Oscar Bard, Ill. B '36, and Harry Carleton ("Bud") Lewis, Ill. Δ '36, eminent archons of their respective chapters in the spring term of 1936, seem destined to run in parallel lines through life. They first became friends while attending the same grade school in Chicago and were graduated together from Hyde Park high school where they were members of the same high school fraternity. In the fall of 1932, Bard entered the University of Illinois and Lewis entered James Millikin University and both were promptly pledged to ΣAE. Each took a prominent part in the affairs of his chapter and was elevated to its highest office in his senior year.

Harold James Kirkstadt, Ohio P '32, is now connected with the personnel department of the Cleveland Graphic Bronze Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, and has had his name legally changed from Kikstadt to Kirkstadt.

Colonel Oswald W. McNeese, La. E '03, who has long been prominent in the affairs of the Louisiana National Guard, has completed a four-year assignment with the War Department in Washington, D.C. and is located temporarily in Opelousas, La.

Gerald Wm. Shaw, Ohio T '29, is now city manager of Big Stone Gap, Va.

Besser-Lindsey Awards

In 1924, Edwin E. Besser, Ill. Ψ-Ω, and J. Francis Lindsey, Ind. Γ, conceived and presented to Sigma Alpha Epsilon the Award bearing their name. It consisted of five hundred beautiful medals, handsomely engraved with suitable inscriptions, to be awarded at the fulfillment of the conditions to a senior in any chapter. The donors were interested solely in promoting leadership in the three great phases of college life—scholarship, fraternity, and athletics. This award is one of the great honors that may come to a member of the fraternity during his four years of college life.

Only one senior per year in each chapter is eligible for the award. There are three credentials necessary before the committee can pass upon the qualifications of any given candidate:

(1) A statement from the athletic department of the college or university to the effect that the candidate has received two major letters in any given sport.

(2) A statement from the registrar or corresponding officer of the college or university to the effect that the candidate has averaged 80 or thereabouts in scholarship during his college career.

(3) A statement from the chapter to the effect that the candidate has held office in the chapter or has been an outstanding man on the campus and in the chapter.

All applications for the Besser-Lindsey Award should be sent to Sigma Alpha Epsilon, P.O. Box 425, Evanston, Ill. The three statements listed above should accompany all applications for the Award, together with the name, school, chapter, and class year of the candidate.

A complete list of the men to whom this award had been given up to July, 1933, was carried on Page 105 of THE RECORD for September, 1933. Since that date to June 30, 1936 it has been given to the following:
