Vice-Admiral John H. Towers, Ga. Φ '06, New Air Force Commander of the Pacific Fleet, Holds What Is Regarded "The Most Important Air Command Afloat in the Navy."

Towers Heads Pacific Air Command

JOHAN H. TOWERS, Ga. Φ '06, Honorary Eminent Supreme Archon of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the Rome, Ga., boy who was one of the first flying officers of the U. S. Navy and commanded the expedition which in May, 1919, made the first crossing of the Atlantic ocean by air, now holds the rank of Vice Admiral and the post of Commander of the Air Force of the Pacific Fleet which has been called "the most important air command afloat in the Navy."

Chief of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics since June 1, 1939, he was given the permanent rank of Rear Admiral December 13, 1939. His assignment to command of the air in the Pacific came September 15, 1942, and he was confirmed as Vice Admiral October 8.

Admiral Towers' promotion and assignment to the Pacific command were considered further evidence of the growing recognition of the importance of aviation in naval warfare. In the battles of the Coral Sea and Midway all offensive action was handled by the aircraft of the American and Japanese fleets; the surface vessels did not get within range of each other.

The new post held by Admiral Towers unifies the Navy's air command in the Pacific arena and was regarded by Capital observers as one of the most significant steps in the reorganization of the Navy to meet conditions of modern warfare. In addition to commanding the Pacific air forces, Admiral Towers is chief air adviser to Admiral Nimitz, Pacific Fleet Commander in Chief, and commands carrier and land-based aircraft.

After a year as a student of civil engineering at Georgia Tech where he was initiated into ΣAE, the future admiral was appointed to the U. S. Naval Academy in 1902. Although the day of sails was ended for ships of the Navy, it still was required that midshipmen be trained to sail the old square-riggers which were based at Annapolis. In consequence, Midshipman Towers spent the summer of 1903 aboard the windjammer U.S.S. Hartford, being indoctrinated in the ways of wooden ships. Thus, his career began with the going out of sailing ships and coincided with the first attempts of the Navy to take to the air.

Upon being graduated in 1906 Towers was ordered to the U.S.S. Kentucky for engineering duty and continued on that duty until the summer of 1909 when he was assigned to the U.S.S. Michigan in connection with her fitting out and was made fire control officer and spotter when she was placed in commission. In the spring of 1911, the Michigan won the gunnery trophy and battle efficiency pennant and Lieutenant Towers received letters of commendation from the President and from the Secretary of the Navy.

Ensign Towers applied for aviation duty in November, 1910, and was ordered to such duty in the late spring of 1911, being directed to report at Hammondsport, N.Y., for flight instruction. In August, 1911, he qualified as an aviator and in September he was ordered to Annapolis where an aviation camp was established and the instruction of additional officers was begun. Then, in 1912, he was ordered to join the Curtiss Camp at North Island, San Diego, Calif., where further development of airplanes and seaplanes was being undertaken and where Towers, for a period of four months, was test pilot for Glenn H. Curtiss.

In May, 1912, Lieutenant Towers returned to Annapolis where he was placed in charge of the Naval Aviation Camp and continued training and development work. In October of that year he made a flight of six hours, ten minutes in a Curtiss seaplane, thereby establishing a world's record for endurance.

Believing in the possibility of long distance flights by aircraft, Lieutenant Towers requested and received a detail to temporary duty at Hammondsport, N.Y., in connection with the proposed transatlantic flight then being sponsored. The project was abandoned upon the outbreak of war and Lieutenant Towers was ordered to duty as an aviation observer in Europe and was attached to the American Embassy in London.

In 1916 he was ordered to Washington and assigned to duty in operations in charge of naval aviation under that office. He further was ordered as supervisor of the Naval Aviation Flying Corps, which at that time was just being organized. Upon the establishment of the Division of Aviation in Operations, he was ordered to duty as assistant director of Naval Aviation and continued in that duty until February, 1919. Still convinced of long distance flights, Commander Towers applied for and was given duty in connection with a proposed transatlantic flight. He organized and commanded a unit of flying boats known as the "NC" type which made, in May, 1919, the first transatlantic flight in history.

Later Commander Towers was ordered to duty as executive officer of the U.S.S. Aroostook and senior aid to Commander, Aircraft Squadrons, Pacific Fleet. He continued duties in various capacities in that organization, including the command of the destroyer, U.S.S. Mugford, until November, 1921, when he was ordered to the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, as executive officer. In 1923 he was ordered to duty as assistant attaché for aviation to the Embassies in England, France, Italy, Germany, the Netherlands, and the Legation at The Hague. In 1925 he returned to the United States where he immediately became a member of the Board of Inquiry on the loss of the U.S.S. Shenandoah.

Following this duty he was made executive officer of the U.S.S. Langley, the first aircraft carrier of the U. S. Navy. Two years later he was placed in command of that vessel. In 1928, Commander Towers was ordered to the Bureau of Aeronautics, Navy Department, as head of the Plans Division, and in April, 1929, was made Assistant Chief of the Bureau. While serving in this capacity he received his commission as Captain in the Navy. Also during this time he served as a member of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

In June, 1931, Captain Towers became Chief of Staff, Commander Aircraft, Battle Force, stationed on the U.S.S. Saratoga. Two years later Captain Towers reported for one year's attendance at the Naval War College at Newport, R.I., upon completion of which he was ordered to duty as Commanding Officer of the Naval Air Station, San Diego.

His career has been packed with thrills besides being one of distinction. For instance in 1912, while flying as a passenger in a Wright seaplane at an altitude of 1,700 feet, both he and the pilot were thrown from the plane by a sudden atmospheric disturbance. The pilot fell clear and was killed, but Towers managed to grasp a forward projection on the plane and fell with it. Although suffering severe injuries, he held to the plane with one hand until aid arrived!

Diet of Ants Saves Marine

KNOWLEDGE of entomology—the science of insects—helped to save the life of Lt. Richard R. Amerine, Kan. A '40, who was forced to bail out over the Guadalcanal jungle in the Solomons. The twenty-three-year-old marine corps fighter pilot studied entomology at the University of Kansas, yet never dreamed he would use the knowledge to keep alive. With courage he sought out, and ate, edible red ants and snails during a seven-day odyssey in the jungle late in August.

A non-entomologist might have died, at least would have lacked the strength that Amerine found to track his way through a camp of Japanese marines, beat out the brains of three of them and shoot a fourth, then find his way back to his base.

According to a delayed International News Service dispatch of September 6, a worn-out, bedraggled marine, clothed only in underwear and a pair of Japanese shoes, which he took by force from a Jap marine, staggered into a marine outpost at Guadalcanal. Explained Amerine:

"We took off just before noon on August 31st to intercept a Japanese bombing flight, with fighter escort. It was my first flight from Henderson Field (Guadalcanal). At a high altitude I passed out. My oxygen apparatus was out.

"When I came to, the plane was in a spin and I couldn't seem to get it forward. Lack of oxygen had made me weak. But I managed to get the hood of my plane back, and got out and pulled the ripcord—and then I passed out again. I didn't come to again until I hit a cloud layer. When I woke up I was inside the clouds. I must have hit the water at 12:05, because that's where my watch had stopped. I got loose from my 'chute, and started to swim for shore."

On shore he lost consciousness again, and lay there for an hour or so. After he revived he estimated his position and entered the bush, heading for Henderson Field. Soon after he discovered Japs in the vicinity. He heard them shouting. Then he found a Jap asleep by the roadside. The Jap was wearing a good pair of shoes; Lieutenant Amerine was barefoot and footsore. With a boulder he bashed in the other's head and took his shoes and pistol. Later he came to a stream, where he stopped to wash. But a group of ten to twelve Japs came up and fired at him.

"I made a leap for the jungle," he said, "and got in so deep I was lost all that day and the next. It was then that I ate snails and ants. I saw a dog, and considered him as food. But when I chased him, he got away."

On the third day he found another creek, which led him to the coast. He told how he saw a Jap carrying a canteen, was about to jump him, and then discovered ten or twelve Japs behind, carrying meat and other food. He hid, and the Japs went by all that day. Late in the afternoon Lieutenant Amerine stole away, striking out for Henderson Field with the aid of his compass. But his navigation was bad and he wound up back at his starting point. Then he struck out along a trail, but soon ran into more Japanese, whom he skirted, returning again to the trail. Not long after he almost walked into more of them.

"On the fourth night I watched the Japs go by—about eighty of them," he told. "I waited for the traffic to slow down before I crossed the trail. I found a village, but there were no Japs in it."

Near a Japanese encampment a Jap sentry challenged him. Related Amerine:

"I decided to yell back at him. I cussed hell out of him, and waved and started back into the trees. A Jap followed me, about ten yards behind. I pretended not to see him, and waited until he got up close behind. Then I whirled around and put my gun against his chest and pulled the trigger.

"I ducked behind a log. Two Japs came out and sat on the log. I was afraid the dawn would catch me, and raised up, and with one roundhouse swing of the pistol butt, I hit 'em both. I knocked one out, but the other one wasn't out. I hit him again." From that point on his return trip to camp was relatively uneventful. He finally reached an outpost on the morning of the seventh day.

Takes Over Field

■ Lt. Col. Joseph P. Adams, USMC, Wash. A '28, was recently made Officer-in-Charge of Ellyson Field, Fla., Pensacola's $2,000,000 new auxiliary field. Commissioned in November, the field contains three spacious hangars, administration and welfare buildings, and barracks for officers, aviation cadets, enlisted flight students, British flight students and enlisted personnel. Colonel Adams served with the organized reserve at Sand Point, Fla., for nine years, and was Commanding Officer of his squadron in Seattle, Wash., from 1932 till December, 1940.

Recreation, Insurance Head

■ Former well-known Wisconsin athlete Jerry R. Siefert, Wis. A '39, now Ensign, USNR, is athletic, recreation, and insurance officer at the new Naval Training School for Signalmen, Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind. With accommodations for 800 chosen students the school gives specialized training in preparation for both sea and shore duty. Ensign Siefert was athletic trainer at University of Wisconsin from 1937-39, captain of the swimming team, and member of the All Big-Ten Track Team.

Supply Officer at U. of Mo.

■ Ensign Wilcox S. Doolittle, Tex. P '37, was appointed Supply and Disbursing Officer for the new naval training school at the University of Missouri. He will handle food, clothing and school supplies, as well as the duties of paymaster, for 1,000 men in the technical Diesel training course. The men are learning construction, operation and repair of main and auxiliary ship's motors in an intensive eight-week course.

Vallee Is Coast Guardsman

■ Band leader, radio star, loyal fraternity man—Hubert Prior "Rudy" Vallee, Me. A '25, is now Chief Petty Officer, US Coast Guard, serving as bandmaster. The 41-year-old veteran entertainer has served his country before. At the age of 15 he enlisted in the Navy, prior to World War I, and spent three months in service before his age was discovered and he was shipped home. In 1934 he was commissioned a Lieutenant Commander in the Naval Reserve. He was sworn in August 17, 1942, and stationed temporarily at the San Pedro operating base in charge of the coast guard band.

Civilian Defense Expert

■ 1st Lt. Joseph M. Latimer, S.C. P '31, is an instructor in the War Department Civilian Protection School, University of Florida, Gainesville. His work covers incendiaries, explosive munitions, training methods, and gas identification and decontamination.

To Men of the Clouds

By Mabel Jones West

In tribute to SAEs who have made the supreme sacrifice, the following poem was written by Mrs. Mabel Jones West, Secretary of Alabama Iota Mothers Club at Birmingham-Southern College, Birmingham, Ala.

O'er land and sea, and up through the sky,
The boys of the army and navy fly.
The gleam of their silvery wings we see,
But their voices are lost in the engine's roar
As higher and higher our brave boys soar.

We hear the last of the whirring wings,
And lo; they have passed from our straining sight.
They cross the blue and are gone for aye.
We may not follow their journey through,
Or see the clouds that bar their way.

We only know that they chart their course
By the instrument board and the stars above.

When these signs fail and their ships go down
Our hearts whisper softly, "Well done, well done,
Your last long flight has just begun."

We surely know that their ships no more
Will fly for us o'er a war-torn world.
Yet somewhere we feel on an unknown shore

They will wait, and beckon, and watch for us
With hearts full of love and childish trust.

We shall watch for the gleam of a silvery wing,
And listen in vain for the engine's roar;
But we will keep faith with the boys who give

Their all, in order that others may live.
And sometime, somewhere on that unknown shore
We'll join them again forever more.

2ND LT. OTTO J. ZUGELTER

■ In midair collision with another pilot's plane, 2nd Lt. Otto J. Zugelster, Army Air Corps fighter pilot, was killed over the south shore of Long Island October 25, 1942. According to a report of the Eastern Defense Command both planes were on a routine flight when the accident occurred. The ships plunged into the water one-fourth mile off East Moriches Inlet.

LT. JUSTUS GOEBEL HEUSCH

■ A few hours before he was to receive his wings, Lt. Justus Heusch, Ohio O '43, Marine Air Corps, crashed to death near Miami Beach, Fla., October 11, 1942. Lieutenant Heusch was completing his final night training flight by instruments when the crash occurred. The plane was found submerged near the beach. His golden wings were awarded posthumously.

Surprise Phone Call

■ Captain Ambrose Gordon, Ga. B '13, intelligence officer, attached to a flying fortress unit in England, was called from dinner to answer the telephone one night in October and was surprised to hear his wife's voice and to learn that she was not calling from their home in Savannah, Ga., but from London where she had arrived that day as a Red Cross worker. According to cable dispatches, his face turned white while those of his fellow officers turned green with envy.

Senator's Son Serves

■ William D. Murray, Wash. A '30, Assistant District Attorney of Butte, Mont., and son of United States Senator James E. Murray, recently reported for active duty in the navy as a lieutenant, junior grade. He is the third of the Senator's five sons to enter the service. Two of Lieutenant Murray's brothers are ΣAEs: Corp. Edward E. Murray, N.H. A '31, Air Corps, and James A. Murray, N.H. A '27, a Los Angeles attorney, who intends to enter the service before January 1.

Now Major Stoker

■ Emory D. Stoker, Ill. Ψ-Ω '23, Past Archon of Province Mu, was promoted from captain of cavalry to major, October 15, 1942, and is commanding officer of the 90th Reconnaissance Squadron, 90th Motorized Division, Camp Barkeley, Texas.

Fuhrer at Naval School

■ Serving as Supply and Disbursing Officer, Lt. (jg) Malcolm W. Fuhrer, Jr., Pa. Θ '36, was recently appointed to the staff of the new naval training school for machinists mates at the University of Kansas. For the past year Lieutenant Fuhrer was stationed in the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

Navy Radio School Officer

■ Among officers in charge of 2,000 Navy Enlisted Men undergoing specialized training at University of Chicago, is Lt. Edward R. Smith, Ill. Ψ-Ω '30, Officer in Charge of Radio Instruction in the School for Radiomen and Signalmen. His former naval billets include the USNR Signal School, Chicago, Ill., and the Naval Training Electrical School, St. Louis, Mo.

Officiates at Naval School

■ Ensign Charles E. McDonnell, Jr., USNR, Miss. Γ '36, is recreation and public relations officer at the Naval Training School for Yeomen, University of Indiana at Bloomington. Accommodating 1,200 students the school instructs men chosen for their aptitude after tests given during recruit training. After their course in specialized training they will be sent to sea for duty with the fleet or sent to one of many shore stations. Ensign McDonnell was formerly associated with Diamond Match Company and Postel Milling Company.

Wings in the Family

■ Ensign Harry L. Cole, Jr., Wash. B '42, wears aviator's wings in the Navy; his father, Maj. Harry L. Cole, wears wings in the Army. They are said to be the only father-son combination wearing wings in the two branches of service. Ensign Cole is an instructor at Pensacola Naval Air School.

Bond Officer Active

■ War Bond Officer Lt. I. K. Campbell, Jr., Calif. Γ '31, released figures July 15 showing that personnel of his post, Alameda Naval Air Station, purchased more War Bonds in the previous month than that of any other air station in the nation. Alameda service men and civilian employees bought $39,411 in War Bonds, $68,447 in "E" Bonds.

Coach Commissioned

■ Walter R. Dowler, Wyo. A '33, who coached the Cheyenne, Wyo., High School football and basketball teams to state championships last year, is in training at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Ill., to be commissioned as a physical education instructor, with rank of lieutenant, junior grade. Prior to his sensational first season as head coach at Cheyenne, he was an outstanding athlete at University of Wyoming, leaving there to coach at Rock Springs, where his teams won two state basketball crowns and a state football championship.

Returns from Orient

■ Roland Grimm, Mo. B '14, Manager of Certain-teed Products Corporation in Asia, returned to the United States in August from the Orient, where he has spent fifteen years, his territory covering approximately 9,000 square miles. His return was uneventful, yet he would have been interned in Manila with other American nationals if he had not received an order from his company in November to return home via India instead of awaiting a ship in Manila.

Survives Two Sinkings

■ Ensign Linas H. Brown, Ind. B '38, not only managed to survive the sinking of the Aircraft Carrier Lexington in the Coral Sea, but also apparently survived the sinking of a second carrier, the Yorktown. His father, Frank C. Brown, explains that letters from his son indicate that Ensign Brown was assigned to the Yorktown a few weeks before it was sunk on June 7th, and that later he was assigned to a third carrier. In one letter he told how War Correspondent Stanley Johnston, of the Chicago Tribune, helped him put on a life jacket before the Lexington went under. The naval officer turned down an opportunity to return to the United States on leave after the latter escape, and apparently he took part in the Midway battle.

His Foresight Confirmed

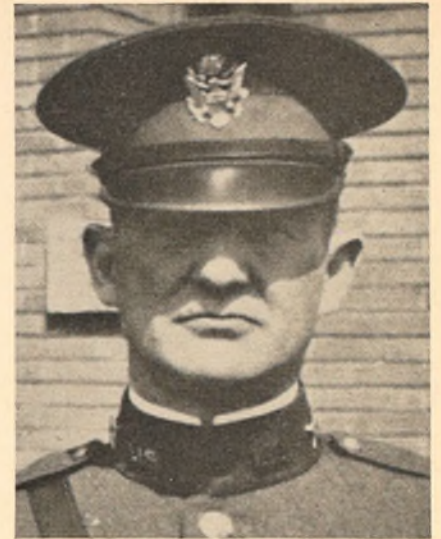

FROM Western Europe to the Far East American military observers and newspaper correspondents have lauded Brig. Gen. Philip R. Faymonville, Calif. A '09, Chief of the American Military Mission to the Soviet Union, whose intimate knowledge of Japan and the Far East enabled him to anticipate an American war against Japan, to foresee Russian soldiers and American tanks battling together to help us win the war. He is said to have anticipated even General Charles deGaulle in recognizing the importance of tanks in modern warfare.

His phenomenal energy and ability are well known. A specialist in ordnance and an expert on politics, history, literature and all the arts, he speaks Russian fluently and is on most intimate terms of understanding with Russia and her people. In charge of all lend-lease supplies delivered to Russia, he is one of the few military observers who was right about the fighting qualities and efficiency of the Soviet army.

Background for his present activities include his work as Chief Ordnance Officer with General Graves' American Expeditionary Force in Siberia, 1918-20; his special missions to Far Eastern and Central Siberia for eighteen months, 1922-23; his efficient assistance to American tourists during the earthquake of 1923 when he helped them escape the burning cities of Tokyo and Yokohama; his investigations as chief intelligence officer in Japan; and his service as military attache to Moscow from 1934 to '39, when his true pictures of the Russian army were derided by many, but since vindicated by all.

Prexy of Pilot Schools

Long a military educator, Maj. Gen. Barton K. Yount, Ohio '06, holds the tremendously important post of Chief of the Flying Training Command, overseas army air fields from Maine to the Mexican border, heads a system whereby neophyte pilots develop into airmen ready for initiation into the most thrilling, and dangerous, of war activities. The 58-year-old general's background is appropriate for his post; Since his graduation from West Point in 1907 he has commanded and led. During World War I he commanded the School of Military Aeronautics at Austin, Tex., and soon after, the Randolph Field Air Training Center. In 1939-40 he was Assistant Chief of the Air Corps and Chief of the Training and Operations Division. General Yount is known by his associates as a calm, level-headed officer, who speaks without wasting words and with a dry humor often verging upon sarcasm.

Colonel in C.W.S. Office

Col. Herbert K. Bear, Pa. A-Z '11, Chemical Officer, Third Corps Area, was assigned to the office of the Chief of Chemical Warfare Service in July. Entering the army as a private in the infantry in 1917 Colonel Bear was later commissioned as a lieutenant in Chemical Warfare Service. After World War I he was placed in the reserves and when recalled to service was given the rank of lieutenant colonel. In February he was made colonel.

Navy Recreation Director

Lt. Raymond S. Kimbell, Okla. K '28, is recreation director and assistant morale officer for the Twelfth Naval District at San Francisco, Calif., having been called into active service in November, 1941. Since 1932 he has been assistant director of the San Francisco Recreation Department and has held a commission in the Naval Reserve for a number of years. His slogan is "Get every man to participate, with emphasis on those who have not had the opportunity to participate actively in recreational activities in the past."

Commands Security District

Maj. Virgil L. Eikenberry, Ind. A 14, is commanding officer of the First Security District, Fifth Service Command, with headquarters at 802-4 Security Bldg., Charleston, W. Va. The command includes the whole state of West Virginia and serves as a close liaison office between the commanding general of the Fifth Service Command and all the Federal, state and civil agencies in the state which are concerned with its general internal security. Major Eikenberry was formerly with the ROTC Enlisted Reserve Section of the Headquarters, Fifth Service Command, Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio.

Labor Relations Officer

Capt. Edward H. Gallup, Jr., Mass. T '23, is Chief of Labor Relations with the Pittsburgh Army Ordnance District. His activities concern questions of labor supply and settlement of strikes on army contracts.

1st Lt. Francis Norman, Jr., Ga. B '40, is aide to Maj. Gen. Lloyd F. Fredendall, who is leading the charge at Oran.

Hufsmith Quartet Serve

Mrs. F. W. Hufsmith in Casper, Wyo., is proud of her four sons in service. Richard E. Hufsmith, Wyo. A '39, was at Bataan, Philippines, on the day of its fall and is believed to be a prisoner of war. He was with his pursuit squadron at Clark Field on December 10th when the Japanese attacked the field. Lt. F. Robert Hufsmith, Wyo. A '34, is stationed with a glider detachment at Lockborne Army Air Base, Columbus, Ohio. Third SAE son is Lt. Frederic W. Hufsmith, Wyo. A '31, at Camp Crowdie, Mo., and son number four—not yet a Greek—is at Pearl Harbor.

Four Ficklen Brothers

Four Ficklen brothers of Washington, Ga., sons of the late Fielding H. Ficklen, Ga. E '98, Past President of Province Gamma, are among SAE's contribution to the armed forces: Pvt. Fielding H. Jr., Ga. E '28, Army Air Corps, Miami Beach, Fla.; Pfc. Edward B., Ga. E '31, Indiantown Gap, Pa. Military Reservation; 2nd Lt. Wm. Merriwether, Ga. E '34, Finance Dept., Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.; A/C Osborne, Ga. B '43, Kelly Field, Texas.

News from Far East

Brothers who want to hear first-hand tales of Egypt, Palestine, South Africa and Syria are urged to contact Bertram E. Grove, Ohio T '38, Ill. Ψ-Ω, whose address is: American Field Service, c/o Headquarters, British Middle East Armies, Cairo, Egypt. He is in very active service with the YMCA.

Staff Chief in Solomons

Col. Robert C. Kilmartin, Jr., USMC, W.C. P '18, is serving as Chief of Staff in the Solomon Islands to Brig. Gen. William H. Rupertus. Joining the Marine Corps in 1918 Colonel Kilmartin served overseas and after returning from France was stationed in the Navy Yard in Washington. Later he saw duty in Santo Domingo, Philadelphia, Honolulu, and Quantico. Last year he was stationed at New River, N.C., and was sent on sea duty early this year.

Flies with Human Cushion

LAUGHTER to break the grimness of war was furnished personnel of an advanced New Guinea base by Lt. James R. Miller, Calif. B '38, fighter pilot who bailed out of his P-39 (Airacobra) on November 4th and showed up at his base the next day in a P-40 (Curtiss fighter) sitting in the lap of a very nervous native. A Chicago Tribune correspondent told how engine trouble forced Lieutenant Miller to "hit the silk" over the jungle. He was picked up in the bush by a native in a lakotoi (an outrigger canoe), and later he reached his mission.

From the mission Miller was guided to a beach where a P-40 had crash-landed a month before. An Australian crew was repairing the plane. Lieutenant Miller decided the ship was fit to fly him back to his base, but he lacked a parachute, which normally forms a pilot's seat about four inches thick and enables the flier to see out of the plane. So he called for volunteers among the blacks. He picked one of them and placed him in the narrow cockpit, then sat down in the native's lap.

The takeoff was hazardous, and Miller had but forty gallons of gas for the sixty-mile flight. He rose from the beach just in time to avoid the rising tide, and soon reached his base. Fellow fliers at the airdrome rubbed their eyes to see him return in a plane he hadn't flown away, rubbed them again when the grinning pilot stepped out of the ship, reached into the cockpit to pull out the terrorized native. Miller rewarded his human cushion with a red belt and the native grinned broadly.

Lieutenant Miller was a second-year law student at the University of California. In 1937, as a delegate from California Beta, he attended the Sigma Alpha Epsilon convention in Chicago, Ill.

Risks Life to Fly for U.S.

THIS is a story about courage . . . and determination. Earle Hepburn, Jr., Pa. '41, wanted to fly for his country, was told that he couldn't. But he wouldn't take no for an answer, even if it meant jeopardizing his life. He decided to undergo an extremely delicate operation, against the advice of two surgeons, in order to be fit for the United States Air Force.

The drama began when Earle Hepburn was studying law at University of Pittsburgh. When the Japs hit Pearl Harbor the twenty-three-year-old basketball and track star was anxious to do something about it. With plenty of flying experience behind him—he had flown since he was twenty—the path ahead seemed clear. But after passing the mental examination, he was turned down by both the Army and Navy Air Forces because of complications arising from an old operation. This huge disappointment was sharpened further when he was classified 1-B by his draft board and told that he would be called only for non-combatant service.

Throughout the summer he worked in Washington with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, but he still wanted to fly for his country. So he made inquiries of several surgeons. Two of them said he didn't have a chance. The operation was too dangerous, they warned. There was but a slight chance of success. But a third surgeon said he thought he might be able to perform a successful operation.

Early in September Earle returned home to Merion, Ill., and prepared for the operation. In a few weeks Dr. Clare G. Dodge performed. When the operation was over the doctor declared it a success. Now Earle is recuperating, anxious to apply for flying service again—with a real chance this time!

Handles Troop Supplies

Executive Officer at the Second Army Depot, Tennessee State Fair Grounds, Nashville, Tenn., Col. Hugh H. Tolman, Ill. B '12, helped furnish supplies to the thousands of troops maneuvering in Middle Tennessee this past fall. Colonel Tolman served on the staff of Gen. Charles G. Dawes during World War I, and left the service as a major, reentered the army as a reserve officer. In civilian life he was a manufacturer in Bryan, Ohio, and later served as Commanding Officer of the 26th Quartermaster Regiment at Fort Custer, Mich. The supply depot remained at the fair grounds until November 25.

Maj. Robert A. Reese, N.Y. M '18, is Air Staff Officer, Camp Williams, Wis.

McDonald Alive; Jap Prisoner

JOSEPH F. McDONALD, JR., Nev. A '41, construction worker and war correspondent who was reported killed at Wake Island in December, is alive and well, though a prisoner of the Japanese in Shanghai. His father, Joseph F. McDonald, Nev. A '15, editor of the Nevada State Journal, learned this through the Red Cross on June 18, and on September 21 received direct substantiation of this in a letter from his son dated almost four months before. The letter apparently reached the United States by round-about methods through the International Red Cross, and was sent from the War Prisoners' Camp in Shanghai, China.

The report of his death was a case of mistaken identity; another youth, Joseph T. McDonald, was killed. Honolulu supplied the identification when the radio report was sent there December 14. For two months it was thought, by McDonald's relatives and by the Navy, that he was dead. But on February 19 a message was received by the United Press in Honolulu from McDonald himself, who was serving as UP correspondent on Wake Island. The message had been written December 20, after the date he was reported killed, and sent on the last Navy plane to leave the island. Then it had been carried around by the Navy for two months.

Receipt of this message opened an inquiry and by February 30 it was ascertained that McDonald was alive. The International Red Cross and the Navy reported June 18 that he was being held prisoner at Shanghai. His father reports that he may be repatriated, as the United Press and the State Department are working on the case, and he has been certified as a war correspondent by the United States.

Most of McDonald's letter is printed here:

Shanghai War Prisoner's Camp,
Japanese Field Post Office No. 106,
Central China, May 29, 1942.

Dear Folks:

Time and space are so limited that I hardly know what to say. I guess the most important thing is that I am alive and well, but very homesick. I do so hope that everything is okay at home. . . . The camp, the Japanese and everything has been okay so far. It was bitter cold when we arrived here but now that it is summer I could almost learn to like the place except for being confined. We eat three times a day and work about six hours. The rest of the time is spent reading papers and in athletics. The food is all right, but I am glad that I like rice. . . . Our health is well taken care of and we have been inoculated against all diseases. Our one big hope is repatriation, but so far no sign of it. How do our chances look in the states? . . .

We can receive letters, so I hope you wrote so I might get a letter. My address is above. Say hello to everyone and tell them to write. I can receive cables via International Red Cross. Work on the repatriation angle. . . . I hope to see you soon.

All my love

"Joe"

Counsels Soldiers

▪ Sgt. Philip Morris, Iowa B '38, Pa. X-O, is clerk and legal counselor for soldiers at Gulfport Field, Miss., new Army Air Force Mechanics School. Working in the Staff Judge Advocate's Office, Sergeant Morris obtained his LL.B. Degree at Pittsburgh and was serving his six-months clerkship in a law firm to enter the Pennsylvania Bar before he was called into service. He is no relation to the cigarette, nor is Robert Burns, Colo. Δ '43, second lieutenant in the army, related to the cigar.

MARINE COMMANDER—Maj. Gen. William P. Upshur, Va. Θ '02, Va. Σ '03, Va. O '04, in Command of the Marine Corps in the Pacific.

Lieutenant Hawkins Cited

▪ For heroic conduct, along with other members of his flight crew, Lt. T. I. (Billy) Hawkins, Tenn. N '39, has been praised by the nation. Chief hero of the crippled Liberator bomber's return flight from its blasting raid on Lille, France, was Aaron F. Moses, engineer-gunner who held his hands over the broken gas line until they froze, when he was relieved by other members of the crew including Lieutenant Hawkins, who was navigator of the ship. Although severely damaged by machine gun bullets the plane landed safely. The oxygen lines were blown up, and emergency supplies of oxygen were used. Lieutenant Hawkins' high school alma mater, Spalding High, in Griffin, Ga., recently designated a day at school as "Billy Hawkins' Day," when they rounded up scrap metal to buy their hero a new bomber.

Promoted to Major

▪ Capt. James R. Williams, Minn. A '36, Base S-4, Paine Field, Washington, was promoted to Major in August. He has been stationed at Paine Field for thirteen months and was one of the original officers at the station. At Base S-4 Major Williams is Supply Officer on the Base Commander's staff.

Past Archons in Service

▪ Three Past Province Archons are now in service: Maj. Eric G. Johnson, Pa. X-O '23, Beta, Officer Procurement Branch of the Adjutant General's Department; 1st Lt. Frank B. Creekmore, Tenn. K '33, Iota, 43rd Air Base Squadron, McChord Field, Tacoma, Wash.; and Ensign William J. Millikin, Calif. B '34, Kappa, Alameda Naval Supply Base.

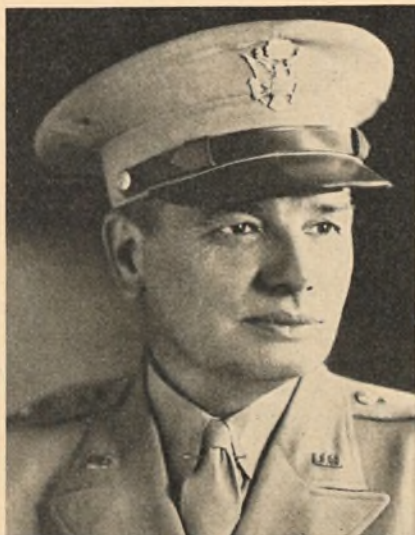

Track Star Bombs Japs

▪ Lt. James B. Buchanan, Miss. Γ '37, is getting a bigger thrill out of playing for keeps against the Japs than he did when he played for fun in college. The Flying Fortress Bombardier was a track star at the University of Mississippi, where he ran the low hurdles in fifteen seconds flat against Louisiana State. Now his courage, stamina and athletic experience are standing him in good stead in his game of blowing up Japs in New Guinea. His exploits include his bagging a 17,600-ton ship with his pilot, Lt. Bill Smith, a former tackle under Crisler and Kipke at Michigan, on October 25. Before dawn on that date the pair set the ship afire in Rabaul Harbor. Lieutenant Buchanan was reported missing after the Pearl Harbor attack, but on January 1st was announced safe in Hawaii after a rescue at sea.

Message from Midway

▪ After postponing a letter to his chapter for four years, Capt. Robert C. McClellan, Calif. B '36, Midway Island hero recently promoted to Major in the Marine Corps after receiving a citation for distinguished service by the Pacific Fleet Commander-in-Chief, started a letter December 27, 1941. He began to write it after perusing the November issue of the Cal-Beta Press while on watch in a hole in the ground which he made his home most of the time. But he did not get far with the long-deferred letter; activity was too intense. Not until June 17, 1942, did he complete the letter. He told of his activities since graduating from the University of California, where he was initiated into Phi Beta Kappa honorary society. Assigned to duty in Shanghai he witnessed the Sino-Japanese War for two and one-half years in Shanghai and in Peiping. In the latter city, where he was sent to participate in rifle matches, he saw and heard the first shots of that war in July, 1937. In 1939 he returned to the states, was stationed at San Diego, Calif., and at Fort Monroe, Va. During that time he acquired a wife and two sons.

In July, 1941, he was sent to Midway Island, which he describes as a "sand pit where things get more lively as time goes on." In the Battle of Midway his outfit shot down ten to fifteen planes, but he explains "The aviators won the battle by knocking out the Jap carriers."

RAIL OFFICER—Brigadier General Carl R. Gray, Jr., Mo. B '11, Veteran Officer of World War I and Railroad Executive, Directs Railroads in Combat Zones.

STILL LOST—Lt. William Crooks, W.C. P '36, Missing in Action in Far Eastern Theatre of War since April 21, 1942, as Reported in the August Issue of THE RECORD. He Was Attached to a Bombardment Squadron of the Army Air Corps, and on a Mission on the Above Date His Ship Did Not Return.

Scores Hits on Japs

▪ Singled out for special commendation in an Associated Press dispatch for the part he played "somewhere in New Guinea" during Fortress raids on Rabaul Harbor, Lt. William R. Gowdy, Ohio E '41, is a member of the crack Flying Fortress team of Maj. William Benn of Washington. The AP dispatch listed his among the names of pilots who had "posted scores on the board," and told how:

"Gowdy made a run across a group of ships and his bombs landed among them and some of them were seen to break into flames, but observers were unable to determine the type of ships hardest hit."

Rabaul Harbor was described as the "wellspring of supplies for Japanese in the Solomons," and the dispatch told of extremely bad weather the fliers had encountered. Lieutenant Gowdy is the son of a University of Cincinnati dean, Dr. R. C. Gowdy, of the College of Commerce and Engineering. In a recent cablegram to his parents the young pilot told them:

"Very happy. Seeing lots of country. Having a marvelous time. Wish you were here."

Downs Five Jap Planes

▪ Lt. George L. Hollowell, Colo. Δ '42, Kan. B, was credited with downing three Japanese planes in the South Pacific war theatre in September. Word was received October 13 that he had raised his score to five planes and had received the Marine Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry in action.

Interned in Thailand

▪ Among the repatriated Americans who returned to the United States from the Orient on the S.S. Gripsholm in August, 1942, was Lt. Col. Clarence E. Jackson, Mont. A '23, who was serving as military attache to the American legation at Bangkok, Thailand (Siam), on December 7, 1941, and was interned by the Japanese until arrangements were made for his transfer to America.

▪ 1st Lt. Jack Beardwood, Wash. A '35, is aide to Maj. Gen. Mark Clark, Chief of Staff for Lt. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower in Africa.

Wilburn Honored

By F. Duane Williams
W.C. Rho '42

"This newly acquired section of Bolling Field will hereafter be referred to as the 'Wilburn area.'"

WITH these words the War Department gave final recognition to one of the Air Corps' finest fliers—Capt. Donald E. Wilburn, W.C. P '42, who was killed when his pursuit ship crashed at Waldorf, Md., June 1, 1942. Assigned as co-pilot on army transports at Bolling Field, his ability in instrument flying led to a transfer to the First Photo Squadron as pilot. Through a fine record as aerial photographer he was assigned for six-months training at Lowry Field, Denver, Colo. Upon graduating from the famed aerial photography school he was sent on a month's aerial mission to Alaska, then returned to Bolling Field for assignment to the newly-formed First Mapping Group. Later he became the group's Commanding Officer.

Shortly after his marriage in February, 1942, he was checked out as Captain of a B-17 "Flying Fortress" which he flew to Africa on special assignment. During three months flying in Africa he had several narrow escapes, one of which was related to newsmen by his navigator, Maj. Elliott Roosevelt, who told how their heavily-loaded, unarmed ship was attacked by Axis fighters and only through Captain Wilburn's skillful flying were they able to outmaneuver and elude the attackers and return safely to base.

Six days after returning from Africa the fatal crash occurred.

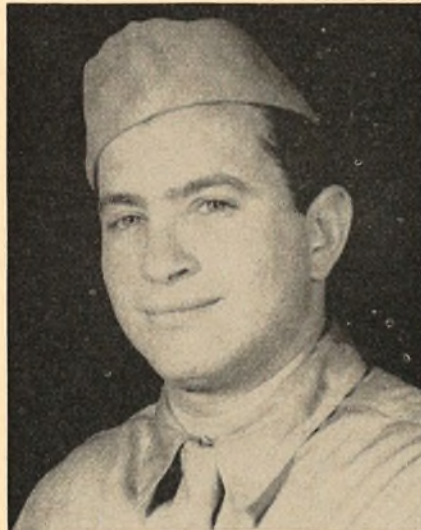

Eternal Recognition to Capt. Donald E. Wilburn, W.C. P '42, Who Crashed to Death in June, Was Accorded by War Department's Giving Air Field Section His Name.

Major General Jervey Dies

MAJOR GENERAL Henry Jervey, U. S. Army, Retired, Tenn. Ω '83, Past Honorary Eminent Supreme Archon, who was Sigma Alpha Epsilon's highest ranking soldier in World War I, died in Charleston, S.C., September 30, 1942, after fifty-four years of service as an officer.

General Jervey was one of the charter members of Tennessee Omega at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., from which he was graduated in 1884 as a civil engineer. He was graduated from the U. S. Military Academy in 1888 and assigned to the Corps of Engineers in which he held many important posts. He served in the Philippines, 1901-03, and was instructor and assistant professor at West Point, 1903-05.

He was appointed commander of Sixty-Sixth Field Artillery Brigade, Camp Greene, N.C., in September, 1917, and was made Chief of the First AVG Pilot Killed in Action in World War II, Neil G. Martin, Ark. A-T '39, Was Killed at Rangoon, Burma, December 23, 1941, while Flying Combat Duty.

First AVG Fatality Honored

Neil G. Martin, Ark. A-T '39, was killed at Rangoon, Burma, December 23, 1941, while flying combat duty, as reported in the March issue of THE RECORD. The first AVG Pilot killed in combat in World War II, he was buried by an RAF Chaplain at the Mingaladen Cantonment Cemetery December 26, 1941. Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Martin received a scroll from Gen. and Madame Chiang Kai-shek honoring Neil for Gallantry in Action, and G. L. Paxton, AVG Flight Leader and Finance Officer, with headquarters at Central Aircraft Manufacturing Company, Chungking, China, wrote the following tribute to the SAE National Office: "No AVG Pilot was better liked or more eager to fly and to fight. His loss served to give the rest of us pilots so much valuable information for our own protection that since the date of his passing only two other pilots were lost in actual air combat."

Major General Henry Jervey, U.S.A., Retired, Tenn. Ω '83, Past Hon. E.S.A. Died September 30, 1942.

Division of Operations of the General Staff in February, 1918, in which position he rendered distinguished service. Among various citations, he received the Distinguished Service Medal, the Legion of Honor, the Order of Leopold, the Order of the Bath, and the Order of the Crown of Italy.

General Jervey was elected Honorary E.S.A. by the St. Louis Convention of 1920 and served the Fraternity in this capacity in 1921 and 1922.

Alaska Hero Decorated

A hero of the Jap attack on Dutch Harbor, Alaska, on June 3 and 4, 2nd Lt. Verner F. Peterson, Colo. Z '39, was recuperating at his home in Denver, Colo., in mid-September when he learned through The Denver Post that he had been awarded the Order of the Purple Heart for extraordinary valor. "That's news to me and I'm certainly proud," he exclaimed. Although modesty and censorship regulations prevented his telling of the exploit, the citation issued by Maj. Gen. Simon B. Buckner, Jr., of the Alaska Defense Command, told how Lieutenant Peterson remained at his post as a bombardier on an Army Air Force plane throughout the Dutch Harbor action, although he was wounded by anti-aircraft shrapnel. He lost an eye during the fracas, and received facial wounds requiring plastic surgical treatment. From Alaska he was sent to Vancouver, Wash., for surgical treatment. After a short leave to visit his home he returned to Vancouver for further treatment.

Yank with Royal Rifles

Among selected American recruits in officer's training with the Royal Rifles in England, Tom Braden, N.H. A '40, is well into training for his commission. He is former editor of The Dartmouth, student college paper, and sends home descriptions of everything from convoys to countryside, mentioning the meals, modes, and mannerisms of the English and many of his own personal experiences.

Bataan Ace Dies in Glory

DIES AT SEA—Ensign Robert Allen Austin, Pa. '39, Gave His Life in the Performance of Duty in the Pacific Area August 9, 1942. A Pilot Aboard the Heavy Cruiser Vincennes, He Went Down with the Ship when It Was Sunk in Action early on the Morning of August 9 off Guadalcanal. Ensign Austin Flew One of Four Navy Planes on the Vessel.

Injured in Plane Crash

■ Captain Alexander B. Andrews, III, Army Air Corps, N.C. '34, had a narrow escape when the light plane he was piloting on an official mission from Wilmington to Charlotte, N.C., in August, contacted a power line near Monroe and caught fire. Despite a fractured back and three broken ribs, he landed, unfastened his safety belt and ran from the plane before the tank exploded. He has been recuperating at his home in Raleigh. The doctors promise to have him flying again in five or six months.

Pilots Get DSCs

■ Two more ΣAEs recently received the Distinguished Service Cross for their gallantry in aerial action: Lt. George L. Hollowell, Colo. Δ '42, Kan. B, and Lt. Marvin H. Bryant, Jr., Okla. K '41. Lieutenant Hollowell was credited in September with downing three Japanese planes in the South Pacific. Word was received October 13 that he had raised his score to five planes and had received the Marine Distinguished Service Cross. Lieutenant Bryant, an Army Air Corps pilot, was also awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry in action.

Grateful for Many Things

■ Life hasn't been very dull for Ensign W. S. Whitman, VP-23, Ohio E '40, naval pilot who writes how he "cracked up" in the mountains and after leaving the hospital discovered he had a new nose. He complains that the boys at Pensacola didn't recognize him until the second look. Three weeks after returning to duty he was at Midway, where "the beer was fine, but the Japs heard of it and came after it too, along with everything else in sight." He reports he got off the water an hour before the Japs came, but ran out of gas and was forced down at sea. It was three days before he was picked up. Seasick and unable to eat if he had had provisions, he lost ten pounds before he was picked up. "But I'm enjoying my beer again," he comments.

AN EXCELLENT officer and a true American" was the description by General Douglas MacArthur of Lt. Earl R. Stone, Jr., Calif. Δ '40, hero and ace of Bataan who was killed in action during an aerial engagement in the Philippines on March 24, 1942. Lt. Gen. H. H. Arnold, Commanding General of the Army Air Forces, declared that "Our nation owes a tremendous debt of gratitude to Lieutenant Stone and the gallant men like him who served well, fought magnificently, and died with honor for their country."

Lieutenant Stone was one of the foremost war-aces in the famous Pursuit Squadron at Bataan under General Douglas MacArthur, the tiny "Bamboo" Fleet, which patched up their airplanes with what materials were available (usually bamboo). He was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action on the night of February 1-2, when he shot down three Japanese dive bombers.

In a letter to Mrs. Stone, Lt. Col. Charles H. Morhouse, Aide-de-Camp and Flight Surgeon, wrote from the Philippines regarding the death of Lieutenant Stone two months later:

On February 10th the enemy had started to bombard Corregidor from hidden gun positions on the Cavite shore. It was essential to locate these placements in order that our batteries might return accurate fire and an officer was assigned the detail of taking photographs to obtain essential information. While engaged in this duty, he was attacked by six Japanese Zero fighter planes and our protecting airplanes, five in number, made a counter-attack. Near the end of the combat, one American ship passed over Bataan Field pursued by two Japanese fighters. They disappeared in the clouds and gunfire was heard, and from this encounter one Japanese ship was seen to fly back towards its base. All but this one Japanese ship were destroyed and all of our planes returned except the one piloted by your son. The searching party was out for forty-eight hours looking for him and his plane, but the only thing found was the Japanese plane which had been shot down. This area was very mountainous and was a jungle, and after forty-eight hours, the searching party returned unsuccessful.

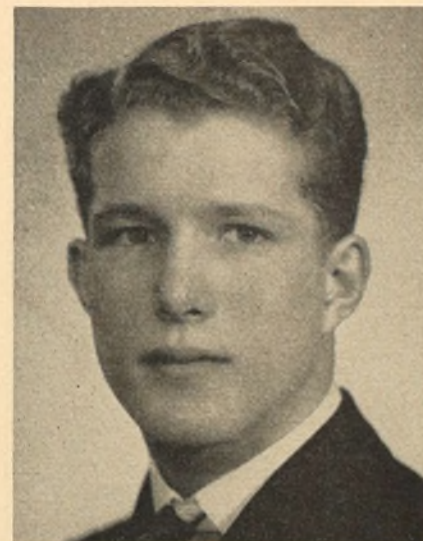

General MacArthur considered your son an excellent officer and a true American and extends to you his sincere sympathy. He desires that you be informed that this sacrifice will not have been in vain, for ultimately, victory will be ours.

Lieutenant Stone gained fame at Bataan before his death by shooting down three Japanese dive bombers while on dawn patrol. Called "the leading ace of the Philippines," he was one of the first officers to be decorated for valor by General MacArthur. Associated Press Correspondent Clark Lee wrote from Bataan, on January 29:

A few American planes still roam the skies, engaging in guerrilla warfare in the a.r. They pack a wallop and only this morning Lieutenants Earl R. Stone, Jr., and John Posten, Jr., shot down three of "Mr. Moto's" dive bombers while on dawn patrol. For this feat Lieutenant Stone and other pilots were awarded the Silver Star, with a citation from General MacArthur concerning his gallantry in action in the vicinity of Agloloma Bay, Bataan, Philippine Islands, on the night of February 1-2, 1942. When report of an attempted enemy landing in force was received, the . . . pilots took off individually . . . and proceeded to bomb and strafe targets presented by the enemy. Each plane made three different attacks, returning to its base to replenish its ammunition supply after each attack. The skill and determination of the . . . officers may be attested by the success of the attack. Several enemy landing barges were destroyed, and so many casualties inflicted that the landing attempt was repulsed.

Lieutenant Stone had only this laconic comment to make when he informed his parents of his activities: "Feel fine. Got three. Love."

In school he was an athlete and scholar, an ROTC captain and member of Scabbard and Blade. At Fort Ord, Calif., he won medals as an expert rifle and pistol shot. Enlisting in the Army Air Corps in September, 1940, he became Battalion Commander of his class at Cal-Aero Academy, Ontario, and completed his training at Randolph and Kelly Fields, Tex. At Brooks Field, Tex., a radio series on American war heroes features the heroic accomplishments and background of Lieutenant Stone, and King Features Syndicate, Inc., published two cartoon strips commemorating his valor.

Trinidad Engineer Vanishes

STRANCE—almost weird—is the story of the disappearance of two young men and their sailing vessel from the harbor of St. Lucia, Trinidad, B.W.I., on the evening of February 8, 1942. Stewart Cole Clark, III, Pa. Θ '40, district engineer, US Engineer's Office, Trinidad, was one of them. He and a fellow construction worker, Willard Dean, former AAU Boxing Champion of Louisiana State University, had been busy since leaving New York December 11, 1941, on rush work on the island. On a soft Sunday afternoon the pair went out in their native-built sailboat. The weather was most calm—with but 8-10 wind velocity—and they idled about the harbor, fishing, with several other boats, taking what breeze there was. At three o'clock one of the larger boats put in to one of the islands with a group of fishermen. Two hours later Clark and Dean were seen in the harbor by one of the company tug boat engineers. But—they were never seen nor heard from since.

Later the alarm was given. Bombers flew low and covered the shoreline of St. Lucia and St. Vincent islands and a section of the sea, from the southern tip of St. Vincent westward ninety miles, then north to the other end of Martinique. Back to Martinique and back to St. Lucia again. That evening the captain flew Stewart's father, Ralph R. Clark, general superintendent of construction of fortifications at St. Lucia, over the waves at twenty feet above water. They combed the sea and shorelines—again and again. Natives covered the beaches along the bases of the Pitons and along the west coast, even swimming where they could not go otherwise. Fishing boats were notified. Riders from camp spread the news; rewards were offered; clues were hounded. Police posts over the island were warned. Army motor boats went here, there, everywhere, searching, inquiring. Trinidad and Washington and New York were cabled. The American Consul at Martinique, the British Commandant of Marines, the South American consulates were informed. Tides and currents were studied and islands such as Curacao were contacted. Mr. Clark went in an army motor cruiser to search for wreckage.

But this was the time—unbeknown to military authorities then—that a U-Boat was moving in on Aruba for its first surprise attack. Military circles later agreed that the invaders picked up the boys, having been discovered by them probably, to insure secrecy of movement. The sailboat could not sink, could not capsize, it was pointed out by workers on the island. Its bottom was painted bright red, the boat proper orange and brown, with white sails. Neither traces nor rumors were reported of wreckage. Pan-American Airways and Shell Oil searched for days afterwards. Stewart's sister, wife of the Brazilian consul, accelerated further investigation.

DISAPPEARS—Stewart Cole Clark, III, Pa. Θ '40, Engineer, Vanished in Calm St. Lucia Bay, Trinidad, B.W.I., February 8, 1942. His Capture by a Prowling U-Boat Is Presumed.

Stewart Clark was considered an excellent sailor, having spent much time off New London sound on smaller boats, and he had maneuvered canoes since childhood. That the boat may have capsized is considered most unlikely, and for days after the men vanished the weather remained calm. The boys are registered with the War Department, through the office of the Provost Marshal General, "through the Protecting Power and International Red Cross."

Both boys were fine physical specimens, with keen intellects, and something far beyond their power to cope with happened instantly and completely. Airmen conjecture that they were placed aboard a mother ship and are probably somewhere in the Caribbean region. At the time of the episode Stewart carried his credentials, including his Chapter National Membership card.

Marine Pilot Missing

■ Lt. Dale M. Leslie, Fla. T '40, Marine Air Corps, was reported missing in October, 1942. He had previously distinguished himself while piloting his dive bomber in the Pacific. Spotting a distress signal of a lost detachment of marines, he and his gunner held Jap planes at bay while rescue boats removed the men.

Immortalized

JHE memory of Col. Loren P. Stewart, Me. A '15, who was killed in action in the Philippines January 17, 1942, as reported in the August issue of THE RECORD, was honored by the army in August, when the great parade ground of Camp Blanding, Fla., was named Stewart Field. The honor was bestowed in recognition of Colonel Stewart's long and able career in service and his work as executive officer of Camp Blanding from March to October, 1941. At the field-naming ceremony a simple memorial was unveiled in his honor.

Alaskan Pilot Gone

■ Lt. Francis Kearney, Fla. T '40, pilot in Alaska, was reported by the War Department as missing since October 19, 1942. An outstanding athlete, his two state high school track records still stand, and at the University of Florida he set two track records in the Southeastern Conference, placed sixth in the 100-yard dash, National Olympic trials, 1940.

Vanishes in Caribbean

■ Stewart Cole Clark, III, Pa. Θ '40, disappeared mysteriously in calm St. Lucia Bay, Trinidad, B.W.I., February 8, 1942. His capture by a prowling U-Boat was presumed, for no trace of his small boat was found. He was a district engineer with U. S. Engineer's Office in Trinidad.

Disappears in Philippines

■ Lt. William L. Baker, Jr., Mo. B '41. Army Air Corps pursuit pilot, was wounded in action February 7, 1942, and is listed by the War Department as missing in the Philippines, pending receipt of the Japanese prisoner list from Geneva. In service since September, 1940, Lieutenant Baker sailed to the Philippines November 1, 1941.

Col. Stout Is Commandant

■ Commandant of Greenville Army Air Base, S.C., Col. Oliver H. Stout, Calif. A '17, is a veteran of World War I, when he served in the Indiana National Guard Aviation Squadron from 1926 until January, 1941, when he re-entered the regular Army Air Forces. Until recently he was base executive officer at MacDill Field, Tampa, Fla. He has served in various capacities at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Key Field, Miss.; Fort Leavenworth, Kan.; Esler Field at Camp Beauregard, La.; and at MacDill Field.

Missing Since Midway

■ 2nd Lt. James Marmande, La. E '40, Marine Air Corps, has been reported missing in action since the Battle of Midway. Before leaving for the Pacific area he was given a farewell party by five Louisiana Epsilon brothers in Houma, La.

Awarded Air Medal

■ 2nd Lt. Norman R. Nelson, Mont. B '40, missing in action in European War Theatre since November 9, 1942, has been awarded the Air Medal for gallantry in action.

SAVES LIVES—Lt. Robert E. Newmann, Ill. Ψ - Ω '40, Saved Six Lives when His Ship, the USS Colhoun, was Sunk near the Solomons in August; He was Promoted in Rank Shortly Afterwards from Lieutenant, junior grade.

Rescues Six in Sea

■ Lt. Robert E. Newmann, Ill. Ψ - Ω '40, was serving as executive officer on the U.S.S. Colhoun, auxiliary transport sunk near the Solomons late in August. When the ship went down Lieutenant Newmann, an excellent swimmer, is said to have saved the lives of six men in the oil-congested, shark-infested water. Attacked by eighteen bombers, the stern of the ship was blown to pieces and the vessel sank in two minutes. This news was not known until late in October, but Lieutenant Newmann's safety was established through the Red Cross in September, and confirmed in a letter received by the National Office from Ensign Don M. Gable, Ohio Δ '35, Associate Editor of THE RECORD. In his letter of September 9 he told of meeting Lieutenant Newmann on board the former's ship. A graduate of Northwestern University's Naval ROTC, and awarded the Sextant Sword as Outstanding Midshipman of his class, Lieutenant Newmann's saving of a fellow sailor's life in April was carried in the May issue of THE RECORD. He served only five and one-half months as lieutenant, junior grade, before his recent promotion to lieutenant, senior grade.

Short Shrift For Traitors

IN IMPOSING the death sentence on Max Stephan, German born American citizen, convicted of treason, at Detroit, Mich., August 6, 1942, Hon. Arthur J Tuttle, Mich. I-B '92, Past E.S.A., judge of the United States Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, made history for this was the first time that such a sentence had been pronounced in a Federal court.

The crime of which Stephan was convicted was that he had given assistance to a Nazi prisoner of war who escaped from a prison camp in Canada and visited Detroit April 18 while trying to reach Germany. The prisoner, Lt. Hans Peter Krug, was captured in San Antonio, Texas, and testified for the Government at Stephan's trial. Before being sentenced, Stephan had boasted in his cell: "Victory will be sure; Germany will not let me hang."

The sentence imposed by Judge Tuttle was the subject of nation-wide comment and he received an avalanche of letters of approval as well as dire threats from avowed fifth columnists.

Collection Attorney

JAMES E. CHAPMAN, Ill. Ψ-Ω '97, of Evanston, Ill., former Treasurer of the Fraternity, has been named by the Supreme Council as Collection Attorney to succeed Charles H. Barker, Ill. Ψ-Ω '22, Archon of Province MU, who has done the collection work since it was undertaken in 1933. Mr. Barker had to retire since he is living in Springfield, Ill., and the National Laws provide that the Collection Attorney must be a member of the Fraternity, living in the vicinity of Evanston.

In the ten years that he has handled collections for the Chapters Collegiate, Mr. Barker has collected approximately $20,000.00 for them. Mr. Chapman has had much experience in this line of work and is fully acquainted with the financial affairs and policies of the Fraternity. He is ideally fitted for the job.

Maryland Approved

THE University of Maryland, located at College Park, Md., just outside of Washington, D.C., has been approved as a domicile for a Chapter Collegiate of Sigma Alpha Epsilon by a direct vote of the electorate of the Fraternity, taken in accordance with the provisions of Section 19 of the National Laws.

Greetings to Men in Arms

AS THE holiday season will be at hand before this issue of THE RECORD is delivered to many of the members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, now serving in the armed forces of the United States, occasion is taken to extend heartiest greetings to every son of Minerva who is giving himself for the war effort of his country, whether at home or abroad, on land or sea, in training or on the battle fronts.

Wherever they are, they may be sure that the thoughts of their brothers in the Chapters Collegiate and in alumni councils are with them and that in the words of Will Marshall, long-time colored janitor of Virginia Omicron at the University of Virginia, "their names are kindly spoken."

It would be idle for those of us who are enjoying the comforts of home life to wish a Merry Christmas or a Happy New Year to the men in active military and naval service but we can remember them in our thoughts and prayers, particularly when we sit down to our Christmas dinners. And we can find no better words to express our thoughts than those of the S A E Grace, composed by the immortal Billy Levere:

*Ye Ancient Father of our clan, we bow our hearts to Thee
And offer thanks for bread and meat and for our S A E.
Bless brothers all, we humbly pray, though far on land and sea,
And keep us true to high ideals, we ask for S A E.*

At its meeting in August, the Supreme Council declared the existence of an emergency and instructed the Eminent Supreme Recorder to send out ballots to the Chapters Collegiate, Alumni Associations in good standing, and National and Province officers, entitled to a vote in the National Convention, on October 1.

Ballots were sent to 176 groups and individuals with a letter advising that all who did not reply within twenty-one days would be counted as having voted favorably. In reply, 123 votes were received, 121 affirmative and two negative, as shown by the report of the committee appointed by the Eminent Supreme Archon to canvass the vote. Since the fifty-three groups and individuals who did not vote within the allotted time thereby gave assent, the proposition was carried overwhelmingly.

As the result of this action, a petition from a group at the University of Maryland may be considered at the next National Convention.

Alumnus Advisers

THE WAR HAS taken heavy toll of the men serving in one of the key positions of the fraternity system: the alumnus advisers, the men who supervise the Chapters Collegiate, who are always on hand to give advice when needed and to steer the chapters into proper channels.

These men supply the necessary link for continuity of policies and ideals. The expedited programs put into effect on many campuses which will result in an abnormally rapid turnover in chapter membership have increased the need for local supervision so that the gaps must be filled wherever Alumnus Advisers have been called away.

This situation presents an opportunity for service by loyal alumni, particularly older men who have served as advisers in the past but have turned the work over to others in recent years.

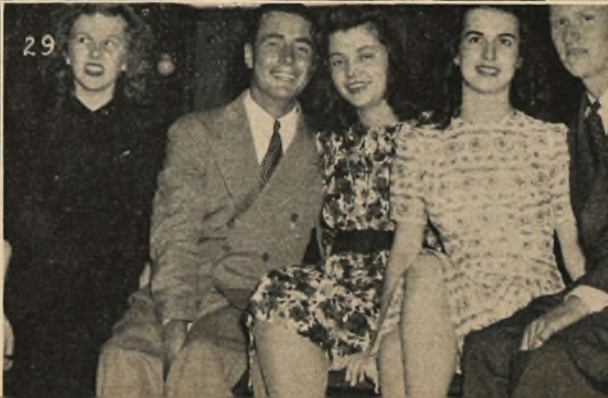

The Wings of the Bird

By Pelham Kerper, M.D., Pa. Δ '16

*Now our Eagle's at war, and its wings are as strong
As the stout heart of the bird to which they belong.
For, the muscles and sinews of our Eagle's wings
Are chock full of the strength that fraternity brings.
This American Eagle knows well how to fight,
As it goes into battle with all of its might.*

*When the Goddess Minerva looks down from above,
At the size of the bird she has given her love,
What a thrill she must get when she sees its wing-spread,
As it summons its strength and goes sailing ahead.
For, to her, as to us, it's as plain as can be—
It's victory for sure, with both wings SAE.*

Leadership School Assembles Earnest Group

By Gordon B. Duncan

Ill. Beta '39

WITH the United Nations in the eighth month of war Sigma Alpha Epsilon held its Eighth Leadership School in the Levere Memorial Temple at Evanston, Ill., August 23-28, 1942. The parallel was fitting, for 162 delegates from eighty-five chapters regarded Bismarck's classic remark—"The nation that has the schools has the future"—as most applicable to the Fraternity as well. Leadership and its vital relationship to our nation's needs today was the dominant theme driven home to the earnest group assembled in the Temple. Dr. John O. Moseley, Director of Leadership Training, conducted a memorable program at a critical time. The atmosphere was peculiarly tense, fraternally dynamic.

The excellent attendance defied wartime curtailment and the Temple hummed with the busy-ness of men in conferences and classes, playlets and pageants, social groups and games. Singing—both organized and spontaneous—shook the walls. There were softball games, banquets, dancing too. But the school was marked by unprecedented earnestness and seriousness. Though the mechanical functions of chapter administration, finances, public relations, and rush-their personal sacrifices are the essential ingredient of our survival today—these things gave the school an undertone of earnestness never before present.

Particularly apropos was this year's powerful presentation of "Charters of Freedom," a playlet written by Dr. Moseley and presented for the second time. A well-trained costumed cast put over the play with a patriotic bang. Indeed, all the plays this year were unparalleled for color, drama, instruction, and inspiration.

Initiation Is Impressive

And climaxing the intensive week of work and play was the model initiation ceremony—considered by Dr. Moseley "the most impressively prepared" he had ever seen—performed on Friday afternoon, August 28, in the Great Hall of the First Methodist Church. Under the direction of Emmett B. Moore, E.S.C., and conducted by chapter delegates, nine more men entered Σ AE.

For most of the delegates events began Sunday afternoon, when everyone gathered in the colorful Panhellenic room to enjoy motion pictures by G. A. Ginter, E.S.H., and Dr. Burton A. Hoffman, Province Beta buffet supper in the Banquet Hall, where sparks of enthusiasm were set off by the flint of fraternity songs. William R. Sledge, Tenn. K '44, soon set things blazing as he directed the singing to the lively tempo of Leo Terry and his Hammond organ. Sledge later organized a Glee Club of twenty-seven strong, which—with the help of O. K. Quivey, past E.S.A.—performed almost professionally under able leadership. At the banquet George N. Short, E.S.A., boomed out a hearty welcome to delegates and faculty members, introducing the latter and the National Officers to the banqueters. Event of the evening was the inspiring discussion on "Songs of Σ AE" by song-writer Quivey himself, close friend of Harold Hill, author of "Violets," and co-composer with him of "Friends." Mr. Quivey introduced several new songs at this time which received their novitiate during the school and which definitely show promise of standing the test of time.

"Old Guard" Members Speak

Monday morning marked the official start of school sessions. Following the parade of the chapters the men gathered in the chapel to hear of ing received their share of attention, something stronger was in the atmosphere. The world and the world's activities have changed radically recently; so Σ AE kept pace with the change. The realization that the youth are today the "Big Shots," as Dean Fred H. Turner expressed it, and that Past Archon. Earlier arrivals were privileged to accompany Supreme Council members to First Baptist Church services conducted by Rev. Charles H. Heimsath, D.D., Tex. P '22, Pastor, Chaplain of Levere Memorial Temple.

The afternoon movies preceded a

"The Building of Σ AE," by Harry S. Bunting, Past Honorary E.S.A., and a most inspiring member of the "Old Guard." Later a new feature was introduced to the School—a luncheon conference on rushing in Northwestern University's Willard Hall, where the delegates were furnished room and board. In the afternoon Lauren Foreman, E.S.R., discussed "The History of ΣAE" with the intimacy of long association. A model chapter meeting playlet, "Might As Well Do It Right," was next presented by chapter representatives under the direction of Fred H. Turner, E.S.D.A. Then followed a brief conference on rushing ably led by Glen T. Nygreen, Wash. A '39, who substituted for Richard H. Habbe, Province Delta Past Archon, who was absent because of illness. Delegates then adjourned to begin their softball tournament.

In the evening began a series of sectional conferences, which were continued the following evening and on Wednesday and Thursday morning. Delegates were divided into groups of approximately twenty-five chapters for each sectional meeting, where matters of chapter administration, finances, public relations, rushing and pledge training were discussed. Albert J. Schoth, Chapter Supervisor, handled Chapter Administration. Warren M. Turner, N.Y. Δ '19, Auditor of Chapter Accounts, led the meetings on Chapter Finances, stressing a war-time economy and the need for "harder work, maintenance of quality in men, yet reduced expenditures." The topic of Public Relations was discussed by groups under Robert R. Aurner, Scholarship Commissioner, and Jack K. Colbert, former Traveling Secretary. "Personal relations in public relations," "rushing the rushees' parents," and many vital angles of the subject were considered. Discussions on pledge training were efficiently led by Clare W. Barker, Ill. Ψ-Ω '24, Adviser of Indiana Gamma at University of Indiana.

The edge of enthusiasm was sharpened still further Tuesday morning when Judge Alfred K. Nippert, Past E.S.A., spoke on "The Shrine of Minerva." His descriptions in detail of the Levere Memorial Temple, especially thrilling to first visitors, were inspiring to all. Proof of the judge's rhetorical potency was obvious at the close of his address, when delegates dug deep into pockets to contribute nearly $100 to the flagpole fund, which was started at last year's school, when a similar-sized fund was raised to place a flagpole on the Temple lawn. The pole was set up prior to the school this year, and it flew the National and Fraternity flags during the week's events. Now delegates polished off the payments, with the help of Judge Nippert. He, with customary generosity, matched the amount raised.

Province Lambda chapters enacted an affective playlet, "Mount Minerva," under the direction of Emmett

B. Moore, which observers pronounced most instructive and inspirational.

McCreery Is Guest Speaker

Guest speaker to the School was Otis C. McCreery, Alpha Tau Omega National Officer, Dean of Men at Washington State College and well-known interfraternity worker and youth counselor. His address stressed the importance of youth holding to ideals today, of fraternity men realizing obligations of citizenship. Another guest of the Greek-world was Bill Hindman, Sigma Phi Epsilon Traveling Secretary, who was welcomed to all sessions of the school. Bandmaster Tommy Tucker, N.D.A. '24, dropped in for a surprise visit from the Empire Room of the Palmer House Hotel where his band was engaged, and he told delegates how much ΣAE means to him. Another guest and inspiring speaker at the school was Dr. H. C. Byrd, President of University of Maryland.

On Tuesday afternoon Emmett Moore presented his conference on the initiation, where delegates received first-hand instruction on procedure, equipment, and ritual from the dramatic demonstrations of a well-trained team. Wednesday morning activities began in the Chapel where Dr. Moseley, staff in hand, discussed "The Escutcheon of ΣAE." Ever inspired with his subject he explained—as only he can explain—the elements of the ΣAE crest, and his audience left with more appreciation for the dynamic quality of fraternity and the strength of ideals.

"The Founding of ΣAE," a playlet by Dr. George H. Kress, Ohio E '96, was presented by Tennessee Kappa representatives, whose realistic performance vividly impressed upon all the dramatic background of the Fraternity's origin. Then after a group conference on chapter advisers, alumni relations, and chapter leadership, the delegates turned again to athletics.

Social highlight of the week's events took place Wednesday evening at the annual dance held in the Panhellenic room. Over six-score couples attended. One-man date bureau Bob Eimers, newly initiated into ΣAE at NU, proved the USO hadn't cornered the market on girls, for he provided 135 delegates with as many dates. With national officers and Faculty members and their wives as chaperones, and music by Leo Terry and his band, the party was a splendid affair. Following the Grand March refreshments were served; the evening was climaxed with gusty singing and the spirited Phi Alpha yell.

Thursday morning Director Mose-ley discussed "The Working Ideals of ΣAE." During the later luncheon conference the personal qualities for leadership were considered. Mid-afternoon marked the final conference on rushing with Glen Nygreen again in charge, and soon after, Dr. Burton Hoffman and chapter representatives presented the stirring playlet, "Charters of Freedom," in which man's steps in democratic government were traced by quotations from the great documents including the Magna Charta, the Mayflower Compact, the Declaration of Independence, Washington's Farewell Address, the Gettysburg Address, the League of Nations, the Ritual of ΣAE, and the National Interfraternity Conference Principles of Democracy. Simple yet dynamic, a picture was unfolded of principles founded for intellectual, spiritual, and physical freedom. members of the cast were: Interlocutor, John Loomis, N.D. A; Greek—Paul Coates, Minn. Δ; Early Christian—Wyatt Blakemore, Iowa Γ; Roman—John Hill, Texas P; William Penn—Robert Marshall, Calif. Δ; Pilgrim—George Wells, Ga. E; Thomas Jefferson—Albert Kopert, Ark. A-Y; Colonial—Frank Bellows, Texas P; George Washington—Walter Hahn, N.Y. P; Abraham Lincoln—Hayes Owen, Tenn. Z; Woodrow Wilson—Rowe Hill, Okla. M; National IFC Member—Jack Hamlin, Ind. Γ; ΣAE Founder—Craig Caldwell, Tenn. K; Franklin D. Roosevelt—Robert Best, Pa. Θ; Modern Business Man—Charles Miller, Jr. Pa. Θ.

An earnest congregation was on hand the following and final morning to participate in discussion on the vital matter of scholarship. Always forceful and dynamic, Scholarship Commissioner Aurner explained, exhorted. Chapter Supervisor Al Schoth illustrated the brilliant presentation with graphic slides. With a theme that "scholarship is usually a question of character and not of mental calibre," Dr. Aurner was able to charge his listeners with his electrical energy; they were impressed. His summary of pledge fatalities—termed by Dr. Moseley the "Fifth Column of the Fraternity System"—among chapters during 1941-42 was distributed to the representatives.

Inspiration from one of the "Old Guard" was next in the order of the day, with Albert M. Austin, Past E.S.A., telling of "The Builders of ΣAE." Early in the afternoon the school's final meeting—with summary and conclusions—saw an audience eager to miss nothing. Dr. Moseley presided, reviewing rushing, chapter tradition, and personal qualities of leadership. After this the Memorial Service was held, with dedication of the flagpole, purchased by this and last year's Leadership Schools, flying the flags of the Nation and the Fraternity. With everyone surrounding the flagpole on the Temple lawn, and G. A. Ginter presiding, the following spoke at the ceremony: George N. Short, Lauren Foreman, Dr. Heimsath, and Texas Rho's representative, John Hill. Dr. Heimsath accepted his post as Chaplain of Levere Memorial Temple and gave the benediction for the occasion, recalling Billy Levere, whom he "met and never forgot" at Texas Rho, and pointing out that he would always "carry a sense of gratitude for the inspiration he received from a man among men."

Initiate Nine Men

Fitting climax to the week's activities came Friday afternoon at the model initiation ceremony. Directed by Emmett Moore and conducted by chapter delegates, the ceremony was indeed impressive, with initiation paraphernalia in a flawless setting, and singing by Hugh "Sonny" Carey, Tenn. K '43. The nine neophytes were: William LaFollette, Calif. A; Thomas K. Rees, Ind. Γ; Harvey L. White, Jr., Mo. B; Thomas Griswold, Jonathan McCormick, Milton Wagner, Neb. Δ-Π; James S. May, Ohio Δ; Samuel H. Bailey, Charles E. Griggs, Tenn. K.

Members of the Initiation Team were: E.A., John O. Moseley; E.R., Craig Caldwell, Tenn. K; E.C., Frank Bellows, Texas P; E.H., Jack Smith, Okla. M; E.W., George Wells, *Ga. In the evening all gathered for the Farewell Banquet. Active chapter representatives spoke, entertained. Delegates burst into song as each new initiate entered the hall. Then Dr. Moseley emphasized points born of the week's activities and thanked all for participation and cooperation. Tennessee Kappa and Texas Rho were especially prominent at the banquet festivities, the former for the largest representation, with fifteen present; the latter for furnishing splendid entertainment. Finally, diplomas were awarded the delegates, speeches were made, and singing broke out to climax activity of the day—and of the week.

In aiming at ideals of achievement those present at the Eighth Leadership School—delegates, faculty, and especially the "Old Guard" of Harry Bunting, Alfred Nippert, Albert Austin and other "War Horses" of the Fraternity—all knew the week had been a tremendous success. Thus they left Evanston—and the Levere Memorial Temple—sadly, but with assurance that the clarifying ray of light of ΣAE was brighter than ever.

Tribute to Dean Wilber J. Teeters

BROTHERS in Sigma Alpha Epsilon: On this memorable afternoon we have assembled to do honor to a man who, hale and hearty, and, to our joy, actively with us today, has already made his name great in the halls of ΣΑΕ.

I have concluded, after the experience of preparing this address, that at least one of life's most difficult assignments is to attempt, even though one knows full well in advance that he will not succeed, to reach those forensic levels that will match the achievements of the man whom today we honor.

A certain dialect-hunting speech expert recently devised a vocal composite which, he said, represents the perfect public-speaking voice. All you have to do to get this Utopian larynx, it is alleged, is to adopt certain ingredients from famed speakers of the current age to formulate the perfect composite.

Yet even if I were a double-turned hand-polished orator possessing the big stick authority of the first Roosevelt; the diction, showmanship, fluency, and timing of the second Roosevelt; the warmth and informality of a Will Rogers; and the dramatic force of a Winston Churchill—even if I were endowed with a composite of these choice ingredients I should still feel the challenge of the difficult assignment I have undertaken here.

It was Elbert Hubbard who once said, "To escape criticism: do nothing, say nothing, be nothing." In his constructive life Brother Wilber J. Teeters has never attempted to escape criticism. He has done something, he has said something, he has been something. To speak in more explicit terms, he has in his lifetime done things of worth, said things of worth, and been things of worth.

In order that we may know this man more accurately, let us first look at his chronological record. This is the way it runs:

TEETERS, Wilber J., dean emeritus of the College of Pharmacy, the State University of Iowa; born Alliance, Ohio, October 10, 1866; son of Williamson Teeters and Doreas (Johnson) Teeters; educated Alliance (Ohio) high school; Bachelor of Science, Mount Union College, Alliance, Ohio, 1893; Master of Science, 1897; Pharmaceutical Chemist, University of Michigan, 1895; demonstrator of Chemistry, Medical College, University of Iowa, 1895-1902; professor of Pharmacy, University of Iowa, 1902-1904, dean, College of Pharmacy, 1904-1937, dean emeritus, 1937 to the present. Member of the Masonic Lodge as a thirty-second degree Mason, Knights Templars, Shriners, ΣΑΕ, ΦΔΧ, ΒΦΣ, ΓΑ, ΑΦΩ, ΡΧ. Clubs: Triangle (charter member), Country. Interest: toxicology. Recreation: golf. Methodist. Republican.

Useful though chronological data may be, they do not of course tell us the full story we want to hear. So that Brother Teeters may be better known to us all, I now present the high lights of that interesting story.

In the spring of 1895 a young candidate for the degree Pharmaceutical Chemist at the University of Michigan was called into the office of the Dean. He was offered a position at the University of Iowa. He refused it. A week later he was called in again and was told by the Dean that he had promised his friend, Professor Rockwood, to send the young chemist to Iowa the next fall. Still protesting, but "willing to take the position for one year," Wilber John Teeters came to Iowa City in September, 1895, as demonstrator of chemistry in the College of Medicine. He has remained continuously since then.

Dean Teeters says his boyhood ambition was to be a grocer: later, while in high school, he decided to become a dentist. At that time, dentists entered upon their profession through apprenticeship. Upon presenting himself for such an arrangement, he was strongly advised to try some other and more attractive field.

After being graduated from high school, he taught in country and city schools in order to continue his education. In 1893, he received the B.S. degree at Mount Union College, Alliance, Ohio. While in college the young man found chemistry his most interesting subject; it followed naturally that he should be attracted to pharmacy—or applied chemistry. Accordingly, he entered the College of Pharmacy of the University of Michigan and in 1895 received the degree Ph.C. Two years later he received the Master of Science degree from his Alma Mater.

When the protesting young man arrived to become demonstrator of chemistry, the medical course at the University of Iowa consisted of three years of six months each; school was out in March. All dissecting classes met at night. The College of Pharmacy, organized in 1885, had formerly occupied the basement of the old medical building, but in 1890, when the pharmacy laboratory was built, at the corner of Dubuque and Iowa, the College was moved to the third floor. In 1927 Dean Teeters supervised the removal of the College into its own new building adjoining the Chemistry building on the north.

After seven years of service in the College of Medicine, Mr. Teeters was made associate professor of pharmacy, and in 1904, upon the resignation of Emil Louis Boerner, he was made Dean of the College of Pharmacy. Thus the "one year" which, as a young man, he was willing to spend at the University of Iowa has lengthened to thirty-two.

Dean Teeters has, for more than twenty years, been responsible for operation of the drug rooms at the University hospitals. Under his supervision, also, extensive manufacture of drugs for use in the various departments is carried on. Dean Teeters says that no mistake has ever gone out of the drug room.

In addition to his administrative and teaching duties, Dean Teeters is often called upon for analytical work in connection with cases involving the abstruse science of toxicology. He dislikes the term expert witness and gives two definitions as reasons: "An expert witness is one who knows more and more about less and less until finally he comes to know almost everything about nothing"; and, "An expert witness is one who has a certain amount of classified knowledge and is a long way from home."

Dean Emeritus Wilber J. Teeters, Ohio Σ '93, Mich. I-B '95, Iowa B, Past Archon of Provincines Delta and Zeta and Godfather of Iowa Beta.

Dean Teeters has always been interested in athletics; he served on the Athletic Board of the University for more than a dozen years. Several years ago he was made chairman of the University Social Committee. Up to that time there had never been student representation on this committee. Dean Teeters insisted on equal student and faculty membership, and although it was then an unheard-of arrangement, he won his point. He says there has never been a division of votes as between students and faculty, and he believes there never will be.

Golf is the hobby of Dean Teeters, and in that connection he has one consuming ambition—to “lick Dean Seashore” as frequently as possible. The Teeters-Seashore all-ΣAE golf feud has long since become famous.

Dean Teeters is constantly occupied in various pharmaceutical researches, and occasionally he writes for drug journals. He is a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and a member of the American Pharmaceutical Association. Finally, of greatest importance to those of us at this banquet, in his college days he pledged loyalty to ΣAE.

From this resume of the facts it is clear that we honor today a man of many talents, a character of many facets. We think of Brother Teeters as a scholar, as an administrator, as a teacher, as a technical authority, as an expert witness, and as a public servant. And we think of him too as possessing the distinguishing quality of a saving sense of humor. As a faculty man and as an administrator he would, for example, be one of the first to appreciate a story told by Dean Briggs of Harvard to illustrate the attitudes of the late President Eliot toward literature as a factor in education. “A student had been failed in his degree examinations because he had failed in English literature. He sat for a second time, and again his English literature paper was below pass requirements. This man was good in all his other subjects, and even brilliant in some, so that at the meeting at which candidates for degrees were discussed, Dean Briggs says that he rather stressed this particular student’s excellence in other fields as an offset to his failure in literature. When he finished his talk, President Eliot addressed the meeting somewhat as follows: ‘Gentlemen, Dean Briggs recommends that John Doe, whom he describes as illiterate, he made a Master of Arts of Harvard University!’”

Again, as one of the top authorities in the United States on pharmaceutical matters, Brother Teeters would be one of the first to chuckle at the story, appearing in The St. Luke’s News, of a hostess who had invited a newly settled physician to dinner and in reply had received a note so scrawled she could not make out whether it was an acceptance or not. Her husband suggested she take it to the druggist.

“Druggists can always read doctors’ writing,” he said.

She did so. The pharmacist looked at the note, disappeared behind a partition, and in five minutes returned with a filled bottle.

“Fifty cents, madame,” he said.

In addition to his keen sense of humor, Brother Teeters is notable likewise for an equally keen sense of modesty. I speak of this trait with some pain because the Dean being an ultra-modest man did not take too strongly to having a fuss made over himself. Not only did the boys in charge of this memorable banquet have to go ahead with their plans before revealing to him the details, but also in his characteristic way, he so played himself down that your speaker had to do some extra digging to uncover certain facts.

Of particular interest to those of us in attendance here is the magnificent role played by Brother Teeters in guiding the destiny of Iowa Beta chapter of ΣAE

Counsellor of Iowa Beta

To get the Iowa Beta subject clear, it is necessary to go back in history a number of years. Ohio Sigma, the Mount Union Chapter of ΣAE, was the second chapter north of the Mason and Dixon line. At the time Brother Teeters was initiated into Ohio Sigma, this chapter was fortunate in being able to boast of a number of men extremely active in the interests of the Fraternity. Among these men were M. B. Excell, H. Lindale Smith, F. L. Taft, H. C. Burger, and L. H. Brushmen, whose names will be found recorded in the historical annals of ΣAE.

Brother Albert M. Austin and the Bunting Brothers—and these are famous names to conjure with in the realm of ΣAE—were already at work. Brother William McKinley was then governor of Ohio and had been initiated into ΣAE by the Ohio Sigma Chapter. At the dedication of the World’s Fair, 1893, at Chicago, a military company made up of many ΣAE’s accompanied Governor McKinley as his special escort. They were known as “McKinley’s Own.” Among this band of “McKinley’s Own” was Brother Wilber J. Teeters. It was during his stay in Chicago that he met for the first time Billy Levere, then a freshman in Northwestern University. Shortly thereafter, at the Pittsburgh convention in 1893, Brother Teeters was elected President of Province Delta.

When he left Michigan in 1895 to accept a position at the University of Iowa to teach Chemistry in the Medical College, he faithfully promised Billy Levere that he would establish a chapter of ΣAE at Iowa. After he had looked the field over, however, he found things, as far as fraternities were concerned, so drastically different from conditions to which he had been accustomed, that he wrote Billy Levere he was sure Iowa was not at that time ready for a chapter of ΣAE. At that time, Brother Teeters reports, fraternities at Iowa had rooms over business stores. Perhaps because of the rather extensive background of spirituous distillates that came forth from the manufacturing enterprises of Iowa City, considerable stimulant of the liquid variety was consumed in these times, and fraternities were not, it is reported, in first rate repute.

Brother Teeters was, in fact, in a major dilemma. Here was the town of Iowa City which at that time had two breweries, one distillery, one wholesale liquor store, and seventeen saloons. Against this background the wisdom of establishing a new chapter seemed debatable. To add to his personal predicament, Brother Teeters had been raised a Quaker, had graduated from a Methodist college, and had married the daughter of a Methodist preacher.

During the next several years much correspondence passed back and forth with Billy Levere about plans for establishment of a new chapter. Finally, as Brother Teeters phrases it, “I guess Billy got impatient at my delay. In March, 1904, he sent John H. McKnight, a newly initiated freshman from Minnesota, to colonize a group to petition ΣAE for a charter. McKnight was one of the most enthusiastic and likable chaps I ever met.”

Among his wide circle of acquaintances at the time, Brother Teeters knew several fine men who had been bid by more than one fraternity but who, for reasons best known to themselves, had elected not to become members. Among these men were R. M. Anderson and W. B. Bell. It was finally decided that if these two men could be pledged as a nucleus, a strong petitioning group could be successfully formed. Anderson, the first man bid, accepted the pledge. He in turn agreed to Bell. As Brother Teeters remembers it, the group did not miss pledging a single man to whom an invitation was issued. Several of the pledges said afterwards that they had refused bids and had definitely decided not to join a fraternity, but that the personnel of this group caused them to change their minds.

The first meeting of the newly formed pledge class was at the home of Brother Teeters, and this home was the scene of many succeeding meetings. Others were held in the basement of Old Capitol, one was held in Close Hall, and one impromptu meeting took place on the baseball bleachers of the old Iowa field.

At the first meeting a constitution was adopted calling the group the Phi Alpha Club. The stated object was to petition ΣAE for a charter. Billy Levere was kept informed of the progress at all times. The year closed with a banquet at the Burkley Imperial Hotel. Arrangements were made for a chapter house at 400 North Clinton Street.

Ultimately the petition for a charter was approved and favorably passed upon by the National Convention meeting at Memphis, Tenn., and the installation of the chapter was authorized.

The now immortal Billy Levere came out from Evanston to supervise the installation of the new Iowa Beta chapter. Lavish in his praise of the new group, Billy expressed his opinion that it was one of the finest groups of young men ever initiated into ΣAE or into any other fraternity. “Testing Billy’s judgment after a lapse of thirty-six years,” comments Brother Teeters, “and knowing what these men have accomplished and realizing the splendid friendships that have endured over nearly four decades, I believe Billy was right.”

On the afternoon of February 11, 1905, in the K.P. hall, with the thermometer at thirty degrees below zero, the following twenty-seven charter members were initiated into Iowa Beta chapter of ΣAE:

To supplement the history of Iowa Beta as it grew from strength to strength, I could, if there were time, give you impressive statistics of the growth of the University of Iowa from the time Dean Teeters joined the faculty down to the present moment. I could give you facts on the growth of the student body, the number of members of the faculty, the number of buildings on the campus. I could describe the parade and panoply of all those kinds of increases that reflect the systematic expansion of the institution and the development of its intellectual stature.

But these things many of you already know. And of these things you are through various publications reminded at frequent intervals.

What must never be forgotten, however, by loyal sons of Iowa Beta is that this occasion marks, in a manner to be engraved in our memories, the fiftieth anniversary of the initiation of Dean Wilber J. Teeters into the bonds of ΣΑΕ. To men of Iowa Beta, Brother Teeters, founder and guardian of Iowa Beta interests through thirty-six years of activity, has literally symbolized the friendship upon which our Fraternity is based. I would hazard the belief that there is not one of the 482 Iowa Beta men who has been less than the Dean's true friend for life. Throughout his half century of active participation in the affairs of the fraternity, he has been, in the genuine sense of the word, devoted to the cause of ΣΑΕ. Well-known by brothers everywhere through his diligent participation in national and province work, one of the larger distinctions that has come to him is that of having been president of two different provinces: Province Delta and, many years later, Province Zeta. To this high distinction must be added his generous attention to and faithful interest in the now-famous Annual Leadership School of ΣΑΕ, held in the Levere Memorial Temple during the last week of August in each year. To these inspiring gatherings of the undergraduate chapter leader-officers, coming to Evanston each year from border to border and coast to coast, and numbering more than two hundred strong, Brother Teeters has contributed valued and wise counsel, sage guidance, and that broadly stabilizing influence that comes from decades of inner knowledge and practical experience in the administration of chapter affairs.

Chaplain of the Temple

But unquestionably his greatest contribution to the Fraternity has been his founding and counseling of the Iowa Beta chapter. It may seem to be the quoting of a truism to say that men of Iowa Beta cannot help but be inspired by the zealous devotion and the ever-fresh enthusiasm maintained by Brother Teeters over the years. If it is a truism, it is one worth repeating. This brother whom we honor today has given liberally of his time, of his money, and of his physical effort to further always the cause of Iowa Beta.

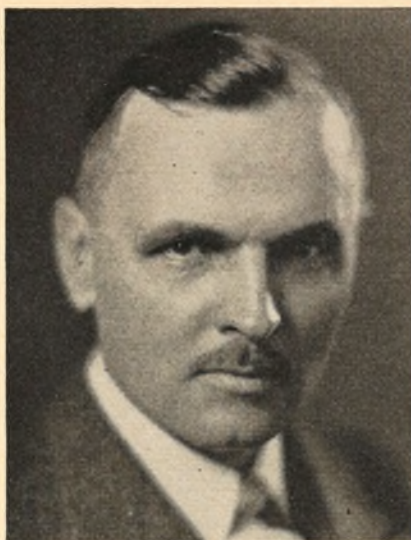

Nor have his efforts been in vain. Once again the current year finds Iowa Beta at the fore in fraternity circles. Winning a high reputation on the campus, the chapter has a fine internal spirit, the kind of spirit that builds solidly the groundwork for prosperous and well-knit chapters to come.

Let it be remembered that it was through the foresight of Brother Teeters that the present chapter house was located on the choice spot of Riverside Drive and became the nucleus for the fraternity row on the west side of the Iowa River. Here, with vision, with thoughtful plan, yes, with manual labor, he initiated the opening of the west side of Iowa City as the choice fraternity residential section. Yet, in the final analysis, what is ultimately important to men of Iowa Beta, even above and beyond distinctions won, is the loving fraternal fellowship our honored brother has extended through the years equally to all with whom he has worked for the honor of ΣΑΕ.

Toast to an Honored Brother

Men of Iowa Beta, we have come together today—some of us from far points—to do honor to Wilber J. Teeters, a brother in ΣΑΕ. We honor him as a scholar. We honor him as an administrator. We honor him as a public servant. We honor him as a teacher. We honor him as a counsellor and guide. We honor him as a good sportsman. We honor him as a builder of character. We honor him as a friend.

We honor him, too, for the distinguishing characteristic of breadth of interest, for his tolerance, for his humanitarianism. In one of the rooms of my father's house—located, it happens, only a few short blocks from the Iowa Beta chapter house—there is a framed verse which has ever seemed to me to encompass ageless wisdom.

To this verse the man whom we honor today, would, I think, be among the first to subscribe. Let me give it to you here:

*In men whom men condemn as ill
I find so much of goodness still,
In men whom men pronounce divine
I find so much of sin and blot,
I hesitate to draw the line
Between the two where God has not.*

Last of all, we honor Wilber J. Teeters as a fraternity brother, the equal of whom as a man of utter devotion to the interests of Iowa Beta we may not see again these many generations to come. We take delight in the fact that he is with us here today. We join in wishing him unstinted years of good health to come. With one voice we join together in bestowing upon him the rare degree of Grand Master of Iowa Beta Chapter of ΣΑΕ.

Alexander E. Patterson, Pa. X-O '17, Member of the National Board of Trustees.

REV. Charles H. Heimsath, D.D., Texas P '22, pastor of the First Baptist church of Evanston, Ill., was elected Chaplain of the Levere Memorial Temple by the Trustees of the Levere Memorial Foundation on August 22, 1942.

Since coming to Evanston from Bridgeport, Conn., in 1931, Dr. Heimsath has officiated at many weddings held in the Temple and has taken part in various fraternity functions. Twice each year he preaches a special sermon for the members of Illinois Psi-Omega at Northwestern University who attend his church in a body. This has become one of the established traditions of the chapter.

Northwestern University conferred the Doctor of Divinity degree on Dr. Heimsath in 1936. He is the author of two books of sermons, "With Honor" and "Sermons on the Inner Life."

Patterson A Trustee

ALEXANDER E. PATTERSON, Pa. X-O '17, executive vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, was elected a member of the National Board of Trustees by the Supreme Council, effective August 15, 1942, for the term ending in 1951, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Leon C. Stowell, Mass. Γ '14, executive vice president of the Underwood Elliott Fisher Co., who was forced to retire, due to the pressure of war work undertaken by his company.

Mr. Patterson is one of the outstanding executives in the life insurance field. After heading agencies of the Equitable in New York and Chicago, he became general agent of the Penn Mutual for Illinois in 1928 and was made vice president of that company in 1937, serving in this capacity until given his present post in July, 1941. He is a Life Member of the Chapter National.

Aids War Production Board

Robert L. McMichael, Ga. E '22, was appointed a member of the book publishing and manufacturing industry advisory committee of the War Production Board in August, 1942. The committee assists the WPB in working out problems of book publishing. For a number of years Mr. McMichael has been connected with the Turner E. Smith Publishing Co. of Atlanta, Ga.

Two New Founders, 157 Life Members

TWO new Founders of the National Endowment Fund and 157 Life Members of the Chapter National of Sigma Alpha Epsilon have been added since June 30, 1942, when the list published in the August issue of THE RECORD was made up.

As of November 15th, there were fifty-one fully paid-up Founders who had contributed $1,000 each and 2,122 Life Members who had completed payment of the $50 Life Membership fee.

Founder No. 50 is Park W. Stickney, N.H. A '08, of Chicago, member of the Levere Memorial Temple Building Committee.

Founder No. 51 is Alexander B. Andrews, N.C. E '93, of Raleigh, N.C., former Archon of Province Gamma and one of four ΣAE brothers. Both the new Founders have been Life Members for many years.

The plan under which alumni, who have paid annual Chapter National dues of $3.00 for several years, are given a credit of $2.50 for each such payment and may become Life Members by paying the balance necessary to make up the $50 fee is becoming more popular every year and a large number of alumni have taken advantage of it.

Three of the new Life Members, Judge C. W. Guerin, Tenn. A '05; Arthur A. Leschen, Mo. B '04; and George M. McAdam, N.Y. Δ '04, had paid annual Chapter National dues for nineteen years, giving them credits of $47.50, and consequently paid $2.50 each; on the other hand, ten had no credits and paid the full $50 fee.

The new Life Members, their chapters and addresses, are as follows:

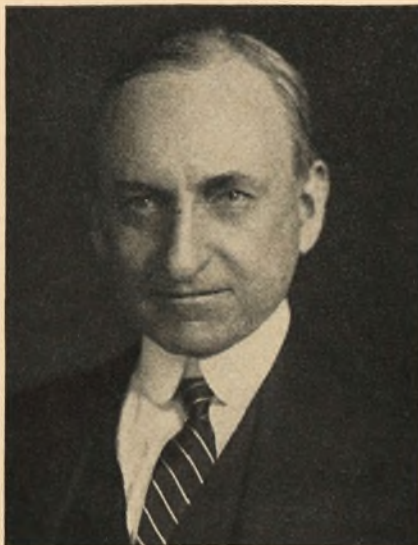

Alabama Alpha-Mu—Henry F. DeBardleben, New Orleans, La.; Samuel E. Greene, Birmingham, Ala.

Alumnus Names Foundation in Will

By George N.
Short, E.S.A.

SETTING a good example for other members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon to follow, an interested alumnus who requests that his name not be published recently drew a will in which he provided for a donation of $1,000 to the Levere Memorial Foundation for a Founder's membership in his name and also named the Foundation as the residual legatee of his estate after the fulfillment of certain other provisions.

Wishing to be sure that these provisions of his will were drawn in proper form, this alumnus requested that Norman H. Pritchard, General Counsel for the Fraternity and the Foundation, prepare three model forms for bequests to the Foundation, as follows: (1), Bequest for Founder's Membership; (2), Specific Bequest to Levere Memorial Temple Sustaining Fund; (3), Residuary Bequest to Levere Memorial Temple Sustaining Fund.

Mr. Pritchard prepared the forms, as requested, and they are reproduced herewith for the guidance of any alumnus who may wish to remember the Fraternity in his will:

(1) BEQUEST FOR FOUNDER'S MEMBERSHIP

I give and bequeath unto THE LEVERE MEMORIAL FOUNDATION, a corporation not for pecuniary profit organized under the laws of the State of Illinois, whose principal office is located at 1856 Sheridan Road, Evanston, Illinois, its successors and assigns, the sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) in payment of a Founder's Membership in my name in the National Endowment Fund of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

(2) SPECIFIC BEQUEST TO LEVERE MEMORIAL TEMPLE SUSTAINING FUND

I give and bequeath unto THE LEVERE MEMORIAL FOUNDATION, a corporation not for pecuniary profit organized under the laws of the State of Illinois, whose principal office is located at 1856 Sheridan Road, Evanston, Illinois, its successors and assigns, the sum of _____ Dollars ($ _____), IN TRUST, to be added to and become a part of the trust fund known as the Levere Memorial Temple Sustaining Fund,* to be held and administered by the Trustees of The Levere Memorial Foundation for the purposes of said trust fund, in accordance with the National Laws of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity as the same now exist or as they shall hereafter be amended.

* Or the "Levere Memorial Foundation Student Loan Fund."

(3) RESIDUARY BEQUEST TO LEVERE MEMORIAL TEMPLE SUSTAINING FUND

All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real, personal and mixed, of every sort and character, I give, devise and bequeath unto THE LEVERE MEMORIAL FOUNDATION, a corporation not for pecuniary profit organized under the laws of the State of Illinois, whose principal office is located at 1856

Sheridan Road, Evanston, Illinois, its successors and assigns, IN TRUST, to be added to and become a part of the trust fund known as the Levere Memorial Temple Sustaining Fund,* to be held and administered by the Trustees of The Levere Memorial Foundation for the purposes of said trust fund, in accordance with the National Laws of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity as the same now exist or as they shall hereafter be amended.

*NOTE: The objects of the Levere Memorial Temple Sustaining Fund are "to provide for the upkeep, embellishment and improvement of the Levere Memorial Temple, and to assist in the attainment of any of the purposes of The Levere Memorial Foundation as now or hereafter set forth in its charter."

The purposes of The Levere Memorial Foundation as set forth in its charter are:

"(1) To erect and maintain a memorial building to be known as the 'Levere Memorial Temple' in honor and memory of William C. Levere and of other members of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity who have served their country on land or sea.

(2) To maintain therein a memorial chapel, also a library, reading rooms, museum and art gallery, which shall be open and free to the public for research and study.

(3) To preserve documents, archives, war records, relics, pictures, works of art and related objects, for the encouragement of patriotic and historical research, particularly as to the history of education and educational institutions; together with such other facilities as may be necessary or proper to the maintenance of such a memorial.

(4) To cherish, maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom, to foster true patriotism and love of country in the youth of the nation, and to promote celebrations on patriotic anniversaries.

(5) To establish and grant scholarships and loan funds to worthy and needy students in various universities, colleges and institutions of learning; and build, equip and maintain libraries and reading rooms in the various chapters of the Fraternity.

(6) To receive funds, donations, bequests, endowments and gifts, both real and personal for the furtherance of the objects and purposes above set forth."

In November Elections

TWO United States Senators and five members of the House will represent Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the Seventy-Eighth Congress, as the result of the November election.

Hon. John H. Bankhead, Ala. M '01, and Hon. Richard Russell, Jr., Ga. B '18, were reelected for six-year terms as Senators from Alabama and Georgia.

The five representatives reelected were: Hon. Edward Eugene Cox, Ga. Ψ '02, 2nd Georgia; Hon. Clifford Davis, Miss. Γ '18, 9th Tennessee; Hon. Peterson B. Jarman, Ala. I '12, 6th Ala.; Hon. Lawrence Lewis, Colo.

X '01, 1st Colorado; and Hon. Charles A. Plumley, Vt. A-Σ-II '96, Vermont at Large. The aforementioned men are represented on the Rules, Appropriations, Military Affairs, and Printing Committees.

Hon. Harold E. Stassen, Minn. A '29, was re-elected as Governor of Minnesota, giving ΣAE two state executives, as Hon. Keen Johnson, Ky. E '21, still has two years to serve as Governor of Kentucky. Hon. Payne H. Ratner, Mo. B '20, Governor of Kansas, was not a candidate for re-nomination in the Republican primary.

Province Officers Changed

CAUSED for the most part by the war, there have been changes in the officers of a number of the Provinces of Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the past few months. In Epsilon, Asbury C. ("Pete") Latimer, Ga. B '36, former Deputy Archon, was elected as Archon to succeed J. Henson Markham, resigned; John W. Donahoo, Fla. Y '30, Deputy Archon; and James L. Hughes, Ala. I '36, Recorder-Treasurer to succeed L. McCoy Whitmire who is in the Navy.

Deputy Archon Herschel S. Morgan, of Province Zeta, has moved to California, and Joseph S. Marshall, S.D. Σ '38, former Alumni Secretary is in the Army, but the places have not been filled.

Richard W. Braun, Colo. Z '31, has been elected Treasurer of Eta to succeed Gurnett Steinhauer who is in the Army. Deputy Archon Clair H. Blanchard, formerly of Laramie, Wyo., has moved to Cheyenne, Wyo.

Sam C. Caldwell, Tenn. Z '23, was elected Treasurer of Theta to succeed John H. Baugh and Jack K. Colbert, Okla. M '41, former Traveling Secretary, has been elected Alumni Secretary to succeed Dr. Felix Welch. Both vacancies were caused by the former incumbents having entered the Army.

Deputy Archon William J. Milliken and Recorder James H. Hastings of Kappa; Alumni Secretary Franklin E. Ferguson of Alpha; and Recorder-Treasurer Don W. Fry of Lambda are all in the Army but successors to them have not been named.

Can You Name the Gridiron Stars of '42?

HERE'S an opportunity to test your ability at picking ΣAE All-American Football Teams.

For the fifth consecutive year, eminent archons from all chapters in the fraternity have been requested to submit complete lists of their senior members who this fall completed their final year of intercollegiate football competition. While this, of course, eliminates a goodly number of outstanding juniors and sophomores from consideration, it has been the policy of this poll to restrict the choice to players who would be immediately available for participation on the various all-star and professional teams, or for coaching as a profession.

Although the war has been steadily depleting the rosters of the professional teams in the various circuits, their line-ups have been studded with brilliant ΣAE gridiron greats of other years. Bill Dudley of Virginia, Captain of the 1941 ΣAE All-America Eleven, and currently a member of the Pittsburgh Steelers, has been the sensation of the National Football League.

As in other years, the selection of the 1942 ΣAE All-America Football Teams will be determined largely from the vote totals which result from this poll. It therefore follows that heavy balloting from all sections of the country will produce the most satisfactory conclusions.

It is pointed out that a first hand knowledge of the respective players' abilities is not essential in making the selections, in that newspapers and other publications carry a plentiful supply of league, sectional and national honor elevens. Then, too, the many all-star team selections will serve as a guide, to say nothing of the teams' relative standings at the end of the football season.

From the complete list of senior varsity football players submitted by the various chapters, each of the men listed is eligible for Major Eleven consideration. However, only the names preceded by an asterisk (*), representing the smaller schools, may be chosen for the Minor Eleven.

In the compilation of vote totals, only ballots containing complete elevens will be given consideration. Major and Minor Elevens (either or both) may be submitted. The results of the poll will appear in the next issue of THE RECORD.

Under the present military conscription set-up, it may be necessary to discontinue this annual poll for the duration, and readers are urged to

Coaches at Central Normal

Appointment of Glenn A. Johnson, Ind. F '22, as Athletic Director of Central Normal College, Indianapolis, Ind., was announced in Mid-September. He will coach the football and basketball teams and serve as Director of Physical Education. During the past season he directed the Indianapolis Tech High School basketball team, and previously coached the sport at three colleges: Mansfield State Teachers, Mansfield, Pa.; Hartwick College, Oneonta, N.Y.; Huntington College, Huntington, N.Y. From 1924 to 1929 Mr. Johnson was Head Coach at Bloomington High School, Ind., and he also coached high school athletics at Shanteales, N.Y., for five years.

New Editor of "The Monitor"

When L. Carter Kaanta, Colo. Z '41, became new editor of The Monitor in Denver, Colo., in July, he brought with him a background of travel and observation to serve him well. He has lived most his life in foreign countries, where he has observed the limited freedom under which many other people exist. As a boy he spent several years in Mexico where banditry and politico-militarism flourished; later he spent seven years in Russia, where his father was employed as a metallurgist. In his travels tutors substituted for classrooms, until in 1937 he entered the University of Denver, where, while studying, he was employed in the publicity and international relations departments.

Navy Financial Adviser

Appointment of Robert M. Hanes, N.C. E '12, president of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. of Winston-Salem, N.C., and former president of the American Bankers Association, as adviser to the finance section of the office of procurement and materiel, was announced by the Navy Department, August 9, 1942. The section determines whether various naval contractors require government assistance in obtaining funds for working capital and other purposes.

Tutwiler Given Degree

At its 1942 commencement, the University of Alabama conferred the Doctor of Laws degree on Temple Wilson Tutwiler, Ala. M '99, industrialist of Birmingham, Ala., who is chief engineer and director of oil and natural gas operations for the Cities Service Company.

Writer on Economics

Lt. Col. Thos. A. Maxwell, U.S.A., Retired, Ala. M '93, who is an engineer, farmer and author, as well as a soldier, has written a remarkable pamphlet, "The Long, Long Trail," in which he sets out some original and highly interesting ideas for solving the economic ills of the country by assuring permanent prosperity to the farmers of the nation. Col. Maxwell is now living at "Woodbank Farm," Rural Route No. 1, Tuscaloosa, Ala., and will welcome correspondence with interested brothers.

"LOOK TO THE RECORD"

Supreme Court Justice

Thomas Seay Lawson, N.C. Θ Ala. M '26, will become a justice of the Supreme Court of Alabama in January, 1943, having been elected in the November election, following success in the state Democratic primary in the summer. He will go on the bench, following a four-year term as Attorney General, previous to which he served eight years as Assistant Attorney General. He is a trustee of the University of Alabama. He is the son of Lewis J. Lawson, Ala. I '00, who was elected as a member of the state senate from Hale and Greene counties in the November election.

Leader in Bank World

"Personality plus" seems the consensus of many leading southern bankers regarding Vance J. Alexander, Tenn. N '06, who as chief executive of Union Planters National Bank & Trust Company, Memphis, Tenn., has built the organization into the largest of those in its district. National money-management magazine Finance, April 30, devoted its cover to the towering Tennessean and an article quotes several banking executives who describe the hearty and husky bank president as "combining friendliness and ready decision with marked banking ability." Finance says he "nurtured the old-fashioned idea that banks ought to make money," and his leadership started a remarkable increase of deposits, capital assets, and dividend rate in Union Planters. Where the banker's prototype is frigid, austere, and aloof, Alexander is genial and jovial. Quoting the president of a billion-dollar bank: "No man could possibly have less pretense, nor could anyone be friendlier or more democratic. His career should serve as an inspiration to those who would like to 'walk with kings and still preserve the common touch.'"

Heads Realty Firm

Clyde D. Foster, Ill. Ψ-Ω '07, prominent citizen of Evanston, Ill., has been elected as president of Quinlan & Tyson, Inc., real estate and insurance agency, with which he has been associated for thirty-six years, having served as treasurer and vice-president.

Grilled by Japs

Rev. Francis A. Cox, N.C. E '05, Chancellor of St. John's University (Episcopal) of Shanghai, China, was at his post when the Japs took over, having returned from a visit to the United States just a few days before December 7, 1941. For six weeks, from the first of March until the middle of April, Dr. Cox was grilled and cross-examined by the Japs for several hours each day. He was quartered in Shanghai's Bridgehouse, sharing the floor with thirty Japanese and Chinese criminals. He was one of the 1,500 evacuees who returned to America on the S.S. Gripsholm. During World War I, Dr. Cox served overseas as a captain of Field Artillery with the Eighty-Second Division of the AEF.

Heads Chicago Alumni

Vallee O. Appel, Ill. Θ '11, president of the Fulton Market Cold Storage Co. of Chicago since 1922 and president of the American Warehousemen's Association, 1933-34, has been elected president of the Alumni Association of the University of Chicago. During World War I, he served overseas as a first lieutenant of infantry with the Eighty-Sixth Division.

Invents Tin Salvage Process

Two young Denver University students of Chemical Engineering developed the ingenious process of recovering tin and scrap steel from tin cans. Robert L. Alldredge, Colo. Z '42, was one of them; the other was William G. Norlander. Large-scale operations of the new plant in Denver, Colo., were to begin soon, it was announced in October. The new process, according to Dean C. M. Knudson of the engineering school, not only recovers the strategic tin; it also leaves the steel beneath in condition for blast furnace scrap. Caustic soda—a safe and plentiful chemical—turned the trick for the young engineers, whereas other methods take precious electric power or use chlorine, a dangerous gas. Furthermore, low-cost equipment is a feature of the new Denver process. With tin cans prevalent everywhere, it is expected that the process will find a permanent place in industry. Alldredge's friend, Norlander, studied methods of tin can salvage as a senior in 1940-41, and the summer after the latter's graduation the pair of them, aided by Dean Knudson, discovered a speed-up method of removing tin with caustic soda. This accelerator method, the crux of their discovery, is now a closely guarded wartime secret. Philip Paden, president of the Compressed Steel Corporation, aided the two engineers by building a pilot plant, which has operated successfully for a year. The new larger plant will handle huge quantities of cans. Both chemists are now in war production work. According to Dean Knudson their achievement should prove an inspiration to every American.

Rancher on Farm Bureaus

County, community and state farm bureaus in Nevada have been influenced by George F. Ogilvie, Nev. A '15, for the past twenty years. A rancher since he left school, he has been western regional director of the American Farm Bureau Federation for five years, served as state chairman of the AAA for four years, and is a member of the state committee. His identification with the Farm Bureau began in 1922 in Elko County and in November, 1935, he was made president of the State Farm Bureau, which position he still holds. He is also director of the Farm Credit Administration for the ninth district, a member of the State USDA Defense Board, and a member of the State Defense Savings Council. As an undergraduate at the University of Nevada Mr. Ogilvie was a distance runner on the track team, and his record for the mile made in 1914 still stands at Nevada.

Commissioned for Portrait

Prominent portrait painter J. Scott MacNutt, Mass. Γ '06, was chosen to paint the portrait of Dr. Isadore Loeb, outstanding Missouri educator and nationally acknowledged authority on political science and government. Picked by the State Historical Society of Missouri as the artist to handle the portrait, which will be presented to Doctor Loeb by the society, Mr. MacNutt has painted portraits of Archduke Otto of Austria, Professor Walter B. Spaulding of Harvard, Professor Otto Heller, and other prominent persons. His background is interesting. An honor graduate of Harvard and from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, he spent several years as statistician to the Pittsburgh typhoid fever commission and as health officer of Orange, N.J. In the meantime he made several visits to Europe, took up painting as a recreation and avocation. In 1916 it became his vocation and he entered the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. World War I interrupted his career, but immediately upon his discharge in 1920 he went abroad to continue his study in Paris. His chosen specialty was portraiture. The following year, back in United States, he visited St. Louis to paint, and since then—excepting intervals in Europe, New York, and Chicago—the city has been his home. Mr. MacNutt has taught at the St. Louis School of Fine Arts, Washington University, and was associate dean of the school of Chicago's Art Institute. His portrait of Doctor Loeb will hang in the library of the Missouri State Historical Society.

Prominent Railroad Man

Charles H. Buford, Ark. A-Υ '07, who rose from rodman in the engineering department of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad to general manager, after having transferred to the operating department, is now vice-president of the Association of American Railroads, the body which coordinates the work of the railroads and speaks for all of them in regard to operating matters.

Bishop Walker Consecrated

Rt. Rev. John Moore Walker, Ga. Ψ '09, Ga. B '10, Tenn. Ω '13, was consecrated as bishop of the Diocese of Atlanta of the Protestant Episcopal Church at elaborate ceremonies held in Atlanta, Tuesday, September 29, 1942. He was presented for consecration by Rt. Rev. Middleton S. Barnwell, Ky. K '04, of Savannah, bishop of Diocese of Georgia. William C. Turpin, Ga. B '11, attorney of Macon and life-long friend of the new bishop, presided at a luncheon which followed the consecration ceremonies. A short talk was made by Roosevelt P. Walker, Ga. Ψ '05, brother of the bishop and University of Georgia faculty member. John Moore Walker, Jr. Ga. Φ '43, is a son of Bishop Walker.

Plant Pathologist

Key man in the rapidly growing Easter lily bulb industry—the value of which is magnified by the lack of imports from Japan—is Dr. Philip Brierley, N.H. B '20, plant pathologist in charge of disease investigation of ornamentals, U.S. Department of Agriculture. At the Bureau of Plant Industry Station in Beltsville, Md., his breeding of Easter lilies has accelerated the bulb industry in the southern and northwestern states.

On NU Trustees Board

Third alumnus of Illinois Psi-Omega to be elected to Northwestern University's Board of Trustees is George O. Curme, '09, Vice-President and Director of Research for Carbide and Carbon Chemical Corporation, who was named to the board in June. Graduating from the university with a B.S. degree, Mr. Curme studied at Harvard and Chicago University, obtained his Ph.D. from the latter in 1913. He also studied at the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute in 1913-14 and received the honorary degree of Sc.D. from Northwestern in 1933. Past president of the NU Club in New York, he has been a generous contributor to the university. He is a member of the American Chemical Society, American Institute of Chemical Engineers, Society of Chemical Industry, ΦBK, and ΣE. Other members of the trio of Illinois Psi-Omegas on the board are William A. Vawter, II, '04, and Edwin O. Blomquist, '15.

Roy "Link" Lyman, Neb. A-II '21, has taken over as line coach at Creighton University, Omaha, Neb. The former University of Nebraska and Chicago Bears tackle, "Link" left Nebraska as line coach last winter to enter the insurance business, which work he will continue.

Dahl Army Office Manager

▪ Darrell A. Dahl, N.D. B '36, former Alumni Secretary of Province Mu, is now office manager for the U. S. Army at the West Indian base, built by the construction company with which he was employed. Mr. Dahl had intended to enter the Navy when the construction job was completed but was urged by the military authorities to remain at the base where he is responsible only to the commanding officer.

Studies Bridge Model

▪ A 100-foot scale model of Tacoma Narrows Bridge, which fell during a forty-two mile gale November 7, 1940, was built under the direction of Prof. Burton F. Farquharson, Wash. A '22, at the University of Washington. A simulated gale of comparable velocity shakes and twists the model bridge, built for experimentally determining the structural weakness which caused the Tacoma bridge's collapse. Ten mechanics and students worked all summer with the professor in building the steel model, which was completed in September. Huge propellers in a specially-constructed wind-tunnel create the "gale," which will rage often until the research is completed. Newsreel men have recorded the model's motions.

Given OPA Appointment

▪ George O. Fairweather, Colo X '06, III, O '07, for many years business manager of the University of Chicago, was named as an executive assistant of the Chicago regional Office of Price Administration, October 20, 1942. For the previous six months he has served as executive officer of the Chicago Ordnance district.

"E" AWARD—M. W. Heinritz, Mass Δ '20, General Manager of Philco Corporation's Storage Battery Division, Welcomes Adm. Wat T. Cluverius, USN (Ret.), Phi Delta Theta, to Trenton, N.J., where Admiral Cluverius Presented the Army-Navy "E" to the Philco Storage Battery Division for its Outstanding War Production Record.

Honored for Production

▪ M. W. Heinritz, Mass. Δ '18, General Manager of the Storage Battery Division of Philco Corporation, received the Army-Navy "E" Flag in October on behalf of the company for its excellence in war production. Rear Admiral Wat T. Cluverius, USN (Ret.) made the presentation in colorful ceremonies. Mr. Heinritz' acceptance speech stressed that men and women of the production lines are partners to men in battlefields, and that "More than ever before in our history, it is on us—the men and women in American industry—that the responsibility lies for winning the war."

Serves Nutrition Committee

▪ State Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Mass. I-T '09, Life Member of the Chapter National, is chairman of the New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Nutrition, established to study nutritional problems of war workers and causes of possible nutritional deficiencies in men rejected for selective service.

Realizes His Ambition

▪ As a war correspondent for the Associated Press in the Middle East, Don Whitehead, Ky. E '30, is realizing an ambition of long standing. From 1928 to 1934 he was a member of the newspaper staff of the Harlan Daily Enterprise, Harlan, Ky., working as reporter and advertising salesman. In 1934 he joined the staff of the Knoxville Journal, and two years later joined the Memphis staff of the Associated Press. He was returned to Knoxville to head that city's bureau until two years ago, when he went to New York for the staff of AP's Wide World.

U. S. Trouble-Shooter

▪ Jefferson Caffery, La. T-T '06, U. S. Ambassador to Brazil, who informed the President in August that Brazil is not a trouble spot, is in a position to know, having seen the world's trouble spots at first hand. He was at Paris with Woodrow Wilson, he helped remove Greek refugees from Asia Minor in 1922, he saw Japan during an earthquake, Cuba in a revolution. Missions have taken him to Spain, Persia, Belgium, Germany, England, Colombia, and El Salvador.

Studies Stage Lighting

▪ Designer-Technician Jack C. Beardsley, Colo. Δ '38, has accepted a Rockefeller Foundation Fellowship at Yale University for the winter school term to do experimental work in electronic control of stage lighting. During the past year he was designer-technician for the "Yale Puppeteers" in their now famous "Turnabout Theatre" in Hollywood, Calif.

Gave Weight in Tinfoil

▪ Vivian Reese and Anita Boyce, aged four and two years and weighing thirty-three and twenty-nine pounds respectively, daughters of William Boyce Ficklen, Ga. B '34, and granddaughters of Boyce Ficklen, Ga. E '04, gave bales of tinfoil of their own weight to the Junior Red Cross of Atlanta, Ga., one for their uncle, Lt. George M. Ficklen, N.C. O '40, and one "for the other armies," as Vivian expressed it. They started saving when Lt. Ficklen was called into active service in February, 1942, and made the presentation in August. They credit their grandfather with having been one of their most helpful assistants in collecting tinfoil.

Sports Editor Looks Back

▪ After a Corrigan-like start in the wrong direction, John E. Wray, Mass. I-T '94, settled down to sportswriting at 27, within eighteen months climbed into the sports editor's chair, and now—forty-two years later—recalls a thrilling career packed with joys and sorrows, trials and thrills. His student years at M.I.T., spent obtaining a scientific education, may place him in a class with Columbus searching for the East Indies, yet those years, points out Wray, made possible his finding—not America—but ΣAE, then in its novitiate at Tech. After graduation he tackled the transfer business with his father, but soon sold out. Off on a new tangent in 1899, Wray opened a retail hat store, which lasted a year. With such a finish for a scientific education and with "about five bucks between me and the street," a Sig Alph came to the rescue, introducing him to the city editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. He talked himself into a job writing football at a salary of $10 a week. But taking it and liking it, within eighteen months he was sitting in the sports editor's chair. Life began at that point, with events in an enjoyable career including reporting in many states and countries, covering bullfights and prize-fights, Olympic games, and interviewing celebrities from Gate-Crasher One-Eye Connolly to German Propaganda Minister Goebbels. He has hobnobbed with notables from John L. Sullivan to Helen Stephens, world's top woman athlete. Wray also takes pride in those who have worked with him and for him on the Post-Dispatch staff; including novelist John McConaughy, Jack Alexander, associate editor of Saturday Evening Post, and many others. At 69 and still active on the job, Wray wonders if, after all, he was a "wrong-way youngster." "Certainly," he says, "If I had to do it over again I wouldn't change. And two decisions I made were right—entering the newspaper field and joining ΣAE."

Lodge for Alabama Iota

Alabama Iota, located at Birmingham-Southern College has sold its house to the college in order to be in position to build a lodge on the new fraternity row on the campus which is to be sponsored by the college. Part of the funds realized from the sale were used for the purchase of $3,500.00 in war bonds which was the feature of a victory breakfast for students and friends of the college, held July 17. Construction of the lodge will doubtless be delayed for the duration. In the meantime the chapter is occupying rooms in one of the college dormitories.

It Happened in Houma (La.)

Although Jules Dupont, La. E '42, would give the shirt off his back to his brother Donald's dog "Duke," he didn't anticipate the six-months-old St. Bernard tearing it off. It seems the "ΣΑΕ" on Jules' shirt-front intrigued the dog, and he neatly snapped it off and swallowed it. Donald, La. E '41, is proud of "Duke's" taste.

Paddle Out at Iowa Delta

First Fraternity at Drake University campus in Des Moines, Iowa, to abolish the paddle, Iowa Delta is experimenting with the Merit System in handling pledges. This progressive substitution for the age-old "swat" system was unanimously accepted by the house in September and already seems to indicate promising results, according to Tom Shaw, E.A. The chapter's method of indicating merit is by stars—and not around the eyes. A gold star indicates outstanding acts of merit, a blue star for a week void of demerits, and a red star for minor demerits. A black cross is given for minor infringement of pledge and house rules.

"We have posted a large chart on which the stars will appear weekly. A pledge must earn a minimum number of blue stars before he may be initiated," Shaw explains. "In the event a pledge accumulates too many demerits, he will be brought before an advisory board of the fraternity, and his case reviewed. The board has the power to recommend de-pledging should the action be feasible."

"Other forms of punishment may be meted out, including house and yard duty, weekend study hours, or social privileges denied," he explains. "The system on a comparative basis will act as a stimulus for the pledge group through competition. It will also prevent any injuries that might come about through use of paddles. This is an experiment which we hope will teach our younger men to assume responsibility and leadership earlier in their college career."

Among infractions covered by the merit system are scholastic laxity, financial irresponsibility, disrespect to the Housemother and employees in the Chapter, breaking house rules, and ungentlemanly conduct.

Activities at Kansas Beta

Members of Kansas Beta at Kansas State College have enjoyed a busy fall social season, with proceeds going into War Bonds and Stamps. Inexpensive affairs handled in the unusual manner were featured, with exchange dinners and open houses, buffet suppers and smokers. The Fall House Party on October 17th saw "The Bowery Party" replaced by "The 1856 Club," with wining, dining and dancing subordinated to gambling with paper money purchased by War Stamps. Military morale-strengthening measures drew soldiers from Fort Riley to the party, who in turn put on a floor show. Chapter members also participated in a floor show. Mrs. Shannon, Chapter Housemother, chaperoned the affair. Visitors to the Chapter House have been impressed by the library, now well-stocked with novels and short stories. Al Scoth, Chapter Supervisor of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, presented the books to the men. Physical improvements in the house itself are evident also in the clubroom and gameroom, which have been re-decorated, with walls painted,

Miss. Theta Wins Trophies

Mississippi Theta at Mississippi State won the Interfraternity Athletics Cup for the second consecutive year during the last semester. The Theta's won five of eight possible first places to earn five small trophies, one for each single first place, and one large trophy for largest total number of points. In addition the chapter has the honor of having its name the first to be engraved on the new rotating trophy, which is being awarded to the first fraternity to amass the most points each year for three consecutive years.

The chapter won the following first places: freshman cake race, baseball, basketball, track, and tennis, both doubles and singles. Mississippi Theta's representatives took second place in both pingpong and golf. The basketball team also traveled to the University of Mississippi to defeat the K.A. championship team there and win the rotating cup which is awarded to the best basketball team from the two schools each year.

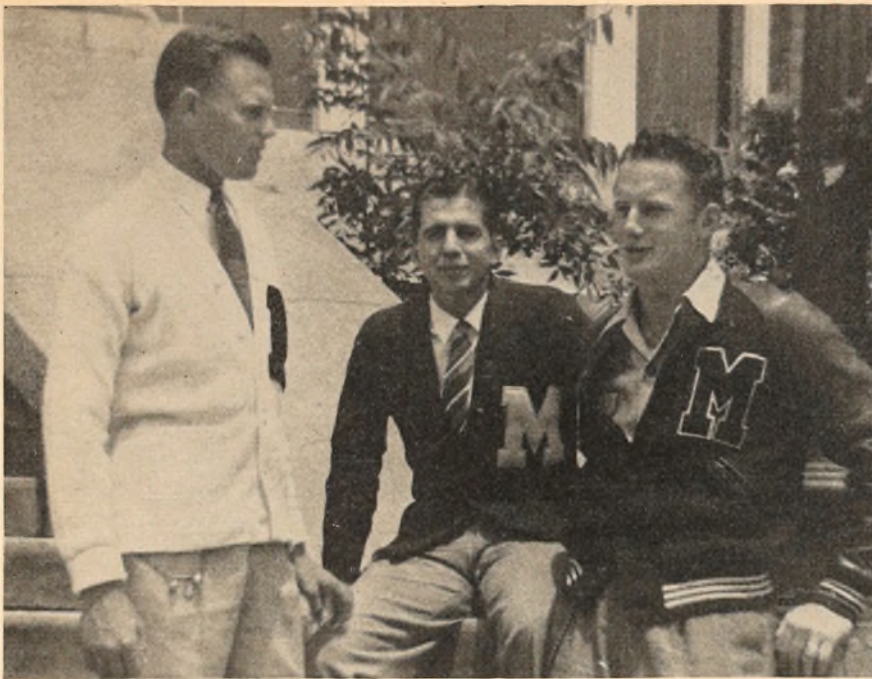

Athletics at S.D. Sigma

Members of South Dakota Sigma at the University of South Dakota started off the current school year by winning the Intramural Softball Tournament with an undefeated team. In campus elections Bud Craft became Vice President of the Freshman Class, while Roger Wallace was named Secretary and Treasurer of the Arts and Science School. Nine members of the chapter are active on the first and second Varsity Football Teams.

Minerva Club of Ga. Phi

By Mrs. Louis Estes

Co-operation is the keynote of the Minerva Club of Georgia Phi, Georgia Tech chapter, in Atlanta. Since its organization in 1939, under the leadership of its first and succeeding efficient presidents, Mesdames Rogers Toy, Frank W. Allcorn, Jr., E. M. Ransom, and Louis S. Estes, the club has maintained an excellent spirit of enthusiastic co-operation, which has been reflected by the house mother, the boys themselves, and alumni of the chapter.

This mutual interest and co-operation was manifested when Cobb Torrance, E.S.W., graciously accepted an invitation to speak at a recent meeting of the club; again when Tom Patton, chapter representative to the ΣAE training school at Evanston, Illinois, gave the Mothers an account of his trip; and on numerous other occasions such as the open house held by the Minerva Club for the boys when they moved into their beautiful new home, the Mother's Day teas given by the boys, and the tea the club gave last spring for the out-of-town Mothers.

The Club has assisted the boys in furnishing the chapter house. With the aid of generous contributions from local and out-of-town mothers, the club purchased rugs, draperies, tables, and lamps for the two spacious living rooms and entrance hall, and curtains for the dining room. A great deal of work has been done on the grounds also; the front planted with grass and shrubbery, and the back converted into a lovely lawn terrace with flagstone walk and steps. All of this the boys appreciated, as expressed in letters from the chapter to the various club presidents. Although the club has a large and scattered membership, everyone is informed of the club activities, and even out-of-town members take a keen interest and give substantial support.

In the World of the Greeks

Old Glory Featured

One of the first of the nation's magazines to carry the American flag in full color on its cover was The Deltasig, publication of Delta Sigma Pi. The magazine came out in March; in late June and early July some 300 American magazines displayed the American flag on their covers, in full color, at the request of the National Publishers Association.

ΣΚ Provides Magazines

Providing magazines for men in the armed forces is part of the work Sigma Kappa sorority is doing in the war effort. The girls are not gathering second-hand magazines, but providing subscriptions for the camps through funds raised for the purpose.

Service Men's Service

A drive to raise a fund of $10,000 to provide comforts for its members and others in service has been inaugurated by Zeta Beta Tau fraternity. The expense is borne by the fraternity and a committee serves to keep records of ZBTs in service, enabling the men to get together where possible. Packages of food delicacies, candy, and cigarettes are being distributed.

Heads Oregon State

D R. AUGUST LEROY STRAND, Mont. A '17, former president of Montana State College at Bozeman, Mont., became president of Oregon State College, Corvallis, Ore., October 15, 1942. A recognized authority on entomology, Dr. Strand was head of that department at Montana State before he became president of the institution in 1937.

A native of Texas, Dr. Strand was graduated from Montana State in 1917 and was one of the charter members of Montana Alpha. He served as an ensign in naval aviation during World War I. After the war he returned to Montana, became assistant state entomologist and associated with Montana State College.

He is a member of the Extension Investigation Committee of ΣΑΕ.

Dr. August L. Strand, Mont. A '19, President of Oregon State College.

DOLLAR COTTON—In this novel, presented to the Levere Memorial Temple library by the author, a versatility is proven which rivals brother Novelist William Faulkner's. In Dollar Cotton, John Faulkner, Miss. Γ '29, presents a strong fantastic character of the Mississippi Delta who moves in a realm of horror which is in complete contrast to the tone of his first novel, Men Working, which was ironically humorous. Old man Town, the central character, is a hardy hillman who starts out with $600 worth of Mississippi Delta land at ninety-five cents an acre, ends with all the land he can buy in Mississippi and in Arkansas. A very hard animal, Town—whose name changes to Towne when his wife seeks to enter society—cheats his negro workmen, rears a mulatto son, conquers the swamp and its water moccasins by brute force.

Town's wife, a former school teacher, learns to hate him completely when she discovers the striking resemblance between her husband and his black son. She holds this hate until Town dies, yet manages an amazing home in Memphis for herself and her children and builds a precious place on the plantation in arrogant, fabulous taste.

The family from the Delta finally receives a retribution dealt from fate, painted by Faulkner with spectacular horror; however, old man Town's consuming love for the land which makes him rich, his phenomenal fight against the hazards of it, and his stoical endurance to a disagreeable wife and spoiled children are painted with emotional power.

John Faulkner's brother, William Faulkner, Miss. Γ '19, well-established man of letters, is working with Warner Brothers Studios in Hollywood on the story of General DeGaulle and the Free French. His outline of the story is completed, was sent to England for approval by General DeGaulle, and then went to the Department of State in Washington.

WHITE SPIRITUALS IN THE SOUTHERN UPLANDS—An autographed edition of this book was presented to the Levere Memorial Temple library in August. The author, George Pullen Jackson,

Notes on New Books

Tenn. N '02, Ill. Θ '04, has presented a story in historical perspective of the remarkable music which though the most widely practiced of native Southern music, is yet comparatively unknown to any except those who participate in it. After concluding that "the concept of the folk-genre in question is nebulous in the minds of many," Mr. Jackson uncovered a batch of aged handbooks of spiritual folk-song which had apparently escaped the attention of all other collectors and investigators of American institutions. In White Spirituals he discusses their origin and development and persistence, offering a deep and broad survey of a beloved "science" and a respect for the "American rurals and their lyric-religious folk-ways." His volume tells the whole story of white spirituals in a manner which would interest those who take part in the music and every one who takes pride in and has love for this native art.

HISTORY OF RANDLEIGH FARM—The fourth edition of this very interesting work regarding one of the country's leading dairy farms makes another most welcome addition to the Levere Memorial Temple library. William R. Kenan, Jr., N.C. Ξ '94, Founder of the National Endowment Fund of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, tells of the development of Randleigh Farm in Lockport, N.Y., describes the dairy technique which has made him the owner of one of the largest Jersey herds, consisting of many medal champions, and presents an insight into a man of wealth with a keen sense of social responsibility. As his contribution to the general welfare, his business is working out the practical application of scientific discoveries for the production of the most healthful milk. An article on his model scientific dairy farm, by Dr. Burton A. Hoffman, Ill. Ψ-Ω '26, appeared in the December, 1938 issue of THE RECORD.

POETRY WRITING AND APPRECIATION—This autographed publication by Frank R. Horton, Mass. B-Υ '17, Pa. Γ '26, is a most welcome addition to the library at Levere Memorial Temple. Written by Mr. Horton as an English instructor in college because there was no suitable text, the book is intended for college and high school, poetry groups and individuals, whether for self-expression, pastime or professional work. Newspapers from Maine to California have furnished favorable comment on the book, which in clear, precise language considers in detail the tools and technique, the means of appreciating, and the profitable inspiration in poetry. The book makes easy, delightful reading, elementary enough for the beginner yet advanced enough for the experienced poet to profit from its pages. The small, compact work also quotes the names of many men and women of genius whose contributions to beauty and truth have impressed the world. Part I of the book tells the uses of poetry in modern life; Part II discusses the art of poetry writing, and Part III considers poetry appreciation.

A HANDBOOK OF ENGLISH IN MODERN ENGINEERING USAGE—A. C. Howell, Ohio M '18, Professor of English at University of North Carolina, presented the second edition of this book with his compliments to the Levere Memorial Temple in September. An excellent work, the book serves as a guide for the engineer who wishes to make his English effective. Clearness, accuracy and conciseness are stressed with the view toward utility, and the book may serve as a reference for the engineer-writer long after his work in college English classes has been forgotten. In the words of Mr. Howell, "An engineer must know more than the principles of English grammar and composition. He must be able to handle the technical forms with ease, to use language that will be the most intelligible to his readers, and to be simple, direct, and forceful as well."

CHAPTER ETERNAL

JOHN ALEXANDER DE SERPA California Epsilon '46

John Alexander De Serpa, Calif. E '46, was killed in an accident at Yosemite National Park July 28, 1942. Hiking by a waterfall at the time in wet tennis shoes, he slipped and fell into a gorge. Ten hours later he was found dead. At Occidental College he was outstanding in singing, dramatics, and radio work.

JACK STRUPPA KING Georgia Phi '44

Jack Struppa King, Ga. Φ '44, an active member of the Georgia Tech chapter, was drowned in the Tennessee river near Knoxville, Tenn., May 30, 1942. He was working with the Tennessee Valley Authority under the student cooperative plan.

He was drowned when the canoe in which he and a friend were riding capsized about fifty yards from shore. He was buried in Decatur, Ga., the members of Georgia Phi attending as an honorary escort. Norris F. King, Ga. Φ '42, is his brother.

BRYAN M. GRANT Georgia Psi '99

Besser-Lindsey Award

One of the highest honors any collegiate member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon can win is the Besser-Lindsey, offered each year to one senior in each Chapter Collegiate who has excelled in scholarship, athletic ability and fraternity leadership.

Undoubtedly, many men who were entitled to this honor have not received it, simply because their chapters did not send in the required credentials to show that they were entitled to it. Chapters with members who show promise of being entitled to this award should keep this matter in mind and send the necessary credentials into the National Office.

Winners of Besser-Lindsey Awards for 1941-1942 were as follows:

Illinois Delta—Edward G. Clauter, 1935
Indiana Gamma—Eugene White, 1942
Kentucky Epsilon—James R. Powers, 1942
Oklahoma Kappa—Louis K. Sharpe, 1942
Rhode Island Alpha—Stanley J. Modzelewski, 1942
